

OBITUARY RECORD
OF YALE GRADUATES

1925-1926

BULLETIN OF YALE UNIVERSITY
NEW HAVEN

TWENTY-SECOND SERIES • AUGUST 1, 1926 • NUMBER TWENTY-TWO

BULLETIN OF YALE UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter, August 30, 1906, at the post office at New Haven, Conn., under the Act of Congress of July 16, 1894.

Acceptance for mailing at the special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized August 12, 1918.

The BULLETIN, which is issued semi-monthly, includes:

1. The University Catalogue.
2. The Reports of the President and Treasurer.
3. The Catalogues of the several Schools.
4. The Alumni Directory and the Quinquennial Catalogue.
5. The Obituary Record.

YALE UNIVERSITY

OBITUARY RECORD

OF GRADUATES DECEASED DURING
THE YEAR⁵⁰ ENDING JULY 1, 1926

INCLUDING THE RECORD OF A FEW WHO DIED PREVIOUSLY, HITHERTO UNREPORTED

NUMBER 85

NEW HAVEN

PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY

1926

YALE UNIVERSITY OBITUARY RECORD

YALE COLLEGE

William Wallace Crapo, B.A. 1852.

Born May 16, 1830, in Dartmouth, Mass.

Died February 28, 1926, in New Bedford, Mass

Father, Henry Howland Crapo, mayor of Flint, Mich; member Michigan State Senate; governor of the state; president of Flint & Pere Marquette Railroad; son of Jesse and Phebe (Howland) Crapo; descendant in the fifth generation from Pierre Crapaud, a French boy who was cast ashore from a wreck on Cape Cod about 1680 and after living at Plymouth, Mass., settled at Rochester, Mass. Mother, Mary Ann (Slocum) Crapo; daughter of Williams and Anna (Chase) Slocum; descendant of Giles Slocum, who came to Rhode Island from Somersetshire, England, in 1682, and settled at Portsmouth.

Friends' Academy, New Bedford, and Phillips-Andover Berkeley Premium in Latin composition, third prize in mathematics, and first prize for translation of Latin into English Freshman year, first and second prizes in English composition Sophomore year; first colloquy appointment Junior year; second dispute appointment and Townsend Premium Senior year; speaker at Commencement, one of the managers of the Junior Exhibition; served on committee of arrangements and presented the Wooden Spoon on Presentation Day, 1851; editor Yale Literary Magazine; Class poet; member Atalanta Boat Club, Delta Kappa, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Delta Phi, and Skull and Bones.

Studied law in office of Governor John H. Clifford in New Bedford and at Dane Law School in Cambridge (affiliated with Harvard University) for a year (1853-54); as secretary liquidated New Bedford Commercial Insurance Company while studying law; admitted to Bristol County Bar February, 1855; had since practiced law in New Bedford as member of firm of Crapo, Clifford & Clifford and its successors, Crapo, Clifford & Prescott and Crapo, Clifford, Prescott & Bullard; practice in early years largely admiralty law; was connected with Geneva Award and Alabama Claims commissions; in later years had much to do with corporation affairs, was chosen to administer many estates and serve as guardian or trustee, and had practiced extensively in federal and state courts; city solicitor 1855-1867; one of commissioners for introducing water into New Bedford and was chairman of first water supply committee and of Water Board 1865-1875; upon the death of his father in 1869, succeeded him as president of Flint & Pere Marquette Railroad and held that office for many years; president Mechanics National Bank of New Bedford 1870-1904 and of New Bedford Institution for Savings 1896-1920; was prominent in development of cotton manufacturing industry and had served as president and director of Wamsutta, Potomska, and Acushnet Mills for many years; director Genesee County Savings Bank of Flint, Mich., International Trust Company of Boston, and other companies, Republican in politics; member Massachusetts House of Representatives 1857; declined nomination to the State Senate 1858, member 44th to 47th Congresses (1875-1883) and then declined a renomination (served on Committee on Foreign Affairs and on committee to investigate the claims of Louisiana in Hayes-Tilden contest for the presidency, and as chairman of Committee on Banking and Currency; author of bill to extend charters of national banks); presided at Massachusetts Republican Convention 1881; candidate for governor of Massachusetts 1882, failing, however, of nomination; delegate at large from Massachusetts to Republican National Convention 1892; unsuccessful candidate for Republican nomination for United States senator 1893; made one of Massachusetts electors at large 1904 and the next year served as president of State Electoral College; declined appointment by President Cleveland as member of Interstate Commerce Commission 1887; appointed one of three commissioners to revise Massachusetts street railway laws 1898; LL.D. Yale 1882 and Williams 1911; wrote the Sixtieth Anniversary Ode, Ad Finem Juvenes, for Class of 1852 (set to music by Professor Horatio Parker); founder, with Daniel C. Gilman, '52, of Williams College chapter of Alpha Delta Phi in 1851; first president of Old Dartmouth Historical Society (1903-07); vice-president Pilgrim Society of America; president Yale Club of New Bedford during the five years of its existence (1914-19); member Bristol County Bar Association, Massachusetts, Old Colony, and Bristol County Historical societies, and First Congregational (Unitarian) Church, New Bedford, delivered many addresses, among which were historical addresses at the 200th anniversary of town of Dartmouth 1867 (address printed) and at the 50th anniversary of incorporation of New Bedford 1897, speech at the dedication of the Bourne Whaling Museum in New Bedford 1916, and one in Congress in 1880, when he accepted on the part of the House of Representatives the desk on which Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence; in 1913 presented to New Bedford the bronze statue, "The Whaleman," by Bela L. Pratt (B.F.A. 1899); gave numerous paintings, books, and pamphlets to collections at the New Bedford Public Library and the Old Dartmouth Historical Society; was one of the donors to Yale School of Law of the Massachusetts Reports and Massachusetts Digest Annotated; by the terms of his will a number of public bequests were made, among them one of $100,000 to Yale University.

Married January 22, 1857, in New Bedford, Sarah Ann Davis, daughter of George and Serena (Davis) Tappan Children: Henry Howland (B.A. Harvard 1883); George Tappan (died in infancy); Stanford Tappan, '86, and Anna Almy (died in infancy). Mrs. Crapo died December 13, 1893

Death due to old age. Interment in Rural Cemetery, New Bedford. Survived by two sons, three grandchildren, one of whom is William W. Crapo, 2d, '18, a great-grandchild, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah B. C. Ross, of Boston.

Albert Byron Wilbur, B.A. 1858.

Born October 10, 1834, in Sharon, Conn.
Died June 18, 1926, in Middletown, N. Y.

Father, Rutledge Wilbur, a superintendent of iron mines in Amenia, N. Y.; son of David Wilbur by his second wife, descendant in the seventh generation from Samuel Wilbur (Wildbore), who came to Massachusetts from Yorkshire, England, became a member of the First Church in Boston in 1633 and a freeman in 1634, was banished from the colony in 1637 on account of his religious views, and went to Providence, R. I., where with others he founded a new colony. Mother, Betsey Ann (White) Wilbur, whose mother was Eunice Merchant before her marriage.

Amenia Seminary. Entered Yale with Class of 1857, but left early in Junior year; joined Class of 1858 as a Senior; member Brothers in Unity and Sigma Delta.

Taught in New Haven 1858-59; assistant principal of Riddicksville Seminary, Sunbury, N. C., 1859-May, 1861; declined a colonelcy in Confederate Army, disregarded an order from Governor Ellis to enroll in that army, and was burned in effigy because of his Northern sympathies; upon his return to the North resumed teaching in New Haven; in May, 1863, joined 16th New York Cavalry at Plattsburg; commissioned Commissary, with rank of First Lieutenant, November 10, 1863; served on detached duty on staffs of Generals Lovell and Gamble in Department of Washington; on August 17, 1865, when the 13th and 16th New York Cavalry were consolidated as the 3d Provisional New York Cavalry, became Commissary of the new organization and served as such until mustered out October 4, 1865; taught a select school at Port Jervis, N. Y., 1865-66; then opened a classical and commercial day school there, which he conducted for a year; principal of Mountain Home Institute, Port Jervis, 1867-1871; superintendent of schools in Port Jervis 1871-1883; spent next two years abroad on account of his wife's health, and during 1885-86 was in Florida and New Mexico; superintendent of schools at Middletown, N. Y., 1886-1891; occupied with private interests in the West 1891-93; engaged in real estate and insurance business in Middletown 1893-1921; also interested in orange and mango plantations in Porto Rico; retired from active business 1921; active in organizing Orange County (N. Y.) Telephone Company, serving at various times as its treasurer, vice-president, president, and a director; president Middletown Board of Education 1900-02; member Capt William A. Jackson Post, G. A. R., and served as delegate from New York state to National Encampment at San Francisco in 1903 and at Denver in 1904; member American Association for Advancement of Science and of Deer Park Dutch Reformed Church, Port Jervis.

Married October 18, 1865, in New Haven, Sophie Harriette, daughter of George Henry and Harriette Almira (Austin) Morgan. No children. Mrs. Wibur died May 17, 1911.

Death due to old age; had been in failing health for some time, but was ill only a week. Buried in Amenia. Survived by a sister, Miss Sarah B. Wilbur, of Amenia.

Nathaniel Norton, B.A. 1860.

Born October 7, 1839, in Brooklyn, N Y
Died November 8, 1925, in Englewood, N J

Father, Nathaniel Norton, a merchant in the flour trade; son of Heman Norton (B.A. 1806), who served as aide-de-camp to General Hall in the War of 1812 and later as a Colonel in command of a cavalry regiment, and Julia (Strong) Norton; grandson of Nathaniel Norton, a Captain in the Revolutionary War and high sheriff of Ontario County, N. Y.; descendant of Thomas Norton, who came from Guilford, England, to Guilford, Conn., in 1639. Mother, Caroline Greenleaf (Call) Norton; daughter of Jonathan and Caroline (Greenleaf) Call. Yale relatives include two great-uncles, Henry Baldwin (B.A. 1797) and Elisha B. Strong (B.A. 1809), and an uncle, William A. Norton (honorary M.A. 1867), for over thirty years professor of civil engineering at Yale.

Dwight School, Brooklyn. Oration appointments Junior and Senior years; member Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa.

Entered Columbia Law School in fall of 1860, but left at end of three months; tutor in a private family in Newark, N. J., 1861; also continued his legal studies there until latter part of 1861 and then in New York until July, 1862; admitted to New York Bar, but never practiced; in wholesale coal business with firm of Packard & Company of Brooklyn 1862-68; partner in wholesale hat house of Jehial Read & Company in New York 1868-1885; engaged in publishing

American Business Guide 1885; later was a representative for Central Coal & Coke Company of New York for a time; insurance broker in New York City from 1890 until his retirement in 1912; wrote many poems to celebrate family events, and also several hymns which were set to music; resided in Brooklyn until 1908 and since then in Englewood; member Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church, Brooklyn (clerk for many years and teacher of a Bible class of young women).

Married September 27, 1865, at Mount Kisco, N. Y., Emma Sylvia Read, who attended Elmira College, daughter of Jehial and Sylvia (Kendrick) Read. Children: Nathaniel Read (Ph B 1891, M.D. Columbia 1894); Caroline Sylvia (B A. Adelphi 1900), the wife of Hugh Hazelton; Stella Kendrick (died in 1900); and William Strange. Mrs. Norton died November 23, 1910.

Death due to bronchopneumonia; had been an invalid for over ten years. Buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by sons, daughter, nine grandchildren, and a half sister, Mrs Arthur M. Beardsley (B A. Vassar 1873), of Roxbury, Conn.

James Harry Brent, B.A. 1861.

Born August 11, 1842, in Paris, Ky.

Died October 20, 1925, in Paris, Ky.

Father, Hugh Innes Brent, president of Old Northern Bank of Paris; son of Hugh and Elizabeth Trotter (Langhorne) Brent, descendant of George Brent, who came from England to Virginia in 1660. Mother, Margaret Taylor (Chambers) Brent; daughter of John Chambers, first territorial governor of Iowa and a member of Congress, and Hannah Lee (Taylor) Chambers, descendant of Rowland Chambers, who came to this country from County Antrim, Ireland, in 1720 and settled on the east bank of the Susquehanna River near Harrisburg, Pa. Nephew: Harry B. Mackoy, '94.

Sayer School, Frankfort, Ky. Entered Yale at beginning of Sophomore year; member Nereid Boat Club, '61 Baseball Club, and Psi Upsilon; elected a graduate member of Wolf's Head in 1894.

Read law at his home in Paris from graduation until fall of 1862; then entered Confederate Army and served under General Kirby Smith for a time; later resigned and enlisted in the ranks under Col John Morgan; subsequently served as member of General Cleburne's escort in the army which opposed General Sherman in his Atlanta campaign; remained in Confederate Army until end of the war; practiced law in Paris from 1865 until made a judge of the District Court; judge of Kentucky Superior Court 1891-96, then practiced law in Paris until his retirement in 1911 (partner of W H McMillan under firm name of Brent & McMillan for some time; later associated with his son-in-law, Claude M Thomas)

Married November 16, 1866, to his first cousin, Elizabeth Durrett Chambers, of Maysville, Ky, daughter of Frank Taylor and Elizabeth (Durrett) Chambers. Children: Gabriella (Mrs. Edward T. Hinton) (died in 1902), Margaret Chambers (Mrs. Claude M. Thomas) (died in 1911), Mary Porter (Mrs. Henry Chambers); Hugh I; and Christine (died in 1889). Mrs. Brent died in May, 1891

Death, due to pneumonia, occurred at Massie Memorial Hospital, Paris Buried at Paris Survived by son, daughter, and five grandchildren.

Edward Pascal McKinney, B.A. 1861.

Born February 23, 1838, in Cooperstown, N Y.

Died October 18, 1925, in Binghamton, N Y

Father, Edward McKinney; in charge of a cotton factory; son of Jacob McKinney, who was the first merchant in Binghamton, and Eliza (Sabin) McKinney, sixth in descent from John McKinney, who came to Boston in 1668, shortly afterwards settling near what is now Scarborough, Maine Mother, Marcia Maria (Phillips) McKinney, daughter of John and Mehitable (May) Phillips; descendant of John Phillips, who came from England in 1765 and settled at Cambridge, Mass. Yale relatives include a brother, the late William A. McKinney, '68.

Phillips-Andover. First colloquy appointment Junior year; second lieutenant Nereid Boat Club; member Class Baseball Club and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Joined United States Army as a Second Lieutenant in 6th New York Cavalry October 15, 1861, and served with Army of the Potomac; in March, 1862, detailed as Brigade Commissary of Subsistence; promoted to First Lieutenant in October, 1862; commissioned by President Lincoln Captain and Commissary of Subsistence May 18, 1864; wounded by Mosby's guerrillas near Winchester, Va., in August, 1864; upon his recovery, resumed his duties and served to end of the war with Sheridan's Cavalry Corps and as a member of his staff; received his discharge July 8, 1865, with commission of Brevet Major for meritorious services; then engaged in mercantile business in Binghamton as member of McKinney & Everts, wholesale grocers and provision dealers, and later as head of its successors, McKinney, Everts & Company, E. P. & E. McKinney, and McKinney & Company, wholesale grocers and importers of tea and coffee (with spice mills in Binghamton), until his death; director of two Binghamton banks; author of Life in Tent and Field, 1861-1865 (1922); contributed article on "Rational Taxation" to Outlook of October 29, 1910, deacon of First Presbyterian Church, Binghamton

Married June 18, 1868, at Rock Island, Ill., Fanny Lee, daughter of Myron Holley and Fanny Scoville (Lee) Fish, of Salisbury, Conn. Children: Edward; Marcia May (married George B. Hollister, '92, and died in 1909); and Fanny Lee (B. A. Vassar 1898), the wife of A. Garfield Weyant. Mrs. McKinney died September 13, 1913.

Death, due to pneumonia, occurred after an illness of only a few days. Buried in Spring Forest Cemetery, Binghamton. Survived by son, daughter, and four grandchildren.

Francke Huntington Bosworth, B.A. 1862.

Born January 25, 1843, in Marietta, Ohio.

Died October 16, 1925, in New York City.

Father, Daniel Perkins Bosworth, a merchant; founder of firm of Bosworth & Wells; son of Salah and Rebecca (Perkins) Bosworth, who moved from Boston, Mass., to Ohio in 1816; descendant of Joseph Bellamy Bosworth, who came to America from Lancashire, England, in 1632 and settled at Hull, Mass. Mother, Deborah Freeman (Wells) Bosworth, daughter of Martin and Deborah Freeman (Hinckley) Wells; descendant of Governor Thomas Wells of Connecticut, who came to this country from Essex County, England, in 1635 and settled at Saybrook, Conn., in 1636 and at Hartford in 1637; also descendant of Thomas Hinckley, governor of Plymouth Colony 1681-86 and 1686-1692.

Marietta Academy. Attended Marietta College for three years as member of Class of 1861 before entering Yale as a Junior in 1860; member Alpha Sigma Phi

Enlisted at President Lincoln's first call for volunteers as a Private in 17th Ohio Infantry; served three months during summer of 1861 under General Rosecrans in West Virginia; after graduating from Yale, became a Quartermaster Sergeant in 148th Ohio Volunteer Infantry; took part in repelling General Morgan's raid into Ohio in 1863 and served in and around City Point, Va., during summer of 1864; after serving term of one hundred days, received his discharge August 30, 1864; except for time spent in service, was engaged in business with Bosworth, Wells & Company, general merchants in Marietta, during first three years after graduation; in 1865 began study of medicine with Dr. George Hildreth, of Marietta, and later continued studies at Bellevue Hospital Medical College, where he received degree of M.D. in 1868, graduating as valedictorian of his class; served as house surgeon at Bellevue Hospital for a year and a half; then began practice in New York City, specializing in diseases of the throat and ear; attending physician to Bureau of Medical and Surgical Relief and to Central Dispensary 1870; connected with Bellevue Medical College from 1876 until his retirement in 1906 (instructor in laryngology 1876-78, lecturer on diseases of the throat 1878-1882, professor of the same 1882-1906), professor of diseases of the throat at University Medical College 1898-1906; since then professor emeritus; retired from general practice in 1920; consulting physician to Presbyterian and St. Vincent's hospitals; attended International Medical Congress in Europe 1881; author: A Handbook on Diseases of the Throat and Nose (1881), A Treatise on Diseases of the Nose and Throat (1893), and A Textbook on Diseases of the Nose and Throat (1896); had contributed articles on medical subjects to various magazines; honorary Fellow British Laryngological Association; corresponding member Société de Laryngologie et d'Otologie and Laryngologische Gesellschaft; Fellow American Laryngological Association (president in 1883); member American Climatological Association (former president), New York Academy of Medicine, and St. Nicholas Collegiate Church (Dutch Reformed), New York City.

Married September 12, 1871, in Harmar, Ohio, Mary Hildreth, daughter of Douglas and Rhoda (Hildreth) Putnam. Children: Ethel (died in childhood); Francke Huntington, Jr., '97, and Mary Douglas, the wife of Walter R. Herrick (B.S. Princeton 1898, LL B Union 1900). Mrs. Bosworth died September 6, 1912.

Death due to accidental asphyxiation. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y. Survived by son, daughter, four grandchildren, and a half brother, Tasker Bourne Bosworth, of New York City.

James Henry Crosby, B.A. 1862.

Born May 22, 1840, in Bangor, Maine.

Died October 16, 1925, at Long Beach, Calif.

Father, James Crosby, a business man; son of Timothy Crosby, descendant of Simon Crosby, who came from England to Massachusetts about 1630. Mother, Eliza Leland (Adams) Crosby; daughter of Eliashib and Anna (Leland) Adams; sister of the Rev. George E. Adams (B.A. 1821); descendant in the sixth generation of Henry Adams, who came to this country from England about 1632 and in 1641 settled at Braintree, Mass., of which he was an original patentee.

Phillips-Andover. Oration appointments Junior and Senior years, member Phi Beta Kappa.

Graduated from Bangor Theological Seminary 1865; during his Senior year there spent several months in Beaufort, S. C., as an agent of New England Freedmen's Aid Society; studied at Yale Divinity School during 1865-66 and again at Bangor Theological Seminary 1867-69 (never ordained); preached at various places in Maine, with headquarters in Bangor, 1866-

1872; acting pastor at Lincoln, Maine, 1872-76; preached at Hampden, Maine, 1876-77; since then had preached only occasionally; private teacher in Bangor in 1878; had a private school for boys there 1880-84; had not been actively engaged in any occupation since then; served as deacon of First Congregational Church, Bangor, 1885-1925, and as superintendent of its Sunday school for twenty-nine years; also deacon of All Souls' Church; prepared and published Historical Sketch of First Congregational Church, Bangor, Maine, 1811-1911 on the occasion of its centennial; had been secretary of Class of 1862 since 1882, assisting in preparation of Decennial Record and editing all subsequent records; also Class Agent for the Alumni Fund; had kept his home in Bangor, but during recent years had been in the habit of spending a part of each year in California.

Married December 25, 1866, in New Haven, Helen Elizabeth, daughter of Philo Blake. One daughter, Anna (died in infancy). Mrs. Crosby died May 5, 1868.

Death due to the infirmities of age. Buried in Mount Hope Cemetery, Bangor. Survived by no immediate relatives. Leaves a nephew, four grandnephews, and six grandnieces.

Richard Henry Greene, B.A. 1862.

Born June 12, 1839, in New York City.
Died February 13, 1926, in New York City.

Father, William Webb Green, a merchant and ship owner; son of Richard and Sally (Webb) Green; descendant of William Green, who came to America from England before 1700 and settled at Plymouth, Mass. Mother, Sarah Ann (Todd) Green; daughter of Col. William Whetten Todd and Maria Caroline (Duffie) Todd; descendant of Adam Todd, who came to this country from Scotland about 1700 and settled in New York City. Cousins: Richard G. Greene (B.A. 1849), Frederick J. Shepard, '73, John W. Shepard, '79, George E. Goodspeed, '80 S., Edward M. Chapman, '84, Frederick S. Chapman, '94, Donald Greene, '08, Frederic B. Shepard, '15, and Edward N. Chapman, '17.

Dwight High School, Brooklyn. Entered Yale with Class of 1861, but joined Class of 1862 the next fall; member Delta Kappa and Wolf's Head

Recruited a company of one hundred men after graduation, was mustered into the Union Army December 8, 1862, as a Captain in the Pierrepont Regiment of New York Cavalry, and commanded the battalion until its consolidation with the 14th New York Regiment in March, 1863; during the next summer served with Company K, 7th New York Regiment, in repelling General Lee's invasion of Pennsylvania and in suppressing the riot in New York City; Captain of Engineers, 69th New York Regiment, serving as Paymaster and Post Adjutant, from July until his discharge October 6, 1864 (expiration of term), being on duty at Forts Richmond and Hamilton, N. Y., and with the Army before Petersburg; LL.B. Columbia 1865; admitted to New York Bar and practiced law in New York City 1865-1886 (member of firm of Roosevelt & Greene 1865-67); admitted to United States Circuit Court 1876; identified with North 2d Street & Middle Village Railroad Company of Long Island 1870-1884 (director 1870-71, counsel 1875-76, secretary 1876-79, treasurer 1880 and 1881, and president 1882-84); counsel and president (1885-86) Brooklyn, Bushwick & Queens County Railroad Company; chairman Boards of Registry and Election 1865-1870; special assessor United States Internal Revenue Bureau 1869-1871; had served as a commissioner of deeds and as a notary public; president Excess Indicator Company of Massachusetts 1909-1910 and of same company in Pittsburgh the next year; executive member Republican General Committee 1870-75; vice-president and president District Republican Association 1868-1871; alternate delegate to Republican National Convention 1876; nominated for State Legislature 1868 and declined a second candidacy 1875; founder of Society of Mayflower Descendants (historian general, secretary general, and deputy governor general) and later president of the New York Society; founder of Order of Runnymede; first vice-commander general of Commandery in Chief of Society of American Wars and commander of New York Commandery 1910 and 1911; member George Washington and Lafayette Posts, G.A.R., and commander of Farragut Post for eleven years; secretary Society of War Veterans of the 7th Regiment for many years and president 1903-04; member Society of War of 1812, Society of Colonial Wars, Sons of the Revolution, Society of the First Crusade, New York and American Historical societies, and corresponding member New England Historical and Genealogical Society; trustee Army and Navy Real Estate Board and of New York Genealogical and Biographical Society (librarian and editor of its Record for a time); member executive committee of Columbia Law School Alumni Association 1868-1871 and vice-president 1869; superintendent of Sabbath School Union Home for Soldiers' Orphans; adviser of Colored Orphan Asylum 1874; former president of old Bushwick Union (union of church and Sunday school which had been at variance); deacon and president of the board (1878) of Washington Heights Presbyterian Church; vice-president (1869) and president (1869-1871) of Young Men's Christian Union of Washington Heights; elder, trustee, and Sunday school superintendent of West Park Presbyterian Church; member Church Extension Committee of Presbyterian Churches in the United States; author: Cannon Flashes and Pen Dashes (a Civil War poem published under nom de plume of Claes Martenze in 1866); The Todd Genealogy (1867); Alumni of Earlier American Colleges (1890); When the Mayflower Sailed Away (1897); General Book of the Mayflower Descendants (1901); the Greene (Green) Family of Plymouth Colony (1909); the Year Book of the Commandery of the Society of American Wars, State of New York (1912); and William Webb (1746-1832), War Services, Ancestry, and Descendants (1914); contributed numerous papers to Connecticut Valley Advertiser and articles to Genealogical Record and New England Historical and Genealogical Register (one of the latter being "Yale University Alumni who have held Official Positions").

Married June 20, 1867, in New Haven, Mary Gertrude, daughter of Edwin Beech and Amelia Caty (Sperry) Munson, of Woodbridge, Conn. Children: William Todd (died in childhood); Marshall Winslow, a non-graduate member of the Class of 1890 at the College of the City of New York (died in 1921); Maude Eloise (died in childhood); Edna Munson (Mrs Augustus Thatcher Holbrook); and DePeyster and Arthur Garfield (both died in infancy).

Death due to arteriosclerosis. Buried in family mausoleum at East Haddam, Conn. Survived by wife, daughter, and four grandchildren.

Henry Holt, B.A. 1862.

Born January 3, 1840, in Baltimore, Md.
Died February 13, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Dan Holt, a merchant; founder of the business of canning and transporting oysters to the West; son of Philemon and Desire (Smith) Holt; descendant of William Holt, who came from England to New Haven in 1644. Mother, Ann Eve (Siebold) Holt; daughter of Philip and Rachel (deHasse) Siebold; ancestors came from Wurttemberg to Pennsylvania about 1776. Yale relatives include four cousins: Edwin H. English, ex-'75, Charles L. English, '10, Edwin H. English, ex-'16 S, and Frank K. English, ex-'20 S.

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute. Entered Yale with Class of 1861, but joined Class of 1862 as a Sophomore in 1859; third prize in English composition Sophomore year, second colloquy appointment Junior year; editor Yale Literary Magazine and winner Yale Literary Medal; member Nereid Boat Club and captain Lorelei Boat Club; one of the Cochlaureati; Wooden Spoon and Class poet; vice-president Brothers in Unity; member Beethoven Society, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied law at Columbia 1862-64 (LL.B. 1864); in 1863 entered publishing business as part owner with George P. Putnam and Frank Moore in the Artist's Edition of Irving's Sketch Book and the Rebellion Record, but retired from that partnership in 1865; spent about a year in literary work in Baltimore and at Delaware Water Gap, Pa.; in January, 1866, became a partner of Frederic Leypoldt in publishing firm of Leypoldt & Holt, which became successively Leypoldt, Holt & Williams (upon admission to firm of Ralph O. Williams, '61), Holt & Williams (1871), and, when Mr. Williams withdrew in 1873, Henry Holt & Company; president of firm since its incorporation in 1902, although for about ten years previous to his death had not been actively connected with it (his brother, Charles Holt, '65 S., member of firm 1876-1902; his son, Roland Holt, '90, member since 1890, vice-president 1902-1924, and, with two other sons, Henry Holt, Jr., and Elliot Holt, among the directors); in 1914 founded the Unpopular Review (name changed to Unpartizan Review 1919), of which he was editor and publisher until 1921, when he discontinued its publication; interested in psychical research and had served as trustee and councilor of American Society for Psychical Research; member of Harvard Overseers Visiting Committee to the Department of Philosophy and Psychology since 1915; author: translation of Edmond About's Man with the Broken Ear (1866); Calmire. Man and Nature (1892; revised and enlarged 1906); Talks on Civics (1901), revised and enlarged as On the Civic Relations (1907); Sturmsee. Man and Man (1905; revised 1906); On the Cosmic Relations (1914), second edition, Cosmic Relations and Immortality (1919); Garrulities of an Octogenarian Editor (1923); and The Hopeful Borderland (1926), the proof of which he finished correcting a short time before his death; had contributed numerous articles to various magazines, one of which, "Some Practical Aspects of the Literary Life in the United States," published in the New Englander in 1888, was first delivered as a lecture at Yale; had also lectured at Columbia University and at University of Vermont; was very active in promoting international copyright and addressed a committee of the United States Senate on the subject, besides publishing articles on it in periodicals; sent to the Yale University Library, free of charge, a copy of everything which he published, including the Unpopular Review, as it was issued; LL.D. University of Vermont 1901; became an honorary member of Johns Hopkins chapter of Phi Beta Kappa 1914; trustee New York University Settlement Society (its first chairman, serving for four years), University Club (for eight years following its reorganization; during that time chairman of committee which founded its library), Yale Club of New York, City Club, Simplified Spelling Board (also member of its executive committee), and American Geographical Society; chairman Authors Club 1908-1912; Fellow New York Academy of Political Science and former Fellow American Association for the Advancement of Science; member council of University Club and chairman of its committee on literature and art; member American Political Science Association, American Economic Association, Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York Botanical Association, Municipal Art Society, Scientific Alliance, American Museum of Natural History, Fine Arts Society, and Sons of the Revolution; served on New York Citizens' Committee in 1882; was nominated for a Fellow of Yale Corporation in 1881, but withdrew his name in favor of another candidate; besides his New York home, had a place at New Rochelle, N. Y., for a time, and later had a summer home at Burlington, Vt, where, for a while, he conducted a farm.

Married (1) June 11, 1863, in New York City, Mary Florence, daughter of James Selby and Elizabeth (Gale) West. Children: Claude Florence (died in infancy); Roland (B.A. 1890); Winifred, founder and secretary of the New York Association for the Blind, who married Rufus Graves Mather (B.A. Williams 1895); Gilman (died in childhood); Edith, the wife of Joseph Colt Bloodgood (B.S. Wisconsin 1888, M.D. Pennsylvania 1891); Mildred (died in childhood); and a son who lived only three days. Mrs. Holt died March 6, 1879. Married (2) December 2, 1886, in New York City, Florence, daughter of Charles Corey and Cornelia Frances (Martin) Taber, and sister of Henry Taber, '82 S. Children: Florence (died in infancy); Henry, Jr. (B.A. Harvard 1912); Elliot, a non-graduate member of the Harvard Class of 1918; and Sylvia.

Death due to complications resulting from an attack of bronchitis. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by wife, three sons, three daughters, four grandchildren, and his brother, Charles Holt.

Roger Sherman Tracy, B.A. 1862.

Born December 9, 1841, in Windsor, Vt.
Died March 6, 1926, in Ballardvale, Mass

Father, the Rev Ebenezer Carter Tracy (B.A. Dartmouth 1819); studied at Andover Theological Seminary; editor and publisher of Vermont Chronicle for over thirty years; son of Joseph and Ruth (Carter) Tracy; sixth in direct descent from Stephen Tracy, who came from England to Plymouth, Mass., in 1623 and later settled in Duxbury, Mass. Mother, Martha Sherman (Evarts) Tracy; daughter of Jeremiah Evarts (B.A. 1802) and Mehitabel (Sherman) Evarts; sister of John Jay Evarts (B.A. 1832) and William Maxwell Evarts (B.A. 1837); sister-in-law of the Rev. David Greene (B.A. 1821); granddaughter of Roger Sherman (honorary M.A. 1768), a signer of the Declaration of Independence, a member of the Continental Congress and of the Constitutional Convention, and treasurer of Yale College 1765-1776; great-granddaughter of Timothy Todd (B.A. 1747); descendant of John Evarts, who came to this country during the first half of the seventeenth century and settled in New England. Yale relatives include: J. Evarts Tracy, '57 L. (brother); Howard C. Tracy, '87, Evarts Tracy, '90, Robert S. Tracy, '93, and William E. Tracy, '00 (nephews); and Charles B. Evarts, ex-'66, Allen W. Evarts, '69, William Evarts, ex-'71, Sherman Evarts, '81, Maxwell Evarts, '84, Jeremiah M. and Roger S. Evarts, both '17, Effingham C. Evarts, '19, and Prescott Evarts, ex-'23 (cousins).

Windsor High School. High oration appointments Junior and Senior years; member Phi Beta Kappa.

Taught at Peekskill (N. Y.) Military Academy 1862-64; studied medicine at College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia, 1864-67 (M.D. 1868); connected with Bellevue Hospital, New York City, as junior and senior assistant and house surgeon 1867-69; spent the next year abroad, during most of the time studying in Berlin; practiced medicine in New York City 1870-73; then obliged to give up practice because of increasing deafness; member New York Board of Health 1870-1901 (deputy registrar and registrar of records 1870-1901; also assistant sanitary inspector 1870-73, sanitary inspector 1873-1887, and chief sanitary inspector 1887); retired from public service in 1901, but for some time kept his room at the Department of Health, where he did much of his writing; in 1904 bought a farm in Winsted, Conn., where he lived two years; had since resided at Ballardvale; author: Handbook of Sanitary Information for Householders (1884); The Essentials of Anatomy, Physiology, and Hygiene (1884); Outlines of Anatomy, Physiology, and Hygiene (1889), The White Man's Burden (under nom de plume of T. Shirby Hodge; 1915); monographs on vital statistics for Wood's Reference Handbook of the Medical Sciences (1893) and on sanitary subjects for the Annual Reports of the New York Health Department; contributed articles to the appendix of the American edition of Parke's Hygiene, to Michael Foster's Primer of Physiology, one of the series of Science Primers edited by Huxley, Roscoe & Balfour Stewart (1883), to Buck's Hygiene and Public Health, and to the Popular Science Monthly and the Century; affiliated with the Congregational Church.

Unmarried

Death due to chronic myocarditis. Buried in Old South Cemetery, Windsor. Survived by a sister, Mrs. George P. Byington, of Ballardvale.

Daniel Brewer Childs, B.A. 1863.

Born May 5, 1843, in Syracuse, N. Y.

Died November 10, 1925, in Los Angeles, Calif

Father, Noadiah Moody Childs; a civil engineer, associated with his brother, Orville Whitmore Childs, in the survey of the Nicaragua ship canal; superintendent of the Oswego canal; later in business as a merchant; president Syracuse Salt Company and Syracuse Board of Education; son of Dr. Ephraim Child (family name changed by Noadiah M. Childs and his brother), Surgeon of the 41st Regiment in the War of 1812 and a founder of the Saratoga County Medical Society, and Mary (Woodworth) Child; grandson of Capt. Increase Child, who served in the French and English and the Revolutionary wars; a lineal descendant of Benjamin Child, who came from England in 1630 with his uncle, Ephraim Child, and settled at Roxbury, Mass. Mother, Martha (Brewer) Childs; daughter of Simeon and Eunice (Macy) Brewer; granddaughter of the Rev. Daniel Brewer (B.A. 1765); descendant of Daniel Brewer, who came to America from England in 1632 and settled at Roxbury, and of John Carver and John Howland of the "Mayflower" company. Yale relatives include two cousins, Dr. Chauncey Brewer (B.A. 1762) and Edward H. Brewer, '97 S.

Syracuse High School and preparatory department of Oberlin. Attended Oberlin College for two years (1859-1861) as member of Class of 1863 before entering Yale as a Junior in January, 1862; member Psi Upsilon.

Graduated at Albany Law School in 1864; in office of Sedgwick, Andrews & Kennedy in Syracuse for a few months; went to New York City in January, 1866, and entered office of Amos G. Hull, with whom he formed a partnership in 1868 under name of Hull & Childs (firm practiced in the Surrogate's Court and served as counsel for the New York Times, the American Agriculturist, and other periodicals); practiced independently 1871-74; in 1874 with Herbert G. Hull, son of his former partner, formed firm of Childs & Hull and continued in that association for about twenty years, giving especial attention to bankruptcy and real estate cases; had served as executor, trustee, or receiver of many estates; director and counsel of Manhattan Quotation Telegraph Company 1874-76; vice-president and director of Law Telegraph & Telephone Company (one of its projectors) from its organization in 1874 until 1885; had been tendered the nomination of county judge of Bergen County, N. J., and also the presidency of the Larchmont National Bank; in addition to his law practice, owned and managed a large farm in Saratoga County, N. Y., 1867-1887; had a summer home in Great Barrington, Mass., 1888-1899, lived in Englewood, N. J., 1870-1880 and then in New York City until 1915, when he moved to Los Angeles; member St. John's Episcopal Church, Los Angeles.

Married (1) December 24, 1867, in Waterford, N. Y., Mary Frances, daughter of Robert and Margaret J. Powers. No children. Mrs. Childs died June 26, 1887. Married (2) October 10, 1888, in Great Barrington, Mass., Kathryn Bills, daughter of Jonathan Cass (M.D. Albany Medical College, a Surgeon in the U. S. Army and a veteran of the Civil War, and Mary (Peet) Cass, and a niece of Harvey P. Peet (B. A. 1822). Children: Sterling Cass (studied at University of Virginia during 1907-08; served in Merchant Marine during the World War); Harold Winthrop, who was in France as a First Lieutenant with the 91st Division during the war, Catherine Cass (Mrs. Victor Hugo Dixon); and Isabella Cass (a non-graduate member of the Class of 1923 at the University of Southern California), who married Henry Wetson Mahan.

Died in his sleep; was apparently perfectly well when he retired. Buried in Oakwood Cemetery, Syracuse. Survived by wife, two sons, two daughters, seven grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Louisa Child Dillaye, and a brother, William Augustus Childs, both of Los Angeles.

George Langford Curran, B.A. 1863.

Born March 10, 1840, in Utica, N. Y.

Died November 17, 1925, in Utica, N. Y.

Father, Edward Curran; in the hide and leather business; founder and head of the firm of Edward Curran & Sons; descendant of Henry Curran, who came from Enniskillen, Ireland, to New York City about 1789, later moving to northern New York. Mother, Mary (Langford) Curran; daughter of George and Chloe (Sweeting) Langford; granddaughter of Dr. George Langford and descendant of Nathaniel Sweeting, both of whom served in the Revolutionary War. Yale relatives include: John E. Curran, '70 (brother); Philip C. Peck, '96, George Langford, '97 S, Henry H. Curran, '98, and Darius E. Peck, '98 (nephews); and Charles L. Spencer, '78, and Dr. Edward C. Spencer, '80 (first cousins).

Utica Free Academy Entered Yale with Class of 1860, but left at end of Freshman year because of the death of his father; during the next three years had charge (with two of his brothers) of his father's business; reentered Yale in 1860 as a Sophomore with Class of 1863, first colloquy appointment Junior year; third dispute appointment Senior year; commodore of Yale Navy; champion light weight and all-round athlete; member Delta Kappa, Alpha Sigma Phi, Psi Upsilon, and Scroll and Key.

After graduation resumed his connection with Edward Curran & Sons and continued with that firm and its successor, Edward Curran's Sons, until his death, although not active in the business during the last few months of his life (head of the firm since 1894); was also connected with the Middleville and Sand Bank tanneries; trustee of Savings Bank of Utica since 1899; police and fire commissioner 1881-85; actively associated with the philanthropic work of the city; had been offered appointment as commissioner of charities several times, but declined the appointment; was the "father" of night schools in Utica, teaching Italian and Greek in the first school; for many years member of advisory boards of Utica Orphan Asylum (now Home for Crippled Children), Utica Rescue Mission, and Young Women's Christian Association (treasurer for some years prior to 1923); member Utica Humane Society and Oneida Historical Society; had retained his interest in athletics and outdoor sports, equipping a gymnasium on the top of his store for his employees and other young men and boys, and having his own boat on the Mohawk River, in which he took long trips down to the Hudson River; member Westminster Presbyterian Church from boyhood until 1865, then of the First Presbyterian Church until 1871, and since then of the Sayre Memorial Presbyterian Church (elder since 1875); served as secretary and treasurer of Sunday school of First Presbyterian Church 1863-1898; founder of Sunday school of Sayre Memorial Church, when it was conducted as a mission, and its secretary and treasurer for sixty years; aided in establishing the Highland Chapel and acted as superintendent of its Sunday school for some years; treasurer of Presbytery of Utica for many years, resigning the office in 1919.

Married September 6, 1865, in Utica, Cornelia, daughter of Dr. Isaac Hatch Douglas and Margery (McCune) Douglas. Children: Gertrude Douglas and Stanley Douglas, a non-graduate member of Yale Class of 1892, who received degree of M.D. at New York University in 1896 (died in 1911). Mrs. Curran died April 8, 1922

Death due to the infirmities of age. Buried in Forest Hill Cemetery, Utica. Survived by his daughter.

Thomas Albert Emerson, B.A. 1863.

Born December 27, 1840, in South Reading, Mass

Died April 17, 1926, in Northampton, Mass.

Father, Thomas Emerson, a shoe manufacturer; son of Thomas and Betsey (Hartshorn) Emerson; grandson of Thomas Emerson and great-grandson of Thomas Emerson, who served in the Revolutionary Army; descendant of Thomas Emerson, who came from England to Ipswich, Mass., in 1638; also descended from the Rev. Peter Bulkley, a graduate of Cambridge University, who came to Boston, Mass., in 1635, was the first settler and minister at Concord, Mass., and founder of the twelfth church in the colony and whose library formed the nucleus of the Harvard College Library. Mother, Emily Minerva (Swain) Emerson; daughter of Thomas and Mary Swain; descendant of Major Jeremiah Swain, who fought in the Indian wars of 1676 and 1688, being commissioned Commander in Chief of all the forces raised and detailed out of several regiments within the Massachusetts Colony against the Kennebec and Eastern Indians; descendant also of Jeremiah Swain, who was living at Charlestown, Mass., in 1643. Cousin: Albert E. Foster, '11 S.

Phillips-Andover. Oration appointments Junior and Senior years; member Linonia (president one term), Varuna Boat Club, Psi Upsilon, and Phi Beta Kappa.

In October, 1863, appointed Acting Assistant Paymaster in U. S. Navy; saw service on board the "Vermont" at Port Royal, S. C., and on the brig "Perry" off Charleston, S. C., and at Fernandina, Fla.; resigned commission November 25, 1865; then entered Andover Theological Seminary, his studies, however, being interrupted by ill health; after a short connection with his father's factory, was employed in bookstore of J. E. Tilton & Company at Boston until 1867, when he returned to Andover Theological Seminary, graduated there in 1869; on November 25, 1869, ordained pastor of First Congregational Church at Wolfeboro, N. H., where he remained until 1873, after a year abroad, was installed as pastor of First Congregational Church at Braintree, Mass.; continued there until 1886, subsequently serving as pastor of First Congregational Church in Clinton, Conn., until 1901, when he resigned on account of ill health; lived in Wakefield, Mass., 1901-03; pastor of First Congregational Church, Hadley, Mass., 1903-1910; since his retirement from the ministry had made his home in Northampton; served as moderator of General Association of Congregational Churches of Connecticut in 1892; life member American Board, Congregational Home Missionary Society, and American Missionary Association; member Wakefield Historical Society, Veteran Association, and Middlesex Association

Married October 27, 1875, in Deerfield, Mass., Frances Huntington Crawford Brewster, daughter of the Rev. Robert Crawford, D.D. (B.A. Williams 1836), and Ellen Maria (Griffin) Crawford, widow of Edward P. Brewster (B.A. Princeton 1862), granddaughter of the Rev. Edward D. Griffin, D.D. (B.A. 1790), president of Williams College from 1821 to 1836, and great-granddaughter of the Rev. Joseph Huntington, D.D. (B.A. 1762). One son, Thomas (died in infancy) Mrs. Emerson died December 10, 1922.

Death due to heart disease Buried in Lakeside Cemetery, Wakefield. Survived by two brothers, Edwin E. Emerson, of Everett, Mass., and George D. Emerson, of New York City.

Samuel Carter Darling, B.A. 1864.

Born March 5, 1843, in Milltown, New Brunswick.

Died September 1, 1925, in Brighton, Mass.

Father, Samuel Darling, Jr., a merchant and justice in Milltown; son of Samuel and Jane (Vance) Darling, who went to New Brunswick from New Hampshire. Mother, Alice Jane (Carter) Darling; daughter of Theophilus and Jane (Stoddart) Carter; descendant of Thomas Carter, who came to America from England in 1635 and settled at Dedham, Mass.

Phillips-Andover. First and second prizes in English composition and second prize in Linonia-Bishop Prize debate Sophomore year; high oration appointment Junior year; oration appointment Senior year; speaker at Junior Exhibition and at Commencement; editor of Yale Literary Magazine Senior year. Member Glyuna Boat Club, Linonia, Delta Kappa, Alpha Delta Phi, Spade and Grave, Wolf's Head, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Spent first year after graduation at his home in St. Stephen's, New Brunswick; studied at Albany Law School (LL B. 1866); admitted to New York Bar in May, 1866, and practiced in New York City from September of that year until August, 1867; had since practiced in Boston, with the exception of a short time when he was looking after the business interests of his father-in-law, who owned a boot and shoe business in Marlboro, Mass.; partner in firm of Bigelow & Darling 1867-

1871; associated in practice with his son, S. Boyd Darling, '95, 1903-09; resided in Somerville, Mass., 1873-1912 (city solicitor 1876-1887), then in Wayland, Mass., until 1916, and since then in Brighton; member Massachusetts House of Representatives 1886 and 1887; unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor 1892; one of the incorporators (in 1908) of American College for Girls at Constantinople and secretary of its board of trustees 1908-1920; director International Institute for Girls in Spain for about fifteen years (also counsel and chairman of its committee on administration); president Congregational Club of Boston 1892, Congregational Church Union of Boston and Vicinity from its organization in 1896 until 1901, Mystic Valley Club for two years, Phillips-Andover Alumni 1899-1900, and Yale Club of Boston 1903-04; member prudential committee of American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions 1897-1906 (also on its legacy committee; attended Yale Bicentennial as delegate of the Board); member Winter Hill Congregational Church, Somerville.

Married December 27, 1871, in Boston, Anna Frothingham, daughter of Samuel and Anne Fisher (Brigham) Boyd. Children: Samuel Boyd (B.A. 1895, LL.B. Harvard 1899); Emma Carter Stoddart; Philip Grenville (B.A. Harvard 1901, B.S. Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1905); Florence Boyd; and Margaret Churchill. Mrs. Darling died September 7, 1908.

Death due to angina pectoris. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett, Mass. Survived by his five children

George Douglass, B.A. 1864.

Born December 25, 1843, in New York City.

Died April 25, 1926, in New York City.

Father, John Douglass, a lumber merchant; son of Duncan Douglass, who came to America from Glasgow in 1801 and settled in New York City, and Isabella Campbell (Cameron) Douglass, of Inverness, Scotland. Mother, Catherine Jane (Miller) Douglass; daughter of Joseph and Abigail (Wilson) Miller, of Bloomingburg, N. Y. Nephews: Duncan Douglas, '97 S., Kenneth R. Douglas, ex-'97 S., and Malcolm Douglas, '00.

Sand Lake (N. Y.) Collegiate Institute Third dispute appointment Junior year; second colloquy appointment Senior year; member Glyuna Boat Club, Brothers in Unity, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Spade and Grave.

Since graduation had carried on the retail lumber business in New York City which was started by his father in 1835; during recent years, however, had not been active in the business; member All Angels' Episcopal Church, New York City.

Married February 9, 1875, in New York City, Marie Louise, daughter of John Alfred and Sarah Ann (Bird) La-Forge. Children: George Angus, Roland, and Norman de-Forest.

Died suddenly after three months' illness. Buried in Kensico Cemetery, Valhalla, N. Y. Survived by wife, three sons, and two grandsons.

James Phillips Hoyt, B.A. 1864.

Born July 28, 1844, in Coventry, N. Y.

Died August 4, 1925, in West Newton, Mass

Father, the Rev. John Benedict Hoyt (B.A. 1814), a Presbyterian minister; pastor at Coventry for over thirty years; son of Thaddeus and Jemima (Benedict) Hoyt; descendant of Simon Hoyt, who came to America from England in 1628 or 1629, landing at Salem, Mass., moved to Charlestown, Mass., very shortly afterwards, and later lived in Dorchester, Mass. Mother, Eliza Ann (Phillips) Hoyt, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Drake) Phillips; descendant of the Rev. George Phillips, who came to this country from England in 1630 and settled at Watertown, Mass

Franklin-Delaware Literary Institute, Franklin, N. Y. Oration appointment Junior year; high oration appointment Senior year; speaker at Junior Exhibition and Commencement; member Brothers in Unity, Gamma Nu, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Taught Latin and English at General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute, New Haven, 1864-67; principal of Guilford (Conn.) Institute 1867-69; Senior in Yale Divinity School 1869-1870 (B.D. 1870); ordained and installed pastor of Congregational Church, Sherman, Conn., July 28, 1870; remained there four years; acting pastor at Newtown, Conn., 1874-75, and pastor 1875-1890; also principal of Newtown Academy 1875-1882, pastor at Cheshire, Conn., 1890-1900; moved to Florida January 1, 1901, and preached at Melbourne for a short time; pastor First Congregational Church, St. Petersburg, 1901-1910; since then pastor emeritus; had charge of Biblical Department of the Chautauqua at St. Petersburg; president Fairfield County (Conn.) Teachers' Institute 1879; moderator Fairfield East Association 1889 and New Haven Central Association 1892; member State Committee of Fellowship and Work 1883; annalist of General Conference of Connecticut 1890-91 and 1892-93; member Standing Committee of New Haven West Conference 1894 and chairman 1894-95; moderator South Congregational Association for a number of years; assistant moderator Florida Congregational Conference and moderator of its Obituary Committee; represented Florida at Southern Congregational Congress at Dallas, Texas, 1907 (moderator of opening session); president Sons and Daughters of America 1911-12; D.D. Rollins College 1911; credited with invention of one of the first fountain pens, which he named the Yale pen, and which was the first produced in this country; had received two patents for fountain pens and one for a fountain mucilage brush; author: A New Method with English, A One-Term Course in Latin, An Outline of the Phillips Genealogy for Three Hundred Years, Death a Birth, Life Beyond Death, and Forty Years in the Ministry; published a number of sermons and historical addresses.

Married (1) November 1, 1867, in New Haven, Emma Augusta, daughter of George William and Eliza (Butler) Judd. Children: James Wallace; George Phillips; Emma Elizabeth (died in 1887); William Teal; Franklin Sherman (B.S. Massachusetts Agricultural College and Boston University 1893, M.A. Columbia 1905); May Augusta (died in youth); Cora Louise (died in childhood); Newton Haven; Sarah Juliet (died in 1915); Fanny Eliza (died in 1914); John Benedict (died in 1915); and Edward Judson, ex-'12 (died in 1914). Mrs. Hoyt died February 20, 1896. Married (2) April 19, 1897, in Cheshire, Sarah Elizabeth Judd, a sister of his first wife. Mrs. Hoyt died July 26, 1924. Married (3) May 25, 1925, in Kingston, N. Y., Margaret Hoyt Brink, daughter of John Benedict and Jane (Beecher) Hoyt.

Death due to angina pectoris. Interment in family lot in Newtown Cemetery. Survived by wife, five sons, and five grandchildren.

Clarence Lincoln Westcott, B.A. 1864.

Born June 17, 1843; in Wilton, Conn
Died December 7, 1925, in New York City

Father, George Burwell Westcott, a farmer; son of Daniel and Sarah Betts (Lockwood) Westcott; descendant of Richard Westcott, who came to Wethersfield, Conn, from England, fought in the Pequot War in 1637, and settled in Stamford, Conn., in 1640. Mother, Arethusa (Lincoln) Westcott, daughter of Caleb and Martha (Whiting) Lincoln; descendant of Thomas Lincoln, who came to this country from Norfolk, England, in 1638 and settled at Hingham, Mass.

Wilton Academy. Entered Yale at beginning of Sophomore year; oration appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year; member Varuna Boat Club, Linnonia, Gamma Nu, Alpha Delta Phi, Wolf's Head, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Studied law in office of Benedict & Boardman in New York City 1864-66; admitted to bar in April, 1866; in office of Bowdoin, Larocque & Barlow 1867-1871; then practiced alone until January, 1875, when he formed firm of Brown & Westcott, which became Hall, Brown & Westcott in 1879 (with offices in New York City and White Plains, N. Y.), and Brown & Westcott in 1881; had practiced independently since 1884; lived in White Plains 1875-1884 and since then in New York (had spent the summer at Scarborough-on-Hudson since 1907); member New York County Lawyers Association, Huguenot Society, and Society of Mayflower Descendants; vestryman Christ Episcopal Church, New York City, and vestryman and warden St. Mary's Church, Beechwood, Scarborough-on-Hudson.

Married (1) October 15, 1873, in New York City, Mary, daughter of the Rev. Horace Hooker (B A 1815) and Harriet (Watkinson) Hooker, and sister of Thomas Hooker, '64. One son, Harold Hooker (died in childhood). Mrs Westcott died January 11, 1887. Married (2) June 17, 1890, in Roxbury, Mass., Maria Dunbar, daughter of Commodore Samuel Lockwood, U.S.N., and Maria (Dunbar) Lockwood. One daughter, Margery Dunbar.

Death, due to an intestinal operation, occurred at the Post-Graduate Hospital, New York City. Buried in Hillside Cemetery, Wilton. Survived by wife and daughter.

Edward Bennet Bronson, B.A. 1865.

Born June 12, 1843, in Hartford, Conn
Died November 18, 1925, in New York City.

Father, Thomas Bronson (B.A. 1829), a Congregational minister and a teacher; son of Bennet Bronson (B.A. 1797) and Anne (Smith) Bronson; descendant of John Bronson, who came to Hartford from England in 1636, was an original proprietor of Farmington in 1641, and later settled at Waterbury, Conn. Mother, Cynthia Elizabeth (Bartlett) Bronson; daughter of Cyrus M. and Betsey (McCall) Bartlett. Yale relatives include: Nathaniel Smith (honorary M.A. 1795) and Nathan Smith (honorary M.A. 1808) (great-uncles); Dr. Jesse Bronson (B.A. 1826) and Henry Bronson (M.D. 1827) (uncles); Bennet Bronson, '09 (nephew); and Samuel L. Bronson, '55, Nathan S. Bronson, '56 S., S. Henry Bronson, '66 M., Dr. Thomas S. Bronson, '86 S., Ezekiel S. Bronson, '00, Theodore L. Bronson, '12, George P. Murdock, '19, and Bennet B. Murdock, '23 (cousins).

Hopkins Grammar School, Hartford Member Varuna Boat Club, Brothers in Unity, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Psi Upsilon

Studied in Yale School of Medicine for six months during 1865-66 and then at College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia, for two years (M.D. 1869); interne at Bellevue Hospital April, 1868-October, 1869, spent next three years abroad, studying German and medicine in Berlin, Dresden, and Prague for six months and medicine in Vienna for two years (gave especial attention to skin diseases) and devoting six months to travel and study in Italy, Paris, and London, in 1872 began practice in New York City, which had been his home ever since, although he retired from practice a few years before his death; professor of dermatology at New York Polyclinic Medical School and Hospital 1882-1904 and then professor emeritus; had been assistant surgeon to New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, visiting surgeon to New York Dispensary, visiting physician to City Hospital, House of Mercy, and Charity Hospital, attending surgeon and later consulting physician to Outdoor Poor Department of Bellevue Hospital, attending physician to Northern Dispensary, consulting physician to Babies' Hospital, and pathologist to Metropolitan Throat Hospital; contributed article on the "Syphilitic Corpuscle of Losterfer" to New York Medical Record; subsequently wrote series of articles on same subject for Medical Press and Circular of London; collaborator on Archives of Dermatology; contributor to American Journal of Syphilis and Dermatology; member editorial staff of Medical Record; one of the translators of Ziemssen's Cyclopedia of the Practice of Medicine; member American Medical Association, American Dermatological Association, American Therapeutic Society, New York Academy of Medicine, New York Dermatological Society, Medical Society of the County of New York, Greater New York Medical Association, Bellevue Hospital Alumni Association, and Harvey Society; served on 1865 Class Committee for a time.

Unmarried.

Burned to death in a fire that completely destroyed his home. Buried in Green River Cemetery, Greenfield, Mass. By the terms of his will a bequest of $10,000 was left to Yale University to be added to the contribution of the Class of 1865 to the Alumni University Fund.

George Henry Ely, B.A. 1865.

Born November 15, 1844, in Elyria, Ohio.

Died October 1, 1925, in Elyria, Ohio.

Father, Heman Ely, a banker; member of Ohio Legislature; son of Heman Ely, who settled in the Western Reserve, about twenty-five miles west of Cleveland, in 1817 and named Lorain County and present city of Elyria (at that time owned nearly the entire township, receiving his title through his father, Justin Ely, from the Connecticut Land Company), and Celia (Belden) Ely; descendant of Nathaniel Ely, who came from England to Newtown, Mass., in 1634 and later settled at Springfield, Mass. Mother, Mary Harris (Monteith) Ely; daughter of the Rev. John Monteith (B. A. Jefferson College 1813) and Abigail (Harris) Monteith, and sister of John Monteith, '56; descendant of David Monteith, who came from Dundee, Scotland, to Gettysburg, Pa., about 1780. Nephews: Frederick E. Williamson, '98, Theodore W. Ely, '05 S., Arthur P. Williamson, '07, Albert H. Ely, Jr., '15, and Thomas Marshall, '28.

Preparatory training received at Hudson, Ohio. Attended Western Reserve College for two years as member of Class of 1865. Entered Yale as a Junior in 1863; second disputation appointment Senior year; member Linonia and Glyuna Boat Club.

Had lived in Elyria ever since graduation; engaged in manufacture of carriage hardware until 1888 (member of firm of Topliff & Ely for some years); then disposed of his interest in the carriage business to The Topliff & Ely Company and became president of Elyria Stone Company; also engaged in breeding fine horses for ten years; after his father's death in 1894, became president and manager of the Ely Realty Company, a corporation to which the real estate owned by the family had been deeded, and served in that capacity until his death; director and president National Bank of Elyria for over twenty-five years; an organizer of the Chamber of Commerce and its president for several years; state senator for two terms (1893-97), having been nominated each time by acclamation; became a charter member of Yale Alumni Association of Cleveland in 1881 (president for three terms); member First Congregational Church, Elyria.

Married December 11, 1867, in Chicopee, Mass., Annie E., daughter of Loman A. and Louisa (Patrick) Moody. Children: Malcolm Monteith, ex-'91; Heman, '94 S.; and Mary Louise (Mrs. Todd L. Moise)

Death followed an operation for appendicitis. Interment at Elyria. Survived by wife, sons, daughter, seven grandchildren, among whom are Heman Ely, Jr., ex-'21, and George H. Ely, 2d, '28, two half brothers, Dr. Albert H. Ely, '85, and Charles Theodore Ely, of Cleveland, and two half sisters, Mrs. James DeL. Williamson, of Cleveland, and Mrs. George M. Marshall, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Charles Kimberly, B.A. 1865.

Born November 4, 1843, in New Haven, Conn.

Died June 30, 1926, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Charles Kimberly; son of Ezra Kimberly, a Revolutionary soldier; descendant of Thomas Kimberly, who came from England and was a founder of New Haven Mother, Harriet Abigail (Sperry) Kimberly; daughter of Enos Sperry

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute. Second prize for declamation Sophomore year; member Varuna Boat Club, Linonia, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied at Albany Law School 1865-66, receiving degree of LL.B. at end of the year's work; admitted to bar in New York and Connecticut in 1866, but never practiced law; conducted an insurance agency in New Haven with Lucien W Sperry, his stepfather, under name of Sperry & Kimberly 1867-1887; in 1887 the firm of Kimberly & Root, bankers and brokers, was formed, which later became successively Kimberly, Root & Day and Kimberly, Root & Company, and so continued until 1915, when Mr. Kimberly retired; city auditor (comptroller) of New Haven 1879-1883; member Church of the Redeemer (Congregational), New Haven.

Married December 25, 1867, in New Haven, Helen Augusta, daughter of William and Ann (Holt) Hull No children.

Death, due to the effects of an operation and pleurisy, occurred after an illness of several months Buried in Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife.

Sidney Vanuxem Smith, B.A. 1865.

Born March 27, 1845, in Philadelphia, Pa

Died September 19, 1925, in San Francisco, Calif

Father, Sidney Vanuxem Smith, a lawyer; son of Nathan and Louisa (Vanuxem) Smith. Mother, Felixine (Teisseire)

Smith; daughter of James and Josephine (Duprez) Teisseire; granddaughter of Anthony Teisseire, whose widow came to America from France after her husband's death at about the time of the French Revolution and settled in Philadelphia.

Short's School, Philadelphia Dispute appointment Junior year; dissertation appointment Senior year; member Varuna Boat Club, Linonia, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Alpha Sigma Phi, Psi Upsilon, and Scroll and Key

Went to San Francisco immediately after graduation and studied law in his father's office; admitted to the bar in January, 1869; practiced in San Francisco until 1908, when he retired (associated with his father in firm of S. V. Smith & Son 1869-1885, partner with James Reid Pringle, his stepson, in firm of Smith & Pringle 1895-1908); member Trinity Episcopal Church, San Francisco.

Married October 23, 1884, in San Rafael, Calif., Cora Butterworth Pringle, daughter of Sam Fowler and Mary (Annis) Butterworth. Children: Sidney Vanuxem, Jr., a non-graduate member of the University of California Class of 1908; Felix Teisseire (B.A. University of California 1908, LL.B. Harvard 1911); Cora Helen Butterworth, the wife of Herbert S. Gould (B.A. Stanford 1909); and Gordon Manges (died in infancy). Mrs. Smith died October 2, 1921.

Death, due to angina pectoris, followed an illness of over a year. Interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Francisco. Survived by two sons, daughter, and seven grandchildren.

Frederic Nevins Dodge, B.A. 1866.

Born February 6, 1845, in Hartford, Conn.

Died March 28, 1926, in Paterson, N. J.

Father, David Stuart Dodge (M.D. 1826), a physician in Hartford and New York City; son of David Low and Sarah (Cleveland) Dodge; descendant of William Dodge, who came from England to Salem, Mass., in 1629. Mother, Caroline (Hyde) Dodge, daughter of Erastus and Fanny (Bell) Hyde; descendant of William Hyde, who came to this country from England in 1633 and settled at Norwich, Conn. Yale relatives include the following cousins. D. Stuart Dodge, '57, George E. Dodge, '70, Arthur M. Dodge, '74, Walter Phelps Dodge, ex-'91, Francis P. Dodge, '94, Guy P. Dodge, ex-'96, Marshall J. Dodge, '98, Clarence P. and Murray W. Dodge, both '99, William E. Dodge (honorary M. A. 1901), A. Douglas Dodge, '03, Geoffrey Dodge, '09, and Percival and Stuart Phelps Dodge, both '14.

Preparatory training received under a private tutor in New York City. Member Varuna Boat Club, Linonia, Delta Kappa, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Delta Phi, and Scroll and Key.

LL.B. Columbia 1868; practiced law in New York City 1868-1872; and was then engaged in business with the Milligan & Higgins Glue Company until 1884, when he became secretary and treasurer of the E. A. Bliss Company (lumber) in New York City; in March, 1887, appointed statistician at New York Custom House and the following month promoted to acting deputy collector and confidential clerk to the collector; became acting chief clerk in December, 1887, and chief clerk in 1888; in 1914 promoted to appointment clerk, having charge of records, correspondence, and all matters relating to the personnel in the collector's office, and held that position until his death; member Presbyterian Church.

Married October 25, 1871, in Paterson, Jeanie Godwin, daughter of Abraham and Eleanor (Godwin) Prall. Children: Frederic Stuart (died in infancy); Eleanor Godwin (Mrs. Robert Rennie Atterbury); Kenneth Egbert; and Effingham Nevins (B.A. 1906, LL.B. New York Law School 1908).

Death due to bronchopneumonia. Buried in Cedar Lawn Cemetery, Paterson. Survived by wife, daughter, two sons, and four grandchildren.

Wilder Bennett Harding, B.A. 1867.

Born February 6, 1839, in Putney, Vt.
Died January 15, 1926, in Springfield, Mass.

Father, John Richardson Harding, a farmer; son of Caleb and Betsy (Richardson) Harding; descendant of Daniel Harding, who came from England to Providence, R. I., and later settled in Rehoboth, Mass. Mother, Lucy (Bennett) Harding; daughter of Samuel Bennett, a Revolutionary soldier.

Williston Academy. Second prize in Freshman prize debate; first prize in Sophomore and Junior debates; second prize in declamation Sophomore year; dissertation appointment Junior year; oration appointment Senior year; member Linonia, Gamma Nu, Alpha Delta Phi, Skull and Bones, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Taught at Lawrence Academy, Groton, Mass., 1867-69; admitted to bar July 3, 1869; was in law office of Taylor & Andrews in New York City a few months but in January, 1870, obliged to resign on account of ill health; taught in Poughkeepsie Military Institute during spring and summer of 1870 and in W. C. Wilcox's private school in Stamford, Conn., 1870-72; M.A. Yale 1871; principal of Smith Academy, Hatfield, Mass., 1872-1885, of Genesee Valley Seminary, Belfast, N. Y., 1885-89, and of Washington Academy, Salem, N. Y., from 1889 until 1897, when he retired from teaching; afterwards had a fruit farm in Southwick, Mass., for over twenty years; since 1920 had lived in Springfield; member Congregational Church, Southwick, Mass.; superintendent of a Methodist Episcopal Sunday school in Springfield for a number of years.

Married August 22, 1872, in Putney, Sarah Louise, daughter of Simon Willard and Sarah Ann (Meade) Houghton. Children: Harold Richardson; Blanche Houghton (Mrs. Judson O. Brooks); and Malcolm Bennett. Mrs. Harding died January 12, 1920

Death due to acute heart dilation. Interment in Putney. Survived by daughter, two sons, and eight grandchildren.

Stephen Goodhue Bailey, B.A. 1868.

Born January 23, 1845, in Lowell, Mass.

Died March 31, 1926, in Lowell, Mass.

Father, Thomas Duston Bailey; son of Moors and Ruthena (Duston) Bailey; descendant of Richard Bailey, who came from England to Lynn, Mass., in 1638 and later settled at Rowley, Mass., where he was connected with one of the first cloth mills in America; descendant of Thomas Duston, eldest son of Hannah Duston, of Haverhill, Mass., who was captured by Indians in 1697, escaped after killing her captors, and returned to Haverhill, where there is a commemorative statue erected to her memory, a second monument to her memory being on an island at the confluence of the Contocook and Merrimac rivers near Concord, N. H. Mother, Ruth Folsom (Goodhue) Bailey; daughter of Stephen and Betsy (Page) Goodhue; granddaughter of the Rev. Thomas Page, who served in the Revolutionary War and afterwards moved from Connecticut to Hanover, N. H., and later to Hebron, N. H., where he was pastor of the Congregational Church.

Lowell High School. First colloquy appointment Junior year; colloquy appointment Senior year; member Brothers in Unity (president Senior year) and Kappa Sigma Epsilon.

After graduation taught at Brattleboro, Vt., and Brookfield and Marblehead, Mass.; principal of Franklin Grammar School, Lowell, 1871-74; then engaged in the coal business in Lowell for a year; in 1875 entered Boston University School of Medicine, where he was president of his class and was graduated with honors in 1880, winning a prize for his graduation essay; practiced medicine at Haverhill the next year and then at Lowell until 1898, with the exception of eighteen months which he spent in practice in Hoquiam, Wash.; in the employ of United States Custom Service as liquidator in Boston from 1898 until his retirement in 1924; had lived in Lowell since 1922; member Eliot-Union Congregational Church in that city.

Married August 6, 1873, in Lowell, Ella Pray, daughter of John Jones and Caroline (Merrill) Pray. Children: Sidney Pray; Thomas Duston; Philip Goodhue; Paul; and Ruth Merrill (B.A. Mount Holyoke 1909).

Death due to carcinoma. Buried at Lowell. Survived by wife, four sons, daughter, four grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Clara D. Churchill and Miss Ruth B. Bailey, both of Lowell.

William Palmer Dixon, B.A. 1868.

Born March 19, 1847, in New York City

Died June 24, 1926, in Lawrence, N. Y.

Father, Courtlandt Palmer Dixon; son of Nathan Fellows Dixon (B A Brown 1799) and Betsy (Palmer) Dixon; descendant of John Dixon, who came to America from Ireland in 1719 and settled at New London, Conn. Mother, Hannah Elizabeth (Williams) Dixon; daughter of Capt. Ephraim Williams, of Stonington, Conn., a collateral descendant of Colonel Ephraim Williams, the founder of Williams College, and Hannah Eliza (Denison) Williams; descendant of Isaac Williams, who settled in Stonington about 1685. Yale relatives include Henry B. Barnes, '66, and Louis L. Stanton, '79 (brothers-in-law); and Henry B. Barnes, '93, Courtlandt D. Barnes, '02, Theodore P. Dixon, '07, Thomas S. Barnes, '10, George A. Dixon, Jr., '13, and L. Lee Stanton, '19 (nephews).

Overhiser's School, Brooklyn. One of the Cochlaureati; made presentation address at Wooden Spoon Exhibition; member Junior Promenade and Junior Exhibition committees, Thanksgiving Jubilee Committee (Senior year), Delta Kappa, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones.

LL B Columbia 1870; admitted to bar May 14, 1869; in partnership with his classmate, Charles H. Farnam, under firm name of Dixon & Farnam 1870-75; then practiced independently until January, 1882; in partnership with George M. Miller and Wheeler H. Peckham in firm of Miller, Peckham & Dixon from 1882 until dissolution of firm in 1900; since then in partnership with his cousin, Jabish Holmes, in firm of Dixon & Holmes; trustee Mutual Life Insurance Company; director Lawyers Title Insurance Company, Mortgage Bond Company, Fidelity & Casualty Company, Lawyers Westchester Title & Insurance Company, American Exchange National Bank, and City of New York Insurance Company; president and director New York, Manhattan, Central, and Colonial Real Estate companies; Episcopalian.

Married April 26, 1871, at Riverdale-on-Hudson, N. Y., Evelena Franklin, daughter of Samuel Denison and Elizabeth (Crary) Babcock. Children: Evelena Babcock, the wife of Eben Stevens, '92; William Henry (B A Columbia 1900); and Courtlandt Palmer (B A 1908). Mrs. Dixon died April 30, 1908.

Death due to heart failure Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by three children, six grandchildren, two of whom are Byam K. Stevens, '19, and William D. Stevens, '23, and two brothers, Ephraim W. Dixon, '81, and George A. Dixon (M.D. Columbia 1878), of New York City.

Jonathan Ingersoll, B.A. 1868.

Born April 23, 1848, in New Haven, Conn.
Died May 9, 1926, in Los Angeles, Calif

Father, Charles Anthony Ingersoll (B A 1815, honorary M.A. 1827); judge of United States District Court for District of Connecticut; son of Jonathan Ingersoll (B.A 1766, LL.D. 1816), a judge of the Superior Court and Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut, and Grace (Isaacs) Ingersoll; grandson of the Rev. Jonathan Ingersoll (B A. 1736) and of Ralph Isaacs (B.A. 1761); great-grandson of the Rev Joseph Moss (honorary M A. 1702); descendant of John Ingersoll, who came from Bedfordshire, England, to Hartford, Conn, about 1650 Mother, Henrietta (Sidell) Ingersoll; daughter of John and Elizabeth (Low) Sidell; descendant of John Sidell (or Seidel), who came to this country from Saxony about 1753 and settled in New York City. Yale relatives include: Jared Ingersoll (B.A. 1742) and Isaac Isaacs (B.A 1750) (great-great-uncles); Ralph Isaacs (B A. 1784) (great-uncle); Ralph I. Ingersoll (B.A. 1808) and the Rev. Edward Ingersoll (B A 1831) (uncles); Charles D. Ingersoll, '64, and Thomas C Ingersoll, '65 (brothers); Hamilton Ingersoll, '11 S (nephew); and Jared Ingersoll (B.A. 1766), John V. Ingersoll (B A. 1834), Charles R. Ingersoll (B.A 1840), Francis G Ingersoll, '74, Colin M. Ingersoll, '80 S., George Pratt Ingersoll, '85 L, Colin M. Ingersoll, '17 L., and Ralph McA. Ingersoll, '21 S. (cousins).

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute
First colloquy appointment Junior year; member Glyuna Boat Club, Delta Kappa, Delta Beta Xi, Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Spade and Grave, and Wolf's Head

Studied at Albany Law School 1868-69, receiving degree of LL B. at end of year's work; immediately began practice in New Haven; executive secretary of State of Connecticut May, 1873-December, 1874; assistant clerk of Superior Court of New Haven 1875-1882 and clerk 1882-88; member Court of New Haven Common Council 1870-72; moved to the Pacific coast 1889, making his home in Los Angeles during most of the time since; traveled in various parts of the United States and in Europe 1889-1899; entered the service of Southern Pacific Railroad Company at Los Angeles in 1899; in charge of advertising department 1902-1910; chief clerk in accounting department from 1910 until his retirement in 1916; member Trinity Episcopal Church, New Haven.

Married (1) October 6, 1870, in Albany, N. Y., Grace King, daughter of Joshua King and Elizabeth Everett (Carrier) Skinner Children: Anne (died in childhood); Charles Anthony, '93 S., Henrietta, who married Thomas M. Russell, ex-'96 S.; and Jonathan, '96 S. Mr and Mrs. Ingersoll were divorced in 1889. Married (2) March 16, 1889, in New York City, Alice Maud, daughter of John Charles and Mary Parmelee (Beecher) Anderson One son, Randolph.

Death due to acute indigestion. Buried in the chapel of Los Angeles Crematory. Survived by wife, daughter, three sons, and three grandchildren.

Charles Edwin Searls, B.A. 1868.

Born March 25, 1846, in Pomfret, Conn
Died July 14, 1925, in Thompson, Conn

Father, Edwin Clark Searls, a merchant in Pomfret and later a broker in New York; son of Bela and Hannah (Wolcot) Searls, descendant of Robert Searls, who came from Dorchester, England, was admitted to the community of Dorchester, Mass, in 1662, and later moved to Brooklyn, Conn. Mother, Caroline (Mathewson) Searls; daughter of Darius and Mary (Smith) Mathewson; descendant of John Mathewson, who came to America from Scotland in 1658 and settled at Providence, R. I. Cousins: Dr. Arthur Mathewson, '58, Albert McC. Mathewson, '84 L., Dr. Henry S. Mathewson, '90, and John P. Grosvenor, '01.

Private academy in Thompson. Dissertation appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year; member Phi Theta Psi, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Psi Upsilon, and Wolf's Head.

Had lived in Thompson since graduation; studied law with Gilbert M. Phillips in Putnam, Conn ; had practiced in Putnam since his admission to bar in August, 1870; formed a partnership with Frank F. Russell, ex-'89 L., under firm name of Searls & Russell in 1892; in 1910 Howard C. Bradford was admitted to the firm, which then became Searls, Russell & Bradford, of which Mr. Searls was senior member until his death; admitted to practice in United States Supreme Court in 1907; one of the oldest members of the Connecticut Bar in length of service, and oldest practicing member of Windham County Bar; had declined two appointments to Superior Court bench; counsel for Hemingway Silk Company of Putnam (originally the Hammond-Knowlton Silk Company) from its incorporation about 1885 until his death; director of Derry (N. H.) Water Company until the works were sold to the city and of Thompson National Bank until its liquidation; special counsel to Comptroller of the Currency in 1898 and 1899; member Connecticut Legislature in 1871 and again in 1886 (candidate for speaker during last term, but defeated), secretary of state during 1881-82; in convention of 1884 received a large vote for member of Congress from his county, in 1886 his name was prominently mentioned as a candidate for governor; delegate from Connecticut to Republican National Convention in 1896; member State Senate in 1909 and 1910, serving as chairman of Judiciary Committee and of Joint Committee on Rules, town clerk of Thompson in 1869 and 1870; school visitor for a number of years, justice of the peace 1867-1916; former officer of American Bar Association and president Connecticut State Bar Association in 1918 (member of its committee on jurisprudence and of executive committee); director Connecticut Branch, National Citizens' League; member National Economic League; regular attendant at Congregational Church in Thompson.

Married October 8, 1902, in Boston, Mass , Sarah Alice, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Fairclough) Fell No children.

Death due to myocarditis, had been in failing health for two years; his illness becoming acute about three months before his death. Buried at Pomfret Survived by wife.

Frank Harwood Hamlin, B.A. 1869.

Born March 29, 1846, in East Bloomfield, N. Y.

Died January 17, 1926, in Canandaigua, N. Y.

Father, Henry William Hamlin, a banker and farmer; son of Elijah Hamlin, who emigrated from Connecticut to western New York, settling in Bloomfield in 1792, and Lydia (Pope) Hamlin; descendant of James Hamlin, who came to America from London in 1639 and settled at Barnstable, Mass. Mother, Sibyll Blackman (Sears) Hamlin; daughter of Dr. John Sears, of Sharon, Conn., and Almira (Goold) Sears; descendant of Governor William Bradford and Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower" company. Nephew: Frederick H. Hamlin, '95.

East Bloomfield Academy and Claverack (N. Y.) Institute. Entered Yale with Class of 1868, but left during Freshman year; reentered as Freshman with Class of 1869; second dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; member Delta Kappa and Psi Upsilon.

LL.B. Albany Law School 1870; admitted to New York State Bar that year and practiced in Albany until 1872; then moved to Canandaigua and practiced independently for two years; spent nearly a year (1872-73) in California, partly on account of his wife's health, practiced law in partnership with William H. Smith, a judge of Ontario County under firm name of Smith & Hamlin 1874-1889; subsequently practiced alone until 1901, when his eldest son became associated with him under firm name of Hamlin & Hamlin; upon the latter's withdrawal from the firm in 1904, Mr. Hamlin took another son, Henry W. Hamlin, into partnership under the same firm name and continued in that connection until his death, although he had retired from active practice some years before; one of the organizers of Canandaigua National Bank in 1887 and president from that time until his death (also a director); first vice-president and financial manager of Genesee Valley Trust Company of Rochester from its incorporation in 1901 until 1908 and then president for six years; elected president of Rochester Clearing House Association 1910; a founder of Hamlin National Bank of Holcomb, N. Y.; director of Citizens Bank of Penn Yan, N. Y.; an organizer of Locke Insulator Company of Victor, N. Y., Papec Machine Company of Shortsville, N. Y. (director at death), and Lisk Manufacturing Company of Canandaigua (appointed a receiver upon its financial collapse in 1907 and aided in saving it from complete bankruptcy and in its reorganization); secured right of way from Geneva to Batavia for Lehigh Valley Railroad; owned a wheat farm in Cass County, S. Dak., for about twenty years; elected president of village of Canandaigua in 1887 and served two terms (also served as its counsel at various times); chairman of Ontario County Republican Committee during two campaigns (one of them, the Garfield presidential campaign); delegate to New York State Constitutional Convention for 26th Senatorial District 1894; treasurer board of trustees of Ontario Orphan Asylum for forty years, retiring in 1924, but continuing as member of board until his death; secretary board of trustees of Canandaigua Academy for many years prior to 1897, when it was taken over by the public school system; president board of trustees of First Congregational Church, Canandaigua, for some years; chairman of the first and second Liberty Loan campaigns for Canandaigua, senior member Ontario County Bar Association and Ontario County Historical Association; member Canandaigua Scientific Association for many years (at one time president) and an honorary member during the last few years

Married September 25, 1872, in East Bloomfield, Elizabeth Pearce, daughter of George and Elizabeth Ann (Pearce) Wright. Children: George Wright (B. A. 1895); Arthur Sears (B. A. 1899, LL. B. New York Law School 1901); and Henry William (B. A. 1902, LL. B. New York Law School 1904). Mrs. Hamlin died January 23, 1912.

Death, due to broncho-pneumonia, occurred at the Thompson Memorial Hospital, Canandaigua. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Canandaigua. Survived by three sons, seven grandchildren, one of whom is Frank H. Hamlin, 2d, '28, and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah H. Hollister and Mrs. Agnes H. Steele, both of East Bloomfield.

John Marshall Holcombe, B.A. 1869.

Born June 8, 1848, in Hartford, Conn.
Died January 15, 1926, in Hartford, Conn

Father, James Huggins Holcombe, a lawyer in Hartford for many years; clerk of the court and of the House and Senate of Connecticut; later lived in Italy; son of Phineas and Nancy Smith (Huggins) Holcombe; descendant of Thomas Holcombe, who came from England to Dorchester, Mass., in 1635 and later was a settler and deputy in Windsor, Conn.; in the same line of descent as Amasa Holcombe, the distinguished scientist, and the Rev. Frederick Holcombe, eminent divine and founder of Trinity College; other ancestors included three Revolutionary soldiers and other men prominent in early American history, among them being John Webster, one of the early colonial governors of Connecticut, William Phelps, magistrate and deputy to the General Court for many sessions, Edward Griswold, also a magistrate and deputy, and Capt. Joseph Wadsworth, who hid the original charter of Connecticut. Mother, Emily Merrill (Johnson) Holcombe; daughter of General Nathan Johnson (B A. 1802), an officer in the War of 1812 and a member of the State Senate, and Sarah (Merrill) Johnson. Brother, James W Holcombe, '68.

Hartford Public High School. Second colloquy appointment Junior year; member Kappa Sigma Epsilon and Wolf's Head.

Traveled and read law during first six months after graduation; then entered actuarial department of Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company; appointed actuary in the insurance department of the State of Connecticut in October, 1881, and served as such for three years; since August, 1874, had been connected with Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford (assistant secretary 1874-75, secretary 1875-1889, vice-president 1889-1904, president 1904-1924, and chairman of board of directors since 1924); organizer in 1886 of the Fidelity Trust Company, of which he was president from 1896 to 1907 and a director until it was merged into the United States Security Trust Company in 1923, when he became a director in the latter company; president and director

Mechanics Savings Bank; director American National Bank until its merger with the Phoenix National Bank, after which he was a director in the latter bank; director Connecticut Fire Insurance Company until its merger with Phoenix Insurance Company and then director in the latter company; director National Surety Company of New York and Peck, Stow & Wilcox Company of Southington, Conn.; had taken as important a part in the municipal affairs of Hartford as he had in its business life; brought about the organization of the Board of Health and served on it for many years; member of the Common Council in 1883, and of the Board of Aldermen in 1885, serving as president of both, member Hartford Board of Finance and City Plan Commission; had served as president of Insurance Institute of Hartford, Municipal Arts Society, and Fine Arts Federation; president Hartford Meadows Development Commission at the time of his death; director of Board of Trade and of the Retreat for the Insane (also treasurer of latter for many years); lecturer on insurance at Yale (instrumental in organizing the course) 1907-1914 and special lecturer at Western Reserve University 1913, honorary M. A. Yale 1909 and LL. D. Trinity 1920; author of many articles and brochures on insurance matters, some of which have been compiled into a published volume, and of Lectures on Insurance (textbook published in 1908); had contributed to North American Review for many years, secretary Yale Alumni Association of Hartford during the first six years of its existence (1888-1892), vice-president 1892-94, and president the next year; secretary of the Class of 1869 since 1919; charter member and Fellow Actuarial Society of America; honorary member Hartford Life Underwriters' Association; member Society of Colonial Wars, Sons of the American Revolution, Society of the War of 1812, Society of Colonial Governors, executive committee of American Missionary Society, and the First Church of Christ (Congregational), Hartford.

Married January 29, 1873, in Brooklyn, N. Y., Emily Seymour, daughter of Edwin Olmsted and Harriet (Brown) Goodwin. Children: Harold Goodwin, '97, Emily Marguerite, and John Marshall, Jr (B. A. 1911, LL. B. Harvard 1914) Mrs. Holcombe died March 28, 1923.

Because of Mrs. Holcombe's services to the city of Hartford in the restoration of the Ancient Burying Ground, the Common Council passed a resolution granting permission for two graves, and, as a result, both Mr. and Mrs. Holcombe are buried there. Was survived by sons, daughter, and nine grandchildren; his daughter died February 6, 1926.

William James Betts, B.A. 1870.

Born May 19, 1847, in Stamford, Conn.

Died January 30, 1926, in Stamford, Conn.

Father, James Betts; founder of Betts Academy in Stamford in 1838; son of David Coley and Rhoda (Adams) Betts; descendant of Thomas Betts, who came to Guilford, Conn., from England about 1639 and in 1640 moved to Norwalk, Conn. Mother, Amelia D'Autremont (Lockwood) Betts; daughter of Horatio and Bethia Close (Lockwood) Lockwood; descendant of Robert Lockwood, who came from England to America about 1630 and settled at Watertown, Mass. Yale relatives include William C. Betts (M.D. 1843) and John A. Betts (M.D. 1848) (uncles); Sylvester M. Betts, ex-'64, and Alsop L. Betts, ex-'72 (brothers); and J. Henry Cummings, '70, and the Rev. Robert R. Kendall, '72 (brothers-in-law).

Betts Academy. Entered Yale with Class of 1869, but left in fall of 1867 on account of an attack of typhoid fever; reentered as Junior with Class of 1870 in fall of 1868; third prize in declamation Sophomore year; dissertation appointment Senior year, member '69 Baseball Club, Brothers in Unity, Gamma Nu, Alpha Delta Phi, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Connected with Betts Academy during first ten years after graduation, with Dennison & Brown, stationers in New York City, 1880-81; in charge of a subscription book business in Hartford, Conn., 1881-85; upon the death of his father in 1885 returned to principalship of Betts Academy; in January, 1908, the buildings were wholly destroyed by fire and Mr. Betts did not rebuild the school but sold the good will and business interests to the Brunswick School, Inc., of Greenwich, Conn.; headmaster of Betts Tutoring School in Stamford 1909–1924 and then retired; member Headmasters Association and First Congregational Church, Stamford (formerly a deacon).

Married July 15, 1875, in New Haven, Anna Woods, daughter of Ariel Parish (B.A. 1835) and Anna (Woods) Parish, and sister of Leonard W. Parish, '72. One daughter, Charlotte Elizabeth. Mrs. Betts died March 16, 1922.

Death, due to acute uremia, occurred at the Stamford Hospital. Buried in Woodland Cemetery, Stamford. Survived by daughter.

Walter Hatch Charnley, B.A. 1871.

Born October 20, 1850, in New Haven, Conn
Died June 10, 1925, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Father, William Slater Charnley, a banker and broker in Philadelphia; later engaged in the iron and steel business in New Haven; son of James Hatch Charnley, who was born in England in 1790, settled near New Haven, and died in Philadelphia in 1825, and Martha Sauerwold (Slater) Charnley; descendant of William and Jane (Foxcroft) Charnley. Mother, Elizabeth Badger (Atwater) Charnley; daughter of Charles and Lucy (Root) Atwater; descendant of David Atwater, who came to America from England in 1637 and settled at New Haven. Yale relatives include: Lester Bradner, '57 (brother-in-law); the Rev. Lester Bradner, '89, Douglas Charnley, '96, and Charles M. Charnley, '97 (nephews); and Leicester Bradner, '20, William Murray Bradner, '22, and John Bradner, '25 (grandnephews).

Hopkins Grammar School. Member Yale Missionary Society, Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, and Psi Upsilon.

Engaged in the lumber business in Chicago for some years after graduation; lumber broker in Pittsburgh, Pa., 1888–1916, with his home in Sewickley; moved to Cleveland 1916; special investigator in cashier's office of Pennsylvania Railroad 1916–1921; salesman for Morgan Lithographic Company 1921–23; then retired from active business; member Church of the Covenant (Presbyterian), Chicago (at one time treasurer), and afterwards member Presbyterian Church, Sewickley.

Married December 17, 1878, in Chicago, Mary Vernon, daughter of Nathanael Wolfe, formerly attorney-general of Kentucky, and Mary Fontaine (Vernon) Wolfe. Children: Vernon; Walter; Nathanael Wolfe; William Slater; and Mary Starr (widow of Walter M Waskom). Mrs. Charnley died August 19, 1903.

Death due to a general breakdown. Buried in Sewickley. Survived by four sons, daughter, eight grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Edith Charnley Stone, of New York City, and two brothers, Charles M. Charnley, '65, and George Charnley, of New York City. Another brother, James Charnley, also graduated at Yale in 1865.

Albert Westervelt Cooper, B.A. 1871.

Born May 10, 1847, in Whitestown, N. Y.

Died September 25, 1925, at Ocean Grove, N. J.

Father, William Cooper, a farmer; son of William and Sarah (Bailey) Cooper. Mother, Zada (Bailey) Cooper; daughter of Lansing and Zada (Parmalee) Bailey. Yale relatives: Ely R. Hall, '72 (brother-in-law), and Clarence R Hall, '07 (nephew).

Whitestown Seminary. Attended Hillsdale College 1868-1870, becoming member of Delta Tau Delta; entered Yale as a Senior in 1870.

Taught in Holbrook and Bartlett's Military Academy at Sing Sing, N Y, for a time after graduation; principal of Windsor (N. Y) Academy and Union School 1871-72; principal of high school and superintendent of schools in Susquehanna, Pa, 1872-74; then obliged to give up his work on account of ill health and during the next year was engaged in farming at Whitestown; moved to Windsor in 1875 and became engaged in Sunday school work; given an exhorter's license by the quarterly conference of the Susquehanna Methodist Episcopal Church December 20, 1875; licensed to preach by the Wyoming Conference of Binghamton, N. Y., March 2, 1876; entered that conference the next April and was pastor at Franklin Forks, Pa., for a year; ordained deacon at West Pittston, Pa., in April, 1878, and elder at Scranton, Pa., in April, 1880; had held pastorates as follows: Waverly, Pa., 1878-79, Damascus, Pa., 1880-82, Slaterville Springs, N. Y., 1883-85, Oxford, N. Y., 1886-1890, Jermyn, Pa., 1891-92, Scranton, Pa. (Hampton Street Church), 1893-94, Hawley, Pa., 1895-99, Dalton, Pa., 1900-01, Montrose, Pa., 1902, Union, N. Y., 1903-04, Greene, N. Y., 1905-09, and Schenevus, N. Y., 1910-15; retired from active ministry in 1915, but maintained his association with annual sessions of Wyoming Conference until his death; since his retirement had lived in Greene, N. Y., Wilkes Barre, Mountain Top, and Glen Lyon, Pa., Alexandria, Va., and, since 1923, at Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Married July 10, 1873, in Windsor, Ada A., daughter of Jesse and Jane Ann (Russell) Smith. Children: Albert Lloyd (B.A. Wesleyan 1901) and Jesse VanCleft (B.A. Wesleyan 1906). Mrs. Cooper died August 27, 1914.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried at Windsor. Survived by sons and a brother, William Cooper, of Whitesboro, N. Y.

Isaac Dayton Decker, B.A. 1871.

Born May 25, 1844, in Mechanicsville, N. J.
Died October 25, 1906, in Algiers, Algeria.

Father, Isaac Jansen Decker, a farmer in Hunterdon and Warren counties, N. J. Mother, Mary (Sutton) Decker; daughter of Richard Sutton. Ancestors on both sides of his family came to this country from Holland.

Prepared for college at Blairstown, N. J., and under private tutors. Entered Yale as a Sophomore in 1868; first colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years; member Delta Kappa.

Studied in Yale Divinity School 1871-72, appointed a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Glenwood, N. J., 1872; preached at Stanton, N. J., 1872-73; while there studied at Drew Theological Seminary; went abroad in 1874 and spent three years or more at University of Halle, engaged in the study of German and in teaching English; private teacher in Paris for a year; upon the failure of his health, lived in the south of France for a few months; went to Algiers in 1887 or 1888; had resided there since, at one time serving as secretary and interpreter for the American consul; details covering the latter part of his life are lacking; was proficient in seven or eight languages; had written occasional articles for Ladies' Repository and several pamphlets descriptive of his travels; had also translated some German poems, the translations being published in local papers in this country; member Methodist Episcopal Church (Newark Conference).

Married twice, first marriage taking place December 31, 1871, near Hope, N. J., to Martha Ann, daughter of Aaron and Hannah (Brands) Read. One daughter, Martha Katherine (died in infancy). Mrs Decker died December 19, 1873. One daughter by second marriage.

Death, due to strangulated hernia, occurred in Hospital of Mustapha, Algiers Interment in Cemetery of St. Eugène, Algiers. Survived by daughter, three brothers, John L. Decker, of Belvidere, N. J., Austin Decker, of Spokane, Wash., and the Rev. William Harrison Decker (B.A. Lafayette 1885, M.A. 1888), of Nanticoke, Pa., and two sisters, Mrs. Martha McConachy, of Blairstown, N. J., and Mrs Bertha Harris, of Belvidere

John Stevens Sanborn, B.A. 1871.

Born October 5, 1850, in Coffeetown, Miss
Died January 27, 1908, in Portland, Ore.

Father, John Stevens Sanborn, a planter; son of Dr. John Phineas Sanborn and Keziah (Pritchard) Sanborn; descendant of Lieut. John Sanborn, who came to America from Holland in 1633. Mother, Eliza Wyett (Cooke) Sanborn; daughter of Robert Fulton and Elizabeth (White) Cooke; descendant of Francis Cooke, seventeenth signer of the "Mayflower" compact. Yale relatives: Franklin Sanborn, ex-'71 (brother), and J. Robert F. Parkinson, '19 (nephew).

Phillips-Andover Member Delta Kappa, Delta Beta Xi, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied law after graduation and practiced in Cincinnati for a time; then engaged in cattle raising in Texas for a while, after which he again practiced in Cincinnati until 1881; afterwards practiced criminal law in St. Paul, Minn., for some years; subsequently traveled on account of his health and lived at various times in San Francisco, Calif., Seattle, Wash., and Salem, Eugene, and Portland, Ore.

Unmarried.

Death due to tuberculosis. Buried in Portland. Survived by a sister, Mrs. John B. Parkinson, of Daytona, Fla., his step-mother, Mrs. Annie Lewis Sanborn, of Bay City, Texas, a half sister, Mrs. Seth S. Taylor, of Bay City, and a half brother, Jim Hawkins, of Matagorda, Texas.

Philip Case Smith, B.A. 1871.

Born February 5, 1846, in Providence, R. I.

Died May 13, 1926, in Westfield, Mass

Father, Edwin Smith, one of the founders of H. B. Smith & Company of Westfield, manufacturers of heating supplies; son of Andrew and Ann (Roberts) Smith; descendant of Andrew Smith, of Derby, Conn., who married Sarah Tomlinson in 1696. Mother, Cornelia (Bailey) Smith; daughter of Tillinghast and Anna (Briggs) Bailey; descendant of William Bailey, who came from England and settled in Newport, R. I. Nephews: E. Barton Chapin, '07, and H. Dudley Kellogg, Jr., '23 S.

Williston Academy. Played on third Baseball Nine and '71 Baseball Nine Sophomore year, and on University Baseball Team (vice-president University Baseball Club Junior year); member College Glee Club, '71 Glee Club Senior year, Beethoven Society, College Choir; one of the Cochlaureati; Wooden Spoon Committee (floor manager of Junior Promenade), Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, Psi Upsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Became connected with H. B. Smith & Company immediately after graduating from Yale; upon the reorganization and incorporation of the company as The H. B. Smith Company in 1879, became its treasurer and continued in that position until his death, being assisted by his second son, Edwin W. Smith, during the last few years of his life; was also member of the board of directors of the company and its executive committee; member Westfield Chamber of Commerce for many years; attended Second Congregational Church (member of its choir for over twenty years).

Married November 16, 1881, in Westfield, Rachel Hosford, daughter of David and Maria (Clark) Kellogg. Children: Philip Chapin, '06, Edwin Woolsey, and Stanley Kellogg, '14 (served overseas as a Captain of Infantry during the World War).

Death due to pneumonia. Interment in Pine Hill Cemetery, Westfield. Survived by wife, three sons, five grandchildren, two brothers, Edwin B. and William T. Smith, both of Westfield, and a sister, Mrs. Edward P. Chapin, of Andover, Mass.

Watson Robertson Sperry, B.A. 1871.

Born June 25, 1842, in Sauquoit, N. Y.
Died February 13, 1926, in Hartford, Conn.

Father, the Rev. Lyman Sperry, a Methodist Episcopal minister (presiding elder of the Oneida and Otsego districts); descendant of Richard Sperry, who came from England to Stockbridge, Mass., about 1660. Mother, Amanda Keziah (Robertson) Sperry; daughter of Neil Robertson.

Cooperstown (N. Y.) Seminary and Williston Academy. Engaged in newspaper work as an editorial writer for Otsego Republican of Cooperstown before entering Yale. Second prize in Brothers in Unity Freshman prize debate; first and third prizes in English composition Sophomore year; second dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; Townsend Premium and first College Premium in English composition Senior year; chairman Yale Literary Magazine Senior year and winner of Yale Literary Medal; Statement of Facts orator for Brothers in Unity in 1869 and 1870; member Gamma Nu, Delta Beta Xi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones.

After graduation became a member of editorial staff of New York Evening Post, with which he remained until 1881 (managing editor 1875-1881); in January, 1882, became owner and editor of Wilmington (Del.) Morning News; appointed United States Minister Resident to Persia and Consul General at Teheran in 1892 and held the post two years; remained abroad during the next five years; upon his return to the United States sold his Wilmington paper and became an editorial writer for the Hartford Courant; went to Germany in 1906 and was foreign correspondent for the Courant at Leipsic from 1909 to 1911; then continued his work as an editorial writer for the paper until he resigned in 1918; member American Academy of Political Science.

Married (1) June 18, 1874, in New York City, Julia, daughter of Isaac Henderson. One daughter, Eliza Crawford (Mrs. Ritter vonBorosini). Mr. and Mrs. Sperry were divorced January 31, 1913. Married (2) February 5, 1913, in Hartford, Anna Marie Pietsch, daughter of Oskar Lippold, of Dresden, Germany. No children by second marriage.

Death, due to a heart attack, occurred after an illness of six years from arteriosclerosis, during all of which time he was confined to his bed. Cremation took place in Springfield, Mass., and the ashes were interred in the Cemetery of St. Matthew's Church at Unadilla, N. Y. Survived by wife and daughter.

George Arthur Strong, B.A. 1871.

Born October 21, 1848, at Port Gibson, Miss.

Died May 25, 1926, in Plainfield, N. J.

Father, George Perrine Strong, a non-graduate member of the Hamilton College Class of 1834; a lawyer; son of the Rev. Henry Pierce Strong (B.A. 1807, honorary M A. University of Vermont 1817) and Laura (Clark) Strong; descendant of Elder John Strong, who came to Northampton, Mass., from Taunton, England, in 1630. Mother, Melinda Paddleford (Fales) Strong. Yale relatives include: Adam S. Clarke (B A. 1788), the Rev. William L. Strong (B.A. 1802), and the Rev. Jonathan Lee (B A 1809) (great-uncles); William Strong (B.A. 1838) and John C. Strong (B.A. 1842) (uncles); and William Strong (B.A. 1828), Newton D. Strong (B A. 1831), the Rev. Edward Strong (B.A. 1838), the Rev. Samuel W. Strong (B.A. 1843), and William T. Strong, '76 (cousins).

Phillips-Andover. First prize in English composition and third prize in Linonia debate Sophomore year; dissertation appointment, Townsend Premium, and College Premium in English composition Senior year; an editor of Yale Literary Magazine Senior year; member second Baseball Nine and '71 Baseball Nine Sophomore year and University Baseball Nine Senior year; member '71 picture Committee, Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, Psi Upsilon, Skull and Bones, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Taught at Flushing (N.Y.) Institute 1871-72; studied at Columbia Law School for a time; admitted to St. Louis (Mo.) Bar in June, 1873, and was engaged in practice of law in that city until 1876; then moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and continued in practice as member of firm of Strong & Strong; in 1879 moved to New York City and was a member of firm of Duer, Strong & Whitehead for a time; retired from active practice about ten years before his death; director Phoenix Assurance and Phoenix Indemnity companies; member of council of New York University 1907-1925, serving as secretary during most of that time; since 1895 had lived in Plainfield, where he was a member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church and an active worker in its Sunday school and in the work of the Bethel Chapel connected with the church; had contributed articles on theological subjects to New York Tribune.

Married October 3, 1878, in New York City, Harriet Efner, daughter of William Almy Wheelock (B.A. New York University 1843, LL D. 1902) and Harriett (Efner) Wheelock, and sister of William E. Wheelock, '73 Children: Harriet Efner (Mrs. Thomas L. McCready); Agnes Fales, the wife of Howard Huntington, '92; Malcolm Wheelock, a non-graduate member of the Stanford University Class of 1912 (died in 1916); and Helen Clark (B.A. Smith 1916), who married William Burke Belknap, '08.

Death, due to a stroke of paralysis, occurred after an illness of nine months. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, three daughters, six grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. N Strong Stevenson, of San Francisco.

Frederick Harrison Baldwin, B.A. 1872.

Born December 14, 1849, in New York City.

Died January 20, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Charles Peabody Baldwin, a merchant; son of John Baldwin (B.A. Dartmouth 1791), a lawyer, and Peggy (Williams) Baldwin; grandson of the Rev. Moses Baldwin (B.A. Princeton 1757, honorary M.A. Dartmouth 1791); descendant of Nathaniel Baldwin, a Puritan, who came from Buckinghamshire, England, and was one of the first settlers of Milford, Conn., where he was a free planter in 1639. Mother, Mary Ann (Sibley) Baldwin.

Williston Academy. Member Thanksgiving Jubilee Committee Sophomore year; vice-president New York Club of '72; member Junior and Senior Promenade committees, Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, and Psi Upsilon; honorary member Wolf's Head Traveled in Europe 1872-73; LL.B. Columbia 1875; practiced law in New York City 1875-1890 and then retired from practice; had since been interested in literature and the study of architecture and had traveled extensively; had kept his home in New York City, where he was a member of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, in whose interests he was a diligent and effective worker.

Unmarried.

Death due to obstructive jaundice. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by two nieces, Marion Addoms Stoddard, the wife of Henry B. Stoddard, '02, and Mrs. Susan Baldwin Baker, two nephews, Mortimer C. Addoms, Jr., '06, and Henry Sibley Baldwin, and a grandnephew, Moreau Lawson Stoddard, '28.

Frank Osborn Brannan, B.A. 1872.

Born November 19, 1849, in Cincinnati, Ohio

Died April 3, 1918, in Denver, Colo

Father, Benjamin Franklin Brannan, a civil engineer, merchant, and banker; son of John and Sarah Salome (Myer) Brannan; brother of General John M. Brannan, a graduate of the United States Military Academy, who served in the Seminole, Mexican, and Civil wars; ancestors came to Pennsylvania from the Island of Guernsey and from Holland. Mother, Mary Ellen (Doddridge) Brannan; daughter of the Rev. Joseph Doddridge, an Episcopal minister and physician, who had studied medicine under Dr. Benjamin Rush at the Medical Institute of Philadelphia, and Jemima (Bukey) Doddridge; of English descent; granddaughter of John Doddridge, of Maryland.

Hughes High School, Cincinnati Entered Yale with Class of 1871, but joined Class of 1872 the following fall; member Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Beta Xi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Clerk with Franklin Bank of Cincinnati (of which his father was president) 1872-79; engaged in cattle and real estate business at Fort Collins, Colo., 1879-1881; then lived in Cincinnati again for three years, during a part of the time serving as a clerk with the Franklin Bank and for about sixteen months acting as gauger for the Government; returned to Colorado in 1884 and was engaged in ranching, mining, and other occupations at Fort Collins and vicinity until 1890; bookkeeper for Godsmark, Durand & Company, a wholesale grocery house at Battle Creek, Mich., 1890-92 and 1894-97; in August, 1898, moved to Walden, Colo., where he was chiefly occupied as a bookkeeper for various firms until about 1915, when he retired from active business; lived in Walden until shortly before his death; received a prize for an article on the divorce question published in The Brown Book of Boston in 1901; affiliated with Protestant Episcopal Church, although not a member.

Unmarried.

Death due to a complication of diseases. Body cremated at Denver Survived by two brothers, Joseph D. Brannan (B.A. Harvard 1869, M.A. and LL B. 1872), a professor at the Harvard Law School, and John W. Brannan (B.A. Harvard 1874, M D. 1878), of New York City. A half brother, J. Tweed Stewart, Yale '72, died in 1888

George Pliny Sawyer, B.A. 1872.

Born January 26, 1851, in Buffalo, N. Y
Died January 13, 1920, at Winter Park, Fla.

Father, James Denison Sawyer, a grain merchant in Buffalo and president of White's Bank; son of Dan and Charlotte (Denison) Sawyer; descendant of Thomas Sawyer, who came from England in 1640 and settled at Lancaster, Mass. Mother, Charlotte Olivia (Field) Sawyer; daughter of Pliny Ashley and Olivia (Babcock) Field; descendant of Zachariah Field, who came to this country from Yorkshire, England, in 1629 and settled at Hartford, Conn. Brother: William B. Sawyer, '76 S.

Briggs School, Buffalo. Oration appointment Junior year; dissertation appointment Senior year; member '72 Chess Club, Yale Missionary Society, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Beta Xi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

About a year after graduation became engaged in wholesale grocery business as member of firm of Smith, Lapham & Sawyer of Buffalo; later entered wholesale timber and lumber business and was member of firm of Noyes & Sawyer 1879-1901 and of Sawyer & Shuttleworth from 1901 to 1904, when he retired from active business; lecturer on lumbering at Yale 1902-03; one of the founders of Charity Organization Society of Buffalo (the first in the country) and a trustee from its founding until his death; director and twice president Buffalo Fine Arts Academy; in 1914 organized Belgian Relief Committee in Buffalo and was its chairman throughout its existence; was also active in Les Amis de la France; vice-president Yale Alumni Association of Buffalo 1890-91 and president 1891-92 and 1910-11; member St. Paul's Cathedral (Episcopal), Buffalo.

Married May 6, 1874, in New Haven, Ida Maria, daughter of Daniel Hand and Frances Louisa (Ansley) Wilcox, niece of George A. Wilcox, '52, sister of Ansley Wilcox, '74, Marrion Wilcox, '78, Daniel H. Wilcox, ex'84, Francis U. Wilcox, ex'86, and Urquhart Wilcox, '95 S., and sister-in-law of Walter I. Badger, '82, and the Rev. Edward Colton Fellowes, '88. Children: James Denison, '96, the Class Boy of '72; Chloe (died in childhood); Margaret Field; and Ansley Wilcox, '07.

Death due to heart failure. Buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Buffalo. Was survived by wife, sons, and daughter. Mrs. Sawyer died January 2, 1922.

Edward Naman Sheppard, B.A. 1872.

Born April 20, 1850, in Roxbury, Conn.

Died October 5, 1925, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Truman Sheppard, a merchant and farmer; son of Nathan and Nancy (Leavenworth) Sheppard; descendant of Abraham Pierson, of Derby, Conn., and of the Rev. Peter Prudden. Mother, Mary Ann (Webster) Sheppard; daughter of Loudon and Marina (Orton) Webster; descendant of John Webster, who came from England to Massachusetts in 1635, was one of the original proprietors of Hartford, Conn., and served as governor of Connecticut during 1656-57.

Gunnery School, Washington, Conn., and Hopkins Grammar School. Second prize in mathematics Freshman year; oration appointments Junior and Senior years; member University Glee Club, '72 Glee Club Senior year, College Choir (leader Senior year), Yale Missionary Society, and Delta Kappa.

Taught at Holbrook's Military Academy, Ossining, N. Y., 1872-73; studied in Yale Graduate School 1875-79 (member of University Glee Club 1876-77); taught in Hopkins Grammar School 1875-77 and at Cornwall Heights School, Cornwall-on-Hudson, 1879-1880; later became instructor in Latin and Greek at Jersey City High School and held that position until 1885; afterwards taught successively at the Dwight School (formerly the New York School of Languages), Columbia Grammar School, New York City, and Freehold (N. J.) Institute; also engaged in private tutoring at one time; afterwards connected with Pierson & Company (iron and steel) of New York City for a while; was interested in genealogy and had compiled genealogies of the Sheppard, Pierson, and Beekman families; had been identified with several church choirs and Sunday schools, and was leader of the glee club of New York University at one time; had lived in New Haven for a number of years previous to his death.

Unmarried.

Death due to a cerebral hemorrhage with complications. Buried in Evergreen Cemetery, New Haven. Left no immediate relatives.

Joseph Hull Bennett, B.A. 1873.

Born December 27, 1850, in New Haven, Conn

Died March 31, 1926, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Thomas Bennett; attended the Yale School of Law 1835-37; practiced law in New Haven for twenty years; first judge of Municipal Court of New Haven; son of Joseph Bennett (B.A. 1807) and Emilia (Lyon) Bennett; descendant of William Lyon and of Thomas Bennett, who came to America from Barbados in 1760 and settled at Charleston, S. C. Mother, Mary Ann (Hull) Bennett; daughter of Elisha and Hulda (Ball) Hull; descendant of Richard Hull, who came to this country from England in 1634 and settled at New Haven in 1639. Yale relatives include a great-uncle, Isaac S. K. Bennett (B.A. 1810), and three nephews, Winchester Bennett, '97 S., Eugene B. Bennett, '04 S., and Francis T. Bennett, '13.

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute Entered Yale with Class of 1872, but left in Junior year on account of ill health; joined '73 as a Junior the next year; member third Baseball Nine and director '72 Glee Club Freshman year; member of latter in 1871-72 and of '73 Glee Club Senior year; member Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, and Psi Upsilon

After graduation was employed as a chairman by United States Coast Survey in vicinity of New Haven for four years; engaged in surveying at Lake George in summer of 1877, was later an assistant observer with United States Signal Service for a time; subsequently became secretary and treasurer of The Thomas Bennett Estate, Inc.; for some years, however, his health had not allowed him to engage in any active occupation; had devoted much time to music and was a skilled pianist.

Married July 26, 1911, in New Haven, Mary Ashfield McFarland (who attended the Yale School of the Fine Arts for two years), daughter of Lieut. Col. Walter McFarland and Mary (Ashfield) McFarland, and sister of Warren C. McFarland, '87 M., Boynton W. McFarland, '89 S., and Alan R. McFarland, ex-'91 S. No children

Death due to pneumonia. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife, two brothers, William L. Bennett, '69, and Thomas G. Bennett, '70 S., and two sisters, the Misses Susan J. and Harriet Bennett, both of New Haven.

Atwood Collins, B.A. 1873.

Born September 19, 1851, in Hartford, Conn.

Died May 8, 1926, in Hartford, Conn.

Father, Erastus Collins, a dry goods merchant; senior partner in firm of Collins, Fenn & Company, founded by his father; son of Amos Morris and Mary (Lyman) Collins; grandson of Col. Moses Lyman of the Revolutionary Army; descendant of John Collins, who came to Braintree, Mass., from Suffolk, England, about 1640. Mother, Mary Sarah (Atwood) Collins; daughter of John Mulliken Atwood (B.A. 1814) and Henrietta Maria (Coffin) Atwood; niece of Charles Atwood (B.A. 1821); descendant of Harmon Atwood, who came from London to Boston in 1642. Yale relatives include: Edmund G. Howe, '06, Charles W. Page, Jr., '12, and Russell Allen, '14 (nephews); and Charles T. Collins, '67, Charles Collens, '96, Clarence L. Collens, '96 S., Arthur M. Collens, '03, Frank C. Downing, '06, and Blatchford Downing, '07 (cousins).

Hartford Public High School. Oration appointment Junior year; dissertation appointment Senior year; chairman Junior Promenade and Senior Class Supper committees; member Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Beta Xi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Entered his father's dry goods commission business immediately after graduation and became a member of the firm in January, 1876; after the liquidation of the business the next fall, he traveled and was occupied with real estate matters and family trusts for two years; studied at Columbia Law School 1879-1880; admitted to Hartford County Bar March 15, 1880; gave up the law on account of his father's death and entered into partnership with his brother-in-law, Daniel R. Howe, '74, under firm name of Howe & Collins (stocks and bonds); continued in that connection until 1895; and then became vice-president and treasurer of Security Company of Hartford; served as president of that company from 1896 until 1923, when the company united with the United States Bank and the Fidelity Company under name of United States Security Trust Company; became chairman of board of trustees of the new company; retired from active business in January, 1925; had been vice-president and director of Society for Savings and the United States Bank, auditor and director of Ætna Insurance Company, and director of Farmers & Mechanics National Bank, Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, World Fire & Marine Insurance Company, Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection & Insurance Company, Hartford Electric Light Company, Hartford Street Railway Company, Hartford City Gas Light Company, Smyth Manufacturing Company, Automatic Refrigerating Company, Farmington River & Power Company, Willimantic Linen Company, Echo Farm Company, and Sponsel Gun Company; trustee Mayflower Securities Company, Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford Hospital, Atlanta University, and Good Will Club, an organization for boys; had been secretary, treasurer, president, and director of Charity Organization Society, president Connecticut State Conference of Charities and Correction, secretary, vice-president, and president of American School for the Deaf (chairman of directing and building committees), member of board of managers and chairman financial committee of Y. M. C. A., auditor, director, and vice-president of Connecticut Humane Society, president of Hartford Choral Union and Twentieth Century Club (charter member), and treasurer Asylum Hill Congregational Church (member prudential committee); served as councilman 1888-89, alderman 1889-1891, health commissioner 1886-88, and charities commissioner 1904-07; was an ordnance officer with rank of Captain on staff of Major John C. Kinney, '61, of the Governor's Foot Guard; state delegate to National Congress of Irrigation at Phoenix, Ariz., 1896; published letters of travel in various Hartford papers and in the Outlook and Forest and Stream; member Society of Colonial Wars of the State of Connecticut (member of committee on membership and a Gentleman of the Council) and Sons of the American Revolution.

Married June 9, 1880, in Hartford, Mary Buel, daughter of Thomas Kimberley and Mary Jane (Buel) Brace. Children: Gertrude (died in childhood); Frederick Starr, ex-'07; Elinor Buel (Mrs. Spencer T Mitchell); Marion Atwood, the wife of Matthew G. Ely, '11 S; and Emily Brace, a non-graduate member of the Smith Class of 1914, who was first married to William J Hamersley (B A. Trinity 1909; died in 1918) and who is now the wife of J. Hamilton Scranton, '98.

Death followed an operation for appendicitis. Buried in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford. Survived by wife, son, three daughters, and nine grandchildren

Joseph Crofoot Hubbard, B.A. 1873.

Born April 14, 1851, in Middletown, Conn
Died April 28, 1926, in East View, N. Y.

Father, Elijah Smith Hubbard; bookkeeper and later for many years secretary of Middletown Savings Bank; son of Capt. Joseph Hubbard and Sarah (Brooks) Hubbard; brother of Jabez B Hubbard (B A 1825) and brother-in-law of the Rev. John Starkweather (B.A. 1825). Mother, Emily Robinson (Crofoot) Hubbard; daughter of Ephraim and Esther (Whitmore) Crofoot. Cousin: William Churchill, '82.

Prepared for college at the private school of the Rev. Henry M Colton (B A. 1848) in Middletown. Entered Yale with Class of 1872, remaining only one term; reentered college with '73; member Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Beta Xi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon Graduated from Columbia Law School in 1875; in 1876 entered law office of Marshall P. Stafford in New York City, where he remained about a year; assistant attorney for New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company 1877-1880; subsequently practiced law in New York for some years and was later engaged in business on Wall Street for a while; in 1890 again entered the service of the New York Central as pay roll auditor and continued in that position until his retirement in 1921.

Unmarried.

Death, due to arteriosclerosis, was instantaneous; a few months prior to his death had spent some time in the Grasslands Hospital at Valhalla, N. Y., recovering from the effects of an automobile accident. Interment in Indian Hill Cemetery, Middletown. Survived by a sister, Mrs. E. H. Wilson, of Syracuse, N. Y.

Elliot Sanders Miller, B.A. 1873.

Born May 26, 1850, in Williston, Vt.

Died August 21, 1925, in Los Angeles, Calif

Father, Charles Elliot Miller, a farmer; son of Elisha and Sarah (Elliot) Miller; descendant of John Miller, who came from England and settled in Springfield, Mass., before 1653. Mother, Emily (Clark) Miller; daughter of Wright and Lucy (Hinckly) Clark; descendant of Abel Clark, an early settler of Springfield. Yale relatives include: Buckingham Miller, ex-'10, and Hiram A. Miller, Jr, '17 (nephews), and the Rev. A. Douglas Miller, '64, George Douglas Miller, '70, and Douglas Miller '08 (cousins).

Prepared at Williston (Vt.) Academy; also tutored by his uncle, Professor Edward Miller, in Willsboro, N. Y. Second prize in Brothers debate Freshman year and divided second prize Sophomore year; first dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; speaker at Junior Exhibition (second prize) and at Commencement; aided in organizing first Yale football team and took part in game with Columbia; a Class deacon; member Gamma Nu.

Taught at Siglar's Institute, Newburgh, N. Y., 1873-75; then spent two years in the West on account of throat trouble; lived at Big Rapids, Mich., for a while, but for the greater part of the time was engaged in farming and cattle raising with his brother, Justus Miller, in Afton, Iowa, principal of high school at Chicopee Falls, Mass, 1878-79; then spent a year in travel on account of ill health; Springfield agent for Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company 1880-83, general agent for Iowa of that company in Des Moines 1883-84; with Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company 1884-1923 (general agent for Iowa 1883-86, district superintendent in Iowa and Nebraska 1886-1907, supervisor of agencies in same states and also in Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, and Oklahoma 1907-1914, and supervisor of agencies on Pacific coast at Los Angeles 1914-1923); corporate member American Board; deacon of Plymouth Congregational Church, Des Moines, 1889-1914; later member of First Congregational Church, Los Angeles

Married July 3, 1878, in Baltimore, Md., Sarah Frisbie, daughter of Frederick Wolcott and Mary Isabel (Bryson) Northrop, of New Haven. Children: Emily Mabel; Clara Isabel (B.A. Mount Holyoke 1904), the wife of F. Sidney Dart (B.A. Oberlin 1910); Charles Frederick and Charles Elliot (both died in infancy); and Ruth, who attended the School of Music at Grinnell College for several years and who married Morton Clark (B.S. Iowa College 1910).

Death due to paralysis (myelitis); broke his left hip about a year before his death; recovered sufficiently to return to his office the next spring for a few hours each day until May 26, when he suffered the paralytic stroke. Buried in Hollywood Cemetery, Los Angeles. Survived by wife, three daughters, and two brothers, the Rev. Elisha W. Miller, '68, and Charles A. Miller, '79. A third brother, Hiram A. Miller, '76 S., died in 1923.

Arthur Boothby Morrill, B.A. 1873.

Born April 16, 1853, in Portland, Maine.
Died March 18, 1926, in New Haven, Conn

Father, Moses Morrill, a merchant; son of John Adams and Mary (McDonald) Morrill; descendant of Abraham Morrill, who came to America from England about 1632, and settled first at Cambridge, Mass, moving about 1641 to Salisbury, Mass. Mother, Miriam (Boothby) Morrill; daughter of Samuel and Althea (Edgerly) Boothby; descendant of Thomas Boothby, who came to this country from England in 1736 and settled at Scarboro and Buxton, Maine.

Portland High School Second dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; speaker at Junior Exhibition and Commencement; member Class Day Committee, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Taught at Cape Elizabeth, Maine, 1873-74; instructor in the classics at Gorham (Maine) Seminary 1874-75; taught physical science at Portland High School 1875-1884 and at the Normal School, New Britain, Conn., 1885-1890; first principal of Willimantic (Conn.) Normal School 1890-93 and of New Haven Normal School from 1893 to 1924, when he became principal emeritus; instructor in elementary science in New Haven public schools 1893-1924; instructor in Danbury Normal School in summer of 1919 and at the Summer School at New Haven 1920; honorary M.A. Yale 1925, had delivered many popular science lectures throughout New England; in 1899 and 1900 gave two courses of lectures at Yale on "The Art of Teaching"; author of Outlines of a Short Elementary Course in General Chemistry and (with Professor James K. Thacher, '68) of An Elementary Textbook of Anatomy, Physiology, and Hygiene, which was prepared and published by order of the General Assembly; while at Willimantic was elected chairman of School Board and (on a citizens' ticket) a member of Court of Burgesses of the borough; in 1892 was Democratic candidate for warden of the borough, but was defeated at the polls.

Married April 14, 1885, in Portland, Clementine, daughter of Jonathan H. and Mary (West) Fletcher. One son, Arthur Fletcher, '16, who served as an Ensign in the U. S. Navy during the war.

Death, due to a cerebral hemorrhage, occurred at Grace Hospital, New Haven, after a short illness. Buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Portland. Survived by wife, son, and two sisters, Miss Mary A. Morrill, of Portland, and Mrs. Grace Morrill MacDonald, of Washington, D. C.

Plato Mountjoy, B.A. 1873.

Born May 9, 1851, in Clarksville, Mo
Died November 9, 1925, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Father, Garrard Mountjoy, a landowner; son of Edmund and Mary (Gregg) Mountjoy; ancestors came to America from England and settled in Kentucky. Mother, Elizabeth Cole (Dudley) Mountjoy; daughter of Peter and Sarah Digges (Gordon) Dudley; granddaughter of Peter Dudley, a Revolutionary soldier; descendant of Edward Digges, who came to Virginia from England about 1650, settled in York County, and was governor of Virginia from 1656 to 1658, and of Benjamin Harrison, who came to Virginia about 1633 and later served as a member of the House of Burgesses.

Prepared for college at a private school in Clarksville. Dissertation appointments Junior and Senior years; member Delta Kappa and Alpha Delta Phi.

In 1874 went to Southern California and with his classmate, Rensselaer W. Daniels, engaged in orange growing at Riverside, became cashier for the George Loomis mercantile house (later Fechheimer & McBoyle) in San Francisco, dealers in men's furnishing goods, about 1879 and retained that position until 1887; spent the next year in Clarksville and then returned to San Francisco; later was in business (Spanish cedar) at Tapachula, Mexico, for about two years, and afterwards spent some time in Arkansas City, Kans., and in Minneapolis, Minn., in 1895 was bookkeeper and interpreter for a mining company in northern Mexico; served as an examiner for the Department of Justice from 1896 until his death; had traveled extensively throughout the United States and to Alaska in the performance of his duties, his home being in various places; during last few years of his life had lived in St. Louis, but also spent some time on a fruit ranch at Cedaredge, Colo., which he bought in 1910.

Married May 1, 1901, in St. Louis, Mary Louise, daughter of Hymen E. and Mary Louise (Kaltenbach) Block. Children. Katherine Digges and Garrard.

Death due to a cerebral hemorrhage, following a stroke of apoplexy. Interment at Clarksville. Survived by wife, son, daughter, and three half sisters, Mrs. George Ade, Mrs. H. H. Key, and Miss Lucy Elgin, all of Clarksville.

William Efner Wheelock, B.A. 1873.

Born January 26, 1852, in Manchester, England.

Died February 3, 1926, in New York City.

Father, William Almy Wheelock (B.A. New York University 1843, LL.D. 1902), a merchant; president of the Central National Bank, New York City, and of the Equitable Life Assurance Company; treasurer and later president of the council of New York University; son of Joseph and Amelia (Ames) Wheelock; grandson of Col. Moses Wheelock of the Revolutionary Army; descendant of the Rev. Ralph Wheelock (B.A. and M.A. Cambridge University), who came from England to Watertown, Mass., in 1638 and founded the town of Medfield, Mass., in 1650. Mother, Harriett (Efner) Wheelock, daughter of Elijah Doty Efner, a soldier of the War of 1812, and Sophia (Dorchester) Efner; granddaughter of Joseph Efner, who came from Holland to Schoharie County, N. Y., and Ruth (Doty) Efner, an English Quakeress. Cousin, William Wheelock, ex-'75.

Prepared for college under a private tutor, in New York City. Member Sophomore Barge Crew, Junior Shell Crew, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, and Psi Upsilon.

M.D. Columbia 1876; on staff of Bellevue Hospital 1876-78 (house physician last six months); practiced in New York City 1878-1883, during most of the time serving as attending physician at the Demilt Dispensary and also as assistant medical examiner for Equitable Life Assurance Society; assistant sanitary inspector New York City Board of Health in summer of 1878; gave up medical work in 1883 and entered Columbia Law School, where he received degree of LL.B. in 1885; continued his law studies in office of Martin & Smith in New York 1885-86 and was admitted to the bar in June, 1886; practiced law in New York 1886-89; then studied botany under Professor N. L. Britton at Columbia and in 1890 was appointed an honorary Fellow in botany there; for some years engaged in the systematic study of groups of plants selected by Professor Britton; published two monographs on botanical subjects: a Descriptive List of the Species of the Genus Heuchera (1890) and a Monograph of the North American Species of Polygala (1891); treasurer of Torrey Botanical Club of New York for two years; lived in Morristown, N. J., for some years prior to 1897; since then had lived in New York City in the winter and at his country home at East Hampton, Long Island, in the summer.

Married October 27, 1885, in New York City, Emily Charlotte, daughter of the Rev. John Hall (B.A. Belfast, D.D. Trinity College, Dublin) and Emily (Bolton) Hall Children: John Hall (B.A. Harvard 1908); William Almy (died in 1897); and Emily Hall.

Death, due to heart failure, following an operation, occurred at the Presbyterian Hospital, New York City. Interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, son, daughter, and a sister, Harriet E. W. Strong, the widow of George A. Strong, '71.

Owen Franklin Aldis, B.A. 1874.

Born June 6, 1852, in St. Albans, Vt.

Died August 5, 1925, in Paris, France.

Father, Asa Owen Aldis (B.A. University of Vermont 1829); studied at Harvard Law School; judge of Supreme Court of Vermont; judge on Southern and French Claims commissions; trustee University of Vermont; son of Asa Aldis (B.A. Brown 1796), chief justice of Vermont, and Amy (Owen) Aldis; descendant of John Aldis, who came from England to Dedham, Mass., about 1634. Mother, Mary (Taylor) Aldis; daughter of James and Mary (Townsend) Taylor; granddaughter of Alexander Taylor, who came to America from Scotland during the latter part of the eighteenth century. Yale relatives include three nephews: Francis S. Houghteling, ex-'03, James L. Houghteling, '05, and William Houghteling, ex-'08 S.

Studied in Europe for about five years and under a private tutor in Brattleboro, Vt. Entered Yale as a Sophomore in 1871, two first prizes in English composition Sophomore year; first dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; second prize at Junior Exhibition; first premium in English composition Senior year; chairman of board of Yale Literary Magazine Senior year; member Sophomore and Junior Class Supper and Junior Promenade committees, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Beta Xi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones.

Studied law at Columbian Law School, Washington, D. C., during winter of 1874 and in Vermont the following summer; went to Chicago in October, 1875, and continued law studies with firm of Beckwith, Ayer & Kales; admitted to Chicago Bar in September, 1876; practiced in that city until 1890, largely occupied in realty law and the management and development of central business property; founded real estate firm of Aldis, Aldis & Northcote (now Aldis & Company) in 1886, but retired from active business about 1908 on account of ill health; trustee of many large estates; agent for several Scottish and English insurance and investment companies; pioneer in building steel framework office buildings in Chicago; director of World's Fair 1893 and member of its grounds and building committees; trustee Field Columbian Museum; former president University Club of Chicago; established Aldis Collection of American Belles Lettres at Yale in 1911, by presenting his very valuable and unique collection of first and notable editions, manuscripts, and letters of American authors to the University Library; after retirement from active business spent some time in Washington, D. C.; during last twelve years of his life had lived in France most of the time.

Married (1) December 18, 1878, in Chicago, Leila R., daughter of William DeZeng and Marcia Elizabeth (Stockbridge) Houghteling, and sister of James L. Houghteling, '76 S. One son, Owen (died in 1903). Mrs. Aldis died in 1885. Married (2) October 28, 1912, in Paris, Marie Madeleine, daughter of Comte Gaston duMas and Comtesse duMas (née Madeleine de la Roche-Giffard). No children by second marriage.

Death due to a stroke of paralysis. Interment in Louvaines Cemetery near Château deLaunay (Maine et Loire), France. Survived by wife, a brother, Arthur T. Aldis, of Lake Forest, Ill., and a sister, Mrs. Bryan Lathrop, of Chicago (another sister, Miss Cornelia Aldis, studied in Yale School of the Fine Arts in 1874); also left a nephew and five nieces.

Pearce Barnes, B.A. 1874.

Born September 14, 1851, at Mount Sterling, Ky.
Died November 22, 1925, in Kent, Conn.

Father, Thomas Cross Barnes, a banker; ancestors lived in Maryland and later in Fleming County, Ky. Mother, Emily Amelia (Howard) Barnes; daughter of George and Cassandra (Hukill) Howard; descendant of Thomas Howard (a descendant of the Duke of Norfolk), who came from England to Richmond County, Va.

Woodward High School, Cincinnati, Ohio. Third prize in English composition Sophomore year, member Class Baseball Team Freshman year, University Baseball Team, '74 Glee Club, Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, Psi Upsilon, and Skull and Bones.

Graduated at the Columbia Law School in 1876; engaged in active practice of law in New York City from the fall of 1877 until his death, except for about seven years, when he was obliged to give up practice temporarily on account of ill health; member Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Unmarried.

Death due to apoplexy; had suffered from kidney disease for some time previous to his death. Buried in Machpelah Cemetery, Mount Sterling Survived by several nieces and nephews, among whom are Howard B. Lee, '95, and Emily H. Foley Foster (Ph.D. 1902), the wife of Allyn K. Foster (M.A. 1901).

Robert Speir Bussing, B.A. 1874.

Born January 29, 1853, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Died September 24, 1925, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Father, Robert Speir Bussing, a merchant and real estate investor; son of John Schermerhorn and Agnes Ann (Speir) Bussing; descendant of Arent Harmens Bussing, who came to America from Holland in 1652 and settled at New Harlem. Mother, Mary Kingsland Bussing; daughter of Cornelius and Mary Kingsland Brown, descendant of Isaac Kingsland, who came to this country in 1670 from the West Indies and settled at New Barbadoes (now Rutherford), N. J.

Overhiser's School, Brooklyn, and Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute Captain of '74 Class Crew; stroke oar of '74 Barge Crew Freshman year and of '74 Shell Crew Junior year; rowed in single scull races Senior year; second lieutenant '74 Boat Club, member Committee for Drawing up the Constitution for the Yale Navy, Regatta Ball and Junior Promenade committees, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Phi Theta Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Engaged in real estate business in Brooklyn, 1874-75; connected with Christian Union Publishing Company for a few months; studied at Columbia Law School 1876-78 (LL.B. 1878); in office of district attorney of Kings County, N. Y., 1878-1881 and served as assistant district attorney 1881-84; spent three months in Australia and New Zealand in 1884 in behalf of Pacific Mail Steamship Company, on a matter of mail contracts; managing clerk for law firm of Hoadley, Lauterbach & Johnson, New York City, 1885-1891; attorney for American Casualty Insurance Company (in whose behalf he traveled extensively in the United States) 1891-97; after its failure in 1897 spent three years in settling its affairs; then went to England for three months for Phonograph Company of New York; practiced in Brooklyn from 1898 until his retirement in 1914; member Church of the Pilgrims (Congregational), Brooklyn.

Married April 26, 1904, in Brooklyn, Mary Louise Pierce Read, daughter of James Farnsworth and Anna (Reddington) Pierce. No children.

Death, due to a heart attack, occurred in the Brooklyn Hospital, to which he had gone for treatment for a throat ailment. Buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by wife and two sisters, Miss Edith S. Bussing, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Florence G. McGuffey, of Elmhurst, Long Island.

William Anderson Coffin, B.A. 1874.

Born January 31, 1855, in Allegheny (now Pittsburgh), Pa
Died October 26, 1925, in New York City

Father, James Gardiner Coffin; in the insurance business; son of Nathan Emery and Eunice (Coffin) Coffin; grandson of Tristram Coffin, who served as a Corporal in the expedition against Crown Point in 1756; great-grandson of John Coffin, a Lieutenant in the Massachusetts Militia; descendant in the eighth generation of Tristram Coffin (who came from Brixton Parish, near Plymouth, England, to Massachusetts in 1642, witnessed the deed given by the Indian Sachems conveying the land on which Haverhill stands; moved to Newbury, Mass., in 1648, but later returned to Salisbury and became commissioner of the town; in 1660, with nine others, became the possessor of Nantucket Island, and later with his two sons bought the island of Tuckernuck, and served as governor of the two islands). Mother, Isabella Catharine (Anderson) Coffin; daughter of William and Catharine (Horne) Anderson; granddaughter of James Anderson, who came from Scotland to Cumberland (now Bedford) County, Pa., before 1771 and owned the tract of land on which Schellsburg stands.

Prepared under private tutors. Member Class Supper Committee Freshman year, Gamma Nu, and Alpha Delta Phi.

Engaged in fire insurance business in Pittsburgh with firm of J. G. Coffin & Company 1874-75; then returned to Yale and studied painting in School of the Fine Arts for a year (had begun study of drawing in the Art School while a Senior in the College); spent year of 1876-77 in his own studio in Pittsburgh; continued his art studies in Paris under Léon Bonnat 1877-1882 (exhibited in Paris Salons of 1879, 1880, and 1882); opened a studio in New York City in 1882 and had since spent the greater part of his time there, specializing in landscapes and figure pieces; also had a studio at his place, "Pine Spring Farm," Jennerstown, Pa., from 1906 and usually spent the summer there; B.F.A. Yale 1901; began exhibiting at the Society of American Artists in New York in 1881 and had exhibited there frequently since then and also at the Paris Salon and the National Academy; had contributed to exhibitions of American Water Color Society and New York Water Color Club and regularly to all important picture exhibitions in leading cities of the country; had competed for mural paintings and other commissions; awarded Hallgarten Prize at the National Academy 1886, a medal at the Paris Exposition 1889, Webb Prize of Society of American Artists 1891, gold medal of Art Club of Philadelphia 1898, and silver medals at the Charleston Exposition 1902 and the St. Louis Exposition 1904; is represented in permanent collections of Metropolitan Museum of Art ("The Rain"), National Collection at Washington ("September"), Fine Arts Academy in Buffalo ("At Break of Day"), Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences ("October Morning" and "A Thunder Shower”), Young Memorial Art Gallery in San Francisco, Brooks Memorial Art Gallery in Memphis, and Municipal Art Gallery in Venice (“A Maple in Spring”), some of his pictures are also in collections of the City, Lotos, and Fencers clubs in New York City; served as art critic for New York Evening Post and Nation 1886–1891 and 1903–04 and for the Sun 1896–1900; had written many critical reviews of work of various artists for Harper’s, Century, Scribner’s, and other magazines, had done some biographical work and critical writing for encyclopedias, notably Johnson’s, and had made a number of catalogues of celebrated art collections; had lectured on art in many cities and universities and on several occasions spoke in Washington before the Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee in favor of free art; served constantly on juries of selection of Society of American Artists before it was merged with Academy of Design in 1906; director of Exhibition of Portraits and Relics in New York, in connection with centennial celebration of the inauguration of Washington (1889), of Loan Exhibition at Columbian Celebration (1892), of the first Portrait Show of Portraits of Women (1894), and of Fine Arts at Pan-American Exhibition in Buffalo (1901); had chosen sites for art buildings and was member of building committee for erection of Washington Arch in New York City; member advisory board of Public Education Society of New York and of New York Advisory Board to Art Department of Panama-Pacific International Exhibition; one of judges of award at Cotton States International Exposition in Atlanta, Ga., 1895; one of two delegates from the United States to International Congress of the Arts of Design in Paris in 1900; delegate to numerous other congresses; vice-president Architectural League of New York 1891–93; founder (1894) and first vice-president of Municipal Art Society of New York; secretary Society of American Artists 1887–1892; one of founders of American Fine Arts Society and its president and treasurer at the time of his death; member of committee on art of Union League Club 1914–17 (chairman in 1915); became an associate of National Academy of Design 1898 and a member 1912 (member of its council in 1921); honorary member La Société des Artistes Français and La Société Nationale des Beaux Arts; member Century Association; during the war served on American Rights Committee, the Mayor's Committee of New York (1917) for the reception and entertainment of the French, British, Italian, and Japanese commissioners, and on the successive Lafayette Day committees; president American Artists' Committee of One Hundred conducting relief fund for families of French soldier-artists, in cooperation with La Fraternité des Artistes, of which he was made honorary president in 1915; appointed by French Government honorary attaché to French Commission to Panama-Pacific Exhibition 1915; president of committee for exhibition of painting and sculpture by American artists at the Luxembourg Museum (by invitation of French Government) 1919; made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor July 4, 1917.

Unmarried

Interment in Allegheny Cemetery, Pittsburgh. Survived by a brother, James G. Coffin, of Appleton City, Mo., and a sister, Mrs. M. I. Coffin-Graff, of Pittsburgh.

DeWitt Clinton Holbrook, B.A. 1874.

Born May 25, 1851, in Detroit, Mich.

Died December 25, 1925, near Freewater, Ore.

Father, DeWitt Clinton Holbrook, a lawyer in Detroit; son of Benajah and Judith (Badger) Holbrook; ancestors came from England to America in 1622. Mother, Mary Ann (May) Holbrook; daughter of Thomas Parsons May, of London, England, who later settled in Plymouth, Mich.

Detroit High School Member Class Barge Crew in 1873, Class Supper Committee Senior year, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Beta Xi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied law in his father's office for six months after graduating from Yale; went to Fort Benton, Mont., in 1875 and was engaged in stock farming and quartz mining until 1888, during which time he was also occupied in sheep raising in Walla Walla, Wash., for a time; toll collector on Wagon Bridge at Great Falls, Mont., 1889-1893, and inspector of weights and measures in the same place 1893-1905; since 1906 had lived at Freewater, Ore , where he was engaged in fruit growing; charter member University Club of Great Falls and member of Episcopal church at Great Falls and Milton, Ore.

Married October 30, 1883, in Walla Walla County, Wash., Mary J., daughter of Alfred Craig and Helen (Merritt) Wellman. Children: Wellman, Helen Merritt (Mrs Hugh F Sheehy), Mary Louise (Mrs. Corwin Estee Waldron), and DeWitt Clinton, Jr. (B.S. Oregon Agricultural College 1924).

Death due to influenza, after an illness of over forty years resulting from a paralytic stroke. Buried in Mountain View Cemetery, Walla Walla. Survived by wife, children, ten grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. John Hazen White, of Syracuse, Ind.

Peter Augustus Porter, B.A. 1874.

Born October 10, 1853, at Niagara Falls, N. Y

Died December 15, 1925, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Father, Peter Augustus Porter (B.A. Harvard 1845); Colonel of the 8th New York Heavy Artillery in Civil War; killed at Cold Harbor in 1864; son of General Peter Buell Porter (B.A. 1791), who, as chairman of Foreign Relations Committee of the House of Representatives in 1811, prepared and introduced the bill recommending war with Great Britain and was Secretary of War under President John Quincy Adams, and Laetitia Preston (Breckinridge) Porter; grandson of Joshua Porter (B.A. 1754), an officer in the Revolutionary War; descendant of John Porter, who came from England in 1628 and settled at Windsor, Conn. Mother, Mary Cabell (Breckinridge) Porter; daughter of the Rev. John Breckinridge (B A. Princeton 1818, D.D Union 1835) and Margaret (Miller) Breckinridge; descendant of Alexander Breckinridge, a Scottish covenanter, who came to Philadelphia in 1728 and settled in Orange County, Va , about 1739. Great-great-uncle, Nathaniel Porter (B A 1749)

St. Paul's School, Concord, N H Entered Yale as a Sophomore in 1871; president of Football Team in 1872 and Captain in 1873; secretary Yale Shooting Club; member of managing committee for Gymnastic Exhibition Junior year, Senior Promenade Committee, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Beta Xi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Spent the year 1874-75 abroad; began study of law at Niagara Falls in June, 1876; member New York State Assembly in 1886 and 1887 from 2d Niagara County District; introduced and secured passage of first bill under which the Niagara electrical power has been developed; instrumental in organization of Niagara Falls Power Company; elected member of 60th Congress from 34th New York District on an independent Republican ticket in 1906; served two terms, but did not run for reelection; connected with Kennard Thompson, New York architect and engineer, in the Junior Niagara Plan, a project to dam the Niagara River from Queenston, Ontario, to Lewiston Heights; former president of Cataract Bank; owner and editor of Niagara Falls Gazette for many years; former owner of Cataract and International hotels; organizer of Niagara Frontier Historical Society, president for many years, and later elected honorary president for life, assisted in organization of Niagara Frontier Land Marks Association and was actively interested in Niagara County Pioneer Association for many years, serving as its president three years; during recent years had worked in behalf of the building of a peace memorial bridge at Niagara Falls and urged the preservation of old Fort Niagara as a museum, author of several books on the history of Niagara frontier and collector of many books relating to Niagara Falls; after leaving Niagara Falls, lived in Tonawanda, N. Y., for a time and since then in Buffalo; during latter part of life was curtailed in his activities by deafness.

Married February 13, 1877, at Niagara Falls, Alice Adele, daughter of Virgil Corydon and Harriet C. (Dunlap) Taylor, of Barkhamsted, Conn Children: Peter Augustus, Jr., Cabell Breckinridge, and Preston Buell

Death due to heart disease. Buried in Oakwood Cemetery, Niagara Falls Survived by wife and three sons

William Earl Dodge Stokes, B.A. 1874.

Born May 22, 1852, in New York City.

Died May 18, 1926, in New York City

Father, James Boulter Stokes, a merchant, financier, and philanthropist; son of Thomas and Elizabeth Ann (Boulter) Stokes, who were married in Lowestoft, England, came to America from London in 1791 in the ship owned by Mr. Stokes, and settled in New York City. Mother, Caroline (Phelps) Stokes; daughter of Anson Greene Phelps, founder of Phelps, Dodge & Company, of the town of Ansonia, Conn., which was named for him, and of the Ansonia Brass & Copper Company and the Ansonia Clock Company, and Olivia (Eggleston) Phelps; descendant of George Phelps, who was living in Dorchester, Mass., in 1630 and moved to Windsor, Conn., in 1635. Yale relatives include: J. G. Phelps Stokes, '92 S., Anson Phelps Stokes, '96, and Harold Phelps Stokes, '09 (nephews); Anson P. S. Hoyt, '20, Sherman Reese Hoyt, '22, Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., '27, and I. N. Phelps Stokes, 2d, '29 (grandnephews); and D. Stuart Dodge, '57, William Walter Phelps, '60, George E. Dodge, '70, Arthur M. Dodge, '74, John J. Phelps, '83, Sheffield Phelps, '86, Walter Phelps Dodge, ex-'91, Francis P. Dodge, '94, Guy P. Dodge, ex-'96, Marshall J. Dodge, '98, Clarence P. and Murray W. Dodge, both '99, William E. Dodge (honorary M.A. 1901), A. Douglas Dodge, '03, Geoffrey Dodge, '09, Percival and Stuart Phelps Dodge, both '14, and Phelps Phelps, ex-'20 (cousins).

Phillips-Andover. Member Delta Kappa and Wolf's Head.

After graduation became associated with his father in the mercantile business in New York City as a clerk with Phelps, Stokes & Company; upon the death of his father in 1896, built the Ansonia Hotel and conducted it until 1911; at the time of his death was president and a director of Marvyn Realty Company and president of Hef Chemical Company, Chesapeake Western Railway (a short line road owned by him, with main offices at Harrisonburg, Va.), and the Kensico-Kensington Cemeteries; treasurer Onward Construction Company since 1895; owner Standard Plunger Elevator Company 1902-1916; owner and president of Patchen Wilkes Stock Farm in Lexington, Ky., which he operated until 1922; member executive committee of American Association of Trotting Horse Breeders; president and a director of American Meat Poultry Association; patron of the work of the Boys and Girls Agriculture Club in Rockingham County, Va.; had been associated with the Cuban Junta as fiscal agent in the United States; member executive committee of Cuban League of the United States of America; in 1899 appointed by Imperial Russian Government official correspondent for horse with the rank of Major, Household Regiment, by courtesy; received decorations from the Czar and also two bronze groups of horses drawing Russian wagons and sleds, valued at $30,000; member St. Nicholas Society of the City of New York, and Sons of the Revolution, author: The Right to be Well Born and The Patchen Wilkes Stock Farm; Lieutenant, 71st Regiment, New York National Guard, in 1888.

Married (1) January 5, 1895, in New York City, Rita Hernandez de Alba, daughter of Ricardo and Marie (Hernandez de Alba) Acosta. One son, William Earl Dodge, Jr., ex-'19, who held a Lieutenant's commission in the Navy during the World War. Mr. and Mrs. Stokes were divorced in 1900. Married (2) February 11, 1911, at Jersey City Heights, N. J., Helen, daughter of John B. Elwood, of Denver, Colo. Children: James and Helen Muriel. Mr. Stokes and his second wife had been separated for several years.

Death due to double pneumonia. Buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by three children and a sister, Miss Olivia E. Phelps Stokes, of Lenox, Mass., and Redlands, Calif.

Hugh Johnston McBirney, B.A. 1875.

Born January 19, 1853, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Died May 29, 1926, in Chicago, Ill.

Father, Hugh McBirney, born in Belfast, Ireland; son of Samuel and Susanna McBirney; came to New Orleans, La., in 1847, president of firm of Hugh McBirney & Company (pork business) in Cincinnati, and later head of McBirney & Johnston White Lead Company in Chicago; Mother, Isabelle Marr (Johnston) McBirney; daughter of Christopher and Eliza (Gates) Johnston; ancestors came from Scotland to Baltimore, Md. Brother: Day McBirney, '94 (see page 161).

Hopkins Grammar School. Took part in '75 Shell Race Freshman year, '75 Barge Race Sophomore year, and '75 Shell Race Junior year; secretary and treasurer '75 Boat Club Freshman year and its president Senior year; member Senior Promenade Committee, Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Engaged in the pork business with Hugh McBirney & Company until July, 1879, when the firm gave up that business and began the manufacture of white lead as the McBirney & Johnston White Lead Company and he became manager of the company; about 1883 went to Dakota with some other Yale and Harvard men to assist in founding town of Belfield and remained there nearly a year; upon the reorganization of the McBirney & Johnston White Lead Company under name of National Lead Company in 1885, was made comptroller of the company and retained that position until 1900; had since been assistant local manager of the company at Chicago; connected with Second Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Married October 12, 1885, in Chicago, Mary Eliza, daughter of George Whittaker and Eliza Joanna (Brady) Campbell. Children: Annie Lawrie, the wife of Joseph T. Ryerson, '01 S, and Isabelle, the wife of Henry B. Stimson, '07.

Died after a prolonged illness. Buried at Lake Forest, Ill. Survived by wife, daughters, and six grandchildren.

Frank Thompson McClintock, B.A. 1875.

Born September 12, 1854, in Allegheny City, Pa
Died August 4, 1925, in Pittsburgh, Pa

Father, Washington McClintock; engaged in the carpet business as member of firm of W. McClintock & Company, W. McClintock & Son, and Oliver McClintock & Company, successively; son of Alexander and Elizabeth Rutledge (Bain) McClintock; great-grandson of Alexander McClintock, who came from County Tyrone, Ireland, in 1740 and settled in Cumberland (now Perry) County, Pa. Mother, Eliza (Thompson) McClintock; daughter of Samuel and Mary (Parke) Thompson; granddaughter of Daniel Thompson, who came from Scotland; descendant of Arthur Parke, a native of Donegal County, Ireland, who came to America prior to 1724. Other ancestors were his great-great-uncle, Capt. John McClintock, who was killed at the battle of the Brandywine in 1777, and his great-grandfather, William McClintock, who took part in the battle of Germantown, where he nearly lost his life, and was also at Valley Forge. Yale relatives include four nephews: A. Garrison McClintock, '90, Norman and Walter McClintock, both '91, C. Oliver McClintock, ex-'96, and Harvey C. McClintock, '03.

Phillips-Andover First lieutenant '75 Boat Club Freshman year; member Class Crew (Freshman year), Class Baseball Nine (Freshman, Junior, and Senior years), College Choir, Yale Glee Club, '75 Glee Club (Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years), Delta Beta Xi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Traveled in the West and South 1875-77; secretary of Penn Cotton Mill at Pittsburgh 1877-1881, resigning position on account of ill health; admitted to partnership in firm of Oliver McClintock & Company January 1, 1884, and continued with it after its incorporation as The Oliver McClintock Company in 1897 until it was dissolved in 1914; since then had not been actively engaged in business; deacon and trustee of Third Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh.

Married June 4, 1884, in Pittsburgh, Stella, daughter of Thomas Bowdoin and Hester (Stockton) Updike. Children: Bowdoin Updike (B.A. 1907, LL.B. University of Pittsburgh 1910), who served in this country and France as a First Lieutenant of Field Artillery during the war; Frank Stockton (B.A. 1907, B.S. Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1909), who held a commission as a Major in the Coast Artillery; Kenneth, ex-'13 S., who was a Second Lieutenant in the Coast Artillery, Madeleine; and Rodman (B.S. Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1920).

Death due to cancer. Buried in Allegheny Cemetery, Pittsburgh. Survived by wife, four sons, daughter, a sister, Mrs. William M. Kennedy, of Pittsburgh, and a brother, Thompson

McClintock, '70. Three other brothers were the late Oliver McClintock, '61, Walter L. McClintock, '62, and Washington McClintock, ex-'69.

Cortes Maxwell, B.A. 1875.

Born November 17, 1851, in Alexandria, Mo.
Died December 19, 1925, in Keokuk, Iowa.

Father, Andrew Maxwell, a pork packer, operating houses in Alexandria, St. Louis, and Canton, Mo.; born in Scotland, the son of James and Jean (Watson) Maxwell; came to this country in 1836, at the age of sixteen. Mother, Mary Ann (Johnson) Maxwell; daughter of David and Mary (Withers) Johnson; descendant of Lieut. John Withers, who served with the 1st Virginia Regiment in the Revolutionary War, and of John Jacob Johnson, who came to America from Wales and settled in Raleigh, N. C.

Preparatory training received at public schools in St. Louis and in Stamford and New Haven, Conn., and at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo. Entered Yale with Class of 1874, but left during Junior year on account of illness, reentered as a Senior with Class of 1875; third prize in English composition Sophomore year; captain of '74 Baseball Nine Freshman year and member of team Sophomore and Junior years; member '75 Baseball Team Senior year, University Baseball Team five years, and Football Team in 1874; one of two representatives sent by Yale to the New York Herald Olympian Games at Saratoga in July, 1874, winning first place in the 120 yard hurdle race, establishing the first intercollegiate record for that event, and so winning one of the James Gordon Bennett cups; won the hurdle race in the same games the next year, breaking his record of the previous year; member Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied law in office of George W. McCrary in Keokuk, Iowa, and was admitted to the bar in February, 1877; began practice in Keokuk, being partner of Lee R. Seaton for a while; later practiced in Warsaw, Ill., where he purchased a newspaper with another man and published it while continuing his law practice; returned to Keokuk about 1888 and was managing editor of Keokuk Daily Constitution Democrat until 1908, resuming law practice again in 1895; since 1910 had been incapacitated by illness for any kind of work; justice of the peace in Keokuk 1878-1880; had served on election boards and presided at Democratic caucuses and county and city conventions; vice-president Jefferson Democratic Flambeau Club of Keokuk for five years; wrote political editorials which were used in pamphlet form by State Central Committee in Governor Boies' three campaigns.

Married October 22, 1877, in Knobnoster, Mo., Amie Denton, daughter of John Henry and Frances Marrilla (Dodds) Sparr. No children

Death, due to a complication of diseases, occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Keokuk. Buried in that city. Survived by wife and a sister, Mrs. Bessie Hockins, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Louis Frederic Burchard, B.A. 1876.

Born June 29, 1854, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Died November 30, 1923, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Father, John Leopold Burchard, a merchant; born in Bremen, Germany, and came to this country about 1840; son of Johann Christian Conrad and Adelheid Elisabeth (Motz) Burchard Mother, Catherine Augusta (Moore) Burchard; daughter of Thomas William Charles and Emiline (Lockman) Moore; descendant of John Moore, who came to this country from London in 1680 and settled at Charleston, S. C., moving to Philadelphia, Pa., between 1687 and 1690.

Phillips-Andover. Member Delta Kappa.

Studied law at Columbia 1876-78 (LL.B. 1878) and also in office of Isaac L. Miller in New York 1876-77 and with F. P. Bellamy, of New York, 1877-79; admitted to New York Bar 1878 and practiced in Brooklyn the next year; engaged in tutoring in Brooklyn 1879-1881 and also taught in one of the public schools at Stapleton, Staten Island, in 1881; then resumed his law practice; in June, 1883, became junior member of firm of Behr, Pope & Company of New York City, manufacturers of fine colors; taught in Brooklyn public schools and in Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute 1884-86; practiced law and was also engaged in real estate business from June, 1886, until about a year before his death, occasionally giving some time to private teaching; formerly a director of Attalla (Ala.) Iron & Steel Company; at one time interested in Standard Gas Retort & Fire Brick Company of Ironton, Ohio; president Bannard Campaign Club of Brooklyn in 1909.

Married December 24, 1885, in Brooklyn, Amelia, daughter of Henry and Caroline (Bishop) Pope. Children: Harrington Leslie (died in infancy) and Allan Erskine, ex-'14 S., who served as a First Lieutenant in the Ordnance Department during the World War. Mrs. Burchard died August 6, 1918.

Death, due to Bright's disease, occurred at St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn; had recently returned from Virginia, where he had been on account of his health. Body cremated. Survived by son and a grandson.

John Ewing Durand, B.A. 1876.

Born February 5, 1856, in Rochester, N. Y.

Died May 15, 1926, in Rochester, N. Y.

Father, Frederick Lewis Durand (B.A. 1836, M.A. 1843), a lawyer; son of Samuel and Eloise (Lewis) Durand; descendant of Dr. John Durand, who came from France to Derby, Conn., in 1685 and moved to Milford, Conn., in 1699, and of Samuel Durand, Sr., who settled in Cheshire, Conn., in 1790. Mother, Lydia Washburn (Powers) Durand; daughter of Charles and Clarissa (Ewing) Powers; descendant of Isaac Powers, of a Vermont family. Yale relatives include four cousins: Henry S. and John S. Durand, both '81, Harry S. Durand, '13 S., and Edward D. Mulligan, '16.

Wilson's Grammar School, Rochester. Dissertation appointments Junior and Senior years; member Gamma Nu, Phi Theta Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Studied law in his father's office in Rochester and was admitted to New York State Bar in October, 1878; then practiced continuously in Rochester until his retirement in 1914 (associated with his father from 1878 until the latter's death in 1903); acted as executor, administrator, or trustee for many estates; vice-president S. E. Durand & Company, Inc.,

1924-26; director Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company; served for five terms as member of Board of Education (president in 1887, 1895, 1896, and 1897); member Park Board 1888-1915 (treasurer from 1901); president Yale Alumni Association of Rochester 1917; member Brick Presbyterian Church, Rochester; president Brick Church Institute 1913-1921 and director 1907-1923.

Married December 19, 1894, in Rochester, Lillie Clare, daughter of Robert Young and Mary (Pringle) McConnell. One son, Samuel Ewing, '19, who saw service abroad as a First Lieutenant in the Air Service.

Death resulted from an operation. Interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Rochester. Survived by wife, son, and two grandchildren.

Frank Edgar Clark, B.A. 1877.

Born July 7, 1854, in Huntington, Mass.
Died February 16, 1926, in Northampton, Mass.

Father, Israel Dickinson Clark, a traveling salesman; son of John Lyman and Hannah (Loomis) Clark; descendant of William Clark, who came from England to Dorchester, Mass., in 1630 and settled in Northampton in 1659. Mother, Cynthia Ann (Williams) Clark; daughter of Jabin Bennett and Lydia (Wilson) Williams; descendant of Robert Williams, who came to this country from England.

Prepared for college at private school of Josiah Clark (B.A. 1833) in Northampton. Dissertation appointments Junior and Senior years; member second Class Supper Committee, Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, Psi Upsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Became clerk for Williams Manufacturing Company (baskets) of Northampton in the spring of 1878, secretary of the company in 1886, and treasurer in 1891; withdrew from the business in 1900 and since then had not been actively engaged in business; director First National Bank of Northampton since 1894; trustee Northampton Institution for Savings since 1895 (member of investment and executive committee); assessor of First Church (Congregational) Parish for several years, serving as chairman at one time; chairman of trustees of Wright Home for Young Women.

Unmarried.

Death, due to heart disease, occurred very suddenly. Buried in Bridge Street Cemetery, Northampton. By the terms of his will a bequest of $5,000 was left to Yale University, the income from which is to be paid into the Alumni University Fund in his name each year and credited to the Class of 1877. Survived by a brother, Arthur W. Clark.

James Stephen Foote, B.A. 1877.

Born January 10, 1851, in Colchester, Conn.

Died June 30, 1925, in Omaha, Nebr.

Father, Henry Foote, a farmer; son of Stephen Foote. Mother, Mary Ann (Lamb) Foote; daughter of James R. and Angelinâ (Morgan) Lamb. Cousins: George W. Foote, '77, and Henry W. Lamb, '78.

Bacon Academy, Colchester.

M.D. Columbia 1881; house physician and surgeon at Workhouse and Almshouse hospitals on Blackwell's Island, N. Y., 1881-82; lived in Colchester and in Boston until 1886; moved to Kansas and resided in Wichita for several years, engaging in practice and acting as consulting physician; during this time took a postgraduate course of study at College of Physicians and Surgeons; went to Chicago just before the World's Fair in 1893 and practiced there until the close of the exposition; then moved to Omaha and taught physiology for a year, giving especial attention to pathology; professor of pathology, histology, and the principles of physiology at Creighton Medical College 1894-1912, of pathology and histology 1912-16, and of histology 1916-1921; had since been research professor at Creighton University Dental College; LL D. Creighton 1924; made a special study of the microscopic appearance of bones, and in 1913 spent three months at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, working on a microscopical study of the femur of all known races of men; author: A Constructive Method in Histology (1907), Outline of Pathology (1908), A Contribution to the Comparative Histology of the Femur (published in Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge (1909–1916), Circulatory System of Bone (1921), Bone as a Measure of Development (1923), Papers on Comparative Histology of the Teeth and Bones of the Primitive Vertebræ (1923–24), and a poem, Joan of Arc (1883), at the time of his death was at work on the third book of a series on “How We Acquire our Teeth”; wrote many articles for medical journals; delivered addresses before medical societies and universities and gave lantern slide lectures; one of the speakers at the Pan-American Congress in Cuba; did extensive research work for Scientific Foundation and Research Commission of the American Dental Association, of which he was a member; Fellow of American Association for the Advancement of Science; member American Microscopical Society, American Medical Association, Missouri Valley Medical Association, Nebraska State Medical Society, American Genetic Association, Nebraska Academy of Science, Kansas Medical Society, Omaha Odontological Society, Nebraska Dental Association, and the 19th International Congress of Americanists.

Married June 4, 1894, in Chicago, Jeane, daughter of Willys and Jennie (Clark) Goodsell. No children. Mrs. Foote died December 22, 1919.

Death due to a stroke of apoplexy, following three years of uncertain health. Buried in Naugatuck, Conn. Survived by no close relatives.

Daniel Dennis Sherman, B.A. 1877.

Born December 20, 1857, in New York City

Died June 2, 1926, in Nyack, N. Y.

Father, William Carder Hazard Sherman, a Paymaster of Volunteers in the United States Army 1861–65 (promoted to Major and brevet Colonel); later lived in New Windsor, N. Y.; son of Abiel Brown and Julia Sophia (Hazard) Sherman; eighth in descent from Philip Sherman, who came from Dedham, England, to Roxbury, Mass., in 1634, and whose descendants have lived in Rhode Island and Connecticut for two hundred and fifty years. Mother, Amelia Kimball (Taft) Sherman; daughter of Orray and Deborah (Keith) Taft; descendant of the Rev. James Keith, who came from Scotland to Bridgewater, Mass , in 1661. Yale relatives: Orray T Sherman, '77, and William H. Sherman, '80 (brothers), and Charles Farnham Collins and Charles C. Sherman, both '83, and Howard D. Collins, '90 (cousins).

Prepared for college at private school of Henry W. Siglar, '60, in Newburgh, N. Y. First dispute appointment Junior year; second dispute appointment Senior year; member Kappa Sigma Epsilon.

Engaged in the manufacture of silk with the William Whiteside Company in New York City 1878-1883; studied law at Columbia 1884-86 and in office of W. & S. W. Fullerton in New York; admitted to bar in 1886 and was engaged in independent practice in New York until 1894; for several years prior to 1900 was an assistant to Samuel A Blatchford, official reporter of the decisions of United States Court of Appeals, and helped in the preparation of a large number of volumes in the official series of reports of that court; in May, 1900, formed a law partnership with Mr. Blatchford under firm name of Blatchford & Sherman and continued in that connection until the death of Mr. Blatchford; had since practiced alone; since 1892 had lived in South Nyack; served as a trustee and president of the village; member New York City Bar Association and Grace Episcopal Church, Nyack

Married October 25, 1887, in Newburgh, Cornelia Anna, daughter of Dr. Nathaniel Deyo and Cornelia Bruyn (DuBois) Deyo. Children: Robert Deyo (B.A. Williams 1911) and Tracy Hazard (B.E. Union 1917)

Death due to arteriosclerosis. Buried at Cedar Hill Cemetery, Newburgh. Survived by wife, sons, two sisters, Mrs William H. Rockwood, of Yonkers, N. Y., and Miss Julia Hazard Sherman, of Northampton, Mass., and a brother, Edward Taft Sherman.

Frederick Julian Stimson, B.A. 1877.

Born January 21, 1856, in Paterson, N. J.
Died May 31, 1926, in New York City

Father, Henry Clark Stimson, a banker; son of the Rev Henry Bowen Stimson (honorary M.A. Williams 1814) and Rebecca (Pond) Stimson; grandson of George Stimson, a Captain in the French and Revolutionary wars; great-great-grandson of George Stimson, a soldier in King Philip's War; great-great-great-grandson of John Stimson, who came from England in 1635 and settled at Watertown Farms, Mass. Mother, Julia Maria (Atterbury) Stimson; daughter of Lewis Atterbury, who came from Londonborough, England, to New York as a boy in 1791, and Catherine (Boudinot) Atterbury; sister of John G. Atterbury (B.A. 1831) and William W. Atterbury (B.A. 1843); great-granddaughter of William Peartree Smith (B.A. 1742); grandniece of Elias Boudinot (LL.D. 1790), a Colonel in the Revolutionary War and president of the Continental Congress 1782-83; descendant in the fifth generation from Elias Boudinot, originally of LaRoche, France, who came to New York from the West Indies in 1687. Yale relatives include: Theodore Weston, '53 (brother-in-law); Henry L. Stimson, '88, Frederick W. Weston, '99, J. Francis Stimson, ex-'06, Henry B. Stimson, '07, Alfred L. Loomis, '09, and Philip M. Stimson, '10 (nephews); and Charles L. Atterbury, '64, Boudinot C. Atterbury, ex-'73, Anson P. Atterbury, ex-'75, Albert H. Atterbury, '82, William W. Atterbury, '86 S., Lewis A. Conner, '87 S., Grosvenor Atterbury, '91, and C. Horace and W. Boudinot Conner, both '99 (cousins).

Phillips-Andover. Treasurer University Baseball Team Freshman year; member '75 Freshman Barge Crew and '75 Shell and Barge crews Junior year; floor manager Junior Promenade; member College Choir, Delta Kappa, Phi Theta Psi, Psi Upsilon, and Wolf's Head

LL B. Columbia 1879; had practiced law in New York City since 1879; in partnership with William P. Williams, '77, under firm name of Stimson & Williams from 1881 until the latter's death in 1912; subsequently practiced under the same name until his retirement on May 1, 1926; member Huguenot Society and Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City.

Married (1) November 24, 1885, in Philadelphia, Pa., Emma, daughter of George and Anne (Hemple) Burnham. Children: George Burnham (died in infancy); Frederick Burnham, ex-'15; Anna Katharine, a non-graduate member of the Vassar Class of 1915; Boudinot, ex-'20, who was in the Army Ambulance Service in France during the war; and William Burnham, ex-'22. Mrs. Stimson died July 18, 1906. Married (2) March 1, 1913, in New York City, Elisabeth Harrison Turnure, daughter of Jared Francis and Caro (Farnsworth) Harrison. No children by second marriage.

Death due to acute appendicitis. Interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, three sons, daughter, three sisters, Mrs. Theodore Weston and Miss Mary A. Stimson, both of New York City, and Mrs. Henry P. Loomis, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., and two brothers, the Rev. Henry A. Stimson, '65, and John Ward Stimson, '72. A third brother, Dr. Lewis A. Stimson, '63, died in 1917.

Lewis Frank Tooker, B.A. 1877.

Born December 18, 1854, at Port Jefferson, N. Y.

Died September 17, 1925, in Greenwich, Conn.

Father, Lewis Hulse Tooker, a sea captain; son of Charles and Mary Ann (Hulse) Tooker; descendant of Thomas Tooker, who arrived at Salem, Mass., from England in 1646. Mother, Mary (Rowland) Tooker; daughter of John and Fanny (Turner) Rowland; descendant of John Rowland, who married Amy Gates, a niece of General Horatio Gates.

Peddie Institute, Hightstown, N. J. Member '77 Football Twenty, Delta Kappa, Delta Beta Xi, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Spent much of his time at sea during first few years after graduation; deputy county clerk of Suffolk County, N. Y., 1882-85; since then had been member of editorial staff of The Century, at time of death being associate editor; also wrote for Atlantic Monthly, Harper's, Everybody's, Scribner's, Collier's, St. Nicholas, Virginia Quarterly Review (in which his last poem, "The Old Conservative," was published in July, 1925), and, at one time or another, for most of the important magazines in this country; author. The Life of Paul Jones (1915) and two novels, Under Rocking Skies (1905) and The Middle Passage (1920); had also published a book of poems entitled The Call of the Sea (1902) and a volume of reminiscences, The Joys and Tribulations of an Editor (1924); was much interested in the history of architecture and had made special studies in archæology; had been prominent in educational work in Brooklyn, where he lived from 1891 to 1918, and had served as trustee of the Brooklyn Kindergarten and High School Association; since 1918 his home had been in Riverside, Conn., where he gave much time to rose culture, member American Rose Society, National Institute of Arts and Letters, and the Baptist Church in Port Jefferson, which he joined when a young man; afterwards, however, attended the Protestant Episcopal Church; honorary M. A. Yale 1907.

Married November 15, 1883, in Riverhead, N. Y., Violette, daughter of Holmes Wass and Alma (Gildersleeve) Swezey. Children: Lewis Holmes (B. A. 1906, LL. B. New York Law School 1908), who died in 1916, and Helen Violette (B. A. Smith 1915).

Death, due to arterial trouble, occurred after an illness of two months which followed a slight hemorrhage of the brain and the subsequent amputation of a leg, occurred in the Greenwich Hospital. Buried at Port Jefferson. Survived by wife, daughter, and three brothers, Ernest W. Tooker, a non-graduate member of the Amherst Class of 1892, of Riverhead, Willard F. Tooker, of Port Chester, N. Y., and Howard W. Tooker, of Passaic, N. J.

Cadwell [Charles] Tyler, B. A. 1877.

Born June 11, 1855, in Utica, N. Y.

Died June 13, 1925, in Washington, D. C.

Father, Jerome Buonaparte Tyler; son of Asa and Eunice (Cornwell) Tyler; seventh in descent from Job Tyler, who came to America from England, settled in Andover, Mass., in 1629, moved to Roxbury, Mass., in 1655, to Mendon, Mass., in 1669, and later to Rowley, Mass. Mother, Mary Elizabeth (Cadwell) Tyler, daughter of Dan P. and Catharine (Williams) Cadwell; seventh in descent from Thomas Cadwell, who settled at Hartford, Conn., in 1650. Yale relatives: Rev. John M. Holmes, '57 (uncle), and Nathan P. Tyler, '76 (cousin).

Rome (N. Y.) High School Dissertation appointments Junior and Senior years; member Gamma Nu

Taught at Emerson Institute, Washington, D. C., 1877-1883; also studied law at Columbian Law School of George Washington University (LL M. 1882); did not practice law, however, but went abroad and was engaged in manufacture of bicycles in Warwickshire, England, for some time prior to 1890; since returning to the United States had been engaged in growing apples in Millville, W. Va., where for many years he had one of the largest apple orchards east of the Mississippi, the product of which was sent to the Liverpool market for a time; also connected with Internal Revenue Bureau of the Treasury Department in a legal capacity for some time before his retirement in 1923; was active in Republican politics during the McKinley campaign, during the World War served on Legal Advisory Board of District of Columbia, member Sons of the American Revolution and Church of the Covenant (Presbyterian), Washington; first vice-president of Yale Club of Washington 1914.

Married September 2, 1913, in Middletown, N. Y., Margaret C., daughter of Abner Bull and Frances (Kernochan) Mills. One son, Cadwell, Jr.

Death due to a stroke of paralysis. Buried at Holland Patent, N. Y. Survived by wife, son, and a sister, Miss Caroline C. Tyler (B S. Wellesley 1886), of Washington.

Philip Johnson Wilson, B.A. 1877.

Born February 8, 1854, at Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.
Died February 15, 1926, in Detroit, Mich.

Father, James G. Wilson, a business man. Mother, Judith Farnum (Johnson [Jones]) Wilson; daughter of Philip Carrigan Johnson, secretary of state of Maine for thirty years, and Mary Kimball (Chandler) Johnson, and sister of Rear Admiral Philip C. Johnson, Jr., U. S. N., and of Eastman Johnson, a portrait painter.

Hopkins Grammar School Dissertation appointments Junior and Senior years; member Delta Kappa.

Tutor in private family at Irvington-on-Hudson, 1877-78; taught in a boarding school at Claymont, Del., 1878-79; then became engaged in manufacture of wall paper with Warren, Fuller & Company of New York City and was placed at the head of their color-making department; several years later, when the firm entered the wall paper trust, he became identified with the trust and remained with it until the corporation was dissolved; engaged in the manufacture of colors under firm name of Philip J. Wilson & Company, with a factory in Brooklyn, 1899-1904; moved to Detroit in 1904 and became associated with the Solvay Process Company, with which he remained until 1920 (largely employed as private secretary to the manager, Andrew H. Green), when the company was absorbed by the Allied Chemical Company; had since been business manager for Mr. Green; member First Unitarian Church, Detroit (clerk since 1918).

Married July 18, 1894, in Syracuse, N. Y., Louisa Forman, daughter of Alfred and Charlotte Coffin (May) Wilkinson. Children: Charlotte May (B.A. Smith 1917); Philip Johnson, Jr. (B.S. Michigan 1918); and Alfred Wilkinson (B.S. Michigan 1921).

Death due to carcinoma of the liver. Survived by wife, daughter, and sons.

Hollis William Cobb, B.A. 1878.

Born March 14, 1856, in Boylston, Mass.

Died November 23, 1925, in Worcester, Mass.

Father, Albert Gallatin Cobb, a contractor, lumber dealer, and farmer; son of Simon and Eunice (Goodnow) Cobb. Mother, Catharine Sylvia (Fairbanks) Cobb; daughter of Otis and Sylvia (Fuller) Fairbanks; descendant of Jonathan Fairebanke, who came from Sowerby, Yorkshire, England, in 1633 and settled at Dedham, Mass., in 1636.

Shrewsbury (Mass.) High School and Worcester Academy. Oration appointment Junior year and speaker at Junior Exhibition; high oration appointment Senior year; member Linonia, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Ho1 Philologoi, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Remained at home, engaged in various studies and pursuits, 1878-79; studied law in office of Bacon, Hopkins & Bacon, Worcester, 1879-1881; admitted to bar November 2, 1881, and practiced in Worcester until 1908 (member of firm of Thayer & Cobb 1890-1908); assistant clerk of Central District Court of Worcester 1885-87 and special justice of that court from October, 1887, until his retirement on account of ill health October 31, 1910; lived in Shrewsbury until 1892; served as selectman 1887-88, member of the School Committee 1883-86, trustee of the library 1885-87, and deacon of the Congregational Church 1884-1892; home had been in Worcester since 1892; member of First (Old South) Congregational Church, Worcester, since 1872 (except from 1884 to 1892), serving as deacon from 1894 to 1911 and as treasurer from 1899 to 1903; life member Congregational Home Missionary Society and Worcester City Missionary Society; member Worcester Congregational Club and Worcester Board of Trade until obliged to retire on account of ill health.

Married March 3, 1893, in Shrewsbury, Fanny Theresa Bugbee (attended Wellesley College from 1886 to 1889), daughter of Walter Scott and Susan Sophia (Banister) Bugbee. No children.

Death, due to a shock, followed a long illness. Interment in Hope Cemetery, Worcester. Survived by wife.

Allton Harvey Sherman, B.A. 1878.

Born November 23, 1852, in Eastford, Conn
Died May 17, 1926, in Orange, N. J.

Father, Allton Sherman, a manufacturer; son of Zephaniah and Betsey (Allton) Sherman; ancestors came from Dedham, England, in 1632 and settled at Watertown, Mass. Mother, Huldah Marie (Edgerton) Sherman; daughter of John and Mindwell (Lane) Edgerton.

Wesleyan Academy, Wilbraham, Mass. Entered Yale with Class of 1877, but joined '78 in Sophomore year; member Kappa Sigma Epsilon.

Taught at Mount Hope, N. J., 1878-1880; instructor, and later principal, Orange (N. J.) High School 1880-1895; taught at Newark (N. J.) High School 1895-1904; superintendent of schools at West Orange, N. J., 1904-1918; then engaged in banking at Lyons, N. Y., for a time; afterwards lived in Orange; had served as secretary of Orange Building & Loan Association and of New England Society of Orange, as secretary and treasurer of Essex County Masonic Mutual Life Insurance Company, as a director of Orange Free Library, and as a deacon of First Presbyterian Church; was a 33d degree Mason.

Married (1) October 25, 1878, in Dover, N. J., Sarah T., daughter of Eliezer and Elizabeth (Armstrong) Lamson. Children Allton Lawrence (B. A. 1912, M. D. 1914) and John Seward (Ph. B. 1912, C. E. 1914). Mrs. Sherman died about 1910. Married (2) December 24, 1914, in Lyons, Emma L. B. Parshall, of Richmond, Va.

Death, due to heart disease, occurred suddenly. Survived by wife and sons.

Inajiro Taneka Tajiri, B.A. 1878.

Born July 27, 1855, in Kyoto, Japan.

Died August 14, 1923, in Koyado, Magome, Japan

Father, Jihioye Tajiri. Mother, Kato Tajiri.

Hartford Public High School. Member Kappa Sigma Epsilon and Hoi Philologoi.

Graduate student in political economy and financial science at Yale 1878-79; since then prominent in political life in Japan; served first as councilor of Finance Department and director of Loan and other government bureaus; appointed to Bureau of National Debt, Banks, and Revenue and to Banking Bureau 1889 and to Taxation Bureau 1891; vice-minister of finance 1892-97 and 1898-1901; president Imperial Board of Auditors 1902-1918; member Commission for Investigation of the Monetary Standard 1893 and later of High Council of Commerce, Industry, and Agriculture; had also served as first comptroller of finance, comptroller of Bank of Japan, and civil service examiner of officials of the higher grade; made member of House of Lords 1891, created Baron 1895, Viscount 1904; received Order of the Rising Sun (second class, for services during Chinese-Japanese War, and first class, for services during Russo-Japanese War 1907); mayor of Tokyo 1918-19; lecturer on banking and money at Tokyo Imperial University and later professor of political economy at same institution; LL.D. and D.C.L. Tokyo Imperial University; author: The Economical Development during the Last Twenty Years, New Problems for the Applied Economy, Elements of Political Economy, Treatise on Banking, Treatise on the National Debt, Finance and the Money Market, and Economics and Finance.

Married Saigushi Josi, daughter of Saigusa and Riu Moritomi. Children: Tetsubaro, Mitsuo, Shigeshi (changed name to Akisato, because same name occurred in the imperial family), and Minoru (sons); Ai (died in 1907), Tomi (Mrs. Akiro Hosino), Toyo, and Taka (daughters).

Death due to the effects of a fall

Henry Kellogg Willard, B.A. 1879.

Born October 20, 1856, in Washington, D. C.

Died May 17, 1926, in Pasadena, Calif.

Father, Henry Augustus Willard; established (with his brothers, Joseph and Caleb C. Willard) Hotel Willard in Washington and conducted it for many years, served on Board of Public Works during President Grant's administration; son of Joseph and Susan Dorr (Clapp) Willard; grandson of the Rev. Joseph Willard (B.A. 1714); descendant of Major Simon Willard, who came from Horsmonden, Kent, England, to Boston in 1634, later moved to Concord, Mass., was in command of the Massachusetts forces against the Niantic Indians in King Philip's War, and afterwards commanded a Middlesex regiment. Mother, Sarah Bradley (Kellogg) Willard; daughter of Daniel and Morab Ann (Bradley) Kellogg, granddaughter of William C. Bradley (honorary M A Yale 1817), great-granddaughter of Stephen R. Bradley (B.A. 1775), a commissioned officer in the Revolutionary War and the first United States senator from Vermont, descendant of William Bradley, who came to this country from England in 1644 and settled in New Haven, Conn. Yale relatives include a great-uncle, Jonathan D. Bradley (B.A. 1822), and a cousin, Walter J. Willard, ex-'93.

Hopkins Grammar School. First dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; member Linonia, Delta Kappa, and Adelpi.

LL.B. George Washington University 1881 and LL.M. 1882; while studying law was a clerk in office of Enoch Tuttle for a time; in April, 1881, when Columbian Fire Insurance Company of Washington was organized, was appointed its first secretary and held that position until 1892; then formed a co-partnership with Henry Willard Reed to conduct a real estate and insurance business under name of Willard & Reed; continued in that connection until 1910; at the time of his death was engaged in real estate business only, devoting much time to management of the Willard estate; one of the organizers of Columbia Title Insurance Company of the District of Columbia and its treasurer for about twenty years; charter member Columbia National Bank and a director from its organization in 1887 until 1897; director National Savings & Trust Company and National Metropolitan Bank; vice-president Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia; member executive committee of Yale Alumni Association of Washington for over twenty years; in 1900 completed and printed a biographical record of the Class of 1875 at the Hopkins Grammar School; in 1923 wrote a memorial to his father and mother, comprising a complete history of the Willard, Bradley, and Kellogg families, entitled Willard-Bradley Memoirs (published in 1925); member Sons of the American Revolution of the District of Columbia and the Unitarian Church in Nantucket, Mass.; belonged to the Capital (now City) Club, formerly the Capital Bicycle Club, the oldest bicycle club with one exception in America; had traveled many thousand miles on his bicycle and had the record of a "century run," having made the trip from Martinsburg, W. Va., to Washington in a day; in addition to his residence in Washington, had a winter home in Pasadena and summer residences in Walpole, N. H., Westminster, Vt., and Nantucket, Mass.

Married November 6, 1901, in Washington, Helen Wilson, daughter of Edmund Southard and Mary Isabella (Wilson) Parker, and sister of William W. W. Parker, '93, and Brainard W. Parker, '98 Children: Henry Augustus, 2d, ex-'25; William Bradley, a member of the Dartmouth Class of 1926; and Sarah Kellogg.

Buried in Old Cemetery, Westminster. Survived by wife, daughter, and sons.

Charles Adams Holbrook, B.A. 1880.

Born January 9, 1854, in North Auburn, Maine.

Died November 3, 1925, in Chelmsford, Mass.

Father, Charles Holbrook, a farmer and boot manufacturer; son of Samuel Linfield and Susan (Adams) Holbrook; grand-nephew of President John Adams; ninth in descent from John Holbrook, who came from Dorchester, England, in 1628 and settled at Wessaganssett (now Weymouth), Mass. Mother, Salina Dillingham (Chandler) Holbrook.

Early education received in Holbrook and Auburn, Maine, and at Westbrook (Maine) Seminary; taught for five years (1871-76) in Alna and South Bristol, Maine, also being engaged in farming for a part of the time; completed preparation for college under the Rev J. J. Bulfinch in Freeport, Maine; entered Bates College 1876 and was enrolled there two years, also teaching for a part of the time; entered Yale as a Junior 1878; first colloquy appointment Senior year.

Supervising principal of schools and principal of high school in Willimantic, Conn., 1880-83; principal of Lewis High School, Southington, Conn., 1883-87, Peabody (Mass.) High School 1887-1894, Arms Academy, Shelburne Falls, Mass., 1895-1910, and Searles High School, Great Barrington, Mass., 1910-11; principal of Chelmsford High School 1912-19 and head of its Latin department from 1919 until his retirement in 1924; member Great Barrington Congregational Church.

Married November 29, 1880, in Arlington, Vt., Lila Freeman, daughter of James Stewart (M.D. Harvard 1852) and Sarah Jane (French) Stewart. Children: Charles Stewart, who attended Williams and Bates colleges, and also studied at Tufts Medical School (1912-15); Rebecca Adeline, who attended Boston University; and John Adams, who studied law at Northeastern College during 1915-16.

Death, due to angina pectoris, followed a stroke of paralysis five days previous. Buried at Chelmsford. Survived by wife, daughter, sons, a sister, Mrs. Ellen A. Beane, and a brother, Clarence A. Holbrook, both of North Auburn.

William Forrest Hutchison, B.A. 1880.

Born December 17, 1859, in New Haven, Conn.

Died March 19, 1926, in Kansas City, Mo.

Father, the Rev. William Hutchison (B. A. 1854); tutor at Yale, missionary in Constantinople, and principal of Norwich (Conn.) Free Academy; son of the Rev. William Hutchison and Helen (Seabold) Hutchison. Mother, Forresta Germana (Shepherd) Hutchison; daughter of Forrest Shepherd (B.A. Yale and Dartmouth 1827, M.A. Western Reserve 1884) and Sophia (Storer) Shepherd, sister of George R. Shepherd, '66 M., and sister-in-law of the Rev. Charles T. Weitzel, '69; descendant of John Shephard, who settled at Newtown (now Cambridge), Mass.

Heness German School, New Haven, and Norwich Free Academy Member Class Baseball Team four years and University Baseball Team three years (captain in 1880), Yale Glee Club, College Choir, Delta Kappa, Hé Boulé, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Took special engineering course at Sheffield Scientific School 1880-81 (member University Baseball Team during that time); then went to Biddeford, Maine, to learn cotton manufacturing business, but was obliged to give it up at the end of a year on account of ill health; then engaged in the railroad business in Kansas City for two years, and subsequently entered employ of Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railroad Company, with his headquarters in Cedar Rapids; had always retained his interest in baseball, playing with local clubs for several years; in 1890 joined the Chicago National League Team and remained with them until 1897; had since been contracting agent in freight traffic department of The Kansas City Southern Railway at Kansas City; member First Congregational Church in that city.

Unmarried.

Death due to cardiac weakness. Buried in family lot in Yantic Cemetery, Norwich. Leaves no relatives nearer than cousins, one of whom is Forrest Shepherd, '92.

Charles Robert Smith, B.A. 1880.

Born January 19, 1857, at Green Spring, Ohio
Died September 5, 1925, in Cleveland, Ohio

Father, Robert Smith, had lumber interests in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Illinois; president First National Bank and director National Exchange Bank, both in Tiffin, Ohio, director First National Bank of Fremont, Ohio; son of Ebenezer and Florella (Hulbert) Smith; descendant of Amos Hulbert, who was born in Chatham, Conn., in 1752. Mother, Catharine (Stem) Smith, daughter of Jacob and Sarah Stem. Grandnephew, John F. Plummer, Jr., '26 S.

Preparatory training received in Hudson, Ohio, and New Haven. Entered Yale with Class of 1879, remaining only a short time; returned in fall of 1876 as member of Class of 1880, member Class Supper Committee Junior year, Senior Promenade Committee, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Spent the first two years after graduation traveling abroad; studied law in Cincinnati and practiced there 1883-1890 (member of firm of Meyer, Shaefer & Smith); afterwards devoted time to manufacturing and investments, director of Sears Typomatrix Company 1892-98 and Cleveland Building Company 1895; president Cleveland Color Company 1900-03; actively engaged in operation of mines in San Juan County, Colo., dividing his time between Silverton, Colo., and Cleveland from 1903 to 1915, when he retired from business, member Second Presbyterian Church, Cleveland.

Unmarried.

Death due to angina pectoris. Buried in Lake View Cemetery, Cleveland. Survived by a sister, Miss Katharine S. Smith, of Cleveland, and a niece, the wife of John F. Plummer, '91.

George Snow Isham, B.A. 1881.

Born October 8, 1859, in Chicago, Ill.
Died March 26, 1926, in Pinehurst, N. C.

Father, Ralph Nelson Isham (M.D. New York University 1854, honorary M.A. Northwestern University 1882), a physician in Chicago; surgeon at U. S. Marine Hospital, Chicago, during the Civil War; eldest son of Nelson Isham (M.D. 1828), Assistant Surgeon and Surgeon of the 97th Regiment, New York Volunteers, in the Civil War, and Delia (Snell) Isham; descendant of John Isham [Isum], who came from Northamptonshire, England, was at Newburyport, Mass., in 1667, and settled at Barnstable, Mass., in 1670, later moving to Bolton, Conn. Mother, Katherine (Snow) Isham, daughter of George Washington and Elizabeth Anne (Manierre) Snow; descendant of Louis Manierre, a soldier of the Revolutionary War, who settled in New London, Conn., in 1779, of William Snow, who came to Plymouth, Mass., from England in 1637, and of Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower" company. Yale relatives include: John V. Farwell, 3d, '18, Ralph I. Farwell, '19, Arthur Farwell, '22 S., and Henry H. Porter, Jr., '26 S. (nephews), and George Manierre, '68 (cousin).

Prepared for college under private tutors. Entered Yale with Class of 1880, but left in Freshman year; reentered with '81 the next fall; member Freshman Glee Club, University Glee Club, College Choir, Freshman Class Supper Committee, Senior Promenade Committee, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Hé Boulé, Psi Upsilon, and Wolf's Head.

M.D. Northwestern University 1884; continued his medical studies in Vienna the next year; interne at Roosevelt Hospital, New York City, 1884-85; subsequently practiced in Chicago until 1900; had served as attending surgeon to the Passavant Hospital and the South Side and North Star dispensaries; first assistant in clinical surgery at Northwestern University Medical School 1888-1898; had been president of Chicago Geographic Society and vice-president of Chicago Academy of Natural Sciences; Fellow of Astronomical and Astrophysical Society of America; member Chicago Medical Society, American Medical Association, Illinois State Medical Society, and Academy of Medicine; affiliated with Presbyterian Church; distinguished for his work in making scientific instruments for the astrophysical and astronomical observations of Yerkes Observatory, for this purpose maintaining a complete workshop in his home; M A Northwestern 1887; president of University Club of Chicago 1910-13; director of Lake Geneva Country Club.

Married April 19, 1892, in Chicago, Katharine, daughter of Henry Homes and Eliza (French) Porter, and sister of Henry H. Porter, '98 S., and George F. Porter, '03. Children: Henry Porter, '17, who served abroad as a Captain of Field Artillery during the war; Ralph Nelson, '24 S ; and Helen. Mrs. Isham died in April, 1917.

Death, due to a blood clot, occurred suddenly, while he was sojourning in Pinehurst. Buried in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago. Survived by daughter, sons, three grandchildren, a brother, Ralph Isham (B A. Harvard 1889), of Santa Barbara, Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. George A. Carpenter, of Chicago, and Katherine I. Farwell, the wife of Arthur L. Farwell, '84

Thaddeus Halsted Myers, B.A. 1881.

Born August 31, 1859, in Yonkers, N. Y.
Died December 24, 1925, in New York City.

Father, John Kirtland Myers, a merchant; later president of Pacific Mutual Insurance Company; son of Peter Joseph Henry and Lucy Fitch (Kirtland) Myers; grandson of Joseph Myers, who served as a Colonel in the Revolutionary War; grandnephew of General Michael Myers of the Continental Army; great-grandson of Peter Myers, who came to this country in the second Palatinate emigration in 1710 and settled in the Mohawk Valley, N. Y. Mother, Sarah Louisa (Halsted) Myers; daughter of William Mills and Sarah (Johnson) Halsted; descendant of Timothy Halsted, who came from Hempstead, England, about 1656 and settled in Hempstead, Long Island. Yale relatives include: Louis P. Myers, '01 S., and Perit Coit Myers, ex-'05 S. (nephews); and William S. Halsted, '74 (cousin).

Williston Academy. Dissertation appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year; member Freshman Class Supper and Junior Promenade committees, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Kappa, Psi Upsilon, and Scroll and Key.

M D. Columbia 1885; had practiced in New York City since 1885, specializing in orthopedic surgery; junior, senior, and house surgeon at St. Luke's Hospital 1884-86, attending orthopedic surgeon since 1889, and director of Orthopedic Division of Out-Patient Department since 1906; house surgeon New York Foundling Hospital 1886-87, visiting orthopedic surgeon (head of the department) 1899-1918 (also president of Medical Board for several years), and since 1918 consulting orthopedist; assistant physician in Out-Patient Department of Roosevelt Hospital in 1887 or 1888; connected with Dispensary Staff of New York Orthopedic Dispensary and Hospital since 1888 (assistant surgeon until 1894, attending surgeon 1894-1900, and consulting surgeon since 1900); appointed orthopedic surgeon to Midwifery Dispensary 1891; since its merger with Society of the Lying-In Hospital in 1893 under the latter name, connected with the hospital as head of department of orthopedic surgery; established Orthopedic Clinic at St. John's Riverside Hospital, Yonkers, N. Y., about 1894 and was in charge of it for about fifteen years; also consulting orthopedist for the hospital from 1894 until his death; orthopedic surgeon to New York Infant Asylum from 1908 until its consolidation with the Nursery and Child's Hospital in 1910 and since then with the latter institution; consulting orthopedic surgeon to House of the Annunciation, New York, and to All Souls' Hospital, Morristown, N. J.; designed a number of splinters and braces for special medical purposes; published numerous articles on orthopedic surgery in various medical journals; assistant editor of first and second editions of Ashby and Wright's Diseases of Children, having charge of the surgical departments; member New York Academy of Medicine, New York State and County Medical societies, New York Pathological Society, Lenox Medical and Surgical Society, American Orthopedic Association, and St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, New York.

Married October 7, 1897, in Ridgefield, Conn., Sarah, daughter of Henry Eugene and Elizabeth Jane (Lockwood)

Hawley. Children: Halsted Hawley, '20, and Ogden King, ex-'26.

Death due to a complication of diseases; had suffered a stroke in January, 1925, which was followed by four minor attacks. Buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by wife and sons.

Walter Irving Badger, B.A. 1882.

Born January 15, 1859, in Boston, Mass.

Died March 17, 1926, in Cambridge, Mass

Father, Erastus Beethoven Badger, a coppersmith; son of Daniel Bass and Anne (Clarke) Badger; descendant of Giles Badger, who came from York, England, to Portsmouth, N. H., in 1634. Mother, Fanny Babcock (Campbell) Badger; daughter of James and Fanny (Babcock) Campbell, ancestors came from Scotland to Milton, Mass. Yale relatives include: Paul B. Badger, '11, and Theodore L. Badger, '22 (nephews)

English High School, Boston, and Adams Academy, Quincy, Mass. Second colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years; captain Freshman Baseball Team; member University Baseball Team three years (captain Senior year); member University Football Team four years; president Yale Athletic Association and Intercollegiate Athletic Association Junior year; member Sophomore German Committee, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Hé Boulé, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones.

Entered law office of Solomon Lincoln in Boston in fall of 1882 and while there took a three-year course at Boston University Law School (LL.B. cum laude 1885); admitted to bar 1885 and continued his association with Mr. Lincoln, becoming his partner under firm name of Lincoln & Badger in 1896 and continuing as such until 1904; then practiced under his own name until 1923, his son becoming associated with him in 1916; in 1923 the firm of Badger, Pratt, Doyle & Badger was formed, of which Mr. Badger remained the senior member until his death; specialized in tort trial work and had been attorney for Boston & Maine Railroad, U. S. Express Company, New England Dispatch Company, Boston Gas Light and Boston Ice companies, Travelers, Ætna Life, and John Hancock Life Insurance companies, Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, Cudahy Packing Company, and U. S. Rubber Company; president Everett National Bank of Boston for a short time; lecturer at Boston University in 1910; member Boston Bar Association and Curtis Club (law); one of donors to Yale School of Law of the Massachusetts Reports and Massachusetts Digest Annotated; member Alumni Committee on Baseball of Board of Control of Yale University Athletic Association 1921-22.

Married October 6, 1887, in New Haven, Elizabeth Hand, daughter of Daniel Hand and Frances Louisa (Ansley) Wilcox, a niece of George A. Wilcox, '52, a sister of Ansley Wilcox, '74, Marrion Wilcox, '78, Daniel H. Wilcox, ex'84, Francis U. Wilcox, ex'86, and Urquhart Wilcox, '95 S., and a sister-in-law of George P. Sawyer, '72, and the Rev. Edward Colton Fellowes, '88 Children: Walter Irving, Jr. (B.A. and M.A. 1913, LL.B. Harvard 1916), and Grace Ansley, the wife of Abbot Treadwell, Jr. (B.A. Harvard 1917). Mrs. Badger died October 13, 1923

Death due to cancer. Buried in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. Survived by son, daughter, four grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Albert E. Sargent, of Boston, and six brothers, D. B. Badger, of Winchester, Mass., William L. C. Badger, of Englewood, N. J., Arthur C. Badger, of Brookline, Mass., and E. Frank, Edward, and George S. C. Badger, '92, all of Boston.

Mortimer Stratton Bate, B.A. 1882.

Born October 10, 1859, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Died May 19, 1926, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Father, John Jones Bate, a merchant; ancestors came from England to Camden, N. J., during the seventeenth century. Mother, Hannah Rebecca (Stratton) Bate; daughter of William and Jane (Hoover) Stratton; ancestors came from England during the seventeenth century and settled in Cumberland County, N. J.

Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. Second colloquy appointment Junior year; contributed to Yale Record and Yale Daily News, member Delta Kappa and Psi Upsilon.

Studied at Long Island Medical School during 1882-83; then engaged in warehousing business in Brooklyn until 1886, when he became a salesman for West & Melchers, dealers in rice and coffee; in April, 1888, with three others, organized The Continental Press for the purpose of carrying on a stereotypeplate business; became member of firm of West & Melchers in July, 1888, and in 1891 he and his partners organized the Consolidated Rice Company of New Orleans, La., which was sold out in 1894; in 1895 firm of West & Melchers was dissolved and reorganized under name of Melchers & Bate and continued as such until 1898, when Mr. Bate withdrew from the firm; afterwards conducted a commission business in sugar, rice, and molasses; subsequently became interested in Port Arthur (Texas) Rice Mill, both as a stockholder and as New York agent of the company; at the time of his death was sales manager for Louisiana State Rice Milling Company in New York City; had contributed many articles to various southern papers and trade journals; during the war was active in Liberty Loan and Red Cross drives.

Married December 7, 1887, in Brooklyn, Irene, daughter of William and Hannah (Keeny) Sharp. One son, Rutledge.

Death due to pneumonia. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by wife and son.

Franklin Maynard Eaton, B.A. 1882.

Born February 23, 1860, in St. Stephen, New Brunswick

Died November 22, 1925, in Calais, Maine.

Father, Henry Franklin Eaton, in the lumber business in St. Stephen and Calais; son of Jonas and Mary (Corey) Eaton, ancestors came from England to Watertown, Mass., in 1636. Mother, Anna Louisa (Boardman) Eaton, daughter of William and Esther Wigglesworth (Tappan) Boardman; ancestors came from Yorkshire, England, to Newburyport, Mass., in 1637.

Phillips-Andover. Member Class Crew; captain Freshman Football Team; member University Football Team four years (captain Senior year), Freshman Class Supper Committee, Delta Kappa, Hé Boulé, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

M.D. Harvard 1885; house officer at Worcester (Mass.) City Hospital April–November, 1885; spent next year abroad continuing medical studies in Vienna for several months; after his return to this country practiced in Providence, R. I., for ten years; surgical externe at City Hospital March–December, 1886; surgeon to Out-Patient Department, Rhode Island Hospital, 1887–1896; physician to Providence Dispensary 1886–89, Home for Aged Women 1890–96, and Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children 1889–1896; member examining board, Rhode Island Medical Society, 1890–95; president Delta Kappa Epsilon Alumni Association of Rhode Island 1888–1890; had lived in Calais since 1896; had translated several lectures from the German and written a number of medical papers; member Providence Medical Society and Congregational Church, Calais.

Married November 25, 1885, in Medford, Mass., Emily Tirzah, daughter of John Armington and Helen Mary (Grotton) Parks. One daughter, Irene Helen (Mrs. Fred David Jordan).

Death due to heart failure; had been an invalid for over thirty years Buried in Eaton family lot in Rural Cemetery, St Stephen Survived by wife, daughter, a grandson, and two brothers, Henry B. and Wilfred L. Eaton, both of Calais.

Chester Wolcott Lyman, B.A. 1882.

Born May 25, 1861, in New Haven, Conn.

Died April 7, 1926, in Boston, Mass

Father, Chester Smith Lyman (B.A. 1837, M.A. Beloit 1864); professor of industrial mechanics and physics at Yale for thirty years; president of American Academy of Arts and Sciences for twenty years; son of Chester and Mary (Smith) Lyman; descendant of Richard Lyman, who came from Essex, England, to Charlestown, Mass., in 1631 and was an original proprietor of Hartford, Conn., in 1636 Mother, Delia Williams (Wood) Lyman; daughter of Joseph Wood (B.A. 1801) and Frances (Ellsworth) Wood; granddaughter of Oliver Ellsworth (LL.D. 1790), the third chief justice of the United States and author of the judiciary act of the Constitution; descendant of Jonas Wood, who came to America from Yorkshire, England, in 1630 and settled at Stamford, Conn., in 1641; among other ancestors are Governor Thomas Welles of Connecticut and Henry Wolcott, a founder of Windsor, Conn. Yale relatives include: Oliver Ellsworth (B.A. 1799), Martin Ellsworth (B.A. 1801), Henry L. and William W. Ellsworth (B.A. 1810), Ezekiel Williams (B.A. 1785), and Thomas S. Williams (B.A. 1794) (great-uncles), the Rev. George I. Wood (B.A. 1833) (uncle); Lyman E. Porter, '16, and William Quincy Porter, '19 (nephews); and Oliver E. Williams (B.A. 1816), Oliver Ellsworth (B.A. 1830), Henry W. Ellsworth (B.A. 1834), Pinckney W. Ellsworth (B.A. 1836), Henry E. Wood, '76 S., Wolcott W. Ellsworth, '90, Ernest B. Ellsworth, '93 S., Bradford Ellsworth, '03, and Kennedy Creevey, '26 (cousins).

Hopkins Grammar School. Dissertation appointments Junior and Senior years; chairman Undergraduate Yale Field Committee; member University Football Team 1878 and 1879, Junior Promenade Committee, Delta Kappa, Hé Boulé, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones

Employed by U. S. Coast Survey at Machiasport, Maine, during summer of 1882; then spent a year abroad as a private tutor; graduate student in Sheffield Scientific School 1883-84, taking special courses in naval architecture; in fall of 1885 entered employ of W. H. Parsons & Company, paper manufacturers in New York City; became their representative in Chicago 1886; connected with Westmoreland Paper Company, a subsidiary of W. H. Parsons & Company, at West Newton, Pa., during 1889-1890; later became a director and manager of Herkimer (N. Y.) Paper Company; in 1898, when this concern was absorbed by the International Paper Company (in formation of which he was to some extent concerned), became assistant to the president of latter company and later manager of sales and held those positions until 1916, when he was made vice-president; was also a director for many years, gave up active connection with the company in 1924, but remained director of Continental Paper & Bag Mills, one of its subsidiaries, of which he was at one time treasurer; secretary and treasurer American Paper & Pulp Association 1898-1900; had been president of Umbagog Paper Company; vice-president American Realty Company; secretary Champlain Realty Company, Miramichi Lumber and St. Maurice Lumber companies, and Forestry, Water Storage, and Manufacturing Association; treasurer and director Falls Manufacturing Company; director and vice-president Herkimer Fibre Company; manager and director Winn Water & Power Company; director American Paper Exports, Inc., and American Forestry Association, member Association for the Protection of the Adirondacks; through his efforts the Government made a special census of the paper industry in the United States and an investigation of the paper industry of the world; M.A. Yale 1895 (for special studies in electricity); in 1910 established an annual lectureship in Sheffield Scientific School on water storage conservation, known as the Chester S. Lyman Lectureship (in memory of his father); author of History of the American Paper and Pulp Association; had written articles for Forester, Encyclopedia Americana, trade and technical journals, and a number of newspapers; during World War served as chairman of committees in Red Cross and United War Work drives; member of national executive committee and publicity chairman of campaign for reorganization of Hopkins Grammar School, one of founders of Yale Club of New York and member of many of its committees; originated and carried out plan for the first graduates' dinner on Tuesday of Commencement week, chairman of Thirty-Year Reunion Committee of Class of 1882; member American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Association for the Advancement of Science, Empire State Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, and New England Society; vice-president Home Market Club of Boston for many years.

Married February 26, 1915, in New York City, Marguerite Buhler, daughter of Lloyd Couleru. One daughter, Louise Margaret. Mr. and Mrs. Lyman were divorced in 1920.

Death, due to an embolism, occurred at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston; was thought to be recovering from an operation performed on March 20. Buried in Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by a sister, Delia L. Porter, the wife of Professor Frank C. Porter, '86 D., of the Yale Divinity School. His only brother, Oliver E. Lyman, '76, died in 1884. By the terms of his will a bequest of $50,000 for the Chester S. Lyman Memorial Fund was left to the Sheffield Scientific School, to be devoted to teaching hydraulic engineering and related subjects, $3,000 to the Russell Trust Association, with an additional $3,000 for a portrait of his father, $3,000 to Yale for a portrait of his great-grandfather, Chief Justice Oliver Ellsworth, and $25,000 to the Hopkins Grammar School.

Benjamin Huger Rutledge, B.A. 1882.

Born September 4, 1861, in Charleston, S. C.

Died November 12, 1925, in Charleston, S. C.

Father, Benjamin Huger Rutledge (B.A. 1848), a lawyer; member of the Secession Convention in 1860; as Acting Brigadier General (commission recommended) commanded a cavalry brigade in Confederate Army during Civil War; member South Carolina Legislature in 1876; son of Benjamin Huger Rutledge, a lawyer, and Alice Ann (Weston) Rutledge; descendant of Hugh Rutledge, chancellor of South Carolina for about thirty years, who was a brother of Edward Rutledge, a signer of the Declaration of Independence and governor of South Carolina, and of John Rutledge, governor of South Carolina; also descended from Dr. Andrew Rutledge, who was of English descent and who came from Ireland to Charleston in 1730 and was attorney-general of the colony. Mother, Eleanor Maria (Middleton) Rutledge; daughter of Oliver Hering and Susan Matilda Harriet (Chisolm) Middleton; descendant of Arthur Middleton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, of Henry Middleton, governor of South Carolina and minister of the United States to Russia, and of Edward Middleton, who came from England to Barbados and thence to South Carolina in 1678, where he received large tracts of land and was lord proprietor's deputy, assistant justice, and member of the Grand Council of the Province of South Carolina. Great-uncle, Francis H. Rutledge (B. A. 1820)

Virginia Military Institute (member of Beta Theta Pi; B. S. 1880). Entered Yale as a Junior in 1880; first colloquy appointment Senior year; member Senior Promenade Committee was admitted to South Carolina Bar in May, 1884; practiced in office of Rutledge & Young 1884-87, formed partnership with his father under firm name of Rutledge & Rutledge November 1, 1887, which continued until his father's death in 1893; practiced independently 1893-1906; member of firm of Mordecai, Gadsden, Rutledge & Hagood 1906-1913, Mordecai, Gadsden & Rutledge 1913-17, Rutledge & Hyde 1917-1920, Rutledge, Hyde & Mann 1920-24, and then Rutledge, Hyde, Mann & Figg until his death; was legal representative of several large insurance companies; local and then division counsel for Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company for over twenty years; appointed electoral messenger from South Carolina for Cleveland's first election; president city Democratic convention 1889; clerk of judiciary committee of South Carolina Legislature 1887; member State Legislature 1890-92; served as consul for Belgium at Charleston for over twenty years; elected Captain of Carolina Rifles in January, 1885, and Major, commanding 2d Battalion, 4th Brigade, South Carolina Volunteer Troops, in September, 1887, and served for a number of years; delegate-at-large to Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists at St. Louis in 1904; member State Bar Association, St. Cecilia Society, and St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Charleston (vestryman for thirty years).

Studied law with his father's firm, Rutledge & Young and

Married October 5, 1892, in Fletcher, N. C., Emma Craig, daughter of Daniel and Helen Elisabeth (Craig) Blake. Children: Eleanor Middleton, the wife of Ralph T. Hanson (M.S. Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1912), a graduate of the United States Naval Academy in 1907 and of the United States Naval War College in 1923; Emma Blake; Alice Weston; Benjamin Huger, Jr. (B.A. Johns Hopkins 1921, M.D. 1925); Amelia VanCortlandt; Susan Middleton; and Anne Blake

Death, due to pneumonia, occurred after a three weeks' illness. Buried in Magnolia Cemetery, Charleston. Survived by wife, son, six daughters, two brothers, Oliver Middleton Rutledge, of Fletcher, and Edward Rutledge, M.D., of Charleston, and a sister, Mrs Edwin P. Frost, of Charleston.

Arthur Eugene Bowers, B.A. 1883.

Born August 8, 1855, in Manchester, Conn.

Died November 10, 1925, in Manchester, Conn.

Father, Nicholas T. Bowers. Mother, Martha E. (Powers) Bowers. Nephew, Raymond R. Bowers, '25.

Hartford Public High School. Taught in East Hartford schools for five years before entering Yale in 1879. First and third prize in English composition Sophomore year; high oration appointment Junior year and second prize at Junior Exhibition; oration appointment Senior year; an assistant editor Yale Daily News Junior year and an editor Senior year; member Ivy Committee, Gamma Nu, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Editor Rockville (Conn.) Journal 1883-84; then in the employ of Good Cheer Publishing Company of Greenfield, Mass., for a time; in January, 1885, made a trip to the cotton exposition at New Orleans, La., as correspondent for Waterbury American, Hartford Courant, Hartford Sunday Globe, and New Haven Register; spent about five months in the South; in August, 1885, established a newspaper of his own, the North Adams (Mass.) Sunday Express, but sold out his interest the following December to become manager of the advertising and circulation departments of H. D. Watson Publishing Company of Greenfield; later in charge successively of advertising department of a publishing house in Augusta, Maine, and of advertising of Munsey's Magazine, after which he became a director of Frank A. Munsey Company, and was placed in charge of its New England branch in Boston; during later years of his life had been engaged in manufacturing and the real estate business in Manchester, where he had a model farm; served as selectman in Manchester 1913-1922 and represented the town in Connecticut Legislature 1915-16 and 1917-18, serving as member of finance committee; state senator 1919-1920 and 1921-22; appointed by the Governor chairman of Commission on Uniformity of Charters for the Towns, Cities, and Boroughs of Connecticut in 1922; candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the tentative Republican ticket in 1922, during World War served as member of local committee of six of Council of Defense, as director of Speakers Bureau of Connecticut Chamber of Commerce at the State Capitol for "Rally Week" in October, 1917, and as member of executive committee of Manchester chapter of American Red Cross; had been a director of J. T. Robertson Company, soap manufacturers of Manchester, Commonwealth Securities Company, of Kansas City, Mo., Kahn Fireless Cooker Company, of Boston, Orford Specialty Company, manufacturers of lignol in Manchester, and Manchester Light & Power Company; former president Manchester Chamber of Commerce and vice-president Hartford Republican Club (declined the presidency); trustee Manchester Community Club; organizer Rockville Baseball Club, which later became part of the old Connecticut State League.

Unmarried.

Death, due to pneumonia, followed an attack of pleurisy from which it was thought he had recovered. Buried in Buckland Cemetery. Survived by a brother, Herbert O. Bowers, '92.

Elihu Brintnal Frost, B.A. 1883.

Born May 12, 1860, in Peekskill, N. Y.

Died August 22, 1925, at Beach Bluff, Mass.

Father, Calvin Frost (B.A. 1842), a lawyer. Mother, Mary Antoinette Oppie (Hait) Frost; daughter of Seth and Mary A. (Oppie) Hait; descendant of Seth Hayt, who came from England to Stamford, Conn. Cousin: James M. Dain, '11.

Peekskill Military Academy and Trinity School, Tivoli, N. Y. Member '83 Barge Crew and Eight-oared Shell Crew, '83 Gun Club, Delta Kappa, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones.

Engaged in the brick business at Croton, N. Y., during first year after graduation; studied law at Columbia 1884-85; admitted to New York Bar in 1885 and was in the office of Lord, Day & Lord in New York City for a while; later was associated with his father for several years and, after a period of independent practice, with Frost & Johnson; retired from active practice about five years before his death; vice-president Electric Boat and Holland Torpedo Boat companies; member St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Peekskill.

Married several times. First marriage took place in New York City in April, 1897, to Marie E. Dow. No children.

Death, due to paresis, followed several years of failing health. Buried in Hillside Cemetery, Peekskill. Left no immediate relatives.

John William Galbraith, B.A. 1883.

Born June 12, 1860, in Erie, Pa.

Died March 25, 1926, in Erie, Pa.

Father, William Ayres Galbraith (LL B Harvard 1845), a lawyer and president judge of Erie County; son of John Galbraith, a member of Congress, and Amy (Ayres) Galbraith; descendant of James Galbraith, who came from Scotland to Donegal, Pa., in 1718. Mother, Fanny (Davenport) Galbraith; daughter of William and Phylance (Tracy) Davenport; descendant of the Rev. John Davenport, a founder of New Haven Colony. Brother, Davenport Galbraith, '84 S.

Hopkins Grammar School. Member University Orchestra, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Wolf's Head.

In 1885 received degree of LL.B. at University of Pennsylvania, where he was member of the Sharswood Law Club; practiced law in Erie from 1885 until his death; director Erie Trust Company; vice-president Kane Carbon Black Company; at one time financial manager of Keystone Pearl Button Company; member Erie County Bar Association, Erie Symphony Orchestra, and American Federation of Musicians; served on Draft Board of Erie County in 1918.

Married April 25, 1888, in Indianapolis, Ind., Mary Shaw, daughter of Matthew and Eliza (Shaw) Henning. Children: William Ayres, '11 S., and Bertram, ex-'23 Mrs. Galbraith died July 2, 1924.

Death due to valvular heart disease. Buried at Erie. Survived by sons and two grandchildren.

Charles Harris Hall, B.A. 1883.

Born March 19, 1860, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Died October 25, 1925, in Binghamton, N. Y.

Father, Charles Samuel Hall (B.A. 1848, LL.B. 1850), a lawyer, United States commissioner for Northern District of New York; son of Samuel Holden Parsons and Emeline (Bulkeley) Hall, grandson of William B. Hall (B.A. 1786); great-grandson of Samuel H. Parsons (honorary M.A. 1781); great-great-grandson of Samuel Hall (B.A. 1716); seventh in descent from John Hall, who came from England to Boston in 1633, later settled in New Haven, and was an original proprietor of Wallingford, Conn., in 1670. Mother, Mary Rebecca (Harris) Hall; daughter of Arnold and Phoebe (Middlebrook) Harris. Ancestors also include: Rev. John Eliot, the "Apostle to the Indians"; Rev. Richard Mather; Rev. Charles Chauncy, the second president of Harvard; Rev. Peter Bulkley, the founder of Concord, Mass.; Henry Wolcott and Matthew Griswold, the founders of their respective families; Governor William Brenton of Rhode Island, and Governors Thomas Welles and Jonathan Law of Connecticut. Yale relatives include: Theophilus Hall (B.A. 1727), Elihu Hall (B.A. 1731), Lyman Hall (B.A. 1747), Caleb Hall (B.A. 1752), Benjamin and Samuel Hall (both B.A. 1754), Avery Hall (B.A. 1759), Aaron Hall (B.A. 1772), Lee Hall (B.A. 1789), and Samuel A. Foot (B.A. 1797); Theodore P. Hall, '56 (uncle); and Trowbridge Hall, ex-'86, and Brenton H. Scott, '13 (cousins).

Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and Hopkins Grammar School Member University Bicycle Association, Junior Promenade Committee, Delta Kappa, and Delta Kappa Epsilon

Studied law in his father's office in Binghamton 1883-84; engaged in business as manufacturer of paper boxes 1884-85 and as a cigar manufacturer 1885-1894; engaged in real estate business in Washington, D. C., 1894-95; spent the next year abroad, engaged in the furniture business with Stickley-Brandt Furniture Company of Binghamton, wholesale and retail manufacturers, since 1897 (secretary and treasurer until 1906; since then president); attended Trinity Memorial Church, Binghamton.

Married (1) April 16, 1885, in Brooklyn, Marion Musgrave Wright, daughter of Mrs. Jeannette Buddington Wright, of Washington. One son, Fairfax (Ph.B. 1907, M.D. Columbia 1911), the '83 Class Boy. Mrs. Hall died January 19, 1903. Married (2) September 2, 1920, in Binghamton, Kate Lovell Strong, daughter of Clarence Parker and Mary (Fowle) Lovell. No children by second marriage

Death due to carcinoma of the stomach and liver. Interment in Spring Forest Cemetery, Binghamton. Survived by wife, son, one grandson, and a brother, Samuel H. P. Hall, of Binghamton

Horace George Hoadley, B.A. 1883.

Born September 23, 1861, in New Haven, Conn.

Died May 22, 1926, in Belmont, Mass.

Father, Horace Philemon Hoadley; engaged in real estate and insurance business; son of Philemon and Betsy (Bradley [Plant]) Hoadley; descendant of William Hoadley, who came from England and was living in Saybrook, Conn., in 1663 (represented that town in the General Assembly). Mother, Amelia Orpha (Hubbard) Hoadley; daughter of Edwin and Hannah (North) Hubbard.

Hopkins Grammar School. Dissertation appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year; member Gamma Nu.

For several months after graduation had charge of a department of C. E. Hoadley & Company, a novelty wood turning concern in Bennington, Vt (had worked for that company while still in college and was superintendent of Connecticut Pavement Company in New Haven during summers of 1882 and 1883); studied in Yale Divinity School 1884-87 (B.D. 1887), during summer of 1886 preaching at Kewaunee, Wis.; pastor of Congregational Church, East Canaan, Conn., 1887-1890, his ordination taking place there April 3, 1888; studied sociology at Johns Hopkins 1890-91; superintendent of Christian visitation and charity at Waterbury, Conn , 1891-93 and manager of Relief Bureau in that city 1893-94; took special course in mechanical engineering at Cornell 1894-95 and then spent eight months in practical work with Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Company of Providence, R. I.; spent the year 1896-97 in Florida on account of his health; engaged in manufacturing from 1897 to 1918; with Baird Machine Company of Oakville, Conn., for a few months; president and treasurer of Waterbury Tool Company 1898-1918; with employment and personnel department of Hood Rubber Company of Watertown, Mass., 1918-19, and with a similar department of Dennison Manufacturing Company of Framingham, Mass., in fall of 1919, having taken an intensive course in employment management at Harvard during the previous summer; in 1922 formed a partnership with Professor Charles A. Coburn of Boston University under firm name of Coburn & Hoadley (personal and industrial psychology) and continued in that connection until January, 1925; was then proprietor and manager of Hoadley Associates, successors to Coburn & Hoadley, until his retirement December 31, 1925; candidate for Congress of Progressive Party from 5th Connecticut District in 1912 and for state treasurer of Connecticut 1914; developed and put on the market a hydraulic machine for transmitting power at variable speeds, invented by Harvey D. Williams and Reynold Janney, which was largely used on United States battleships; in 1924 served as chairman of a "Get-Together Conference on Labor Unions" in Boston; author: Home Department of the Sunday School and Profit Sharing in Business; contributed series of articles on "Industrial Applications of McDougall's Psychology" to Forbes Magazine; member American Academy of Political and Social Science, American Management Association, American Association for Labor Legislation, National Municipal League, and First Congregational Church, Cambridge, Mass.

Married September 22, 1887, in Cleveland, Helen Lillie, daughter of George and Emma (Rendell) Anderson. No children.

Death due to a lung infection. Interment in Riverside Cemetery, Waterbury. Survived by wife.

Joseph Horton Nelson, B.A. 1883.

Born November 1, 1858, in New York City

Died August 23, 1925, in New York City.

Father, Joseph Nelson, a farmer and later a feed and grain merchant; son of Peter and Sarah Nelson; descendant of Jan Elison (John Nelson), who purchased land in Mamaroneck, N. Y., in 1683 (his name being perpetuated there by Nelson Hill) and married a daughter of Derik Jansen VanderVliet, a soldier who emigrated from Holland in 1660. Mother, Ellen (Putney) Nelson; daughter of Jeremiah and Anna Putney.

Preparatory department of Chicago University and City College High School, New York City. First colloquy appointment Junior year; second dispute appointment Senior year; member Kappa Sigma Epsilon and Psi Upsilon.

Studied and practiced law in Aurora and Chicago, Ill., being associated with E. A. Sherburne in the latter city for a time; moved to New York City in 1894 and entered legal department of Metropolitan Street Railway Company; two years later became assistant to the general manager of the company; gave up that connection in 1904 on account of ill health; later took up real estate work and was subsequently engaged in editorial and brief work for New York Law Institute; about 1919 became editor of the column "Replies and Decisions" in Journal of Commerce, New York City, and continued in that position until his death; member Ginter Rifle Club, being champion match and prize shot of the United States; belonged to Society of Friends, Yorktown Heights, N. Y., and Methodist Episcopal Church, Aurora, Ill.

Unmarried.

Death due to myocarditis. Buried in Amawalk Cemetery, Yorktown Heights. Survived by no immediate relatives. Leaves a half brother, George F. Hadden, of Spokane, Wash., a nephew, and several cousins.

Rollin Alger Sawyer, B.A. 1883.

Born May 23, 1861, in Yonkers, N. Y.
Died October 4, 1925, in Harrisburg, Pa.

Father, the Rev. Rollin Augustus Sawyer (B.A. Western Reserve 1851, D.D. 1872, Litt.D. 1911), a Presbyterian minister; pastor of churches in New York, Ohio, and New Jersey; lecturer at Bloomfield Theological Seminary; contributing editor of New York Evangelist and Christian at Work for many years; son of Rufus and Ruth (Alger) Sawyer; descendant of Thomas Sawyer, who came from Lincolnshire, England, about 1618 and settled at Lancaster, Mass. Mother, Martha Elizabeth (Linn) Sawyer; daughter of Andrew and Sybilla (Beardsley) Linn; descendant of John Linn, of Newton, N. J. Nephews: Andrew Linn Bostwick, '08, and Elmore Bostwick, ex-'16.

Hunt's Collegiate Training School, New York City. Second colloquy appointment Junior year; first colloquy appointment Senior year; received his degree in 1922, with enrollment in Class of 1883.

Studied at Union Theological Seminary 1883-86, graduating there in May, 1886; had been licensed to preach by Presbytery of New Castle, Pa., the previous month; ordained and installed pastor Presbyterian Church, Port Penn, Del., June 16, 1886; remained there until 1889; pastor at Odessa, Del., 1889-1894; ordained a deacon of the Protestant Episcopal Church December 21, 1894, and priest June 29, 1895; rector of Trinity Church, Clayton, Del., 1894-95, St. Thomas' Church, Newark, Del., 1895-98, Trinity Church, Carbondale, Pa., 1898-1905, and St. Stephen's Church, Harrisburg, from 1905 until his death; president Standing Committee of Diocese of Harrisburg since 1909.

Married July 25, 1888, in Nantucket, Mass., Lilian Goeltz, daughter of Henry and Jeannette (Knapp) Corse. Children: Rollin Alger, Jr. (B.A. Lafayette 1909), and Janet (Mrs. Karl Lemcke).

Death, due to toxic poisoning, occurred at the Harrisburg Hospital, after a brief illness. Interment in Stony Creek Cemetery, Stony Point, N. Y. Survived by wife, son, daughter, two brothers, the Rev. Andrew L. Sawyer, '83, and Willis Lee Sawyer, of Mountain Lakes, N. J., and three sisters, Lucy Sawyer Bostwick (wife of Arthur E. Bostwick, '81), Miss Susanne Sawyer, of Montclair, N. J., and Mrs. Charles H. Coit, of Litchfield, Conn.

Henry Czar Merwin Thomson, B.A. 1883.

Born April 20, 1863, in New Haven, Conn

Died June 18, 1926, in New Britain, Conn.

Father, Giles Griswold Thomson, connected with the Thomson Safe Company; son of Henry W. and Lydia (Button) Thomson. Mother, Josephine (Lum) Thomson; daughter of Clark and Miranda Elizabeth (Kinney) Lum. Yale relatives include three nephews, Bruce Hoggson, ex-'12 S., Wallace Hoggson, ex-'18 S., and MacLean Hoggson, '20

Hopkins Grammar School. Member Delta Kappa, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Elihu Club.

Engaged in hardware business with Charles H. George & Company, in Providence, R. I., 1883-84, with P. & F. Corbin, hardware manufacturers of New Britain, 1884-1901 (traveling salesman in New York and New England 1884-88 and then manager of their Chicago office); identified with Hoggson Brothers, contracting designers, in New York City 1901-1913, serving as secretary, treasurer, and financial manager of the corporation; president American Hardware Corporation of New Britain from June, 1913, until his retirement from active business in December, 1924, on account of ill health; treasurer Hatasatah Realty Company of New York City 1909-1913 and director 1909-1926; director First National Bank of New Britain 1917-1924; author of In the Early Eighties and Since with Yale '83, published by the Class of 1883 in 1923, and which won the award of the Yale Association of Class Secretaries for the year's most notable and valuable class publication; one of a group of Class of 1883 who inaugurated in 1901 the series of Class dinners at New York Yale Club, the fiftieth of which was held in April, 1926; member Yale Engineering Association and Congregational Church.

Married September 16, 1891, in New Haven, Alice Maria, daughter of Samuel James and Lucy (MacLean) Hoggson, and sister of Noble Foster Hoggson, '88 S. One daughter, Dorothy, who married A. Parker Abbe, '08.

Death due to encephalitis. Buried in Springfield, Mass. Survived by wife and daughter.

John Butler Woodward, B.A. 1883.

Born April 3, 1861, in Wilkes Barre, Pa
Died September 6, 1925, at Glen Summit, Pa.

Father, Stanley Trott Woodward (B.A. 1855), a lawyer and judge of Luzerne County, Pa.; son of George Washington Woodward, chief justice of Pennsylvania and a member of Congress, and Sarah Elizabeth (Trott) Woodward; descendant of Richard Woodward, who came to America from Ipswich, England, in 1634 and settled at Watertown, Mass. Mother, Sarah Richards (Butler) Woodward; daughter of Col. John Lord Butler and Cornelia (Richards) Butler; descendant of Zebulon Butler, commander of the American forces at Wyoming, July 3, 1778, and of William Butler, who came to Ipswich, Mass., from Ireland in 1650, also descended from three colonial governors of Connecticut, Thomas Welles, John Haynes, and Gurdon Saltonstall. Yale relatives include three nephews, H. H. Houston Woodward, ex-'19, Stanley Woodward, '22, and Charles H. Woodward, '27.

St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H. Member Yale Yacht Club Junior and Senior years, College Choir three years, '83 Glee Club, '83 Quartette, Yale Glee Club Junior and Senior years, executive committee of Yale Athletic Association Junior and Senior years, Yale News board Junior year, Kappa Sigma Epsilon, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones.

Read law in office of A. T. McClintock in Wilkes Barre 1883-84; attended University of Pennsylvania Law School and was in law office of E. Coppee Mitchell in Philadelphia 1884-85; admitted to Luzerne County Bar September 7, 1885, and had since practiced in Wilkes Barre; joined firm of Wheaton, Darling & Woodward in 1892 and continued with that firm and its successor, Woodward, Darling & Woodward, until his election as a judge of Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County in 1913; in 1923 was reelected for a second term of ten years; director of Wilkes Barre Deposit & Savings Bank since 1923; president Yale Alumni Association of Wyoming Valley 1924-25; elder of Wilkes Barre Presbyterian Church.

Married June 6, 1888, in Wilkes Barre, Marion, daughter of Thaddeus Street and Esther (Reynolds) Hillard, and sister of Harry R. and Tuthill R. Hillard, both '83. Children: John Butler, ex-'12 (died during his Freshman year at Yale); Marion (Mrs Bruce Payne); and Stanley Hillard.

Death due to an apoplectic stroke; had been in ill health for several months. Buried in Hollenback Cemetery, Wilkes Barre. Survived by wife, daughter, son, and a brother, Dr. George Woodward, '87 and '88 S

Emile [Adolfe] Schultze, B.A. 1885.

Born February 17, 1863, in Hoboken, N. J.

Died January 18, 1926, in Speonk, N. Y.

Father, Emil Adolfe Schultze, an importer of wines; born in Herford, Westphalia; came to America in 1855, son of Carl and Augusta (Winzer) Schultze. Mother, Anna (Feldner) Schultze; born in Dresden, Germany; daughter of Edward Feldner, who came to America in 1848 and settled in Detroit, where he was superintendent of schools, and Anna Augusta Feldner.

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute. Captain of Class Crew four years; substitute on University Crew; member Freshman Glee Club and Junior Promenade Committee; chairman Class Cup Committee; member Eta Phi, Psi Upsilon, and Scroll and Key.

LL B Columbia 1887; had practiced law in New York City since 1887; excise commissioner of city of Orange, N. J. (which was his home from 1892 to 1925), 1905-1911; president of Yale Alumni Association of Essex County (N. J.) 1898-99; member of committee on admissions of Yale Club of New York 1903-06 and of council of club 1906-09; chairman of '85 Class Committee since graduation, former member Bar Association of the City of New York; member New England Society of Orange.

Married September 20, 1892, in Ansonia, Conn., Annie Louise, daughter of John B and Mary Jane (Phelps) Gardner. One son, John Gardner. Mrs. Schultze died August 7, 1925.

Death, due to chronic nephritis, followed a long illness. Buried in Ansonia. Survived by son, two grandchildren, four brothers, Charles and Frederick Schultze, of Hoboken, N. J., Paul Schultze, of Albany, N. Y., and Ernest C. Schultze, M. D., of New York City, and a sister, Mrs Harry D West, also of New York.

Charles Nelson Coddington, B.A. 1886.

Born December 21, 1861, in Collinsville, Conn

Died January 21, 1926, in Westfield, N. J

Father, Samuel Nelson Coddington, a banker; member Connecticut House of Representatives and Senate, descendant of William Coddington, who came from England in 1633 and was a founder (1636) and first governor of Newport, R. I. Mother, Fidelia (Pettibone) Coddington; daughter of Abraham Pettibone.

Preparatory training received in Hartford and at Williston Academy and Phillips-Andover.

Studied law at Columbia University (LL.B. 1888) and in law office of Peckham & Tyler during 1886-87; admitted to bar May 17, 1888, and was then a clerk in various law offices until December, 1888, when he became managing clerk in law office of Henry A. Root in New York City; subsequently practiced in that city for some time and then in Westfield as a member of firm of Green, Coddington & VanWinkle and later of that of Coddington & Oliver, which also had an office in Elizabeth, N. J.; had served as corporation counsel of Westfield; member New Jersey Assembly two terms (1893-95), declining a renomination; during that time introduced the anti-gambling measure which was later adopted as an amendment to the state constitution; in 1895 was commissioned by the governor deputy clerk of the Supreme Court of New Jersey; was reappointed several times, and served for thirteen years; surrogate of Union County, N. J., from 1917 until his death (term due to expire in 1927); served as a presidential elector several times; chairman of Republican City Committee of Westfield twenty-five years, during eight of which he was chairman of Union County Republican Committee; vice-chairman State Republican Committee, resigning in May, 1925; director Westfield Trust Company; member Union County Bar Association and advisory board of Crippled Children's Home, Westfield; president Westfield Athletic Club; vestryman St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Westfield.

Married October 18, 1888, in Beverly, N. J., Adele C., daughter of Sylvester and Sarah (McElroy) Bonfield Children: Charles Nelson, Jr.; Harriet McElroy (B.A. Smith 1912), the wife of Wellwood H. Maxwell, who attended Cornell; and Adele Bonfield (B.A. Smith 1914), the widow of Lewis R. Thibault (B.A. Pennsylvania 1915).

Death followed an illness of over two years. Buried in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield. Survived by wife, son, daughters, and five grandchildren.

Thomas Darling, B.A. 1886.

Born May 29, 1863, in Wilkes Barre, Pa.

Died June 13, 1926, in Kingston, Pa.

Father, Edward Payson Darling (B.A. Amherst 1851), a lawyer; son of William Darling (who went from Maine to Reading, Pa.; practiced law there and was president judge of Berks County courts; commissioner to the World's Fair at Crystal Palace, London, in 1851) and Margaretta Vaughan (Smith) Darling; grandson of Eliakim Darling, who was born in New Hampshire in 1767 and became a prominent ship-builder. Mother, Emily H. (Rutter) Darling; daughter of Nathaniel Rutter.

Wilkes Barre Academy. Treasurer Lacrosse Club Junior year; member College Choir, '86 Glee Club, University Glee Club, Junior Promenade Committee, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Read law at his home in Wilkes Barre and was admitted to bar in March, 1889; then entered law office of his father and uncle, J. Vaughan Darling, and was associated with their firm and its successors, Wheaton, Darling & Woodward (of which Frank H. Wheaton, '77, and John B. Woodward, '83, were members), and Woodward, Darling & Woodward; since 1913 had practiced independently; after his father's death took over management of a number of estates, and his practice was largely in the Orphan's Court, as that of his father had been; director Wyoming Bank for many years; member Luzerne County Bar, Citizens' Committee of One Hundred of Wilkes Barre, which acted in advisory capacity in political nominations, and City Council; had served in Pennsylvania National Guard; president Yale Alumni Association of the Wyoming Valley 1915; vestryman St. Stephen's Episcopal Church for some years; charter member Westmoreland Club; spent much of his time in voice and violin practice, including quartet work in both; had lived in Kingston since his retirement from law practice.

Married June 3, 1902, Emma Childs, daughter of Oliver McClintock, '61, and Clara Courtney (Childs) McClintock, of Pittsburgh, Pa., sister of Norman and Walter McClintock, both '91, and Harvey C. McClintock, '03, and niece of M. B. Lowrie Childs, ex-'51, Walter L. McClintock, '62, Harvey Childs and Washington McClintock, both ex-'69, Thompson McClintock, '70, and Frank T. McClintock, '75. Children: Thomas, Jr., '25, Edward, '27, Clara Childs, and Elsie Lowrie.

Had not been well for many months. Interment in family lot in Hollenback Cemetery, Wilkes Barre. Survived by wife and four children.

Alexander Brown Coxe, B.A. 1887.

Born September 9, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

Died April 16, 1926, in Philadelphia, Pa.

Father, Henry Brinton Coxe (B.A. Pennsylvania 1860); member of firm of Coxe Brothers & Company, miners of anthracite coal at Drifton, Pa.; son of Charles Sidney Coxe (B.A. Pennsylvania 1808) and Anna Maria (Brinton) Coxe; descendant of Dr. Daniel Coxe, of London, whose son, Daniel Coxe, came to America in 1701 and settled near Cape May, N. J. Mother, Isabel (Brown) Coxe; daughter of Alexander Brown (B.A. Rutgers 1836) and Catherine (Nielson) Brown; great-granddaughter of Alexander Brown, who came from the north of Ireland to Baltimore, Md., in 1790 and was the founder of the banking houses of Alexander Brown & Sons in Baltimore, Brown, Shipley & Company, of London, and Brown Brothers & Company, of Philadelphia and New York. Yale relatives include: Eckley B. Coxe, 3d, ex-'18 S. (nephew), and William Adams Brown, '86, James Crosby Brown, '94, Thatcher M. Brown, '97, William Coxe Wright, '18, and Franklin and Tench C. Coxe, Jr, both '21 (third cousins).

Hopkins Grammar School. Member Track Team four years (captain two years); won first place in hammer throw four years and in Senior year also in shot-put, breaking intercollegiate record in both events; member Freshman Football Team, University Football Team Sophomore year, Class Cup Committee, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones Employed by Coxe Brothers & Company at Drifton 1887-1894, except for a year spent at the University of Pennsylvania (1888-89) where he received a certificate of proficiency in 1889; since 1896 his home had been in Paoli, Pa., where he had been engaged in farming and horse breeding; was said to have done more towards improving trotting stock in America than any other one man; only horse owner to win two of the Kentucky futurities for both two-year- and three-year-old horses; member Yale Graduate Committee on Track Athletics from its inauguration until his death; vestryman of Church of the Good Samaritan (Episcopal), Paoli.

Married June 4, 1891, in Drifton, Sarah Frederica, daughter of John Brinton White, a non-graduate member of the University of Pennsylvania Class of 1859, and Jane Dundas (Gordon) White, and sister of William White, '90. No children.

Death, due to kidney disease, with complications, occurred at the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia; had been in poor health for about a year, but was taken seriously ill in Nassau, Bahama Islands, several weeks before his death. Buried in the churchyard of the Church of the Good Samaritan, Paoli. Survived by wife and two brothers, Henry B. Coxe (B.A. Harvard 1885, LL.B. Pennsylvania 1887), of Penllyn, Pa., and Charles E. Coxe, ex-'94.

George Griswold Haven, B.A. 1887.

Born June 14, 1866, in New York City
Died July 21, 1925, in New York City.

Father, George Griswold Haven (B.A. Columbia 1857, M.A. 1860); president and director of Metropolitan Opera & Real Estate Company and Worcester, Nashua & Rochester Railroad Company; director of National Bank of Commerce, Guaranty Trust Company, and other corporations; vice-president of Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company, son of J. Woodward and Cornelia (Griswold) Haven; descendant of Richard Haven, who came to America from England in 1640 and settled at Lynn, Mass. Mother, Emma (Martin) Haven; daughter of Isaac Parker and Cornelia (Walton) Martin; descendant of Joseph Martin, who came to this country from the Canary Islands and settled in New York City.

St. John's School, Ossining, N. Y., and Hopkins Grammar School Member Hé Boulé, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Skull and Bones.

At graduation entered offices of Lehigh & Wilkes Barre Coal Company, New York City; was subsequently secretary and treasurer of St. Paul & Duluth and New York & Northern railways and later acting general manager of latter road; became member of New York Stock Exchange firm of Strong, Sturgis & Company in 1896 and at time of death was senior member of firm, treasurer Metropolitan Opera & Real Estate Company 1914-19 and since then president (also director since 1910); had been director of Denver & Rio Grande and Texas & Pacific railroads, South Porto Rico Sugar Company, the Metallurgical Company, Charleston & Ohio River Company, and United States Mortgage & Trust Company; trustee and manager of Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children in New York City; member advisory board of New York Foundling Hospital at time of his death; president Down Town Association of New York; had a summer home at Ridgefield, Conn.

Married (1) September 4, 1889, in New Haven, Elizabeth Shaw, daughter of Charles Roberts Ingersoll (B.A. 1840, LL.D. 1874), formerly governor of Connecticut, and Virginia (Gregory) Ingersoll, sister of Francis G. Ingersoll, '74, granddaughter of Ralph I. Ingersoll (B.A. 1808), great-granddaughter of Jonathan Ingersoll (B.A. 1766), and great-great-granddaughter of Jonathan Ingersoll (B.A. 1736). Children: Leila, who married Gilbert Edward Jones, Jr. (B.A. Harvard 1911); George Griswold, Jr., '16, who served abroad as a First Lieutenant in the 17th Field Artillery during the war; and Mrs. Alice Haven Trevor. Mrs. Haven died November 14, 1923. Married (2) February 4, 1925, in New York City, Dorothy, daughter of Henry Ammon James, '74 and '78 L., and Laura Brevoort (Sedgwick) James, sister of Ellery S. James, '17, and niece of Dr. Walter B. James, '79, Norman James, '90, and the late Robert C. James, '94.

Died by his own hand; had been suffering from a nervous breakdown for a year and a half and had not been active in business; had traveled in an effort to regain his health. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by wife, son, two daughters, six grandchildren, a brother, J. Woodward Haven, of New York City, two sisters, Mrs. Stephen Peabody and Mrs. J. Nelson Borland, both of New York, and a half sister, Marion H. Wickes, the wife of Forsyth Wickes, '98.

William Auchinbreck Campbell, B.A. 1888.

Born August 29, 1866, in Schenectady, N. Y.
Died December 10, 1925, in Asheville, N. C.

Father, Douglas Campbell (B.A. Union 1860), a lawyer and historian; Major of United States Volunteers in Civil War; son of William W. Campbell (B.A. Union 1827), a member of Congress and justice of New York Superior and Supreme courts, and Maria (Starkweather) Campbell; descendant of James Campbell, who came from Scotland to Boston in 1728 and settled in Cherry Valley, N. Y., in 1741. Mother, Harriet Bowers (Paige) Campbell, daughter of Alonzo C. and Harriet Bowers (Mumford) Paige, descendant of Nathaniel Paige, who came from England to Roxbury, Mass., about 1685.

St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H. First colloquy appointment Junior year, second dispute appointment Senior year; first honors in political science, history, and law at graduation; captain and stroke of Freshman Crew; member Senior Promenade Committee, Hé Boulé, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

After graduation studied law at Harvard for two years; was then in law office of Evarts, Choate & Beaman in New York City until 1893; practiced law in New York at different intervals from 1893 to 1924; had also been engaged in banking and brokerage business; interested in mines in Mexico and Alaska and in 1912 spent some time in Alaska, investigating his properties; member Society of Colonial Wars and Loyal Legion.

Married May 16, 1893, in Augusta, Ga., Marian Hartridge, daughter of Barney Savage and Marian (Lamar) Dunbar. No children.

Death due to tuberculosis. Buried at Cherry Valley, N. Y. Survived by wife, a brother, Douglas Campbell (B.A. Union 1894), and two sisters, Mrs. George deB. Greene and Mrs. Oothout Z. Whitehead, all of New York City.

Frank Wells Hubbard, B.A. 1888.

Born August 2, 1865, in Litchfield, Conn
Died February 10, 1926, in Flushing, N. Y.

Father, John Henry Hubbard, a lawyer; county and state's attorney, judge of Connecticut Supreme Court; state senator; member of Congress 1863-65; son of Parley and Anna (Catlin) Hubbard; descendant of John Hubbard, who lived in Boston in 1670, was a Captain in King Philip's War, and moved to Woodstock, Conn., in 1686; also a descendant on the maternal side of John Webster, fifth colonial governor of Connecticut. Mother, Abby Jane (Wells) Hubbard; daughter of Tomlinson and Electa (Smith) Wells; descendant of Thomas Wells, who came to this country from Essex County, England, and was the fourth colonial governor of Connecticut, and Elizabeth (Hunt) Wells, who came to Wethersfield in 1636 and subsequently settled in Hartford, Conn. Cousin: Henry H. Wells, '00.

Prepared for college at L. H. Reid's private school, Lakeville, Conn. Member Class Baseball Team Freshman year; second colloquy appointment Senior year.

Studied in Yale School of Law 1888-1890 (received honors in Junior year and LL B cum laude in 1890; member Phi Delta Phi); practiced law in Torrington, Conn, 1890-98; then moved to Great Neck, N. Y., and during next two years was engaged in farming and poultry raising, entered legal department of Metropolitan Street Railway Company of New York 1901 and remained with that company and its successor, the Interborough Rapid Transit, until his death (assistant attorney in charge of appeal work for many years).

Married November 18, 1891, in Brooklyn, N Y, Grace Waldron, daughter of Samuel Thorne and Phoebe Brown (Merritt) Keese. Children: Grace Louise (B.A. Barnard 1915), a member of the New York University Law School Class of 1927, and Waldron Wells, a non-graduate member of the Cornell Class of 1919, who received a war alumnus certificate in 1920 (was a Sergeant in the Medical Department of the Army)

Death due to pneumonia, following a week's illness Buried at Litchfield Survived by wife, daughter, son, two grandchildren, and two brothers, John T Hubbard, '80, and Philip P. Hubbard, '85

Charles Allen Klots, B.A. 1888.

Born July 14, 1867, in Brooklyn, N Y.
Died May 3, 1926, in New York City

Father, Walter Trafford Klots, a building contractor in Brooklyn; son of George and Charlotte (Morford) Klots, descendant of James Klots, of Lancaster, Pa. Mother, Elizabeth Underhill (Brown) Klots; daughter of Ephraim D. and Anne Twyble (Youle) Brown.

Preparatory training received in part at Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, after a twelve years' residence in Paris, and completed at Vermont Episcopal Institute, Burlington. Second disputation appointments Junior and Senior years; member Delta Kappa Epsilon.

After his father's death in 1889, took charge of the latter's business, which he reorganized under firm name of Walter T. Klots & Brothers Sons (contractors and dealers in building materials in New York and Brooklyn); retired from the business in 1898 on account of ill health and went to South America; became interested in various lines of business there and during the next seven years made trips to nearly all of the countries of South and Central America; returned to United States in 1906 and was interested in irrigation and engineering for a time, with a view to introducing systems into South America; later took charge of New York office of Index Visible, Inc., and remained with that company until 1915; since then engaged in developing an invention of his own.

Married October 16, 1888, in New Haven, Maud Augusta Allen (received a certificate from Yale School of the Fine Arts in 1887), daughter of Charles Wesley and Grace (Stevens) Allen. Children: Allen Trafford (B.A. 1909, LL.B. Harvard 1913), the Class Boy of '88, who was in overseas service as a First Lieutenant of Field Artillery during the war, and Constance Morford (Mrs Charles R. Fowler).

Death, due to asthma, with complications, occurred at Fifth Avenue Hospital, New York City. Buried in Cypress Hill Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by wife, son, daughter, three grandchildren, and two brothers, Dr Ephraim D. Klots, of New York City, and Alfred P. Klots, of Rochefort-en-Terre (Morbihan), France.

Frank Ilsley Paradise, B.A. 1888.

Born December 5, 1859, in Boston, Mass.

Died February 24, 1926, in Vevey, Switzerland

Father, William Thomas Paradise, a wood carver; came to Boston from Bath, England, in 1838; son of Thomas and Maria (Park) Paradise, of Bath. Mother, Mary Jane (Carnes) Paradise; born in Prince Edward Island.

Phillips-Andover. Second prize in English composition Sophomore year; Class deacon Freshman year; chairman of board of editors of Yale Literary Magazine; secretary and treasurer Berkeley Association Junior year; member Psi Upsilon and Chi Delta Theta; left college at end of Junior year on account of ill health; studied at Berkeley Divinity School three years, graduating in 1890; while there also studied at Yale for six months and in 1892 received his degree with enrollment in the Class of 1888.

Ordained as a deacon in the Episcopal Church 1890, rector of St. Peter's Church, Milford, Conn., 1890-93 (ordained to the priesthood May 18, 1891); rector of St. Luke's Church, East Greenwich, R. I., 1893-94; dean of Christ Church Cathedral, New Orleans, La., 1894-98, rector of Grace Church, Medford, Mass., 1898-1915; university preacher at Harvard for several years; had lived in England since the winter of 1914-15, his home being at Woldingham, Surrey; acting rector of American Church of the Holy Trinity in Paris 1919-1920; had charge of Church of St. Mary the Virgin at Falmouth Foreside, Maine, in summer of 1923, during the war made a lecture tour along the British front and in 1917 lectured at the Workers' Educational Society's Summer School at Balliol College, had also lectured throughout England upon American history and the new relationship with England; served as honorary secretary of Anglo-American Committee under the direction of the Royal Society of Literature of London; author: The Church and the Individual (1910), A Nation at School (1912), Christianity and Commerce (1913), Abraham Lincoln, Democrat (1921), Jesus Christ and the Spirit of Youth (1923), and Mazzini, the Prophet of Democracy (a new study of the Italian Risorgimento, to be published in England and America in the late summer of 1926); had also published several sermons and a few poems and contributed to the Harvard Review and Nineteenth Century and After; member English Speaking Union and Authors Club (London).

Married (1) June 30, 1890, in Hartford, Conn., Caroline Wilder, daughter of Charles Edward Fellowes, '56, and Emily Clarissa (Baldwin) Fellowes, sister of the Rev. Edward Colton Fellowes, '88, granddaughter of the Rev. Theron Baldwin (B.A. 1827), and grandniece of the Rev. Abraham Baldwin (B.A. 1820). Children: Scott Hurtt (B.A. 1914, B.A. Oxford 1919); Dorothea Chester, the wife of William W. Flint, Jr. (B.A. Dartmouth 1912); Robert Campbell (B.A. 1918); and Nathaniel Burton (B.A. 1918, Ph.D. 1925); his sons all saw service abroad during the war. Mrs. Paradise died December 17, 1904. Married (2) October 15, 1914, in Westminster, England, Dorothy, daughter of Frederick Haigh and Blanche (Gray) Pyman, of London. Children: Jean Ilsley and Diana Gray.

Death due to angina pectoris Buried at Lausanne, Switzerland. Survived by wife, three sons, three daughters, two grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Harry Barnard, of Andover, Mass

Bernard Christian Steiner, B.A. 1888.

Born August 13, 1867, in Guilford, Conn
Died January 12, 1926, in Baltimore, Md

Father, Lewis Henry Steiner (B.A. Marshall College 1846, M.A. Marshall 1849, M.D. Pennsylvania 1849, honorary M.A. St. James 1854 and Yale 1869, LL.D. Delaware 1884, Litt.D. Franklin and Marshall 1887); physician; professor of chemistry at George Washington University; member Maryland Senate; librarian of Enoch Pratt Free Library, Baltimore; son of Christian and Rebecca (Weltzheimer) Steiner; descendant of Jacob Steiner, who came from Germany to Frederick County, Md, in 1735. Mother, Sarah Spencer (Smyth) Steiner; daughter of Ralph Dunning Smyth (B.A. 1827) and Rachel Stone (Seward) Smyth; granddaughter of Timothy Stone, a musician in the Revolutionary War; great-granddaughter of Samuel Lee, a Revolutionary officer; descendant of Capt. William Seward, who settled in Guilford in 1654, and of John Smyth [Smith], who came from England to Milford, Conn, in 1639. Yale relatives include: Abraham L. Smyth (M.D. 1823) (great-uncle), Walter H. Smyth, '63, and Richard E. Smyth, '66 (uncles); and John C. Smith, '81, and Ralph H. Smith, '88 S. (cousins)

Frederick Academy and Guilford Institute. Second Berkeley Premium in Latin composition Freshman year; divided Winthrop Prize Junior year; philosophical oration appointments Junior and Senior years; two-year honors in ancient languages at graduation; salutatorian; chairman Ivy Committee; member Alpha Delta Phi, Elihu Club, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Graduate student in history, jurisprudence, and English at Johns Hopkins 1888-1891 (University Scholar 1890; Fellow in history 1891; Ph.D. 1891); M.A. Yale 1890; instructor in history at Williams College and head of the department 1891-92; since then librarian of Enoch Pratt Free Library, Baltimore, succeeding his father; studied law at University of Maryland 1893-94 (LL.B. 1894); connected with Johns Hopkins from 1893 to 1911 as instructor in history (1893-94), associate in history (1894-1909), and associate in English historical jurisprudence (1909-1911); dean and professor of constitutional law at Baltimore University 1897-1900; dean and professor of public law at Baltimore Law School 1900-04 (one of its incorporators and organizers 1900); partner in law firm of Morison, Steiner & Penrose 1899-1901; lecturer on church history at Baltimore Y. M. C. A. 1921; chairman of publication committee of Baltimore Reform League 1909, member Committee of 100 of the Municipal League 1905-08; declined Republican nomination for State Senate 1911; member executive committee of Maryland branch of League to Enforce Peace in 1916 and delegate to the first assembly of the league in Washington; delegate to the "Win the War for Permanent Peace" convention at Philadelphia 1918; library publicity director of United States Food Administration for Maryland 1918; member of Baltimore Auxiliary Committee for Armenian Relief from 1916 until his death; member of board of visitors of Maryland State School for the Deaf at Frederick since 1898 (vice-president of board 1915-17, since then president); president board of directors of Maryland Colored Normal School (which he helped to found) 1902-1914; trustee State Institution for the Colored Deaf, Dumb, and Blind 1900-1914; chairman of board of visitors of Colored High School 1900; member building committee of board of trustees of Egerton Orphan Asylum for Girls 1904-06; trustee Baltimore Geographical Society 1903-1926; one of the organizers (February, 1897) of Maryland State Building Association (president 1897-1900); corporator of Home-buyers Building Association 1900 (president until 1902); corporator of the Cecil and Latham Construction companies 1902; first president of Lawrence Memorial Association, which managed the College Settlement, 1894-97; recording secretary Maryland Bible Society in 1898, organizing the first traveling libraries in the state; vice-president Y. M. C. A. at Johns Hopkins 1889-1891 and president 1895-1900; president of Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the State Y. M. C. A. in 1897; director Baltimore Y. M. C. A. 1897-1926; chairman state committee of Y. M. C. A. for work among Maryland soldiers 1898; deacon of First Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, 1901-07, and an elder since then; had conducted its young men's Bible class since 1894 (also one at Johns Hopkins 1908-09) and had represented the church in the Presbytery (member of its judicial committee) and Synod (chairman committee on education 1917) and in the Interchurch Federation of Baltimore, clerk of the session of the church in 1910; chairman of Publicity Committee of the World (a pageant given in Baltimore in 1912); member local cooperating committee of Laymen's Missionary Movement 1915; member committee for reorganization and consolidation of the benevolent boards of the Presbyterian Church in the United States 1922; member General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States 1920-21; chairman of committee of Johns Hopkins alumni to cooperate with Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in the establishment of medical missionary work in northern Siam 1916; served as chairman and member of various committees of American Library Association; secretary State Library Commission 1902-1917; one of the first fifty members of the American Library Institute; former president Library Copyright League; as member of publication committee of Maryland Historical Society had directed the policy of the Maryland Historical Magazine since 1897 (also in charge of editing the Muster Rolls and other records of Maryland men in the Revolutionary War); librarian and curator of the cabinet of that society 1899-1901; member Maryland Public Records Commission 1897-1925; corresponding member Minnesota Historical Society; member American Antiquarian Society, American Historical Association, American Chemical Society, and Connecticut Society of the Sons of the American Revolution; honorary member Goethean Society of Franklin and Marshall College; charter member Phi Beta Kappa at Johns Hopkins; one of the organizers of Yale Alumni Association of Maryland in 1895 (secretary 1895-1901, president 1901-02); secretary of Class of 1888 since 1912; vice-president of Yale Association of Class Secretaries in 1916; Litt.D Dickinson College 1923, author: History of University Education in Maryland (1891), History of Slavery in Connecticut (1893), Education in Connecticut (1893), Education in Maryland (1894), Citizenship and Suffrage in Maryland (1895), Genealogy of the Steiner Family (1896), History of Guilford, Conn (1898), Life of Sir Robert Eden (1898), Institutions and Civil Government of Maryland (1899), Life and Correspondence of James McHenry (for which he was awarded the John Marshall Prize at Johns Hopkins in 1907), Life of Reverdy Johnson (1914), Life of Henry Winter Davis (1916), Life of Henry Barnard (B A 1830) (1919), Life of Roger B. Taney (1921), and monographs on Maryland history; American editor of Jahresberichte fur Geschichtswissenschaft 1893-95; editor Finding List of Books in the Enoch Pratt Free Library and History of Secondary Education in Maryland (published in the catalogue of Frederick (Md) College for 1893-94); editor Early Maryland Poetry (1900), Rev. Thomas Bray's Works (1901), Archives of Maryland from 1916 to 1926, and War Record of Alpha Delta Phi (with librarian, Lawrence C. Wroth, in 1922), member board of editors of Johns Hopkins Alumni Magazine 1912-1920; a founder of Maryland Law Review in 1901 (editor until 1903), published annual reports of Enoch Pratt Free Library and wrote reports of Maryland Public Library Commission, of which he was secretary from 1902 to 1917; contributed reviews of various books to Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science and numerous articles to magazines; with F. B. Dexter, '61, contributed an article on Yale to Johnson's Encyclopedia; published a series of genealogies of Connecticut families (prepared from manuscripts of his grandfather, Ralph D Smyth) in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register; had delivered numerous addresses daughter of John and Isabel H (Simes) Mulligan. Children: Richard Lewis and Gilbert Simes (died in 1922).

Married November 7, 1912, in Yonkers, N Y, Ethel Simes,

Death due to coronary thrombosis. Buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Frederick. Survived by wife, son, a brother, Dr. Walter R Steiner, '92, and three sisters, the Misses Bertha R and Gertrude R Steiner and Amy L Steiner (B.A. Bryn Mawr 1899), all of Baltimore.

Israel Hyman Peres, B.A. 1889.

Born August 27, 1867, in Memphis, Tenn.

Died August 1, 1925, in Memphis, Tenn

Father, Jacob Joseph Peres; born in Haarlem, Netherlands; graduated with an academic degree from the University of Leyden in 1852; came to America in 1857 and spent a year in Philadelphia, where he taught modern languages; moved to Memphis in 1858 and established the commission and brokerage firm of Jacob J Peres & Company, also practiced law there and taught modern languages; president of Memphis Board of Education, rabbi of Congregation Beth el Emeth; son of Joseph and Sarah (Davidson) Peres; descendant of an old family of Spanish-Dutch Jews, who were rabbis and teachers. Mother, Eve (Chits) Peres, born in Haarlem; daughter of Rabbi Bernard Judah Chits and Eve Chits. Nephew: Hardwig P. Posert, '18.

Memphis public schools and Professor Wharton S. Jones' Business and Classical School, Memphis President Yale Chess Club; won Class chess prize

Studied in Yale School of Law 1889-1891 (won Betts Prize and honors Junior year, received Kent Club certificate in oratory and debate, member Book and Gavel, LL.B. cum laude 1891); began practice with firm of Taylor & Carroll in Memphis October, 1891, later becoming member of firm of Carroll & Peres, with John Lehman formed firm of Peres & Lehman October 1, 1892, and continued in that association until 1895; afterwards associated in practice with Percy Finlay, '92, for a short time; in January, 1918, appointed by Governor Rye chancellor of Tenth Chancery Division of Tennessee, Part 2, at Memphis, to fill an unexpired term; in August, 1918, elected for an eight-year term; M A Yale 1899; chairman finance committee Memphis Board of Education 1898-1902 and president of the board 1898-99; president Department of School Administration, National Education Association 1901 and 1902; delivered address before that body at Charleston, S. C., 1900 and at Detroit, Mich., 1902; member executive committee, Department of School Administration 1903; chairman of the division which made a religious survey of city of Memphis 1920; director Young Men's Hebrew Association for fifteen years and president 1900-02; trustee Temple of the Children of Israel at Memphis for a year and Children's Home Society (undenominational) 1919-1922; member Memphis Zionist District (active in work towards the rehabilitation of the Jewish National Homeland; his name inscribed in the Golden Book at Jerusalem), prominent in Masonic circles; president Lions' Club 1922; first vice-president Yale Club of Memphis 1923; member Shelby County and Memphis Bar associations; during World War appointed a special agent of the Employment Service by United States Department of Labor; also served as industrial adviser to Draft Board of West Tennessee, as member local Legal Advisory Board, vice-chairman of jurisprudence and law reform committee of State Bar Association, a Four-minute Man, and member Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, and Liberty Loan campaign committees; author. Dignity of Litigation, School Administration Problems in the South, Russian Jewish Immigration, The Russian Jew, and The Gold Standard; had contributed articles to the Yale Law Journal, American Jewess, National Education Magazine, and Commercial Appeal; published numerous articles in the daily press; delivered addresses on "The Twenty-third Psalm," "The Discovery of God," "Two Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the Landing of the Jews in America" (before the Temple of the Children of Israel), and "Theodore Roosevelt" (at a Scottish Rite banquet); also delivered address at laying of corner stone of Scottish Rite Cathedral 1906 and of Masonic Temple 1913, one of the dedicatory addresses at laying of corner stone of Baron Hirsh Orthodox Congregation, and the memorial address at erection of the monument to the late Dr. Max Samfield.

Married March 12, 1901, in Memphis, Rebecca, daughter of Louis and Augusta (Friedlander) Behm. Mrs Peres died December 9, 1901

Death due to a heart attack; had not fully regained his health since an attack of influenza two years before. Interment in Children of Israel Cemetery, Memphis Survived by a brother, Hardwig Peres, and a sister, Mrs. Henry Posert, both of Memphis.

Henry Seymour Robinson, B.A. 1889.

Born April 16, 1868, in Hartford, Conn

Died March 3, 1926, in Nassau, Bahama Islands

Father, Henry Cornelius Robinson (B A 1853, LL.D. 1888), a lawyer, mayor of Hartford 1872-73; Republican nominee for governor of Connecticut 1876, member Connecticut Legislature 1879; son of David Franklin and Anne (Seymour) Robinson; descendant of Thomas Robinson, who settled in Guilford, Conn, about 1667. Mother, Eliza Niles (Trumbull) Robinson; daughter of John Franklin and Ann Eliza (Smith) Trumbull; descendant of John Trumbull, who came from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, to Rowley, Mass, about 1637 and later lived in Cambridge and Charlestown, Mass. Yale relatives include. J. Hammond Trumbull (B.A. 1842), Lucius F Robinson (B A 1843), Nathaniel Shipman (B.A. 1848), and Edwin B Trumbull, '51 (uncles); Sidney T Miller, Jr, '16, Lucius F Robinson, Jr, '18, Barclay Robinson, '19, and Henry C. Robinson, ex-'24 (nephews); and Frank R Shipman, '85, Arthur L Shipman, '86, Henry R Shipman, '99, John F Trumbull, '02 S, James B Trumbull, ex-'07 S, and Arthur L Shipman, Jr, '28 (cousins)

Hartford Public High School Second dispute appointments Junior and Senior years, member Class Football Team and secretary of '89 Football Association Freshman year; substitute on University Football Team Sophomore and Junior years, editor Yale Daily News Sophomore year; member Junior Promenade Committee, Eta Phi, Psi Upsilon, and Skull and Bones; member Triennial, Sexennial, Decennial, and Quindecennial Reunion committees, Studied law in office of Robinson & Robinson (his father's firm) in Hartford 1889-1891; admitted to Connecticut Bar 1891; taken into firm of Robinson & Robinson in 1893 and practiced until May 16, 1895; secretary Connecticut Trust & Safe Deposit Company and manager of its trust department 1895-1905; vice-president Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company 1905-1918 and president since then; director Hartford Fire Insurance Company and Hartford Accident & Indemnity Company; former director Hartford Carpet Corporation and Case, Lockwood & Brainard Company, printers and bookbinders; director and vice-president Mechanics Savings Bank; trustee Hartford-Connecticut Trust Company, Wadsworth Athenæum (also president), Watkinson Library, Watkinson Farm School, Connecticut Industrial School for Girls, Handicrafts School of Hartford, Loomis Institute of Windsor, Conn. (president since 1919), and Colt Memorial Fund; member Hartford Common Council 1903-07 and Board of Finance 1905-08; member Connecticut Bar Association, Society of Colonial Wars, and Trinity Episcopal Church, Hartford (vestryman since 1918, except during 1924); during the war served in Company B, 1st Regiment, Connecticut State Guard.

Married (1) November 9, 1898, in Hartford, Sarah Morgan, daughter of the Rev Francis Goodwin (honorary M A Trinity 1863, D.D 1902) and Mary Alsop (Jackson) Goodwin, and sister of William B Goodwin, ex-'90, Charles A Goodwin, '98, and F. Spencer Goodwin, '03. Children: Sarah Goodwin (Mrs A Temple Blackwood) and Elizabeth Trumbull (Mrs Hayward S. Thompson). Mrs Robinson died February 8, 1909. Married (2) January 10, 1917, in Hartford, Marion Cornelia, daughter of Alfred Curtinius and Mary Elizabeth (Warner) Armstrong, and sister of Alfred W. Armstrong, '82 S., and William L Armstrong, '89 Children: Henry Seymour, Jr., and William Armstrong

Death due to complications following an attack of pneumonia, with which he was stricken about a year before, and from which he had never fully recovered. Buried in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford. Survived by wife, daughters, sons, two brothers, Lucius F Robinson, '85, and John T. Robinson, '93, and two sisters, Lucy T Miller, the wife of Sidney T.

Miller (B A. Trinity 1885), of Detroit, Mich , and Mary S. Lambert, the wife of Adrian V S. Lambert, '93.

Herbert Parsons, B.A. 1890.

Born October 28, 1869, in New York City.
Died September 16, 1925, in Pittsfield, Mass

Father, John Edward Parsons (B.A. New York University 1848, honorary M A Yale 1851), a lawyer; assistant district attorney of New York; son of Edward Lamb Parsons, who came to America from England when a young man and settled at Rye, N. Y , and Matilda (Clark) Parsons. Mother, Mary Dumesnil (McIlvaine) Parsons; daughter of Bowes Reed and Catherine (Dumesnil) McIlvaine; of Scotch ancestry Yale relatives include the following cousins: William H. Parsons, '82, John P. Parsons, '85, the Rt. Rev. Edward L. Parsons, '89, William H. Parsons, Jr., '10, and John P. Parsons, ex-'12.

Everson School, New York City, and St. Paul's School, Concord, N H Second prize in English composition Sophomore year; oration appointment Junior year; dissertation appointment Senior year; a Class deacon; president Y. M. C. A.; superintendent Bethany Mission; member '90 Literary Society, Gamma Nu, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Scroll and Key.

Studied at University of Berlin 1890-91, Harvard Law School 1891-93, and Metropolis Law School, New York City, 1894; entered law office of Strong & Cadwalader, New York City, July 5, 1893, admitted to New York State Bar June, 1894, became member of his father's law firm (Parsons, Shepard & Ogden) July 1, 1895, and, in 1902, of its successor, Parsons, Closson & McIlvaine, of which he was senior member at time of his death; elected alderman from 25th Assembly District, New York City, on Republican and Citizens' Union tickets 1899; reelected 1901; served as chairman of finance committee of Board of Aldermen for sixteen months, and as such was member of Sinking Fund Commission of New York City, elected Republican leader of his assembly district 1903 and reelected 1904 and 1905; ran for Congress as a Republican in a Democratic district in 1900 and was defeated, elected to Congress from 13th District of New York 1904; reelected 1906 and 1908, but defeated for reelection 1910; served on Insular Affairs and Public Lands committees and Joint Committee on Revision of Laws; elected president Republican County Committee of New York County 1905; reelected four times; resigned in 1910, but again elected 1914; since 1904 had been a delegate to all regular New York State Republican conventions; delegate to national conventions in 1908, 1912, 1916, and 1920, delegate-at-large to constitutional convention of New York state 1915, serving on several committees; member Republican National Committee for New York state and of its executive and campaign committees 1916-1920; withdrew from Republican party in 1920 and supported Cox on League of Nations issue, making extended trip in his behalf; upon the defeat of Cox, withdrew from politics and devoted himself to his law practice; had been chairman of New York County Committee of League to Enforce Peace, vice-president of Pro-League Independents, and director of Association to Prevent Corrupt Practices at Elections and of Honest Ballot Association; director Mortgage Bond and Metropolitan Trust companies and Legal Aid Society, member Public Lands Section of National Conservation Commission; member board of managers New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, Society for the Reformation of Juvenile Delinquents, and Manhattan Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital; president of Memorial Hospital for the Treatment of Cancer and Allied Diseases, of Greenwich House Settlement in New York City (trustee for many years), and of board of trustees of Canton Christian College [Lingnan University]; superintendent of large mission Sunday school on west side of New York for many years; at time of death trustee of Brick Presbyterian Church, New York City, and vestryman of Trinity Church, Lenox, Mass, with two of his sisters had continued to maintain St. Helen's Home for children at Interlaken, in the town of Stockbridge, Mass, which his father had founded as a memorial to his daughter Helen; had also helped to maintain St. Helena's Chapel at New Lenox, Mass, also a memorial to his sister, Private and Corporal in 7th Regiment, New York National Guard, and Judge Advocate of 1st Brigade 1898-99; entered Military Intelligence Section of War College Division of General Staff in Washington as a civilian in July, 1917; commissioned Major in Signal Reserve Corps in August, 1917, and detailed to Military Intelligence Section, where he was in charge of counter-espionage outside of the Army; attended second Officers' Training Camp at Fort Myer, Va.; served overseas from January 26, 1918, to March 22, 1919; studied in British War Office and spent three weeks in Intelligence Section at American General Headquarters at Chaumont; student at Army General Staff College at Langres March-May, 1918; joined the 5th Division (Regular) as Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, May 30 and continued in that capacity until December 23; in the Anould-Gérardmer and St.-Dié sectors of the Vosges, at St-Mihiel, and in the Argonne-Meuse; made member of General Staff and promoted to Lieutenant Colonel in September, 1918; received a divisional citation, spent some time with the Army of Occupation, and was assistant to the military attaché at Berne in January and February, 1919; returned to the United States in March, 1919, and was demobilized March 26; had held a commission as Lieutenant Colonel, Quartermaster Reserve Corps, since 1920, member Association of the Bar of the City of New York, The Associates of the Engineer Corps, and Company K, 7th Regiment, New York National Guard, Fifth Division Society, U.S.A., and board of governors of the Lenox Club; an incorporator of Lenox golf grounds and director of Lenox Water Company.

Married September 1, 1900, in Newport, R. I., Elsie Worthington Clews (B.A. Barnard 1896, Ph.D. Columbia 1899), daughter of Henry and Lucy Madison (Worthington) Clews Children: Elsie, the wife of Morehead Patterson, '20, John Edward, '25, two sons, both of whom died soon after birth; Herbert, Jr.; and McIlvaine.

Death, due to a ruptured kidney, was the result of injuries received when he was testing a motor cycle at his country place, "Stoneover Farm," Lenox, and occurred at the House of Mercy Hospital in Pittsfield. Cremation took place at Troy, N. Y.; burial in the Lenox Cemetery on Church Hill. Survived by wife, daughter, three sons, two grandsons, and four sisters, Mrs. D. Percy Morgan, of New York City, Mrs. Montgomery Hare (the wife of Montgomery Hare, '93), and the Misses Mary and Gertrude Parsons, of Lenox.

Howard VanDoren Shaw, B.A. 1890.

Born May 7, 1868, in Chicago, Ill
Died May 6, 1926, in Baltimore, Md

Father, Theodore Andrews Shaw, a wholesale dry goods merchant; member World's Fair Committee in 1893; son of David and Nancy Speer (Andrews) Shaw; descendant of John Shaw, an English Quaker, who came to America with William Penn in 1699 and settled in Plumstead, Pa. Mother, Sarah (VanDoren) Shaw; daughter of William Howard and Matilda (Johnson) VanDoren, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; descendant of Pieter VanDoorn, of Doorn-Gravenzande, who came to this country from Holland in 1659 and settled at New Amsterdam.

Harvard School, Chicago. Dissertation appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year; president of Bicycle Club; an editor of Yale Record; member Senior Promenade Committee, Gamma Nu, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied architecture at Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1890-92; continued studies abroad the next year; upon his return to his home in Chicago in 1893, entered office of Jenney & Mundie, architects, with whom he remained until 1895; had since practiced his profession independently; designer and architect for Kenneth Sawyer Goodman Memorial Theatre in Chicago, Racine (Wis.) Memorial Hall, the buildings of Market Square in Lake Forest, Ill., the Donnelley printing houses, Chicago, the model steel town at Indiana Harbor, near Chicago, the Quadrangle Club of the University of Chicago, and many city and country residences, etc., throughout the United States; a few weeks before his death had been appointed by the United States Battle Monuments Commission to build the chapel at Flanders Field and the Brest naval monument in France for the United States Government; was a Fellow of American Institute of Architects, and just before his death had received the award of the Institute's gold medal for architectural achievement; chairman of Illinois State Art Commission for many years; trustee of Art Institute of Chicago since 1900 (member of its executive and art committees), chairman of Burnham Architectural Library for ten years, trustee of Illinois College at one time and of United Charities of Chicago since 1903; member Second Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Married April 20, 1893, in Chicago, Frances, daughter of Moses D and Fannie (Searls) Wells Children: Evelyn (B.A Bryn Mawr 1914), the wife of John T. McCutcheon (B.S Purdue 1889); Sylvia, the wife of Clay Judson (B.A. Harvard 1914, J D. Chicago 1917), and Frances Theodora.

Death due to anæmia; had stopped in Baltimore to see his physician on his way home from Nassau, Bahama Islands, and had been a patient in a private sanitarium for three weeks. Buried in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago. Survived by wife, three daughters, three grandchildren, and a brother, Theodore A. Shaw, Jr , of Chicago

George Swift Welch, B.A. 1890.

Born February 8, 1868, in Gowanda, N Y
Died June 13, 1925, in Torrance, Calif

Father, William Wallace Welch; with Union Oil Company of Titusville, Pa , and Buffalo, N. Y ; county clerk at Little Valley, N. Y , son of Porter and Louisa Evelyn (Kennicott) Welch; descendant of James and Sophia (Buttles) Welch. Mother, Frances Ellen (Swift) Welch; daughter of Heman and Ellen (Fay) Swift. Yale relatives: Theodore F Welch, '69 (uncle), and Torrance C. Welch, '13, and Brian K. Welch, '16 (cousins).

Prepared under a private tutor in Buffalo.

Appointed deputy assignee for a dry goods merchant in Gowanda in the spring after graduation and spent three months in closing out the business; spent summer of 1892 in Hulingo, W. Va , on account of ill health; studied law with Mr. Fred Blackman in Gowanda and in office of Rogers, Locke & Milburn in Buffalo; admitted to New York Bar in 1894; managing clerk in law office of Box, Morton & Bushnell in Buffalo 1896-97, opened a law office of his own in Buffalo January 1, 1898, and practiced there until 1902; engaged in lumber business in Tennessee 1902-05; then moved to Gowanda and was engaged in manufacturing with Welch-Tuxford Veneer Company until 1915; with Carbon Steel Company of New York City 1915-17; treasurer and assistant to the president of the dry goods house of Hahne & Company in Newark, N. J., 1917-1922; treasurer of C W Hunt Company, Inc., manufacturers of coal handling machinery, at West New Brighton, N. Y., with his residence at East Orange, N. J., 1922-24; since March, 1924, had been living in Torrance, where he went to direct the affairs of the Industrial Housing Corporation, of which he became president in May, 1924; vice-president of Torrance Mutual Building & Loan Association since May, 1924; had superintended the erection of a group of twenty-three homes known as Columbia Court for the Housing Association, and, until he was taken ill, the construction of the Jared Sidney Torrance Hospital, representing the heirs of Mr. Torrance in that capacity; member Torrance Chamber of Commerce and Christ (Episcopal) Church, Torrance.

Married October 14, 1897, in Buffalo, Florence Atilia, daughter of George W. and Henrietta (Ware) Hill No children

Death, due to uremic poisoning, occurred at the Torrance Hospital; had had a serious operation in February and was apparently convalescing, when it became necessary to perform a second operation, and he died a few days later Cremation took place at Inglewood, Calif; interment in the family burying ground at Gowanda Survived by wife, mother, a sister, Miss Mary F. Welch, and a brother, Walter W Welch, all of Gowanda.

Lewis Bartholomew Woodruff, B.A. 1890.

Born January 1, 1868, in New York City
Died November 27, 1925, in Torrington, Conn

Father, Charles Hornblower Woodruff (B.A. 1858, LL B Columbia 1861, M.A. Yale 1865), a lawyer in New York City, son of Lewis Bartholomew Woodruff (B.A. 1830, LL.D. Columbia 1860), justice of Superior Court of New York City and a United States Circuit Court judge, and Harriette Burnet (Hornblower) Woodruff; grandson of Morris Woodruff, a Major General of Connecticut Militia; descendant of Nathaniel Woodruff, one of the first settlers and proprietors of Litchfield, Conn., and of Matthew Woodruff, who came to America from England about 1630 and was one of the original proprietors of the town of Farmington, Conn. Mother, Catherine Gertrude Laing (Sanford) Woodruff; daughter of William Elihu and Margaret Louisa (Craney) Sanford; granddaughter of John Craney, who came from Ireland to New York City in 1804; descendant of Thomas Sanford, who came from England to Dorchester, Mass., in 1632. Yale relatives include: Frederick S. Woodruff, '92, Carl Woodruff, ex-'96, and Edward S. Woodruff, '99 (brothers); George C. Woodruff (B.A. 1825) and Charles F. Sanford (B.A. 1847) (great-uncles), Morris Woodruff, '60, George B. Sanford, '63, and Morris W. Seymour, '66 (uncles), and George M. Woodruff, '57, Charles P. Sanford, '76, Morris Woodruff, '93, James P. Woodruff, '93 L., Origen S. Seymour, '94, George W. L. Woodruff, '95 S., and Morris W. Seymour, '28 (cousins).

Columbia Grammar School, New York City; also studied with a private tutor. Second dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; member College Choir.

Attended Columbia Law School 1890-91 and New York Law School 1891-92, receiving an LL.B. at the latter institution in 1892; entered law office of Hornblower, Byrne & Taylor in New York City 1891; became managing clerk for firm in April, 1893, admitted to New York Bar October 1, 1893, practiced with Hornblower, Byrne, Taylor & Miller and its successor, Hornblower, Byrne, Miller & Potter (having full charge of preparation of railroad mortgages for many years) until 1917 and then independently for two years; since 1919 had devoted practically all his time to study and original research in natural sciences, especially entomology and ornithology, in which he was a recognized authority; had a desk at the Museum of Natural History in New York City for a time, and in the spring of 1925 was sent by that institution to the Virgin Islands, where he was engaged in an entomological survey for three months; had published numerous papers in various scientific journals and prepared the manuscript for a part of Leng's Catalogue of the Coleoptera of North America, had extensive collections, especially complete in the fauna of the Atlantic seaboard; member American Ornithological Union, Entomological Society of Ontario, New York Entomological Society (president in 1918, 1919, and 1920), Academy of Science of the State of New York, Linnean Society of New York (treasurer 1902-1921), New York chapter of Sons of the Revolution, New Jersey branch of Order of the Cincinnati, Society of Colonial Wars, and Marble Collegiate Church (Dutch Reformed), New York City.

Married June 18, 1904, in Birmingham, Ala., Helen E., daughter of Oscar Emmet and Emma (West) Smith. No children. Mrs. Woodruff died October 12, 1924.

Death, due to typhoid fever, occurred at the Charlotte Hungerford Hospital in Torrington. Interment in Litchfield, where he had a summer home. Survived by no immediate relatives. By the terms of his will his residuary estate was left to Yale University to further the usefulness of the Museum of Natural History and the departments of the natural sciences.

Louis Frederic Holbrook Betts, B. A. 1891.

Born May 21, 1870, in New York City

Died June 29, 1926, in Campbellton, New Brunswick

Father, Frederic Henry Betts (B. A. 1864, LL. B. Columbia 1866, M. A. Yale 1871, LL. D. 1901), a lawyer; lecturer on patent law at Yale 1873-1884; son of Frederic Joel Betts (B. A. Williams 1821) and Mary Ward (Scoville) Betts; descendant of Thomas Betts, a founder of Guilford, Conn., who came from Smithfield, Middlesex, England, in 1639. Mother, Mary Louise (Holbrook) Betts; daughter of John Fiske and Mary Elizabeth (Cheesman) Holbrook; descendant of John Holbrook, who came from Doncaster, England, in 1632 and settled in Weymouth, Mass. Yale relatives include William E. Foster, '60, and Charles Wyllys Betts, '67 (uncles); Sheldon E. Hoadley, '15 S. (nephew), and Samuel Rossiter Betts, '75 (cousin).

Berkeley School, New York City. Member Delta Kappa Epsilon and Wolf's Head.

LL B. Harvard 1894; associated with his father's firm (Betts, Atterbury, Hyde & Betts) in New York City 1893-96; became member of firm January 1, 1896, and continued with it and its successors, Betts, Betts, Sheffield & Betts (of which James R Sheffield, '87, United States ambassador to Mexico, also became a member), Betts, Sheffield, Bently & Betts, Sheffield, Bently & Betts, and Sheffield & Betts, until his death; member Sons of the Revolution in the State of New York and St Andrew's Dune Episcopal Church, Southampton, Long Island, in 1890 established the C. Wyllys Betts Prize at Yale in memory of his uncle.

Unmarried

Death followed a stroke of apoplexy, which occurred three days before, when on a fishing trip in New Brunswick. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by a brother, W. Rosseter Betts, '98, and a sister, Mrs Eliot Betts Hoadley, of New York City.

Edward Augustus Manice, B.A. 1891.

Born May 23, 1870, in New York City
Died July 26, 1925, in Pinehurst, N C

Father, Edward Augustus Manice (B A. 1858, Ph.B 1860), a lawyer; son of DeForest and Catherine Maria (Booth) Manice; descendant of Lieut William Manice of the British Army, who settled at Stratford, Conn, in 1794. Mother, Phebe (Robertson) Manice; daughter of John Brownlee Robertson (B A 1829, M D Charleston Medical College 1832, M A Trinity 1852) and Mabel Maria (Heaton) Robertson; descendant of Alexander Robertson, who came from Ireland in 1765 and settled at Charleston, S. C. Yale relatives include Samuel H. Dickson (B.A. 1814) (great-uncle), William D. Manice, '51, George A. Ward, '61 M., and A Heaton Robertson, '72 (uncles); DeForest Manice, ex-'11 S (nephew), and B Robertson Ward, '88 and '89 S., Heaton R Robertson, '04, and Wilham DeForest Manice, '11 (cousins)

Prepared for college under Professor E. T. Fisher, of Pittsfield, Mass.

Traveled abroad for seven months after graduation; resided at Pittsfield, breeding race horses on his "Windrush Farm," 1891-93; organized Millhaven Company of Georgia (lumber and naval stores) and was its president for some time; later sold out his interests in that company and was engaged in railroad enterprises; member of firm of Raborg & Manice, brokers, 1901-04; joined New York Stock Exchange February 25, 1903; member of firm of E. A. Manice & Company, brokers, since 1904 and head of firm since 1907 (his brother, Arthur R. Manice, '97, was associated with him 1907-1911); director Belt Line, Third Avenue, and Forty-second Street, Manhattan, and St. Nicholas Avenue Railway companies, Pelham Park & City Island Railway Company, Inc., and Commodity Warehouse Company

Married June 30, 1891, at Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., Caroline, daughter of William Andrew and Lena (Appleton) Fraser, of New York City. One daughter, Dorothy Jean, the wife of Joseph Henry Oglesby.

Death due to angina pectoris. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, daughter, a sister, Mrs. William Littauer, of Paris, and brother, Arthur R. Manice. Another brother, Heaton Manice, ex-'85, died in 1910.

Francis Williams Sacket, B.A. 1891.

Born September 15, 1867, in Louisville, Ky.

Died March 30, 1926, in Rochester, N. Y.

Father, Delos Bennett Sacket; graduated at United States Military Academy in 1841; Inspector General, U. S. Army, 1881-85; son of Gideon S. and Frances (Bush) Sacket, descendant of Simon Sacket, who came to America from Ely, England, in 1631 and settled at Boston. Mother, Frances Ann (Williams) Sacket; daughter of Cornelius Tiebout and Eliza Beakley (Ross) Williams; descendant of William ap Edward, who came to this country from Landval, Wales, in 1685 and settled at Merion, Pa.

Prepared under private tutor in Minneapolis, Minn., and at Trinity School, Tivoli, N. Y. First colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years; member Senior Promenade and Class Supper committees, Alpha Delta Phi, and Wolf's Head.

Began study of law at Harvard after graduating from Yale, but was obliged to give it up on account of failing eyesight; had lived at Cape Vincent, N. Y., since 1892; elected president of the village in 1906 and served two terms; member of Water and Light boards 1908-1914; during the war served on executive committees of Red Cross, War Chest, and Preparedness and Defense League for Jefferson County and on County Fuel and Food committees, and as chairman of first and second Liberty Loan campaigns for Cape Vincent and of Jefferson County District of the Military State Census; also aided in taking Federal Census in 1917; had been president of Jefferson County Anti-Tuberculosis Society and trustee of City Hospital of Watertown, N. Y.; vestryman and treasurer of St. John's Episcopal Church, Cape Vincent, member Loyal Legion; commodore Cape Vincent Yacht Club 1915-1920; president Eastern Yacht Racing Circuit.

Married June 1, 1904, at Cape Vincent, Edith May Elena, daughter of John Albert and Jennie (Wickham) Scobell. No children.

Death due to a uremic convulsion. Buried in Riverside Cemetery, Cape Vincent. Survived by wife, a brother, Cornelius T. Sacket, and a sister, Mrs. Eliza R. DeValin.

Charles Hamilton Frost, B.A. 1892.

Born February 22, 1870, in Chicago, Ill.

Died June 2, 1926, in Plainfield, N. J.

Father, George Henry Frost (C. E. McGill 1860), a civil engineer and surveyor and later an editor; president of Courier-News Publishing Company, of Plainfield; founder and publisher of Engineering News; son of Ebenezer and Caroline (Harwood) Frost; descendant of Edmund Frost, who came to America from Horsted, Suffolk, England, in 1635 and settled at Cambridge, Mass. Mother, Louisa (Hunt) Frost; daughter of Edwin and Sophia (Hunt) Hunt; descendant of Edwin Hunt, who came to New York from Liverpool in 1835.

St. Johnsbury (Vt) Academy and Plainfield High School
Member Beta Theta Pi.

Engaged in tunnel work at Baltimore with Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company as an assistant to the contractors, November, 1892–February, 1893, assistant superintendent for a firm of engineers in work on Chicago drainage canal February–August, 1893; associated with his father in publishing Engineering News August, 1893–January, 1894; during next ten years with Frost & Wood Company, Ltd., of Smith's Falls, Ontario, manufacturers of harvest machinery and farm implements, at first as credit officer, and from 1899 as manager of publicity department and a director; in 1904, when his father took over control of Courier-News Publishing Company, of Plainfield, became manager and owner of the company and carried on the business until his death; in 1916 purchased Plainfield Daily Press and merged it with Courier-News; one of the founders and a director of Linden (N. J) National Bank and First National Bank, Cranford, N. J; attended Plattsburg Training Camp in 1915 and during the next year was engaged in promotion work for the camp and preparedness; later served as local recruiting officer for Officers' Training Camps, as fuel administrator for Plainfield and assistant county food administrator, and member of Plainfield Home Guard; in 1904 contributed article on "Some Common Farm Tools and Their Manufacture" to Queen's Quarterly, a Canadian magazine; member New Jersey Press Association, American Newspaper Publishers Association, and New Jersey Daily League; trustee of Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Plainfield

Married January 23, 1896, in Drummondville, Quebec, Marian Gertrude, daughter of Edward John and Sophia Louisa (Robinson) Hemming Children: Marian Louise (B.A. Bryn Mawr 1920), the wife of Russell Murray Willard (B.A. Pennsylvania State College 1916); Evelyn Gertrude (died in childhood); and Frances Dorothy (B.A. Vassar 1923), who married Vincent Garrett Dodds (B.S. St. Lawrence University 1919)

Death due to angina pectoris; had suffered from heart trouble for a number of years. Buried in Hillside Cemetery, Plainfield Survived by wife, two daughters, two grandchildren, and three brothers, Harwood Frost (M.E. Lehigh 1893, B.A. McGill 1895), of Chicago, Edwin H. Frost, of Yonkers, N. Y., and Francis W. Frost, of Plainfield. By the terms of his will $2,000 was left to the Alumni University Fund.

Robert Wallace Morris, B.A. 1892.

Born November 13, 1868, in Wallingford, Conn
Died July 14, 1925, in Chicago, Ill

Father, Dennis Edward Morris, a manufacturer. Mother, Adeline (Wallace) Morris; daughter of Robert and Louisa (Moulthrop) Wallace, and sister of George M. Wallace, '81; descendant of James Wallace, who came to this country from Scotland about 1750 and settled at Blandford, Mass. Yale relatives include five cousins. Clifford W. Leavenworth, '91 S., John W. Leavenworth, '05 S., Floyd Wallace, '09, Malcolm L. Wallace, '15, and Donald Lee Wallace, '20.

Wallingford High School. First colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years; member College Choir, University Glee Club, and Sigma Nu Spent first six months after graduation as a salesman at the New York store of Wallace & Sons Manufacturing Company; then became city salesman in Chicago for the same company; made manager in 1895 and held position until his last illness; member First Baptist Church, Wallingford.

Unmarried

Death due to heart disease, from which he had suffered for about six years, although he was able to continue in business until about three months before he died. Buried in Wallingford. Survived by two brothers, Charles D. Morris, '92, and Frank W. Morris, of St. Helena, Calif., and a sister, Adeline L. Marble, the wife of Fred E. Marble (Ph D. 1897).

Irving Comstock West, B.A. 1892.

Born October 2, 1871, in Brooklyn, N. Y.
Died January 16, 1926, in Boston, Mass

Father, Charles Sherwood West, a non-graduate member of the Williams Class of 1867; an advertising agent; son of the Rev. Jacob West (B.A. Rutgers 1842, D.D. 1870) and Sarah Elizabeth (Settle) West; descendant on his mother's side of George Denison, who married Lady Anna Boradaile in England about 1645, emigrated to Mystic, Conn., and later settled in Stonington, Conn. Mother, Marion (Clement) West; daughter of Albert Gallatin and Mary (Wells) Clement; descendant of Edward Doty of the "Mayflower" company.

Leal School, Plainfield. Member Zeta Psi.

For a time after graduation was with Norwich Union Fire Insurance Company of New York City; subsequently engaged in bookbinding business in Albany, N. Y.; right of way agent with Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston for a number of years previous to his death; engaged in farming at Maynard, Mass., for a short time; lived in South Acton, Mass., from 1909 to 1916, but at the time of his death his home was in Swampscott, Mass.

Married June 19, 1909, in Boston, Katherine Alma, daughter of Thomas Dryden and Elizabeth (Clifford) Thorpe. No children.

Death, due to angina pectoris, occurred at Elliott Hospital, Boston. Buried in South Acton. Survived by wife, a stepson, Crandall W. Forbes, and two brothers, Charles Sherwood and Arthur Clement West, both of San Diego, Calif.

Lawrence Greer, B.A. 1893.

Born October 25, 1872, in Providence, R. I.
Died December 14, 1925, in New York City

Father, the Rt. Rev. David Hummell Greer (B.A. Washington and Jefferson 1862, D.D. Kenyon 1880, Brown 1890, University of the South 1901, and Harvard 1915, LL.D. Washington and Jefferson 1902, S.T.D. Columbia 1904); rector of Grace Church, Providence, and St. Bartholomew's, New York City; bishop of New York 1907-1919; son of Jacob Rickard and Elizabeth (Armstrong) Greer. Mother, Caroline Augusta (Keith) Greer; daughter of Quincy Adams and Priscilla Dean (Hathaway) Keith; descendant of Sir James Keith, who came to this country from Scotland and settled at Brockton, Mass.

Prepared under a private tutor. First dispute appointments Junior and Senior years; member College Choir, University Glee Club, Hé Boulé, Psi Upsilon, and Scroll and Key.

LL.B. cum laude New York Law School 1895; admitted to New York Bar in June, 1895; began practice in office of John F. Dillon in New York City, where he remained about two and a half years; member of firm of Pierce & Greer since 1902; at time of his death was chairman of the board, general counsel, director, and member of executive committee of Western Maryland Railway Company (president for a short time immediately after the end of Federal control of railroads), vice-president, general counsel, and director of its subsidiary companies, assistant general counsel, Wabash Railway Company, assistant general counsel and director, New Jersey, Indiana & Illinois Railway Company, and counsel to the board of The Denver & Rio Grande Western Railway Company; had also been assistant general counsel of St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company and director of St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company of Texas; member board of governors of Rockaway Hunt Club and the Turf and Field Club; member St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York City.

Married October 19, 1896, in Mamaroneck, N. Y., Georgiana, daughter of Thomas Fletcher and Abby Rogers (Haskell) Oakes One daughter, Dorothy (Mrs. William M. Almy)

Death, due to pneumonia, occurred at St. Luke's Hospital, New York City. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, daughter, a brother, William A. Greer, and two sisters, Mary Greer McLane, wife of Thomas S. McLane, '98, and Mrs. Franklin Robinson, all of New York City.

Charles William Mills, B.A. 1893.

Born August 27, 1870, in Weedsport, N. Y.

Died August 10, 1925, at Ocean City, N. J.

Father, William Bell Mills, a lawyer; judge of Circuit Court at Auburn, N. Y., for many years; afterwards practiced law in Denver, Colo., until his death in 1890; son of Samuel Mills, who came with his two brothers from Holland and settled near Albany, N. Y., later moving to Memphis, N. Y., and Susan (Campbell) Mills. Mother, Alice Ophelia, daughter of Dexter Eber and Mary (Purple) Havens, and half sister of James S Havens, '84; ancestors came to Connecticut from Kent County, England, afterwards moving to Cayuga County, N. Y.

Harrington School, Westchester, N. Y., and Hopkins Grammar School. Member Freshman Football Team and Freshman Crew; substitute on University Football Team Sophomore and Junior years and on University Crew Sophomore year; a Class historian; member Psi Upsilon

Engaged in manufacturing in Denver 1893-98; special agent for Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company 1898-1902, moving to Alameda, Calif., in 1901; manager for California of Union Central Life Insurance Company of San Francisco 1902-04; then went to New York City as inspector of agencies for Equitable Life Insurance Society of New York; general agent for greater New York of Union Central Life Insurance Company 1905; in 1906, after several months in France and Belgium studying coal mines and explosives, was engaged in manufacture of blast powder at Clearfield, Pa., and was seriously injured in explosion of powder mill; after recovery, appointed secretary and treasurer of Bituminous Coal Operators Association of Central Pennsylvania at Clearfield, the offices being moved to Philadelphia in 1907, resigned in January, 1911, to become general manager of Climax Coal Company, of which he was made president in 1914; owner and operator of Climax Mines, Lockport, Pa., since 1911; member of firm of Swayne & Mills of Philadelphia (coal mining) 1914-15; in June, 1914, appointed by Secretary of Labor as member of Board of Conciliators which settled serious strike in Kanawha coal fields in West Virginia and the strike of employees of Westinghouse Company, Pittsburgh; in December, 1914, appointed by President Wilson one of three commissioners to act for the Government to settle coal mining strike in Colorado, wrote report of commission which was submitted to Congress by the President; in October, 1915, named by Secretary of Labor federal conciliator to adjust strike of machinists in jobbing shops in Pittsburgh, and on July 31, 1916, as member of commission to adjust questions in dispute between New York garment workers and their employees, president Delaware Trust Company of Wilmington from January, 1923, until death; vice-president and general manager du Pont de Nemours Trading Corporation of New York City for three years; director Fostoria Oil Company and United Oil & Fuel Company; director and general manager Ball Grain Explosives Company of Wilmington, which did work for the Government in 1918; member Methodist Episcopal Church

Married December 6, 1893, in Stamford, Conn., Elisabeth Davenport, daughter of Charles and Matilda (Hudson) Burrall. Children: Louise Ritch and Mary Havens (Wellesley 1926)

Death, due to heart disease, occurred after an illness of several months. Interment in West Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia. Survived by wife, daughters, and a sister, Miss Mary Havens Mills, of Jordan, N. Y.

Francis Phelps Dodge, B.A. 1894.

Born September 20, 1871, in Teaneck, N. J.
Died January 14, 1926, in New York City

Father, the Rev. David Stuart Dodge (B. A. 1857, D. D. 1889), a Presbyterian minister; son of William Earl and Melissa (Phelps) Dodge, descendant of William Dodge, who came from England to Salem, Mass., in 1629. Mother, Ellen Ada (Phelps) Dodge; daughter of John Jay and Rachel Badgeley (Phinney) Phelps; descendant of William Phelps, who came from England to Dorchester, Mass., in 1630, moving to Windsor, Conn., in 1636. Yale relatives include: David S. Dodge (M. D. 1826) (great-uncle); William Walter Phelps, '60, George E. Dodge, '70, Arthur M. Dodge, '74, and William E. Dodge (honorary M. A. 1901) (uncles); Stuart Phelps Dodge, '14, and Clarence P. Dodge, Jr., '29 (nephews); and Frederic N. Dodge, '66, William E. Dodge Stokes, '74, John J. Phelps, '83, Sheffield Phelps, '86, J. G. Phelps Stokes, '92 S., Anson Phelps Stokes, '96, Marshall J. Dodge, '98, Murray W. Dodge, '99, A. Douglas Dodge, '03, Effingham N. Dodge, '06, Geoffrey Dodge and Harold Phelps Stokes, both '09, Percival Dodge, '14, William E. D. Stokes, Jr., ex-'19, Anson P. S. Hoyt, '20, Phelps Phelps, ex-'20, and Sherman Reese Hoyt, '22 (cousins).

Glen Tower School, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and Phillips-Andover. Entered Yale with Class of 1894, but left at end of Freshman year on account of ill health; reentered as a Sophomore with Class of 1896 in fall of 1893; philosophical oration appointment Junior year; member Phi Beta Kappa; was unable to graduate on account of serious rheumatic trouble, but in 1915 was granted degree of B A, with enrollment in Class of 1894.

Had been an invalid since leaving college; had lived at various times in Simsbury, Conn., at Clifton Springs and Watkins Glen, N. Y., and Colorado Springs, Colo.; had devoted much time to philanthropy; member National Council of Boy Scouts of America, National Executive Board of Girl Scouts, and Founders' Committee of National Child Welfare Association; had worked through National Education Association for improvement of New York public school system by causing to be formed a committee on education for citizenship in 1919; also interested in Life Extension Institute, Art Workers Club for Women, Fatherless Orphans of France, and Nacoochee Institute at Sautee, Ga.; charter member International Garden Club; life member Y M C A, member Museum of Natural History, Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York Academy of Sciences, Botanical Gardens, Zoological Gardens, Audubon, Concordance, and Philharmonic societies, and Brick Presbyterian Church, New York; was greatly interested in the constructive progress of Phi Beta Kappa and was sponsor of the society's $1,000,000 campaign to "popularize" scholarship in America, leaving a bequest pledging an amount equal to one-tenth of the total amount raised.

Unmarried.

Death due to heart trouble. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by two brothers, Walter Phelps Dodge, ex-'91, and Clarence P. Dodge, '99. A third brother, Guy P. Dodge, ex-'96, died in 1923.

John Howland, B.A. 1894.

Born February 3, 1873, in New York City.

Died June 20, 1926, in London, England

Father, Henry Elias Howland (B.A. 1854, LL.B. Harvard 1857, honorary M A Yale 1893), a lawyer; judge of Marine (now City) Court of New York City; Fellow of Yale from 1892 to 1910; chairman of Yale Civil War Memorial Committee; son of Aaron Prentice and Huldah (Burke) Howland; descendant of John Howland of the "Mayflower" company. Mother, Sarah Louise (Miller) Howland; daughter of Jonathan and Sarah R Miller

Cutler School, New York City, King School, Stamford, Conn, and Phillips-Exeter. Dissertation appointment Senior year, an editor Yale Daily News; member Class Crew Freshman year and substitute on University Crew two years; represented Yale in Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament four years and president of Intercollegiate Tennis Association; director of Co-operative Association; member Eta Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Skull and Bones, and Triennial Committee.

M D. New York University 1897 and Cornell 1899; house officer of Presbyterian Hospital, New York City, 1897-99 and of New York Foundling Hospital 1899-1900; studied in Berlin and Vienna 1900-01; began practice in New York City 1901; served as assistant visiting physician to St Vincent's Hospital, attending physician to Willard Parker and Riverside hospital, pathologist and assistant attending physician to New York Foundling Hospital, pediatrician in charge of children's clinic, Bellevue Hospital, and pediatrician of Vanderbilt Clinic and Babies Hospital; instructor in contagious diseases and instructor and associate in pediatrics at College of Physicians and Surgeons; appointed professor of pediatrics at reorganized Medical School of Washington University, St. Louis, 1910, but did not begin his duties there until the next year, spending intervening time in study in Strassburg, Germany, under the pediatrician, Czerny; since 1912 had been professor of pediatrics at Johns Hopkins Medical School, pediatrician-in-chief of Johns Hopkins Hospital, and director of Harriet Lane Home for Invalid Children; had also been consulting pediatrician at City Hospital, Bay View, Baltimore; in 1914, with the late Dr. William S. Halsted, '74, and the late Dr. Theodore C. Janeway, '91 S., took over the direction of the William H. Welch Endowment for Clinical Education and Research; honorary M. A. Yale 1914; regarded as one of the leading authorities on diseases of children and well known for his work in establishing successful methods for the cure of rickets in children, having discovered the exact chemical proportion of calcium and phosphorus necessary in children's blood to cure or prevent the bone-deforming ravages of that disease, trustee Henry Watson and Maryland Children's Aid societies, both of Baltimore; director Russell Sage Institute; twice lecturer before Harvey Society of New York City; editor American Journal of Diseases of Children, had published many articles on a variety of medical subjects, had written papers in conjunction with Alfred N. Richards, '97, and had collaborated with the late Dr. L. Emmett Holt, of New York, in The Diseases of Infancy and Childhood (the standard textbook in that field); commissioned as Major in the Medical Corps in July, 1918; served in Surgeon General's Office at Washington, and as medical consultant at Camp Meade, Md.; also member American Medical Committee of American Red Cross Hospital of Paris (later American Red Cross Military Hospital) and Committee on Medicine and Hygiene of National Research Council; president American Pediatric Society for many years; member Board of Scientific Directors of Rockefeller Foundation for Medical Research, American Medical Association (member of council on pharmacy and chemistry), American Pediatric Society, Association of American Physicians, Pathological Society, Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine, New York Academy of Medicine, and Alumni of Presbyterian Hospital; president Yale Alumni Association of Maryland 1915-17; member Advisory Council of Yale Medical Alumni Association 1921, with his brother, Charles P. Howland, '91, and his sister, Miss Frances L. Howland, of New York City, established the Henry Elias Howland Memorial Prize at Yale 1915, and in 1921, with his brother gave to the University a valuable collection of daguerreotypes made by their father

Married October 12, 1903, in New Haven, Susan Morris, daughter of Dr Leonard Jacob Sanford (M.D. Jefferson Medical College 1854, honorary M.A. Yale 1858), professor of anatomy at Yale for twenty-five years, and Anna Maria (Cutler) Sanford, and sister of Dr Leonard C. Sanford, '90. Children Katharine, John, Louise, and Elihu

Death, due to an infection of the liver, followed an operation necessitated by a collapse the previous week. Had been abroad for two months Buried in Walpole, N. H. Survived by wife, sons, daughters, brother, and sister

Caleb Samuel Jackson, B.A. 1894.

Born May 9, 1872, at Kennett Square, Pa
Died January 2, 1926, in Cambridge, Mass

Father, Caleb Harlan Jackson, a business man; son of Caleb and Mary Beverley (Gause) Jackson; descendant of Thomas Jackson, who came to America from England in 1686 and settled at Kennett, Pa Mother, Anna Butler (Taylor) Jackson, daughter of Huson and Rebecca (Brinton) Taylor; descendant of William Taylor, who came from England to Kennett, Pa. Yale relatives: Huson T. Jackson, '93 S., who died in 1899 (brother), and Erastus M. Cravath, '94 (cousin).

Lawrenceville School. Member Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Became connected with United Electric Light & Power Company of New York City as purchasing agent in January, 1895; later made general agent and assistant treasurer of the company; connected with United Gas Improvement of Philadelphia for ten years as traveling auditor; manager of Nashville (Tenn) Gas & Heating Company 1913-18; certified public accountant in Boston 1918-19; general auditor Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company of Boston 1919-1920 and then treasurer and vice-president until 1924; treasurer Eastern Mutual Insurance Company, a subsidiary of the former company, from its formation until 1924; had since been engaged in auditing for Paine, Webber & Company, of Boston, in various states; member Friends' Meeting, Chester County, Pa.

Married August 3, 1909, in Norwich, Conn., Iola Rawson Webb No children.

Death due to a heart attack. Buried in Union Hill Cemetery, Kennett Square. Survived by father and a sister, Mrs. Alice Jackson Burritt, of New York City.

[George] Day McBirney, B.A. 1894.

Born February 29, 1872, in Cincinnati, Ohio
Died July 2, 1925, in Gilbertsville, N. Y

Family history appears on page 78 of this record under biography of brother, Hugh J. McBirney, '75.

Harvard School, Chicago, and Phillips-Andover. Second colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years; drew for Yale Record; member Psi Upsilon.

LL.B. Northwestern University 1896; admitted to practice in state and federal courts 1896 and was in the offices of Green, Robbins & Honore in Chicago for four years; became secretary and director of The Sargent Company, a steel foundry, in Chicago in 1900, but resigned upon its consolidation with American Brake Shoe & Foundry Company in 1902; engaged in farming in Manchester, Vt, 1902-03; then closed out his interests there, giving his house and land to the village of Manchester, and moved to Chicago to care for his parents; became interested in church work, which absorbed more and more of his time, and finally devoted himself to it completely; made trustee and treasurer of the Second Presbyterian Church in Chicago in 1910 (also an elder); moved to Syracuse, N. Y., in September, 1923, and to Baldwinsville, which had since been his home, in April, 1924; member First Presbyterian Church, Baldwinsville, since 1923

Married (1) December 14, 1896, in Chicago, Louise, daughter of Henry Gilbert. One son, Hugh, 3d (died in 1916). Mr. and Mrs. McBirney were divorced in 1906. Married (2) June 29, 1922, in Philadelphia, Pa., Janet Elizabeth, daughter of Francis Curtis, ex-'80, and Isabel (Gordon) Curtis. No children by second marriage

Death, following an operation for intestinal obstruction, occurred while he was on a motor trip with his wife, who survives him.

William Russell Moorhouse, B.A. 1894.

Born July 17, 1873, in Chicago, Ill.
Died August 17, 1925, at Trout Lake, Wis.

Father, William Henry Moorhouse, a tobacco manufacturer; president of firm of Spaulding & Merrick, Chicago; son of Henry and Mary (Booth) Moorhouse, who came from Leeds, England, to Glenham, N. Y., in 1833. Mother, Frances (Farrar) Moorhouse; daughter of George and Catherine (Walker) Farrar, who came from England about 1837 and settled at Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Harvard School, Chicago. First dispute appointments Junior and Senior years.

Became a clerk with Spaulding & Merrick in 1894; served as cashier of the company 1896-1900, secretary 1900-04, vice-president and general manager 1904-1912, and president 1912-March 1, 1914, then resigned his position; commissioner of public works of Chicago May, 1915-December, 1916; in partnership with John D. Cory, under firm name of Cory, Moorhouse & Company, general and fire insurance, 1916-1924; had since been engaged in an independent insurance business, during the war served actively with American Protective League; vice-president Blackhawk Hotel Company; former director Colonial Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago; member Chicago Athletic Association.

Married November 17, 1896, in Ottumwa, Iowa, Merry, daughter of Justin S. and Lucy (Smith) Mitchell. Children: Phyllis (B.A. Vassar 1925) and Deborah Mitchell, Vassar 1929. Mr and Mrs. Moorhouse were divorced in 1910.

Death occurred suddenly at his country home at Trout Lake, near Woodruff, Wis. Buried in Oakwoods Cemetery, Chicago. Survived by daughters, mother, and a sister, Mrs. Daniel J. Schuyler, Jr., of Chicago.

Ralph Pringle, B.A. 1894.

Born October 15, 1872, in Pana, Ill
Died April 7, 1924, at Red Oak, Iowa

Father, the Rev. James V. Pringle (B A. Denison 1861); graduated at the Western Theological Seminary 1864; a Presbyterian minister, with pastorates in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa. Mother, Ida (Hoopes) Pringle.

Preparatory training received at Clarinda (Iowa) High School and Tarkio (Mo.) College. B A. Monmouth 1893. Entered Yale as Senior in 1893; dissertation appointment and one-year honors in political science and law.

Studied law at Iowa State University after graduating from Yale; practiced continuously at Red Oak from 1896 until his death; United States attorney for Southern District of Iowa since 1922; member Board of Law Examiners of Iowa for fifteen years; vice-chairman Republican State Central Committee at one time; during the war served as member of Legal Advisory Board, Red Oak; member United Presbyterian Church.

Married September 26, 1905, at Red Oak, Luella, daughter of Hiram Cole and Ella Louise (Bacon) Houghton. Children: Stuart Houghton, Donald Ralph, and Louise.

Death, due to a complication of diseases, occurred after a few weeks' illness. Buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Red Oak. Survived by wife, two sons, daughter, a sister, Mrs. Jessie Pringle Dolman, of Ardmore, Okla., and a brother, Wayne Pringle, of Lincoln, Nebr.

George Marcy Townsend, B.A. 1894.

Born December 7, 1871, in Springfield, Ill.
Died February 19, 1926, in Philadelphia, Pa

Father, Samuel Pierpoint Townsend, a broker; son of James and Sarah (Bowles) Townsend. Mother, Ellen Eliza (Marcy) Townsend; daughter of Mrs. Anne Gilliland Marcy.

Hartford (Conn.) Public High School. Second colloquy appointment Junior year; member Zeta Psi.

In the employ of Wright & Ditson (sporting goods), Boston, 1894-98; in June of the latter year went to Alaska to engage in gold mining with a party of about twenty men, backed by a syndicate which agreed to finance the expedition; spent the winter in the Klondike north of Dawson; spent two months in San Francisco the following summer; engaged in silver mining for a time; engaged in prospecting for placer gold deposit in Arizona during winter of 1899-1900; afterwards occupied in newspaper work for several years, being on the staff of the Los Angeles Herald for a time; early in 1908 went to Goldfield, Nev., and was in the employ of a gold mining company and also connected with a newspaper until July, 1908, when he returned to his home in Hartford; state editor of Hartford Courant 1908-1911; subsequently connected with Chicago Record-Herald, Detroit Free Press, Home News, New York City (1920-23), and Philadelphia Inquirer (1923-24); had been with the Philadelphia Record since 1924.

Unmarried.

Death, due to myocarditis, occurred very suddenly. Buried in Spring Grove Cemetery, Hartford. Survived by a sister, Mrs. Ellie T. Cocke, of that city, and four nieces.

Daniel Crouse Adams, B.A. 1895.

Born October 23, 1872, in Utica, N. Y.

Died June 17, 1926, in New York City.

Father, George Webster Adams, a member of the Union College Class of 1859; a lawyer. Mother, Laura Brown (Crouse) Adams; daughter of George Brown and Maria Crouse; descendant of Jacob Crouse [Kraus], who came from the Palatinate about 1710 and settled at Fort Plain in the Mohawk Valley, N. Y. Yale relatives include: Charles L. Bartlett, '76 (uncle), and Charles M. Crouse, '80 S., Beecher M. Crouse, '93, George W. Crouse, ex-'00, George N. Crouse, '01 S., M. Crouse Klock, '02 S., Nellis M. Crouse, '06, Marlette Crouse, '06 S., and Valentine C. Bartlett, '15 (cousins).

Utica Free Academy and Phillips-Andover. Financial editor of Yale Courant; member Alpha Delta Phi.

In business with Russell Wheeler & Son, stove manufacturers in Utica, 1895-96; then with International Heater Company of Utica for about six years; moved to New York City in 1903 and became member of Stock Exchange firm of Kellogg, Foster & Adams, which became Foster & Adams upon the death of Mr. Kellogg in 1903; continued in that connection until his death; member of the board and chairman of executive committee of New York Nursery and Child's Hospital; trustee Northern Dispensary since 1905; member Sons of the Revolution in the State of New York and St Bartholomew's (Episcopal) Church, New York City.

Married May 22, 1900, in Kingston, N. Y., Katharine Hamlin, daughter of Howard Osterhoudt (B.A. Columbia 1864, LL.B. 1866) and Mary Osterhoudt. Children: Howard Crouse, '29, and Daniel Nelson.

Death, due to pernicious anæmia, occurred after an illness of over a year. Buried in Forest Hill Cemetery, Utica. Survived by wife, sons, and a brother, George W. Adams, '04.

Charles [Frederic] Clemons, B.A. 1895.

Born October 9, 1871, in Manchester, Vt
Died September 17, 1925, in Honolulu, Hawaii

Father, Seneca Sherman Clemons (M.D. University of Vermont 1865), a physician and surgeon; son of James and Rachel (Sherman) Clemons. Mother Anna (Danforth) Clemons; daughter of John Richmond and Abigail (Howard) Danforth; ancestors came from England.

Burr and Burton Seminary, Manchester, and Vermont Academy, Saxton's River. Dissertation appointments Junior and Senior years; one-year honors in natural sciences; an editor of Yale Daily News Senior year.

Private tutor in New Haven (also took graduate work in chemistry and physiology at Yale) 1895-96; attended Yale School of Law 1896-97 (won Yale Law Journal thesis prize; chairman of editorial board of the Law Journal; member Phi Delta Phi); spent summer of 1897 in clerical work at Washington, under Capt W. M. Black of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia; completed his legal studies at the National University Law School in Washington (LL.B. 1898, LL.M. 1899, both with honors); also engaged in private tutoring in Washington during that time and was editor-in-chief in absentia of Yale Law Journal; admitted to Connecticut Bar in June, 1898; spent early part of 1900 in law office of J. L. Cushman in Burlington, Vt.; then practiced in Butte, Mont., and Arizona until January, 1902, when he went to Honolulu, where he had since lived; associated in practice with W. Austin Whiting (B.A. Harvard 1877) 1902-04; then became member of firm of Thompson & Clemons, which became Thompson, Clemons & Wilder in 1909, upon the admission to partnership of Arthur A. Wilder, '97 L.; admitted to bar of the United States Supreme Court January, 1907; left firm in 1911 and served as judge of United States District Court for Territory of Hawaii until 1917; then resigned to become partner of Edward M. Watson (LL.B. University of Mississippi 1897) in firm of Watson & Clemons (afterwards Watson, Clemons & Hite) and remained in that association until 1922; had since practiced independently; secretary of Commission to Revise the Laws of Hawaii (composed of Walter F. Frear, '85, Albert F. Judd, '97, and Arthur A. Wilder, '97 L.) 1903-05; served again on the commission for two years (1913-15) during revision of 1915; member of Commission on Uniform Laws (for Hawaii) 1911-14, attorney for Public Utilities Commission of Hawaii 1917-1921; special counsel for the Alien Enemy Custodian's representative in Hawaii 1918-1922; director Hawaiian Irrigation Company, Ltd.; treasurer Laurel Hill Orchards, Ltd., of Oregon and Hawaiian Tobacco Plantation, Ltd.; a director of Honolulu Y. M. C. A. since 1913 (secretary 1913-1923), as well as of the territorial Y. M. C. A.; chancellor of Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Hawaii 1907-1911, director of the Corporation of the Protestant Episcopal Church, trustee of St. Andrew's Cathedral Corporation, Honolulu, in 1925, and vestryman of St. Clement's Church, Honolulu, 1905-1925; secretary of Bar Association of Hawaii in 1903 and 1904 and president in 1924; president of Yale Alumni Association of Hawaii 1922-23; editor of Volume IV of Reports of the United States District Court for the Territory of Hawaii (1918); writings included a pamphlet entitled What an Applicant for Naturalization Should Know about

Our Government and two Vermont dialect stories, An Up-Country Diplomat and While Nero Fiddled

Married September 10, 1902, in Honolulu, Virginia Armstrong, daughter of Francis England Wall and Mary (Armstrong) Patten. No children.

Took his own life; letters which he left indicated that ill health had prompted the act. Buried in Manchester. Survived by wife and two sisters, Mrs. Harry Danforth, of Pawlet, Vt., and Mrs. Frank McGuire, of Manchester. By the terms of his will bequeathed to Yale his set of the Yale Law Journal, one of the very few complete sets in existence.

James Avery Draper, B.A. 1895.

Born October 31, 1874, in Wilmington, Del.

Died December 9, 1925, in Wilmington, Del.

Father, James Avery Draper (M D University of Pennsylvania 1860); surgeon at Chester Hospital during Civil War and later of the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington; director of Equitable Trust Company of Wilmington; son of Avery Draper, 3d, and Elizabeth (Green) Draper; descendant of Alexander Draper, who came to America from England in 1660 and settled in Sussex County, Del., was a member of the first legislature called by Penn at Upland (now Chester) in 1682, magistrate of the court at Lewis, Del., and member of Board of Peacemakers. Mother, Mary (Polk) Draper; daughter of Trusten Polk (B.A. 1831, M.A. 1845), governor of Missouri and United States senator, and Elizabeth Newberry (Skinner) Polk; descendant of Robert Bruce Polk, who came from Ireland to Somerset County, Md., between 1672 and 1686 and received from Lord Baltimore a land grant on the eastern shore.

Friends' School, Wilmington. Member Alpha Delta Phi and Wolf's Head

M D. Pennsylvania 1898; resident physician at Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, 1898-1900; then practiced in Wilmington until his death; chairman of staff of St. Francis Hospital; member of surgical staff of Delaware Hospital and advisory board of Visiting Nurse Association; had been surgeon for the Pennsylvania Railroad eighteen years and for the Pullman Company, the Wilmington & Philadelphia Traction Company, and the Edgemoor Iron Company; coroner's physician in 1900 and police surgeon for a while; member Wilmington Health Department 1901-03, Board of Health 1905-07 (president for a time), and State Board of Health 1915-1920, director Equitable Trust Company of Wilmington 1907-1925; commissioned First Lieutenant, Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, November 13, 1917; promoted to Captain August 31, 1918, and transferred to the Medical Corps; served as medical advisor to the Governor of Delaware from November 13, 1917, until the armistice; received his discharge January 20, 1919; Fellow of American College of Surgeons; member Newcastle County and Delaware State Medical societies, Medical Club of Philadelphia, Society of Colonial Wars, Historical Society of Delaware, and Trinity Episcopal Church, Wilmington.

Married April 26, 1905, in St. Louis, Mo., Elsie Taylor, daughter of James Levin and Lida Morris (Bowman) Ford. Children: James Avery, 3d, and Ford Bowman.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in the Old Swedes Churchyard, Wilmington. Survived by wife, sons, mother, a brother, Trusten P. Draper, '03, and three sisters, the Misses Elizabeth, Cornelia, and Madeleine Draper, all of Wilmington.

Frederic Ruthven Galacar, B.A. 1895.

Born October 1, 1872, in New York City.

Died May 5, 1926, in Boston, Mass

Father, Charles E. Galacar, vice-president of Springfield (Mass.) Fire & Marine Insurance Company and of Phoenix Insurance Company; son of Hezekiah and Maria Galacar; ancestors came from Scotland about 1780 and settled at Provincetown, Mass. Mother, Minerva Jane (Ayers) Galacar.

Hartford (Conn.) Public High School. Second prize in English composition Sophomore year; oration appointments Junior and Senior years; James Gordon Bennett Prize; member Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied political economy at Universities of Gottingen and Berlin 1895-97; since his return to this country in 1897 had been engaged in the insurance business; adjuster and special agent for Magdeburg Fire Insurance Company of New York for a time, with his office in Syracuse, N. Y.; was later New England agent for Union Assurance Society of London for a while and of National Union Fire Insurance Company 1901-08; general agent for eastern New England of Springfield Fire & Marine Insurance Company, with headquarters at Boston, 1908-1924; since then vice-president John Paulding Meade Company of Boston; trustee Insurance Library Association; member American Academy of Political and Social Science, Civil Service Reform Association, Boston Museum of Fine Arts, Boston Public School Association, Harvard Musical Association, Unitarian Laymen's League, and King's Chapel (Unitarian), Boston; during the war did considerable work for the Secret Service; author of Historic Boston (1915)

Married May 3, 1911, in Boston, Rosamond, daughter of Benjamin Johnson Lang (honorary M.A. Yale 1903) and Frances Morse (Burrage) Lang. Children: Frederic (born and died the same day) and Charles Death, due to heart disease, occurred after an illness of several weeks. Buried in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. Survived by wife, son, and two sisters, Mrs Robert W Adams (B.A. Smith 1897) and Mrs Marvin C Birnie, both of Springfield.

Frank Augustus Hinkey, B.A. 1895.

Born December 23, 1870, in Tonawanda, N. Y.
Died December 30, 1925, at Southern Pines, N. C.

Father, Lewis Hinkey; partner in hardware firm of Nice & Hinkey; born in Bruhl, Mecklenburg, Germany; came to America in 1851; son of Francis and Augusta Hinkey. Mother, Mary (Nice) Hinkey; daughter of John and Mary Ann Nice, both born in Germany.

Tonawanda public school, DeVeaux College, and Phillips-Andover. Member Freshman Football and Baseball teams, University Football Team four years (captain Junior and Senior years; on Walter Camp's All-American Football Team four years), Psi Upsilon, and Skull and Bones.

Returned to Tonawanda after graduation and with his brother, Louis Hinkey, ex-'97, attempted to reestablish the family hardware business of Nice & Hinkey, but gave it up after a short time; was superintendent of Zinc Smelting Works of Langdon Zinc Company at Iola, Kans., for a time and later was in charge of smelting plant of United Zinc & Chemical Company at Springfield, Ill.; associated with his classmate, Frank S. Butterworth, in the brokerage business in New Haven for a while; afterwards associated successively with Harris, Latta & Company, stock brokers in New York City, and the DeWeese-Talbott Company (investment securities) in Dayton, Ohio, during the later years of his life prevented by ill health from engaging in any business continuously; trustee of village of Tonawanda 1897-98; commissioner of Board of Review of Assessments 1903-05; served as end coach of the football team at Yale for several years after graduation and as head football coach in 1914-15.

Married in 1912, Anna Elizabeth, daughter of Dayton Thomas, of Springfield, Ill. No children.

Death due to tuberculosis. Buried in Whitehaven Cemetery, Grand Island, N. Y. Survived by three brothers, Louis, Fred, and Benjamin Hinkey, and two sisters, the Misses Clara N. and Mary P. Hinkey.

Harry Sargeant Scarborough, B.A. 1895.

Born November 28, 1869, in Baltimore, Md.
Died September 21, 1925, in Waterbury, Conn.

Father, Robert Thomas Scarborough, a contractor; son of Thomas Edward and Elizabeth (Davis) Scarborough; descendant of Segick Scarborough. Mother, Martha Jane (Thompson) Scarborough; daughter of T. Norris and Ann Eliza (Durham) Thompson; descendant of William Thompson, who was born in Talbot County, Md., near Easton.

Pennington (N. J.) Seminary. First colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years.

Studied in Yale Divinity School 1895-98 (B. D. 1898);

ordained to Methodist Episcopal ministry April 10, 1898, at West Granby, Conn.; served a year's pastorate there; pastor at Bloomfield, Conn., 1899-1902 (enrolled in Yale Divinity School 1901-02); pastor of Ocean Parkway Church, Brooklyn (1902-07), First Methodist Church, Amityville, N. Y. (1907-1914), South Park Church, Hartford, Conn. (1914-19), St. John's Methodist Church, Brooklyn (1919-1924), and First Methodist Church, Waterbury, since 1924; member Commission on Relations with the Religious Bodies in Europe, Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America, and Committee on Fraternal Relations; had served as president of Hartford Union Ministers' Association, vice-president of Hartford Federation of Churches, chairman of the Hartford churches in Methodist centenary movement, and member of religious work committee of Hartford Y. M. C. A. and of Bureau of Shop Speakers (part of religious extension work of Hartford Federation of Churches); during the war was member of the clergymen's committees during Liberty Loan and Red Cross drives; member Brooklyn Clerical Club since 1922; D.D. Wesleyan 1922.

Married December 19, 1899, in New Haven, Martha Ellen MacWilliams (a non-graduate member of the Mount Holyoke Class of 1897), daughter of Alexander and Anne (McConnell) MacWilliams. Children: Robert Alexander (B.S. Wesleyan 1922, M.D. Yale 1926), and Jessie (B.A. Mount Holyoke 1925)

Death, due to anæmia, followed an illness of nine months. Buried in Evergreen Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife, son, daughter, and a brother, Robert Thomas Scarborough, of Baltimore.

John Ladd Burnham, B.A. 1896.

Born November 24, 1870, in Meredith, N. H.
Died September 5, 1925, at sea, off the coast of Chile

Father, the Rev. Charles Burnham (B.A. Dartmouth 1836), a Congregational minister, with pastorates in Illinois, Iowa, Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont; prominent in the work of the Andover Band in the West; son of James and Nancy (Smith) Burnham; descendant of John Burnham, who came from England in 1635 and settled at Chebacco (now Essex), Mass. Mother, Mary Melvina (Noyes) Burnham; daughter of James and Abigail Read (Lovejoy) Noyes, and sister of Jonathan L. Noyes, '52; descendant of the Rev. James Noyes, who came to this country from Choulderton, Wiltshire, England, in 1634 and settled at Newbury, Mass.

Springfield (Mass.) High School. Worked on a farm and as a machinist for two years before entering Yale. Dissertation appointment Junior year; oration appointment Senior year.

Studied in Yale School of Medicine 1896-99 (M.D. 1899); began practice in Lyme, Conn., where he served as health officer and as examiner for several insurance companies; and in fall of 1908 took position as ship's doctor with Hamburg-American Line in its South American service and remained with the company two years; then went to Colombia as resident surgeon for Oroville Dredging Company, Ltd., a California mining company, and spent a year and a half at their mines near Zaragosa; returned to the United States in 1912, but was unable to practice during the next year on account of a nervous breakdown; employed as ship's doctor by United Fruit Company on their South American routes 1913-14; practiced in Portland, Conn., 1914-1923; then traveled in California for a time; had since been ship's surgeon on the "Santa Teresa" of the Grace Line, on their route to the west coast of South America; volunteered for war service in 1917, but on account of physical disability was not accepted; served as Assistant Surgeon (with rank of Lieutenant) of 6th Regiment, Connecticut State Guard; member American Medical Society; secretary Central Medical Association of Middlesex County, Conn., 1919; junior deacon First Congregational Church, Portland, 1918-1923.

Married (1) October 4, 1899, in New Haven, Irene Alice Manwarring Gillette, daughter of Daniel H. and Harriet E. (Chapman) Manwarring. No children. Dr. and Mrs. Burnham were divorced in 1912. Married (2) July 27, 1914, in New Haven, Elizabeth Shower, daughter of Frederick and Clara (Shower) Shirk. Mrs. Burnham died May 16, 1919. Married (3) June 30, 1920, in Philadelphia, Margaret Emery, daughter of Joseph Roberts and Annie (Emery) Summers. Children: a son (born dead) and a daughter, Betty Anne.

Death due to heart trouble. Buried in Antofagasta, Chile. Survived by wife and daughter.

John Arthur Carley, B.A. 1896.

Born April 17, 1868, in Lawrence, Mass.

Died July 15, 1919, in New York City

Father, Patrick Carley, a farmer; also employed by Hollingsworth & Vose (paper mills) in Groton, Mass.; born in Balnafade, County Clare, Ireland, son of Michael and Ann (Egan) Carley. Mother, Mary (McGinn) Carley; born in Armagh, Ireland; daughter of Patrick and Sarah (Tierney) McGinn

Lawrence Academy, Groton, and Phillips-Exeter. Second dispute appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year.

LL.B. New York Law School 1898; while attending law school served a two years' clerkship in office of Tyler, Pratt & Hibbard; in January, 1900, became managing attorney in office of Ullo, Reubsamen & Higginbotham, New York City, and remained with them until January, 1902; had since practiced real estate law independently, specializing in condemnation proceedings; member general and legal committees of the local Democratic organizations, and of Roman Catholic Church.

Unmarried.

Death due to neuritis. Buried in Leominster, Mass. Survived by three brothers, Michael M. Carley, of Leominster, William F. Carley, of Dorchester, Mass., and Edward A. Carley, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Fritz Wilhelm Hoeninghaus, B.A. 1896.

Born March 18, 1874, in Bridgeport, Conn.

Died January 7, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Friedrich Heinrich Hermann Hoeninghaus, a silk importer in New York City; born in Krefeld, Germany; son of Friedrich Wilhelm Hoeninghaus Mother, Sarah Taylor (Beardsley) Hoeninghaus; daughter of Sidney Burr Beardsley (B.A. 1842, honorary M.A. 1886) and Eliza (Daskam) Beardsley; granddaughter of Cyrus H. Beardsley (B.A. 1818); descendant of Benjamin Burr, who came to America from England in 1630 and settled in Hartford, Conn., in 1635.

Bridgeport High School Member Apollo Glee and Banjo Club, University Banjo Club, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Studied law at Columbia 1897-98 and at New York Law School 1898-99; admitted to New York Bar 1899 and was a law clerk with Merrill & Rogers and with Underwood, Van-Vorst, Rosen & Hoyt until September, 1899; then became a partner in firm of Corbitt, Kelly & Hoeninghaus, in which William H. Corbitt, '96, was senior partner, and continued in that connection until October, 1902, when Mr. Corbitt withdrew from the firm, which then became Kelly & Hoeninghaus; became member of New York Stock Exchange about 1909 and was active in the brokerage business until 1918, when he sold his seat on the Exchange; sold securities for a time in 1919 and later joined James W. Elliott's Business Builders, Inc., as sales manager for one of its units and held that position until 1922; had been a division manager for Zonite Products Company of New York City for the past few years; enlisted in Troop A, 1st New York Volunteer Cavalry, in 1898 and after spending a short time at Camp Black, Long Island, and at Camp Alger, Va., took part in Porto Rico campaign under General Miles; mustered out in November, 1898; commissioned First Lieutenant, 12th Regiment, New York National Guard, in June, 1904, and promoted to Captain the next year; in 1918 tried to enter various branches of the service, but was rejected on physical grounds; served, however, as Captain in the 12th Infantry, New York Guard. Member Sons of the Revolution; in 1919 presented to Yale School of Law the law library which he had inherited from his grandfather, Sidney B. Beardsley, containing many Connecticut, New York, United States, and Federal Reports, as well as a number of textbooks then unobtainable and of value to collectors.

Married (1) September 21, 1901, in Williamstown, Mass., Lillie Sanford, daughter of Harley Thomas and Mary Elizabeth (Sanford) Procter, and sister of William Procter, '94 S., and Rodney Procter, '03 S. One son, Frederic William Procter. Mr. and Mrs. Hoeninghaus were divorced in 1918. Married (2) October 27, 1921, in New York City, Alice Flavia, daughter of James William and Katherine Christine (Fee) Donohue. One daughter, Doris Beardsley.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Mountain Grove Cemetery, Bridgeport. Survived by wife and daughter.

Douglas Stewart, B.A. 1896.

Born July 15, 1873, in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Died April 21, 1926, in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Father, David Alexander Stewart; one of the earliest partners of Andrew Carnegie; chairman of board of directors of Carnegie Steel Company; president of Pittsburgh Locomotive Works; son of John Henderson and Mary (Scott) Stewart. Mother, Nancy (Scott) Stewart; daughter of Thomas and Sarah (Adams) Scott.

Shady Side Academy, Pittsburgh. Second colloquy appointment Junior year; first colloquy appointment Senior year; member University Orchestral Club, University Banjo Club, and Alpha Delta Phi.

Traveled in Europe, Algeria, and Egypt 1896-98, associated with Carnegie Museum of Pittsburgh since its foundation in 1898 (assistant in administrative office 1898-1918, assistant director 1919-1922, and director since then), during entire connection with the museum served as curator of the mineralogical and archæological collections; was very successful in his efforts to popularize the institution, initiating various series of lectures and establishing numerous classes for pupils in the schools of the city; during his régime a station was established in Honduras for the ornithology department, a new laboratory for the paleontology department was put in operation in the fossil fields of western Colorado, and an expedition to Venezuela in search of birds was planned; granted leave of absence during 1918-19 and served as associate director of Bureau of Prisoners Relief of American Red Cross in Washington; invited to undertake oversight of the affairs of that organization in Europe at close of the war, but declined the invitation; after his return from Washington accepted the duties of chancellor of Belgian Consulate in Pittsburgh; Sc.D. University of Pittsburgh 1924; in 1900 served as member of American Committee on Museums at Paris Exposition and, in 1917, as chairman of committee on scientific exhibits for meeting of American Association for the Advancement of Science, of which he was a Fellow; member American Archæological Society, American Association of Museums (one of the governing council at time of his death), Pittsburgh Academy of Arts and Sciences; president Stage and Play Society of Pittsburgh for a long time; attended Calvary Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh.

Married April 22, 1902, in Allegheny (Pittsburgh), Pa., Agnes Caldwell, daughter of Dr. John Shields Dickson, who attended Washington and Jefferson College and the University of Pennsylvania, and Sarah (Caldwell) Dickson. Children: Agnes Caldwell and Anne Douglas.

Death, due to heart trouble, occurred after a short illness. Buried in Allegheny Cemetery, Pittsburgh. Survived by wife and two daughters.

David Stuart, B.A. 1896.

Born March 10, 1874, in Brooklyn, N. Y.
Died August 25, 1925, at Mount Kisco, N. Y.

Father, Andrew Stuart, a banker; born in Birkenhead, England; came to New York City in 1871; son of David Stuart. Mother, Rebecca Maria (Hatch) Stuart; daughter of Walter Tilden Hatch (B.A. 1837) and Rebecca (Taylor) Hatch; granddaughter of the Rev. Nathaniel W. Taylor (B.A. 1807); great-great-granddaughter of the Rev. Nathanael Taylor (B.A. 1745); descendant of Walter Hatch, who came to America from England and settled at New Milford, Conn. Yale relatives include an uncle, Henry P. Hatch, '74, and a brother, Walter H. Stuart, '97.

Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and Brooklyn High School. First colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years; member Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Had been connected with banking and brokerage firms in

New York City since graduation; with Stock Exchange house of W. T. Hatch & Company (founded by his grandfather) until the firm went out of business in 1918; associated with Denny, Pomroy & Company, of which Thomas Denny, '92 S., was a member, from March to November, 1919; had since been connected with H. T. Carey & Company; enlisted in Troop A, Squadron A, New York National Guard, in 1897, becoming successively Corporal and First Sergeant; spent six months in 1916 on the Mexican Border; attended first Officers' Training Camp at Fort Myer, Va., May–August, 1917; commissioned Captain of Cavalry August 15, 1917, and assigned to Camp Lee, Va.; Acting Major of 9th Battalion, Depot Brigade, and later of 22d Battalion (colored), Depot Brigade; Adjutant of 4,000 colored troops under Lieutenant Colonel Haight, U. S. A., who recommended him for promotion to Major (promotion not approved at Washington); commissioned Captain of Artillery in December, 1917; detailed to 1st Squadron, 312th Cavalry, at Fort Myer in March, 1918, and to Machine Gun Troop, 312th Cavalry (changed later to 28th Trench Mortar Battery), at Fort Sheridan, Ill., from April 5 to October 15, 1918; then attended School of Fire, Fort Sill, Okla., until December 12, 1918, when he received his discharge; member Sons of the Revolution, Military Order of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Ex-Members Association Squadron A, New York Chamber of Commerce, and St. Matthew's Church, Bedford, N. Y.; also attended Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City.

Married June 29, 1918, at Mount Kisco, Eleanor Holland Richardson, daughter of Samuel Smith and Lyde (Davitt) Holland. No children.

Death due to valvular heart disease; had been ill for two years, having strained his heart during the war. Buried in St. Matthew's Churchyard, Bedford. Survived by wife and two stepchildren, Enos Richardson, 4th, and Virginia Holland Richardson.

Harry Edgar Nolan, B.A. 1897.

Born July 16, 1875, in Chicago, Ill.

Died December 15, 1925, in Montana, Switzerland

Father, John Henry Nolan; son of John and Mary (Frisby) Nolan; general agent of The Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford at Chicago. Mother, Emily (St. John) Nolan; daughter of James and Martha (Bailey) St. John.

Harvard School, Chicago, and St. Paul's School, Concord, N H Member Freshman Glee Club; substitute on University Glee Club Junior year; member Psi Upsilon.

Connected with The Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford in Chicago for about twelve years after graduation (an agent until July, 1903, then manager of a branch office); gave up business about 1909 and went to the state of Washington and was owner of a ranch and apple orchard in the Yakima Valley until 1912, residing at various times in Selah and Forks; appointed secretary of the U S. Legation at Panama in 1912, but never took the post; prospected for gold, copper, and oil in the Northwest and in Canada in 1913; in 1914 went to Paris, where he became connected with Certainteed Roofing Company; enlisted as a motor cycle driver with the French Army in September, 1914, but was wounded by a bursting shell a few weeks later and was in American Hospital, Paris, for a time; discharged in October that he might enter the Ambulance Service of the American Red Cross; served on the Somme front; given leave of absence in January, 1915, on account of trouble with his wound and returned to the United States for a few months; after his return to France, was at Pont-à-Mousson and Verdun, serving until July, 1916; during next four years was again engaged in the building material business in Paris; in 1920 returned to this country and was connected with Franco-Pacific Corporation in Los Angeles for a time, making his home in Hollywood; since his retirement from business had spent a year in Italy and had resided at various times in Santa Barbara, San Diego, and Pasadena, Calif; had contributed articles on salesmanship to The Neighbors, Los Angeles Times, and Los Angeles Commercial News; member American Chamber of Commerce of France.

Married (1) April 14, 1903, in Chicago, Edith Schuyler, daughter of Daniel F. and Mary (Byford) Camp. No children. A divorce took place about 1911. Married (2) in January, 1917, in Paris, Lucienne Anna Rimbert. One daughter, Lucienne St. John. Mr and Mrs. Nolan were divorced in 1921.

Death due to tuberculosis. Buried in Rose Hill Cemetery, Chicago. Survived by daughter, two sisters, Mrs James Hunt, of New York City, and Mrs. Emily Prieth, of Traunstein, Germany, and a brother, Julian S. Nolan, '95. Another brother, Cyrus C. Nolan, ex-'94, died in 1893.

Dudley Vanness Sutphin, B.A. 1897.

Born October 25, 1875, in Dayton, Ohio
Died May 18, 1926, in New York City

Father, Isaac Vanness Sutphin (B A Delaware College 1869); founder of the I. V. Sutphin Company, paper makers' supplies; son of Moses Potter and Lucy P. (Vanness) Sutphin; descendant of Dirck Jansen VanSutphen, who came to America from Holland about 1670 and settled at New Netherlands, Long Island. Mother, Katherine Priscilla (Brady) Sutphin; daughter of Samuel and Priscilla (Bruen) Brady

Franklin School, Cincinnati, Ohio. First colloquy appointment Junior year; second dispute appointment Senior year; president Cincinnati Club; member Class Crew Freshman year, Tennis Team, Sophomore German and Junior Promenade committees, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Elihu Club

Spent summer of 1897 abroad with Charles B DeCamp, '97; graduated at University of Cincinnati Law School 1900 (member there of Phi Delta Phi); admitted to Ohio Bar in June, 1900; engaged in practice of law in Cincinnati until his retirement in 1921 on account of ill health; at first associated with firm of Hollister & Hollister, of which Howard C Hollister, '78, was junior partner, and from 1901 to 1904 with Kirtledge & Wilby; practiced alone 1904-1908, then became associated with Walter A. DeCamp, '90; formed a partnership with him under firm name of DeCamp & Sutphin in 1910 (DeCamp, Sutphin & Brumleve from 1920) and continued in that connection until his retirement; vice-president Third National Bank of Cincinnati March–August, 1906; assistant city solicitor of Cincinnati 1908–1909; judge of Superior Court for an unexpired term in November and December, 1913; treasurer of board of Trustees of Mount Auburn Presbyterian Church 1906–1916; had been secretary and treasurer of Cincinnati Yale Club and vice-president in 1910 and 1913, chairman of all local committees for meeting of Associated Western Yale Clubs held in Cincinnati in 1914; commissioned as a Major in Judge Advocate General's Department, Officers' Reserve Corps, July 18, 1917; assigned to Headquarters of Central Department at Chicago August 1; in September detailed to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, as Assistant Judge Advocate and later as Judge Advocate in investigation, preparation, and trial by court martial of Houston riot cases, and so engaged until the following spring; in April, 1918, appointed Judge Advocate of 83d Division, with which he went overseas in June; while at Camp Sherman with the division, was detailed Judge Advocate of court at Governors Island, N. Y., for trial of a case; promoted to Lieutenant Colonel October 25, 1918; after the armistice served as Judge Advocate and as Commanding Officer of the Rents, Requisitions, and Claims Department of American Embarkation Center at LeMans, France; decorated with French Legion of Honor April 26, 1919; received his discharge August 29, 1919; lived at Colorado Springs, Colo., 1921–26, with the exception of a few months in 1924, when he was in Chandler and Phoenix, Ariz., and six months during the winter of 1924–25, which he spent in Tucson, Ariz.

Married November 14, 1901, in Cincinnati, Mary Perin, daughter of George Torrence Harrison (B.A. 1869, M.A. 1873) and Sallie Elizabeth (Perin) Harrison, and sister of William H. Harrison, '04 S. Children: Elizabeth Brady and Dudley Vanness, Jr. (born and died in 1911).

Death, due to tuberculosis, followed an operation at St. Luke's Hospital, New York City; had suffered since the war from a disease contracted from illness in France and his return to work before his full recovery. Buried in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati. Survived by wife, daughter, and two brothers, Samuel B. Sutphin, '00 S, and Stuart B. Sutphin, '03.

Fred Julius Fassett, B.A. 1898.

Born October 1, 1875, in Rochester, Vt.
Died March 24, 1926, in Los Angeles, Calif.

Father, Julius George Fassett, a merchant; son of George and Marian (Cleveland) Fassett. Mother, Mary Elizabeth (Martin) Fassett; daughter of Loman and Amanda (Gibson) Martin.

St. Johnsbury Academy. Oration appointment Junior year; dissertation appointment Senior year; member Nautilus Crew; superintendent Oak Street Boys' Club Senior year.

Studied at American School of Osteopathy 1898-1900 (D.O. 1900); taught physiology there 1900-02; studied at Harvard Medical School 1902-06 (M.D. 1906) and practiced osteopathy in Boston; connected with Orthopedic Surgery Clinic at Massachusetts General Hospital 1906-07; practiced orthopedic surgery in Seattle, Wash., 1907-1917, giving half his time to Children's Orthopedic Hospital, which he helped to establish in 1907, and which was the first hospital of its kind in the Northwest, drawing its patients from Alaska, China, Japan, and the Straits Settlements, as well as from the northwestern states; consulting orthopedic surgeon to Seattle City and King County hospitals; vice-chairman of Orthopedic Section of American Medical Association; Fellow of American College of Surgeons since 1912; member American Orthopedic Association, American Medical Association, and Plymouth Congregational Church, Seattle; won special recognition as the first surgeon in any country to successfully operate on lengthening legs; his paper entitled "An Enquiry into the Feasibility of Equalizing Unequal Legs by Lengthening One Leg," a review of results from experiments covering a number of years, was published in 1912 and won world-wide recognition for originality in this field of surgery; author of A Comparative Study of Massage, Swedish Gymnastics, and Osteopathy; had contributed articles to Northwest Medicine and other medical journals; read papers before meetings of American Medical Association in San Francisco in 1915 and of American Orthopedic Association in Pittsburgh in 1917; commissioned as a Captain in the Medical Corps August 28, 1917, and was shortly assigned to British Medical Service; served overseas from October 9, 1917, to March 30, 1919; during that time was attached to Orthopedic Section of 1st Scottish General Hospital at Aberdeen, becoming Senior Medical Officer, and also served as Orthopedic Consultant to Scottish Command Depot at Nigg; during summer of 1918 made a tour of instruction in British area in France, which included work in a base hospital in Boulogne and at the 56th Casualty Clearing Station at Doulon and a tour of the front as the guest of the Surgeon Consultant for the Third Army; promoted to Major October 10, 1918; presented with Gold Medal of British Medical Officers March 10, 1919; received his discharge April 3, 1919; resumed practice in Seattle May 1, 1919, but was obliged to retire immediately because of total disability, the result of illness in Aberdeen and Brest in 1918; was a patient in the Letterman Hospital, San Francisco, 1920-21 and in a sanitarium at Marblehead, Mass., 1921-22.

Married July 21, 1904, in Montpelier, Vt., Agnes, daughter of Adrian and Agnes Arimenta (Hoskins) Radford, of Lawrence, Kans. One son, Frederick Radford, who died in October, 1925, while a Sophomore at Occidental College.

Death due to encephalitis. Buried in Oak Hill Cemetery, Lawrence. Survived by wife.

Ashbel Parmelee Fitch, B.A. 1898.

Born November 17, 1876, in New York City.

Died May 21, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Ashbel Parmelee Fitch; studied at Columbia University and at Universities of Berlin and Jena; a lawyer; comptroller of New York City, member of Congress; president of Trust Company of America, son of Edward Fitch (represented Franklin County in the New York Legislature; later associated in law practice in Malone, N. Y., with his son) and Fannie (Parmelee) Fitch; descendant of the Rev. James Fitch, who came to America from England in 1638, lived at Saybrook, and Norwich, Conn., and was one of the early benefactors of Yale College (the Fitch Gateway between Branford and Killingworth courts of the Memorial Quadrangle at Yale is named for his son, Major James Fitch, also a benefactor of the College). Mother, Elizabeth Adelia (Cross) Fitch; daughter of George and Julia Ann (Lewis) Cross; descendant of John Cross, who came to this country from Ipswich, England, in 1634 and settled at Watertown, Mass; also descended from William Bradford of the "Mayflower" company.

Berkeley School, New York City. Second colloquy appointment Junior year; first colloquy appointment Senior year; member Gentlemen's Eight, Alpha Delta Phi, and Elihu Club.

Studied at New York Law School 1898-1900; admitted to New York Bar in July, 1900, and had since practiced in New York City; associated with his father until the latter's death in 1904; then organized firm of Ashbel P. Fitch, Mott & Grant with his father's junior partners, one of whom was Frederick E. Grant, '92, the name of firm being changed to Fitch & Grant in 1916; remained head of the firm until his death; had acted as referee in accounting in several suits; director and counsellor of Commonwealth Bank of New York since 1918; director of Trust Company of America 1905-1912; member Squadron A, New York National Guard 1899-1904; secretary of nonpartisan campaign committee for Phoenix Ingraham, nominee on Democratic ticket for justice of Supreme Court in 1923; member Association of the Bar of the City of New York, New York State Bar Association, Sons of the Revolution, Society of Mayflower Descendants, New York Historical Society, and New England Society.

Married October 14, 1903, in Port Chester, N. Y., Josephine Hoyt, daughter of Henry Ferdinand and Emma Louise (Young) Smith. Children: Ashbel Parmelee, Jr., ex-'26 (drowned in August, 1923); Frederic Brenton; and Parmelee Hoyt.

Death due to heart disease. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, two sons, two brothers, Morton C. Fitch, '03, and Littleton H. Fitch, '06, and three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Fitch Ostby, of Providence, R. I., Mrs. Ella Fitch Remington, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Doris Fitch Andrews, of New York City.

Robert Harvey Gay, B.A. 1898.

Born July 3, 1876, in Gaysville, Vt.
Died November 25, 1925, in New York City.

Father, Frederick Gay, a woolen manufacturer and later a wholesale coal dealer; son of Merrick and Sarah Maria (Whitcomb) Gay; descendant of John Gay, who came from England to Watertown, Mass., about 1630. Mother, Laura (Baker) Gay; daughter of Andrew and Huldah Russell (Wilkins) Baker.

Burlington (Vt.) High School and Phillips-Andover. In Freshman Honor Division; second dispute appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year; an editor of Yale Daily News; member Gentlemen's Eight, Cap and Gown and Triennial committees, Kappa Psi, Alpha Delta Phi, and Wolf's Head.

Studied at Harvard Law School 1898-1900; admitted to New York Bar in January, 1901; traveled abroad 1901-02; practiced independently 1902-03; associated with firm of Fallows, Duffey & Milne 1903-04; formed a partnership with Oscar Loewi, '98, and Philip J. Ross under firm name of Gay, Loewi & Ross in 1904 and remained in that connection until 1908; partner in firm of Gay & Goddard from 1908 until 1923, when his partner, Henry W. Goddard, was appointed a federal judge; since then had practiced under his own name; member Bar Association of the City of New York, Society of Colonial Wars, and Universalist Church, Gaysville.

Unmarried

Death, due to Raynaud's disease, occurred at the Fifth Avenue Hospital, New York, following an operation; had been ill for a month. Buried in Gaysville. Survived by mother.

George Edward Hecker, B.A. 1899.

Born April 17, 1878, in New York City.
Died May 5, 1926, in Chicago, Ill.

Father, John Valentine Hecker; president of Hecker-Jones-Jewell Milling Company; son of John and Catherine (Gorham) Hecker; descendant of John Hecker, who came from Germany to New York City in 1798. Mother, Georgianna (Bell) Hecker; daughter of Andrew J. and Maria Louise (Miller) Bell; descendant of Francis Bell, who came from England in 1640 and settled at Stamford, Conn.

University Grammar School, New York City, and King School, Stamford, Conn. Dissertation appointment Junior year; oration appointment Senior year; member Freshman Baseball Team.

Traveled for two years after leaving college; engaged in the flour milling business 1901-03; had since been connected with United States Leather Company, at first as sales representative, and since 1918 as manager of their Chicago branch; had been actively interested in rowing, baseball, and golf; served as Gun Captain in the 2d Division, 1st Battalion, New York Naval Militia, 1901-05; member Episcopal Church

Married April 8, 1916, in Chicago, Katherine Franks, daughter of Major William Morrow Notson, U S A., and Elizabeth (Lawton) Notson. No children.

Death due to a cerebral hemorrhage Buried in Spring Grove Cemetery, Darien, Conn. Survived by wife, mother, two brothers, Frederick C. Hecker, '99, and John Hecker, and two sisters, Mrs. Louise Hecker Falls and Mrs. Charles T. Stout.

Isham Henderson, B.A. 1899.

Born May 29, 1877, in Louisville, Ky.
Died March 15, 1926, in New York City.

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Mr. Henderson in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record.

James Eldredge Wilson, B.A. 1899.

Born February 7, 1878, in St. Louis, Mo.
Died September 3, 1925, in Chicago, Ill.

Father, Elijah Crane Wilson; vice-president Wilson Brothers, Inc, importers, manufacturers, and distributors of men's furnishings; son of James and Prudence (Eldredge) Wilson. Mother, Ella Adeliza (Hitchcock) Wilson; daughter of Luke and Jane Eliza (Birdsall) Hitchcock. Cousins: Oliver T. Wilson, '98, Hugh R. Wilson, '06, Morris K. Wilson, ex-'15, and Hugh R. Wilson, '24

Harvard School, Chicago Member Zeta Psi.

Had been connected with Wilson Brothers ever since graduation; became vice-president in 1917 and treasurer in 1921 and held those offices until his death, although he retired from active business January 1, 1925, on account of ill health; had also been a director of the company since 1904.

Unmarried.

Died by his own hand; had suffered a nervous breakdown a year earlier and afterwards spent several months in Arizona in the hope of regaining his health. Buried in Rosehill Cemetery, Chicago. Survived by mother, a sister, Mrs Garrett Chatfield Pier, of Greenwich, Conn., and a brother, Milton Wilson, ex-'08.

Franklin Carter, Jr., B.A. 1900.

Born September 20, 1878, in New Haven, Conn.

Died January 12, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Franklin Carter (B A. Williams 1862, M.A. Jefferson 1864, honorary M A Yale 1874, Ph D. Williams 1877, LL D. Union 1881, Yale 1901, Williams 1904, and University of South Carolina 1905); member of Yale Class of 1859, but left in his Sophomore year on account of ill health; professor of Latin at Williams 1865-1871; professor of the German language and literature at Yale 1872-1881; president of Williams 1881-1901; son of Preserve Wood and Ruth Wells (Holmes) Carter; descendant of Jacob Carter, who came to America from England and went from Southold, Long Island, to Branford, Conn., in 1712. Mother, Sarah Leavenworth (Kingsbury) Carter; daughter of Charles Denison and Eliza (Leavenworth) Kingsbury; sister of Frederick J. Kingsbury (B A 1846); granddaughter of John Kingsbury (B.A. 1786); great-granddaughter of Abner Johnson and Jesse Leavenworth (both B A. 1759); great-great-granddaughter of the Rev.

Mark Leavenworth (B.A. 1737); descendant of Henry Kingsbury, of Ipswich, Mass., and of Melines C. Leavenworth (B.A. 1784). Yale relatives include an uncle, Calvin H. Carter, '51, and two cousins, Abner L. Train, '53, and Allan T. Trumbull, '16 S.

Lawrenceville School. Entered Williams with Class of 1899, remaining two years; entered Yale as a Sophomore in 1897; first dispute appointment Junior year; first colloquy appointment Senior year; president University Hockey Team Senior year; member Psi Upsilon and Wolf's Head.

Studied law at Yale 1900-03 (an editor of Yale Law Journal 1901-02 and business manager 1902-03; member Cap and Gown Committee and Corbey Court; LL B 1903); spent summers of 1900 and 1901 in forestry work in the Adirondacks and Arizona; taught at Coconut Grove, Fla., during part of winter of 1900-01; was in business in New York City 1904-05; practiced law in New Haven, Massachusetts, and Florida; tax consultant for Equitable Trust Company of New York from 1917 until his death, made his home at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., 1915-18 and while there served as secretary of a committee to organize a drill corps in 1917; since 1918 his home had been in Greenwich, Conn.; had edited numerous tax publications and written articles for National Tax Association Bulletin, one of which was published in Congressional Record for 1926, and for Journal of the American Bankers Association; member Congregational Church, Williamstown.

Married September 13, 1910, in Marshfield Center, Mass., Marion Phelps, daughter of the Rev. George Herbert Gutterson and Emma Sampson (Wilder) Gutterson. Children: Franklin, 3d, Jean, William Phelps, and George Herbert.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Riverside Cemetery, Waterbury, Conn. Survived by wife, four children, a brother, Edward P. Carter (member Williams Class of 1891 [honorary M.A. Williams 1916]; M.D. Pennsylvania 1894), of Baltimore, Md., and a sister, Mrs. Paul C. Ransom, of Onchiota, N. Y.

Foster Crampton, B.A. 1900.

Born September 27, 1877, in Brooklyn, N Y.
Died April 21, 1926, at West Hampton Beach, N Y.

Father, Eugene Wilson Crampton, a rice miller; member of firm of Crampton Brothers of New York City; son of Levi Ward and Cecilia Charlotte (Wilson) Crampton; descendant of Dennis Crampton, who came to America from England in 1664 and settled at Guilford, Conn. Mother, Ida (Foster) Crampton; daughter of Amasa Smith and Mary Jane (Ames) Foster; descendant of John Foster, who came to this country from England early in the seventeenth century and settled at Salem, Mass ; also a direct descendant of Roger Williams through the Waterman and Sayles families who came from England to Providence, R. I., in early part of the seventeenth century, and of Elijah Ames, Sr., Lemuel Parker, and Thomas Spalding, all soldiers in the Revolutionary War and whose families were settlers of Braintree, Mass , in 1652 and later moved to Chelmsford (now Pepperell), Mass.

Adelphi Academy, Brooklyn. Second dispute appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year.

LL B. New York Law School 1902; began practice of law in office of Ritch, Woodford, Bovee & Butcher in New York City, remaining there about four years; had since been engaged in private practice in New York; commissioned as a First Lieutenant in Aviation Section of Signal Reserve Corps August 28, 1917; promoted to Captain October 27, 1917, and served overseas from that date until June 9, 1919; assigned to Headquarters, Air Service, at Paris; during last few months of service was assistant to Major General Mason M. Patrick, having previously been assistant to Col. Halsey M. Dunwoody, promoted to Major August 2, 1918; discharged June 19, 1919, had been secretary, president, and a trustee of West Hampton Country Club, as well as commodore of its yacht squadron and chairman of regatta committee; life member Crescent Athletic Club; member American Chamber of Commerce of France and Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn

Married (1) August 6, 1912, in London, England, Lorraine, daughter of John Francis and Ada J. March, of New York City. One son, Foster, Jr. Married (2) December 6, 1925, in New York City, Mary Emily, daughter of Michael Joseph and Margaret (Baxter) Cunningham, of Pittsburgh, Pa

Death, due to cirrhosis of the liver, occurred after an illness of almost a year. Buried in Foster family vault in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by wife, son, and mother

Sidney Clarence Rosenberg, B.A. 1900.

Born September 10, 1876, in New Haven, Conn.

Died December 27, 1925, in West Haven, Conn.

Father, Isaac Rosenberg; in real estate business; born in Germany; came to America in 1842, son of Joseph Rosenberg. Mother, Clara (Hart) Rosenberg; born in Munich, Germany; daughter of Henry and Leah (Herz) Hart.

Hopkins Grammar School and Logansport (Ind) High School. Attended Wabash College before entering Yale. First colloquy appointment Junior year; dispute appointment Senior year.

Attended Yale School of Law 1900-02; admitted to Indiana Bar, practiced in Logansport 1903-05, in New York City 1905-06, and since then in New Haven; at the time of his death was associated with Jacob Caplan and Edward J. Stanford, both graduates of the Yale School of Law in 1903; during World War served as a Private in the Motor Transport Company of Connecticut State Guard and also as assistant member of Legal Advisory Board of 6th District, New Haven; member Temple Mishkan Israel, New Haven

Married (1) June 9, 1908, in Albany, N. Y., Edna, daughter of Mitchell Stark, of Ballston Spa, N. Y. One son, Irwin Stark. Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg were divorced in 1913. Married (2) June 3, 1924, in New Haven, Cecelia, daughter of Max and Lena Caplan, and sister of Jacob Caplan. No children by second marriage.

Died suddenly. Buried in Mishkan Israel Cemetery, Westville, Conn. Survived by wife, a sister, Mrs. Rose Fisher, of New Haven, and two brothers, Joseph L. Rosebery, of New Haven, and Seymour H. Rosebery, of Hammonton, N. J.

Fred Augustus Clark, B.A. 1901.

Born April 4, 1878, in Scranton, Pa.
Died July 29, 1925, in Mount Holly, N. J.

Father, Edwin Augustus Clark; part owner of some mines; son of Oliver Perry and Sarah (Barton) Clark; descendant of Edmon Beakes, who came from England to America early in the seventeenth century and settled in New Jersey. Mother, Kathryn (Tanner) Clark; daughter of Alonzo and Eunice (Sherman) Tanner; descendant of William Tanner, who came to this country from England in 1660 and settled at South Kingston, R. I.

School of the Lackawanna, Scranton.

Assistant treasurer of Carlucci Stone Company, Scranton, 1901-03; with New England-Pennsylvania Car Demurrage Bureau, Scranton, 1907-09; later organized Anthracite Motor Car Company, agents in Scranton for the Corbin car, and served as manager of the company until May, 1910; engaged in poultry business in Mount Holly 1910-17, with his home in Smithville, N. J.; was afterwards a salesman for Southern States Supply Company in Columbia, S. C., for a time; returned to Mount Holly in 1919 and at the time of his death was a salesman for Walls, Owen & Stambach Company, a plumbing supply house in Philadelphia; entered United States Army as a First Lieutenant of Ordnance August 26, 1918; stationed at Camp Raritan, N. J.; received overseas orders October 24, but had not left Hoboken when the armistice came; received his discharge December 12, 1918; commissioned as a First Lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps June 24, 1919; in 1923 served as commander of the Mount Holly Post of the American Legion.

Married (1) September 9, 1902, in Scranton, Mary Helen, daughter of William Greg and Nettie Greer (Doom) Liddle. One son, Robert Sherman (the '01 Class Boy). Mrs. Clark died March 24, 1914. Married (2) October 16, 1915, in Philadelphia, Emma Brenner, daughter of Fredrick and Kathryn (Brenner) Kumpf. One daughter, Kathryn Elizabeth.

Death due to carcinoma. Buried at Mount Holly. Survived by wife, son, daughter, mother, and a brother, Edwin H. Clark, of Scranton.

Ernest Walker Smith, B.A. 1901.

Born June 5, 1878, in Farmington, Conn.

Died April 16, 1926, in Farmington, Conn.

Father, the Rev. Edward Alfred Smith, '56, pastor of Congregational churches in Chester, Mass., and Farmington; member of the Yale Corporation 1889-1895; son of Isaac Edward and Emily (Walker) Smith; descendant of Clement Smith, who came to America from England about 1670 and settled in Jamaica, Long Island, and of Samuel Walker, who came from England to Reading, Mass., before 1645 and later lived at Woburn. Mother, Melissa Eliza (Knox) Smith; daughter of Charles Henry and Olive (Clark) Knox; descendant of William Knox, who came to this country from Ireland in 1737 and settled at Blandford, Mass.

Hartford Public High School. First colloquy appointment Senior year; member Delta Kappa Epsilon and Elihu Club (elected to latter in 1911).

LL.B. Harvard 1904; began practice of law in office of Hiram R. Mills in Hartford, Conn., 1904; later connected with firm of Goodwin, Bennett & Smith for several years; then joined firm of Smith, Smith & Canfield, of which his brother, Herbert Knox Smith, '91, was a member, and continued in practice of law until 1918; had since been actively engaged in manufacturing with The Hartford Special Machinery Company, of which he had been president since 1912; director Hartford-Empire Company (glass working machinery) and Guernsey-Westbrook Lumber Company; secretary and treasurer Charity Organization Society and Consumptive Aid Society; secretary Farmington Country Club, represented Hartford in General Assembly 1907-08, serving on Judiciary Committee and as chairman of Committee on Contested Elections; chairman Republican Town Committee of Hartford 1908-1911 and then member Progressive State Central Committee until 1915; assistant secretary Republican National Convention 1908; during 1917-18 worked with Draft Board and served on Committee on Man Power and Labor of State Council of Defense; enlisted as a Private in Field Artillery November 4, 1918, and was at Camp Zachary Taylor when the war ended, receiving his discharge December 7,

1918; member Hartford County Bar and Center (Congregational) Church, Hartford

Married September 29, 1904, in Farmington, Hilda Mary, daughter of the Rev. James Gibson Johnson (B.A. Union 1863, D.D. Middlebury 1879) and Mary Abigail (Rankin) Johnson, sister of Rankin Johnson, '95 S., and niece of Lorenzo M. Johnson, '74 S Children: Hilda Rankin, Barbara Hope, Ernest Walker, Jr., Herbert Knox, 2d, Burges, David, Edward Alfred, and Eleanor Hope.

Death, due to cancer, occurred after a six months' illness. Buried in Riverside Cemetery, Farmington. Survived by wife, eight children, and his brother.

Raymond Bissell, B.A. 1902.

Born October 26, 1880, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Died February 23, 1926, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Father, Arthur Douglas Bissell, '67, a banker; chairman of board of Peoples Bank, Buffalo; collector of customs at Port of Buffalo 1885-89; son of John and Isabella Jeannette (Halley) Bissell. Mother, Fanny (Castle) Bissell; daughter of Dan Beech and Fanny (Durkee) Castle. Uncle, Wilson S. Bissell, '69

Central High School, Buffalo. Second dispute appointment Junior year; first dispute appointment Senior year; two-year honors in history; member Banjo Club.

Bookkeeper for Niagara Radiator Company at North Tonawanda, N. Y., December, 1902-January, 1904; was subsequently clerk with Consolidated Telephone Company, which later controlled the Federal Telephone & Telegraph Company and eight or ten others, treasurer of Frontier Telephone Company, and assistant to president of Federal Telephone & Telegraph Company; in 1918, when the properties of the latter company were sold to New York Telephone Company, resigned his position and became business manager of Buffalo Commercial, continued in that capacity until 1920, when he was appointed postmaster of Buffalo; served as such for two years, secretary and treasurer of James D. Warren's Sons Company, publishers of the Buffalo Commercial, 1922-23; had since been connected with Cutler Desk Company of Buffalo (treasurer 1923-25; president since then); former director of General Drop Forge Company, Interocean Telephone & Telegraph Company, Federal Telephone & Telegraph Company, and of a number of other telephone companies; at time of his death director of Federal Telephone Manufacturing Company, which owns the WGR radio station in Buffalo; voting trustee of Consolidated Telephone Company; member of finance committee of Buffalo Board of Education; member of First Presbyterian Church, Buffalo.

Married October 17, 1906, in Buffalo, Helen, daughter of Orsamus George and Elizabeth Bates (Griffin) Warren. Children: Elizabeth Warren, Helen Georgia, and Eleanor.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Buffalo. Survived by wife, three daughters, parents, three brothers, Howard Bissell, '00, Arthur D. Bissell, Jr., '06, and Lloyd Bissell, '16, and two sisters, Mrs. James D. Warren, of Buffalo, and Isabella Bissell Goodyear, the wife of Bradley Goodyear, '07.

Reginald Claypoole Vanderbilt, B.A. 1902.

Born December 19, 1880, in New York City.
Died September 4, 1925, in Portsmouth, R. I.

Father, Cornelius Vanderbilt (honorary M.A. Hobart 1889 and Yale 1894), a capitalist and philanthropist; connected with New York Central & Harlem River Railroad Company; son of William Henry and Maria Louisa (Kissam) Vanderbilt; descendant of Jan Aosteren VanderBylt, who came from Holland to New Amsterdam about 1650 and later settled near Flushing. Mother, Alice Claypoole (Gwynne) Vanderbilt; daughter of Abram Evan Gwynne (B.A. 1839) and Cettie Moore (Flagg) Gwynne; granddaughter of Henry C. Flagg (B.A. 1811); descendant of James Claypoole, who came from England to Philadelphia in 1683 and was treasurer of the Free Society of Traders of Pennsylvania, of David Gwynne, a First Lieutenant, in War of 1812, and later Major, and of Thomas Flagg [Flegg], who came from England to Boston in 1637. Yale relatives include; Frederick W. Vanderbilt, '76 S. (uncle); Cornelius V. Whitney, '22 (nephew); and Malcolm D. Sloane, and J. Watson Webb, both '07, W. Seward Webb, Jr., '09, and Vanderbilt Webb, '13 (cousins).

Cutler School, New York City, and St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H. Helped to form Fencing Club, of which he was a member; secretary and member of governing board of University Club; member Yale Corinthian Yacht Club, Hé Boulé, Psi Upsilon, and Wolf's Head.

Had been engaged in the investment business and in the management of his estate since graduation from Yale; one of the country's leading horsemen; president Association of American Horse Shows, Inc., and American Hackney Horse Society; director National Horse Show Association of America, Ltd., which he organized, chairman Newport Horse Show; Director Raquette Lake Railway, Raquette Lake Transportation Company, Fulton Chain Railway, and Fulton Navigation Company; member Metropolitan Museum of Art; former president Clambake Club of Portsmouth, R. I., and of Lloyd's Neck (Long Island) Club; member St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York City; during the war served as Captain and director of Portsmouth Home Guard; also organized a committee which did service in maintaining the standard of artillery and officers' horses which were shipped overseas for the allied armies; offered his home, "Sandy Point Farm," at Portsmouth to the Red Cross for a hospital, but offer not accepted.

Married (1) April 14, 1903, in Newport, Cathleen Gebhard, daughter of Frederick H. and Belle (Gebhard) Neilson. One daughter, Cathleen (wife of Henry C. Cushing, 3d). Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt were divorced in 1920. Married (2) March 6, 1923, in New York City, Gloria, daughter of Harry Hays and Laura (Kilpatrick) Morgan. One daughter, Gloria Laura Morgan Death, due to internal hemorrhages; had been suffering for several days from what was thought at first to be an inflammation of the throat, but which was later diagnosed as an intestinal trouble. Buried in the Vanderbilt family vault at Newdorp Cemetery, Staten Island. Survived by wife, two daughters, a grandson, mother, two sisters, Countess Laszio Szechenyi, of Remete-Vasgyar, Hungary, and Gertrude V.

Whitney, the wife of Harry Payne Whitney, '94, and a brother, Cornelius Vanderbilt, '95 and '98 S. His eldest brother, William H. Vanderbilt, '93, died while in college Vanderbilt Hall was presented to Yale in his memory. Another brother, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, '99, died in 1915.

Maurice Sherman Damon, B.A. 1904.

Born January 19, 1882, in Honolulu, Hawaii
Died December 15, 1925, in Loudonville, N. Y

Father, Edward Chenery Damon, a merchant, son of the Rev. Samuel Chenery Damon (B.A. Amherst 1836, D D. 1868), chaplain of the American Seaman's Friend Society at Honolulu, and Julia Sherman (Mills) Damon, descendant of John Damon, who came to America from Reading, Berkshire County, England, in 1633 and settled at Reading, Mass. Mother, Cornelia (Beckwith) Damon; daughter of Maurice Bosworth Beckwith, a non-graduate member of the Brown University Class of 1856, and Sarah (Moseley) Beckwith. Cousins: Frank A Beckwith, '78, Samuel E. Damon, '96, and Henry F. Damon, '06.

Preparatory training received at Oahu College, Honolulu, and Lawrenceville School. Member Swimming Team for four years and captain of the Racing Team 1903-04, member Alpha Delta Phi.

Became connected with The Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford immediately after graduation and served as supply cashier of branch offices at Springfield and Boston, Mass., for a time; cashier of branch office at Albany 1904-05 and of Columbus (Ohio) branch office 1905-07; had charge of Albany office of United States Title Guaranty & Indemnity Company of New York January-June, 1907; salesman for National Biscuit Company in New York state December, 1907-March, 1910; sales manager for Boardman & Gray, manufacturers of pianos and piano dealers in Albany 1910-17; subsequently connected with Rathbone, Sard & Company, stove manufacturers in Albany, for a time; also engaged in the advertising business and in the contracting business; for over two years before his death had been in poor health as the result of a fall which caused internal injuries, affecting his entire nervous system; went to Honolulu in an effort to regain his health in December, 1923, and spent the winter of 1924-25 in Arizona; returned to Loudonville eight months before his death; enlisted in Troop B of New York National Guard December 22, 1904; in 1916 recruited, enlisted, and trained men to be sent to the Mexican Border, being in full charge of mounted work; commissioned First Lieutenant April 13, 1917, and Captain May 15, 1917; in command of Depot Troop at the home station and in charge of the Scotland Avenue Armory at Albany until August 7, 1917; was then on active field duty with his troop at New York Aqueduct and was assigned to headquarters work as inspector, court officer, and (for about one half the time) commander of the 2d Battalion of 1st Provisional Regiment at New Paltz, N. Y.; on November 22, 1917, upon the reorganization of the New York Guard, was commissioned Major and assigned to the command of Squadron D, 3d Brigade; soon afterwards was transferred from the 1st to the 2d Provisional Regiment for duty on Barge and Erie canals and at some munition plants and bridges; resigned his commission in July, 1918, and in August, with the hope of going overseas, accepted a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Army; with Company A of 32d Battalion, U. S. Guards, until October 23 and then with Company A, 47th Battalion; served at Fort Niagara, N. Y., and then at Bayonne, N. J., until his discharge January 14, 1919; member St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Albany.

Married February 7, 1907, in Albany, Cornelia Emerson Davis, daughter of James Stuart and Cornelia (Emerson) Gray. No children.

Died after two years' illness. Buried in Rural Cemetery, Albany. Survived by wife, two sisters, Miss Ethel M. Damon and Mrs Harold Giffard, both of Honolulu, and two brothers, William F. Damon, ex-'04, and Roxor Damon, of Honolulu.

Morgan Gardner Bulkeley, Jr., B.A. 1907.

Born December 25, 1885, in Hartford, Conn

Died March 22, 1926, in Hartford, Conn.

Father, Morgan Gardner Bulkeley (honorary M.A. 1889, LL.D. Trinity 1917); president Ætna Life Insurance Company, Civil War veteran; mayor of Hartford; governor of Connecticut; United States senator, son of Eliphalet Adams Bulkeley (B.A. 1824) and Lydia Smith (Morgan) Bulkeley, descendant of the Rev. Peter Bulkley, a graduate of St. John's College, Cambridge, in 1608, who came to Cambridge, Mass., in 1635, was the first settler and minister at Concord, Mass., and the founder of the twelfth church in the colony, and whose library formed the nucleus of the Harvard College Library. Mother, Fannie Briggs (Houghton) Bulkeley; daughter of James Franklin and Caroline (Sparhawk) Houghton; descendant of John Houghton, who came from England to Massachusetts in 1635. Yale relatives include: Charles E. Bulkeley, '56 (uncle), and Charles E. Brainard, ex-'91, Morgan B. Brainard, '00, Newton C. Brainard, '02, and Richard B. Bulkeley, '08 (cousins).

Hartford Public High School. Member Wranglers, Yacht Club, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Wolf's Head.

Connected with Ætna Life Insurance Company since graduation; (clerk in financial department until 1910; made assistant treasurer 1910, director 1912, and treasurer 1922, also a vice-president of the company since 1923); elected assistant treasurer of Ætna Casualty & Surety Company 1915, director 1916, and treasurer 1923; elected assistant treasurer of Automobile Insurance Company 1916, director 1917, and treasurer 1923; trustee Bankers Trust Company; director of Charter Oak Bank from 1909 to 1915, when it was merged with Phoenix National Bank of Hartford; director of the latter bank, Dime Savings Bank, Standard Fire Insurance Company, Hartford City Gas Light Company, Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection & Insurance Company, Billings & Spencer Company (drop forging machinery, etc.), Case, Lockwood & Brainard Company (printers and bookbinders), Kellogg & Bulkeley Company (lithographers),

Smyth Manufacturing Company (bookbinders' machinery), Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company, and Cedar Hill Cemetery Association; member of board of managing directors of Hartford Hospital; trustee of Hartford Y. W. C. A. and director of its new building project in 1916; secretary of Connecticut River Bridge and Highway Commission; member Hartford City Council 1909-1911, Municipal Building Commission 1910-1915, Board of Finance 1916, and Park Board 1922-24; chairman Republican Town Committee of Hartford 1921; member Hartford Chamber of Commerce, board of managers of Connecticut Society of Sons of the Revolution, Society of the Cincinnati, Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States, and Loyal Legion; attended South Congregational Church, Hartford; enlisted in Troop B, 5th Cavalry, Connecticut National Guard, March 9, 1911, and rose through the non-commissioned grades to a second lieutenancy in January, 1916; served as such with Troop B on the Mexican Border, being promoted to First Lieutenant November 2 and to Captain and commander of the troop November 30; organization was federalized as Company B, 101st Machine Gun Battalion, in 1917; went overseas as its Captain in October, 1917, and served in all the engagements in which the 26th Division participated; after several months' training in the Neufchâteau area, entered the line in the Chemin des Dames Sector; promoted to Major August 1, 1918, and commanded the battalion at Château-Thierry and during the St.-Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives, during the latter of which he and his battalion were in "Death Valley" twenty-five days; on October 28, 1918, was gassed and evacuated to Base Hospital 28 at Limoges and later to Base Hospital 22 at Bordeaux; invalided home and sent to Base Hospital at Camp Upton, Long Island, in December; received his discharge from service January 9, 1919; awarded a divisional citation in September, 1918; also recommended for the Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross.

Married June 8, 1912, in Hartford, Ruth Lee, daughter of William Erastus Collins (B.A. Williams 1884) and Era Lee (Steele) Collins, and niece of Atwood Collins, '73, and Daniel R. Howe, '74 Children: Morgan Gardner, 3d, William Erastus, and Edward Root.

Death due to a tumor on the brain; had been ill for a number of months and underwent an operation the previous summer. Buried in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford. Survived by wife, three sons, mother, a brother, Houghton Bulkeley, ex-'19, and a sister, Elinor Bulkeley Ingersoll, the wife of John A. Ingersoll, '11 S.

Harold Arthur Rosenbaum, B.A. 1907.

Born March 21, 1886, in New York City.

Died June 9, 1926, in Germany

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Mr. Rosenbaum in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record.

Arthur Leete Davison, B.A. 1909.

Born November 2, 1886, in Thompsonville, Conn

Died April 8, 1926, in Springfield, Mass

Father, James Davison; connected with a carpet concern in Niagara, N. Y.; son of Robert and Mary Jane (Bradshaw) Davison; descendant of Robert Davison, who came to America from Scotland in 1850 and settled at Hazardville, Conn. Mother, Eva (Leete) Davison; daughter of George and Mary (Coughlan) Leete, and sister of William H. Leete, '94; descendant of Governor William Leete of Connecticut, who came from England in 1639 and settled at Guilford. Cousin, William C. Leete, '25 S.

Enfield (Conn.) High School. Second colloquy appointments Junior and Senior years; member University Soccer Team; active in swimming, interclass baseball, and cross-country running.

Employed as a mechanic by Standard Metal Work Company in Thompsonville 1910-11; yardmaster for New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company at Thompsonville 1912-15; had charge of a tobacco farm 1915-17; inducted into service September 5, 1917, and assigned to Company A, 303d Machine Gun Battalion, at Camp Devens,

Mass., transferred to 14th Railway Engineers December 28, 1917; upon his arrival overseas March 3, 1918, assigned to Company A, 16th Railway Engineers; served behind the British front in Arras Sector three months and later was stationed at Nevers; received his discharge May 5, 1919; had since been engaged in farming at Thompsonville; member of Republican Town Committee; candidate for office of town clerk in 1913, but failed of election; member St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Thompsonville.

Unmarried

Death due to double pneumonia. Buried at Thompsonville. Survived by mother and two sisters, the Misses Mary E. and Bertha Leete Davison, both of Thompsonville.

Arthur Sturges Hildebrand, B.A. 1910.

Born August 2, 1887, in Hartford, Conn

Died in 1924 or 1925.

Father, Charles Hildebrand (Ph.B. 1875, M.E. 1877); instructor in mathematics at Yale 1881-83; assistant actuary for Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company 1884-1917 and then actuary until his death in 1922; son of Ernest Charles Hildebrand, who was born in Pulsnitz, Saxony, and came to America in 1848, and Wilhelmina Johanna (Schurig) Hildebrand, of Radeberg, Saxony. Mother, Ida Louise (Sturges) Hildebrand; daughter of Henry Burr and Mary Louise (Seeley) Sturges; granddaughter of Lloyd Seeley (honorary M.D. 1834); descendant of John Sturges, who came to this country from England in 1660 and settled at Fairfield, Conn. Among other ancestors are John Howland and John Tilley of the "Mayflower" company, Lieut. Robert Seeley, first marshal of the New Haven Colony, Capt. Nathaniel Seeley, who was killed in the Pequot War, and Governor Thomas Wells of Connecticut, one of the founders of Hartford. Yale relatives include the Rev. John Goodsell (B.A. 1724) and a cousin, Ernest G. Schurig, '95 S.

Hartford Public High School Contributed to Yale Literary Magazine and Yale Record; member Freshman and Class crews, Soccer Team, Cross-Country Team, and Beta Theta Pi.

Studied at Columbia School of Architecture 1910-14 (president of Architectural Society 1913; B.Arch. 1914); during summer of 1911 was a draftsman in the office of John Calvin Stevens and John Howard Stevens, architects in Portland, Maine, for a time and also went on a cruise to Nova Scotia, being shipwrecked on Briar Island; traveled by bicycle through northern France and England in summer of 1912; spent summer of 1913 in the office of Murphy & Dana, architects in New York City; went abroad in February, 1914, and, after traveling in Italy, France, and England for several months, lived in London until spring of 1915, engaged in writing for various magazines and papers, among them The Forum, The Architect's and Builder's Journal, and New York Evening Post; then spent three months in Ireland; returned to New York in summer of 1915 and was employed in advertising department of The Macmillan Company for six months; librarian of Yale Club of New York April, 1916-March, 1917; volunteered for six months' service with American Ambulance Hospital Unit at Neuilly; drove at the front and was with the American Relief Clearing House until June 1, 1917; then enlisted in American Red Cross; served as chief clerk of stores in Paris until December, 1917, then as aide to the director of the Stores Department until October, 1918, as Lieutenant with Department of Public Information October, 1918-January, 1919, and then as Captain with Bureau of Photography until his discharge in May, 1919; engaged in writing in New York City 1919-1924, with the exception of seventeen months in 1921 and 1922, when he made a cruise in a fifty-four-foot yawl, the "Caltha," from Glasgow to Athens, the story of the trip appearing as a serial in Motor Boat for January and February, 1923, and in Harper's Magazine for April, May, and June, 1923, and as a book entitled Blue Water the following September; had also cruised the length of the Atlantic coast from Nova Scotia to Cuba and sailed in the New London to Bermuda race in 1923; author of a novel, The Parlor Begat Amos (1921), and of Magellan, a life of the explorer, which appeared as a serial in Harper's for September, October, and November, 1924, and in book form in October, 1924; contributed an article on "La Chapelle Station" to the Outlook for August 22, 1917; member First Church of Christ, Hartford

Unmarried.

Left Norway with three friends on July 4, 1924, on the "Leiv Eiriksson" for a cruise following the Viking Trail to the Shetland and Faroe Islands, Iceland, Greenland, and Labrador; reached Greenland safely the latter part of August; on September 8, 1924, left Juliannshaab in Greenland, and no trace of them has ever been found since, in spite of extensive search by the Cruising Club of America, of which Mr. Hildebrand was a member, aided by the Danish and United States Governments and the Hudson Bay Company; all hope of their return has now been given up. Survived by mother, a sister, Miss Alice L. Hildebrand (B.A. Smith 1906), of Hartford, and a brother, Ernest S. Hildebrand, ex-'20. An endowment fund in his memory has been established at Yale by Mrs. Eleanor Coxe Gibson, for the benefit of the University Library

Henry Barnard Davis, B.A. 1911.

Born September 2, 1888, at Grand Rapids, Mich.
Died December 30, 1925, at East Grand Rapids, Mich.

Father, George Albert Davis; member Stow & Davis Furniture Company; president Grand Rapids Board of Education for nearly twenty-five years, son of Albert and Cordelia (Leland) Davis; descendant of Henry Leland, of Sherburne, Mass. (1652), John Perkins, of Salem, Mass. (1630), John Warren, of Watertown, Mass., and Alexander Parkman, who was living in Templeton, Mass., in 1770. Mother, Alice Glover (Barnard) Davis, daughter of Henry and Eliza (Fisher) Barnard, descendant of John Barnard, who came to Watertown, Mass., from Suffolk County, England, in 1634; also descended from Thomas Hinckley, of Barnstable, governor of Plymouth Colony from 1680 to 1792, Kenelm Winslow, a brother of Governor Edward Winslow of Plymouth, who came from England in 1629, John Prescott, founder of Lancaster, Mass., Antony Fisher, of Dedham, Mass., who came from Sileham, England, in 1637, and John Glover, of Dorchester Mass., who came from England in 1630.

Grand Rapids High School and Asheville School Honors in studies of Freshman and Junior years; oration appointments Junior and Senior years.

After graduating from Yale, took a course in accounting at Eastman-Gaines School, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; was later a bookkeeper for Stow & Davis Furniture Company for several months; employed by Merchants National Bank of Boston 1912-14, holding various positions and after a time being made assistant to the auditor; after traveling in the West for a while, spent a brief period as cashier of a bank in Grandville, Mich.; in spring of 1915 became business manager in office of Henry F. Barnard, a dealer in real estate loans and investment securities in Detroit, Mich., and remained there until he entered service; enlisted as a Private on October 3, 1918, at Columbus Barracks, Ohio, and was in training there as member of Recruit Company 26 until November 19; was then transferred to Adjutant General's office at Washington, where he served as member of Provisional Company A, 1st Separate Battalion, until his discharge February 6, 1919; then entered Law School of University of Michigan, where he received degree of LL.B. in 1920; admitted to Michigan Bar soon afterwards; had since been associated with firm of Butterfield, Keeney & Amberg at Grand Rapids; member Grand Rapids Bar Association, Post No 2, American Legion, and Park Congregational Church, Grand Rapids.

Married September 2, 1922, at Grand Rapids, Ethel Margaret Turnbull (B.A. Olivet College 1918), daughter of William Robert and Laura Jane (MacNaughton) Turnbull. One son, Henry Barnard, Jr.

Death, due to an intestinal obstruction, followed an attempted operation and occurred at Blodgett Memorial Hospital, East Grand Rapids. Buried in Oak Hill Cemetery, Grand Rapids. Survived by wife, son, parents, and a brother, Robert L. Davis, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

John Vincent McDonnell, B.A. 1911.

Born December 30, 1889, in New York City

Died May 23, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Peter McDonnell, a railroad and steamship agent, operating his business under his own name; born in County Longford, Ireland; came to this country in 1862. Mother, Charlotte Anastatia (Casey) McDonnell.

Columbia Institute and Loyola School, New York City. Manager Baseball Team; member Freshman and Apollo Glee clubs, Dramatic Association (had two parts in "Revizor"), Junior Promenade and Triennial committees, Wranglers, Zeta Psi, and Skull and Bones Studied at Harvard Law School 1911-12; employed in sales department of Columbia Oil Company of New York City at Bayonne, N. J., 1912-14; had since been engaged in the oil business at Tulsa, Okla.; at one time interested in the production of zinc ore in the Joplin (Mo.) district as president of Gore Mining & Milling Company; since 1920, in addition to his work as an oil producer, had been engaged in architecture and general construction supervision as member of firm of McDonnell & Nelson, Inc.; served with Section 16 of American Field Service with the French Army from May 26 to November 8, 1917; stationed at various times at Rarecourt, Clermont-en-Argonne, and Douamont bases; then served in a civilian capacity at U. S. Air Service Headquarters in Paris for a month, after which he returned to the United States; inducted into service May 24, 1918; served as a Private with 30th Company of 3d Provisional Group at Machine Gun Training Center at Camp Hancock, Ga. (made Regimental Supply Sergeant December 12, 1918), until receiving his discharge January 17, 1919; member Roman Catholic Church.

Married October 8, 1924, in Brooklyn, Marie Bradley, daughter of Thomas Edward and Katharine (Bradley) Murray, and sister of Joseph B. Murray, '10 S, and Thomas E. Murray, Jr., '11 S. One son, John Vincent, Jr.

Death, due to acute lymphatic leukæmia, occurred after an illness of four weeks at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York. Buried in Calvary Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, son, four brothers, Hubert McDonnell, '09, Alexander J. McDonnell, a graduate of Columbia, and Peter and James F. McDonnell, both graduates of Fordham, and a sister, Mrs. Alfred Young Morgan.

Miles Anson Morgan, B.A. 1911.

Born March 6, 1891, in Ilion, N. Y.
Died February 20, 1926, in Oroya, Peru.

Father, Andrew Doolittle Morgan (LL.B. Union 1881), a flour and grain merchant of Ilion; son of Amos Anson and Mary Janette (Hitchcock) Morgan; descendant of James Morgan, who came to America from England in 1636 and settled in New London, Conn. Mother, Anna Rouelle (Chattaway) Morgan; daughter of James and Frances (Holroyd) Chattaway; descendant of John Chattaway of Birmingham, England.

Ilion High School. First colloquy appointment Junior year; second colloquy appointment Senior year; member Freshman Debating Union and University Orchestra.

During first six months after graduating from Yale was employed as a clerk by Acme Engineering & Contracting Company, engaged in barge canal construction work at Frankfort, N. Y.; was then junior cyanide chemist for Steptoe Valley Smelting & Mining Company at McGill, Nev., until September, 1912; employed by Nevada Consolidated Copper Company 1912-17, as chemist at the Veteran Mine in Kimberly 1912-14, as safety engineer at McGill 1914-15, and as metallurgical bookkeeper at McGill 1915-17; since 1919 had been with Cerro de Pasco Copper Corporation in Peru, as metallurgist and later assistant superintendent at LaFundicion 1919-1921, as superintendent of smelter at Casapalco 1921-23, as assistant superintendent of consolidated smelter at Oroya from 1923 until his death; member St. Augustine's Episcopal Church, Ilion; edited Safety First, the magazine of Nevada Consolidated Copper Company, for a year.

Married June 27, 1916, in Salt Lake City, Florence Lisle Webb (B.A. Stanford 1916), daughter of Leslie and Florence (Boyle) Webb. Children: Marion Jane, Margaret Ann, and Nancy Elizabeth.

Death due to an accidental gun shot wound. Buried in Oroya. Survived by wife, three daughters, and parents.

Chun Wing Sen Afong, B.A. 1912.

Born November 7, 1887, in Macao, China.

Died February 26, 1924, in Macao, China.

Father, Chun Chik-yu; former civil governor of Canton; engaged in banking and in railroad and shipping business; son of Wing Ah Fong who lived in Honolulu for some years. Mother, Julien Chang. Yale relatives: Lung Chun, '79, (uncle) and Shou Kie Tsai, ex-'83, and Kwo Pao Tsai, '12 S.

Hartford Public High School. President Yale Chinese Student Club Senior year; member Yale Corinthian Yacht Club and Yale Cosmopolitan Club.

After graduation returned to China and entered government service as deputy in charge of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs and Emigration in Swatow; honorably discharged from the service upon the abolition of the bureau January 1, 1914; then connected with Douglas Steamship Company, Ltd., of Hong Kong for a time; later served for several years as managing director of the materials department of the Tientsin-Pukow Line of the Chinese Government Railways, with headquarters at Tientsin; then spent two years in Hong Kong, making a study of the political developments in China; in 1918, when Canton was under the rule of General Chun Chung-ming, was appointed director general of the Canton Arsenal, holding the rank of General; was also made river defense commander in chief and in connection with that post carried out a number of successful expeditions against the pirates in the Canton delta; also successfully carried through an expedition against Commander Chan Chek and the citizen soldiers in the Kongmoon and Heungshan districts in the summer of 1922; took an active part in the expulsion of Dr. Sun Yat-sen and his expeditionary forces from the province of Canton (had the rank of Brigade Commander); went through heavy fighting and succeeded in disarming a greater part of the enemy, besides capturing, disabling, and sinking about thirty of their gunboats; afterwards commanded the Canton Navy of seventy-one ships, besides one brigade of the regular army; in 1922, when his father was elected civil governor of Kwangtung by the Provincial Assembly in Canton, General Chun joined him and a brother, Chun

Wing Ken, in initiating many constructive reforms in the administration of the Kwangtung Government, which were frustrated in the actual carrying out by the sudden turn of political affairs in favor of their opponents; when the mercenary troops of Dr. Sun Yat-sen defeated the forces of General Chun Chuing-ming, General Chun was thrown out of office and went to Hong Kong with his father, was granted special police protection by the Hong Kong Government for a time, which rendered futile an attempt to assassinate him; went to Japan for a short time; not long after his return to Hong Kong, after the police protection had been withdrawn, was shot at by an assassin, receiving three wounds; was taken to the Government Civil Hospital, where he remained for a long time under treatment; apart from partial paralysis, which later set in, soon regained what appeared to be normal health and was moved to Macao, where he took up his residence; his death was due to blood poisoning

Married May 24, 1913, Iris Yung, who survives him with five children; also leaves his parents, a brother, Chun Wing Ken, of Hong Kong, and a sister

Howard Burton Bartholomew, B.A. 1912.

Born March 31, 1886, in Greenbush, N. Y.

Died March 20, 1926, in Cobleskill, N. Y.

Father, Stephen Bartholomew, a farmer; son of Daniel Bartholomew; descendant of Phillip Bartholomew, who came to America from Holland in the latter part of the seventeenth century and settled at Schoharie, N. Y. Mother, Lydia (Feeck) Bartholomew; daughter of Jacob and Angeline (Mosher) Feeck; descendant of Jacob Feeck, who came to this country from Germany and settled at Middleburg, N. Y.

Cobleskill High School. Principal of Bannerville (N. Y.) school for two years; then entered Union College for a year's preparatory course; entered Yale in 1908; honors in Freshman and Junior years; high oration appointments Junior and Senior years; studied in Yale School of Medicine during last two years in college and for two years after graduation, receiving degree of M.D. cum laude in 1914; was also a student in biology in the Graduate School for a year (M.A. 1913); member Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa.

Served as an interne at St. Peter's Hospital, Albany, 1914-15; had since practiced in Cobleskill; health officer of the town 1917-19; during World War was given a deferred classification because of physical condition; member Volunteer Medical Service Corps, but was not called to active duty; president Schoharie County Medical Society 1921-22; member New York State Medical Society, American Medical Association, Cobleskill Chamber of Commerce, and First Methodist Episcopal Church, Cobleskill.

Married October 21, 1915, in Cobleskill, Georgiana Elizabeth, daughter of George and E. Anna (Walker) Hilts. One son, Raymond Hilts

Death due to pneumonia, with diabetic complications. Buried in Cobleskill Rural Cemetery. Survived by wife, son, parents, and two sisters, Mrs. Chester A. Aker and Mrs. Warren Bellinger, all of Cobleskill.

Clarence Earl Barton, B.A. 1913.

Born August 29, 1891, in Cincinnati, Ohio
Died December 6, 1925, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Edward Barton, a lawyer; son of John and Josephine (Hardin) Barton; descendant of Benjamin Barton, who came to this country from England and was a pioneer settler of Williamsburg, Ohio. Mother, Clara (Robertson) Barton; daughter of William and Amelia (Eggbrecht) Robertson, who came to Cincinnati from England about 1850. Cousins: J. Wilbur Witt, '06 S., W. Lowell Robertson, '14 S., and Merlin G. Robertson, '18 S.

Norwood High and Franklin Preparatory schools, Cincinnati First dispute appointment Junior year; dissertation appointment Senior year; member Beta Theta Pi.

Studied in Yale School of Law 1913-16 (honors 1914-15; LL B. cum laude 1916; an editor of Yale Law Journal 1915 and comment and recent case editor 1916; member Phi Alpha Delta, Chi Tau Kappa, and The Order of the Coif); associated with firm of Harmon, Colston, Goldsmith & Hoadley in Cincinnati 1916-17; with Watrous & Day in New Haven, 1917-18; enlisted as a Flying Cadet at Cincinnati November 8, 1918; assigned to Ground School at Cornell University; discharged November 25, 1918; practiced law independently in New Haven from 1918 until his death; appointed assistant city attorney of New Haven in 1922 for a term of three years, but resigned that office in February, 1925, to become assistant state's attorney for New Haven County; served in that capacity until his death; was candidate for judge of Court of Common Pleas of Hamilton County, Ohio, in 1917, but was defeated; owner of Home Coal Company of New Haven and part owner of Holmes Coal Company of Mystic, Conn. (secretary and treasurer from 1918 to 1925); partner in Home Transport Line; president Packard Sales & Service, Inc., of New Haven and of Anderson Ship Yard, Inc., of West Haven; active in Masonic affairs; former secretary of Society of the Cincinnati; member Methodist Episcopal Church.

Married September 2, 1916, in New Haven, Maude Ethel, daughter of Charles Kingsbury and Catherine (McNeil) Wedmore, and sister-in-law of Chester E. Ingraham, '03 S. Children: Beverly and Barbara Kingsbury.

Death due to typho pneumoma. Buried in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati. Survived by wife and daughters. By the terms of his will a bequest was made to Yale.

Robert Rathbun Paret, B.A. 1918.

Born October 25, 1896, at Bergen Point, N J
Died July 1, 1925, in New York City.

Father, Robert Louis Paret, a banker and broker; partner in firm of Cox, Paret & Company of New York City; son of John and Emily Louise (Story) Paret; nephew of William Paret, bishop of Maryland; descendant of Stephen Paret, who came to New York from France in 1780. Mother, Bertha Louise (Rathbun) Paret; daughter of Robert Henry and Louise (Doremus) Rathbun; ancestors lived in Mystic, Conn. Yale relatives: Walter P. Paret, '96 (uncle), and Robert Lockhart Wilbur, '15 S, Robert P. Rathbun, ex-'16 S., and H. Wilbur Paret, Jr., '17 S. (cousins).

Montclair (N. J.) High School. Assistant manager University Basketball Team in 1916 and 1917 and manager-elect for 1917-18; president Berkeley Association 1916-17; Corporal in Yale Batteries at Tobyhanna; promoted from Sergeant to Captain in Yale R. O. T. C., to which he belonged from its organization until he left college; interested in work of Boys' Club; member Beta Theta Pi; left college at end of Junior year to enter the Army; given his degree honoris causa in June, 1919, with enrollment in Class of 1918.

Enrolled in the second Officers' Training Camp at Fort Myer, Va., August 27, 1917; commissioned as a Second Lieutenant of Field Artillery November 27, 1917; served with 314th Field Artillery, 80th Division, at Camp Lee, Va., until May 26, 1918, and then in France until May 29, 1919; in action at St Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne; promoted to First Lieutenant September 10, 1918; received his discharge June 7, 1919; commissioned Captain in Field Artillery Reserve Corps September 11, 1919; had been engaged in the bond business in New York City since July, 1919 (with Davies, Thomas & Company until October, 1920; then with his father, until the latter's death in July, 1923; since then as an independent stockbroker); member St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal Church, Montclair.

Unmarried.

Death, due to a fractured skull and leg and internal injuries, occurred instantaneously, when he accidentally fell from the window of his room. Buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Survived by mother, a brother, Rufus Story Paret, of Spring Lake, N. J., and two sisters, Miss Bertha Rathbun Paret also of Spring Lake and Miss Ursula Louise Paret, of Charleston, S. C. Another sister, Mrs. Trevor W. Swett, died December 25, 1925.

Robert Ruffner Theobald, B.A. 1918.

Born December 7, 1891, in Dayton, Ohio.

Died December 19, 1925, in Toledo, Ohio

Father, Henry Theobald; president of Toledo Scale Company, son of Henry and Sara Maria (Dunham) Theobald; descendant of Henry Theobald, who came to America from England and settled in Dayton. Mother, Mary Jane (McCullough) Theobald; daughter of Peter and Martha Ann (Ross) McCullough; ancestors came from Scotland

Tome School, Port Deposit, Md., Asheville (N. C.) School, Phillips-Andover. Entered Yale with Class of 1917, but joined Class of 1918 in fall of 1915; left college during Senior year to enter service; was given his B.A. honoris causa in 1920, with enrollment in Class of 1918.

Enlisted as a Coxswain in U. S. Naval Reserve Force May 14, 1917; stationed in Brooklyn until July 4, being promoted to Ensign June 25; attended Reserve Officers' Class at Annapolis July 5–September 14, 1917; commissioned as an Ensign (T) in U. S. Navy September 15, 1917; served as Watch and Division Officer on U. S. S. "Oklahoma" from September 24, 1917, to January 1, 1918; then attended Officers' Torpedo Class at Newport, R. I.; promoted to Lieutenant (j.g.) in June, 1918, and to Lieutenant September 21, 1918; served as Gunnery and Torpedo Officer on U. S. S. "Decatur" (destroyer) from June 14, 1918, until his release from active duty February 9, 1919; became vice-president of Toledo Scale Company February 16, 1921, and held that position until his death; member Trinity Episcopal Church, Toledo.

Married March 4, 1922, in Chicago, Ill., Mary-Meloy, daughter of Dr. James Doig Rankin and Martha (Brownlee) Rankin. One daughter, Mary-Meloy. Mrs. Theobald died February 22, 1923.

Died by his own hand; mental depression, caused by the death of his wife and his father within a short time of each other, is thought to have prompted the act. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Toledo. Survived by daughter and mother.

John Alden Daniels, B.A. 1919.

Born August 30, 1897, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Died March 25, 1926, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Father, John Havemeyer Daniels (B.A. 1889, Ph.D. 1892, M.D. Niagara University 1895), a physician in Buffalo; lecturer and instructor at Niagara University; son of the Rev.

Josiah Reeves Daniels, a Methodist Episcopal minister, and Abigail Ann (Sharpe) Daniels; descendant of Capt. John Daniels of the Revolutionary Army. Mother, Flora Eva (Pike) Daniels (B.A. Vassar 1890); daughter of James and Salina (Tower) Pike; descendant of Robert Pike, who came to America from England in 1630, of John Tower, who came from England to Hingham, Mass., in 1637, and of John Alden of the "Mayflower" company.

Lafayette High School, Buffalo. Attended Cornell University during 1914-15 as member of Class of 1918. At Yale held a University Scholarship; member Freshman Glee Club, University Orchestra, and College Choir Junior and Senior years; organized and managed Students' Laundry Association.

In the employ of International Banking Corporation at Yokohama and Kobe, Japan, from November, 1919, to May, 1923; contracted sleeping sickness at Yokohama in February, 1923, and was obliged to give up his position; since then had lived in Albion and Buffalo unable to engage in any occupation; member Richmond Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Buffalo.

Unmarried.

Death due to sleeping sickness. Buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Buffalo. Survived by mother, a brother, Paul C. Daniels, '24, and a sister, Florence Daniels Reilly (B.A. Vassar 1915), the wife of John J. Reilly, '03.

Nathaniel Trowbridge Lovell, B.A. 1923.

Born August 3, 1900, in West Newton, Mass.
Died January 20, 1926, in West Newton, Mass.

Father, Joseph Neale Lovell, a broker in Boston; son of Nathaniel and Hopie (Neale) Lovell (later Mrs. Dale); descendant of Zachariah Lovell, of East Medway, Mass. Mother, Gertrude Leland (Trowbridge) Lovell; daughter of Edward Brooks and Adelia (Jenison) Trowbridge; descendant of Thomas Trowbridge, who came to this country from Canton, Somersetshire, England, in 1634 and settled at Dorchester, Mass.

Newton High School. Enlisted as a Private in Harvard

S. A. T. C. September 25, 1918. At Yale member Freshman Golf Team in 1920, University Golf Team 1921-23 (captain 1922-23), Beta Theta Pi, and Elihu Club.

Had been connected with the production department of Gale Shoe Company of Manchester, N. H., since graduation; was junior golf champion of Massachusetts in 1918, a five handicap man in Massachusetts in 1920, and golf champion of the Manchester Country Club at time of his death, and had played in many national and state golf tournaments; member Second Congregational Church, West Newton.

Unmarried.

Death due to blood poisoning. Buried in Newton. Survived by parents, a sister, Miss Doris Towle Lovell, and a brother, Joseph Neale Lovell, Jr., all of West Newton.

Henry Adams, B.A. 1925.

Born June 15, 1904, in Hanover, N. H.

Died January 28, 1926, in Washington, Conn

Father, Warren Austin Adams (B.A. 1886, M.A. New York University 1891, Ph.D. Yale 1896, honorary M.A. Dartmouth 1908); for several years an instructor in German at Yale; a member of the Dartmouth College faculty since 1899; son of Emerson Henry and Annette (Austin) Adams; descendant of General David Adams, of Canton Center, Conn. Mother, Grace (Smith) Adams (B L Smith 1894); daughter of Capt. Sidney B. Smith and Mariana (Sutton) Smith, her mother belonging to a Friends' family of Fairfax Court House, Va. Uncle, Spencer L. Adams, '95 L.

At the age of five went abroad with his parents and brother, Austin L. Adams, '18, and spent a year in Germany Hanover High School. Member Freshman Glee Club, Apollo Glee Club Sophomore year, and division 2 of University Glee Club Senior year; manager championship Freshman Lacrosse Team 1923-24, receiving his numerals; during summer of 1924 made a trip to Europe with his father.

Began the study of architecture in an architect's office in Auburn, N. Y., during summer of 1925, but later decided to teach; taught history and English at the Gunnery School in Washington, Conn., from September until his death; had practically decided on a teaching career in history.

Death, due to pneumonia, occurred very suddenly after an illness of only four days. Buried in the Dartmouth Cemetery, Hanover. Survived by his father and brother, his mother having died when he was eleven years old.

SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL

Alexander Hamilton Kent, Ph.B. 1857.

Born November 13, 1838, in Jackson, La
Died August 23, 1914, in Atlanta, Ga

Father, John Kent, a merchant; son of John Kent; descendant of Thomas Kent, who came to America from England in 1640 and settled at Gloucester, Mass. Mother, Ann Rebecca (Watson) Kent; daughter of Stone and Anne (Coolidge) Watson.

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute. Studied at University of Louisiana for two years before entering Sheffield Scientific School in 1855. Engineering course; member Brothers in Unity.

Engaged in the hotel business in New Orleans, La., 1857-1860; served in the Confederate Army during Civil War as a member of Company B, Crescent Volunteers; immediately after the war established the first commercial fertilizer plant in the South; employed by U. S. Weather Bureau at Beeville, Texas, 1895-1902; manufacturer and dealer in gas lights in Newark, N. J., 1902-1911; then retired from business and lived in Atlanta until his death; member of Protestant Episcopal Church, Marietta, Ga.

Married May 5, 1864, in Marietta, Clara, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Fisher) Freeman. Children. Thomas Freeman; Annie Coolidge (Mrs. Thomas Benjamin Russell); Charles Joseph (died in infancy); Clement Fisher, Alexander Hamilton, Jr.; Edgar Russ; and Harry Watson. Mrs. Kent died August 11, 1884.

Death due to nephritis. Buried in the Episcopal Cemetery, Marietta. Survived by five children.

Sidney Irving Smith, Ph.B. 1867.

Born February 18, 1843, in Norway, Maine
Died May 6, 1926, in New Haven, Conn

Father, Elliot Smith, a carriage maker; held many town offices; member Maine State Legislature; son of Joshua and Molly (Woodman) Smith; descendant of Hezadiah Smith, of Beverly, Mass., and of James Smith, who received a land grant at Gloucester, Mass., in 1642. Mother, Lavinia Howard (Barton) Smith; daughter of Aaron and Sally (Smith) Barton; granddaughter of Asa Barton, a soldier in the Revolutionary War; descendant of Caleb Barton, of Oxford, Mass., and of Samuel Barton of Salem, Mass., who married Hannah Bridges, who was concerned in the witchcraft trials. Yale relatives: Addison E. Verrill (B.S. Harvard 1862, honorary M.A. Yale 1867; professor of zoology at Yale from 1864 to 1907) (brother-in-law); George E. Verrill, '85 S., A. Hyatt Verrill, ex-'91 Art, and Clarence S. Verrill, ex-'97 S. (nephews); and Lucy L. Verrill Howe, ex-'01 Art (niece), the wife of Samuel H. Howe, Jr. '02.

Norway Liberal Institute and Bethel (Maine) Preparatory School. Had collected and studied flowering plants and ferns of Norway and vicinity, discovering many rare species, and had also made large collections of insects before entering Yale. Course in natural history; won first Berzelius Prize Senior year (charter member of that society).

Assistant in zoology at Yale 1867-1874, instructor in comparative anatomy 1874-75, professor of comparative anatomy 1875-1906, and since then professor emeritus; had charge of deep-water dredging in Lake Superior for U. S. Lake Survey 1871 and for U. S. Coast Survey about St. George's Bank 1872, engaged in biological and deep-sea work of U. S. Fish Commission 1871-1887; joined Professor Verrill in several dredging expeditions to the Bay of Fundy and other places, making collections for the Yale Museum, and later gave his own collection of the deep-sea Crustacea to the museum; with Professor Verrill made all the plans and detailed drawings and specifications for furniture and exhibition cases in a part of the first Peabody Museum; author of numerous zoological papers dealing especially with marine Crustacea, published in various scientific magazines, among them American Naturalist, American Journal of Science, Canadian Naturalist, and Annals and Magazine of Natural History (London); had contributed extensively to annual reports of U. S. Fish Commission and Coast and Lake Surveys, in connection with his work for the Government, and also to reports of Department of Marine and Fisheries of Canada, and bulletins and proceedings of United States National Museum, Museum of Comparative Zoology, and National Academy of Science (member of last named since 1884); member of various other scientific societies; as state entomologist of Maine and Connecticut for a number of years had contributed to annual reports of Boards of Agriculture in those states; in 1890 revised the definitions in anatomy in Webster's International Dictionary; honorary M.A. Yale 1887.

Married June 29, 1882, in New Haven, Eugenia Pocahontas, daughter of Edward Brady and Sarah D. (Taylor) Barber. No children. Mrs. Smith died March 14, 1916.

Death due to cancer of the throat; had been in feeble health for several years; had been partially blind since 1906, and totally blind for several years. Buried in Evergreen Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by two nieces and two nephews

Andrew Dwight Chidsey, Ph.B. 1869.

Born September 30, 1848, in East Haven, Conn
Died January 25, 1926, in Easton, Pa

Father, Russell Smith Chidsey; charter member of the Warren Foundry and the Thomas Iron Company at Easton; son of Samuel C. and Betsey (Holt) Chidsey, who came to America from England in 1644 and settled at East Haven Mother, Lucy Morris (Street) Chidsey; daughter of Elnathan Street; descendant of the Rev. Nicholas Street, who came to New Haven from England in 1659.

Lawrenceville School. Select course; member Scientific Baseball Club

Became engaged in paint manufacturing business in Easton soon after graduation; in 1893 formed a partnership with S. Holland Hackett under firm name of Hackett & Chidsey, bankers and brokers, and continued in that connection until his death; director Warren Foundry, Thomas Iron Company, Easton National Bank, Easton Trust Company, and Fire Insurance Company of Northampton County (member of its executive committee); trustee of Easton Board of Trade from 1909 until his death; charter member of "The Crypt," a social organization, which later became the Pomfret Club (of which he was a director); former member and deacon of American Reformed Church, which became the Second Presbyterian Church (of which he was a trustee); later became member of College Hill Presbyterian Church.

Married (1) October 7, 1875, in Easton, Emily Stewart, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth McKeen. Children: Helen Street (Mrs. Charles E. Hulick); Andrew Dwight, Jr. (C.E. Lafayette 1901); Thomas McKeen (B.A. Lafayette 1904, LL B. University of Pennsylvania 1907); Harold Russell (B.A. Lafayette 1909, M.A. Columbia 1914 and Harvard 1915, Ph D. Harvard 1920). Mrs. Chidsey died July 25, 1893. Married (2) May 20, 1903, in Easton, Georgeanna Lake Lightner, daughter of George William and Anna Guild (Youngman) Lake. One son, Alan Lake (B.A. Union 1925).

Death due to carcinoma of the colon; had been in ill health for about two years. Buried in Easton. Survived by wife, five children, nine grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Emily H. Rodenbough and a brother, Charles F. Chidsey, both of Easton.

Frederick Stoever Dickson, Ph.B. 1871.

Born June 24, 1850, in Utica, N. Y.
Died December 1, 1925, in Philadelphia, Pa.

Father, the Rev. Hugh Sheridan Dickson (B.A. Union 1839, D D Hamilton 1841); a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary and a Presbyterian minister with pastorates in Kentucky, Indiana, New York, and Pennsylvania; born in Rathfryland, County Down, Ireland; son of Alexander and Sarah (McKee) Dickson; came to America in 1827. Mother, Sarah Margaret (Stoever) Dickson; daughter of Frederick and Sarah (Reigart) Stoever; third in descent from the Rev. John Caspar Stoever, who came to America from Germany in 1735, and settled at Lebanon, Pa., and established the first Lutheran church in the state. Brother: Allan H. Dickson, ex-'72.

Hill School. Select course; left Yale at end of Junior year; received degree of Ph.B. in 1903, with enrollment in Class of 1871 S Member Delta Psi.

Engaged in study of law in Philadelphia 1871-74; admitted to Pennsylvania Bar in 1874; practiced in Philadelphia 1874-79 and 1884-1898; associated with John Wanamaker of Philadelphia 1879-1884; president of the Solicitors Company of Philadelphia 1885-86; lived in Cleveland, Ohio, from 1902 to 1908; president of Cuyahoga, Federal, United States, Stark County, Youngstown, Zanesville, Lancaster, Massillon, Columbiana, Citizens, Fostoria, and Findlay Telephone companies in Ohio 1902-05; made trustee of bankers' committee of Everett-Moore Syndicate of Cleveland in 1903; originator of plan of profit sharing for employees of Cuyahoga Telephone Company in 1903; manager of Cleveland office of the banking and brokerage firm of A. O. Brown & Company of New York City 1906-08; president of The Abrasive Company of Bricksburg, Philadelphia, 1893-1903 and chairman of the board since 1903; resided in that city 1910-13, then in New York City until 1924, and since then in Philadelphia again; author: An Analysis of Blackstone's Commentaries (1874), An Analysis of Kent's Commentaries (1876), And the Wilderness Blossomed (1901), Our Annual Execution by W. M. Tbackeray (1902), A Bibliography of Tbackeray in the United States (1904), Telephone Investments and Others (1905), and A Bibliography of Henry Fielding (1918); during the last few years of his life engaged in compiling an Abnaki-English Lexicon, founded upon the French-Abnaki work of Sebastian Rale, a Jesuit priest to the Indians of Maine; edited for the Rowfant Club of Cleveland Thomas Keightley's The Life and Writings of Henry Fielding in 1907; had contributed essays to North American Review, Yale Review, Literary Art Notes and Queries (both of London), and Everybody's Magazine, and an article on Wall Street gambling ("The Poison of the Street") to the latter magazine in 1909; donated his Fielding collection of about 2,000 volumes (the most complete in the world) to the Yale University Library in 1913 in appreciation of Professor Thomas R. Lounsbury; member of many clubs, among them the Titmarsh Club of London; president of Yale Alumni Association of Cleveland in 1906 and 1907 and of Association of Western Yale Clubs 1908; member Walnut Street Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia.

Married February 17, 1874, in Conshohocken, Pa., Helen Hortense, daughter of John and Eunice (Phelps) Hickman, of West Chester, Pa. Children: Elizabeth (Mrs. Maximilian Foster) and Frederick Stoever, 2d, '03 S. Mrs. Dickson died November 19, 1925.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia. Survived by son and daughter.

Gordon Edward Sherman, Ph.B. 1876.

Born August 11, 1854, in Morristown, N. J.

Died November 28, 1925, in Morristown, N. J.

Father, Byron Sherman; connected with Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York; capitalist; art collector; son of John and Lucy Pomeroy (King) Sherman; descendant of Edmund Sherman, who came to Watertown, Mass., from England in 1634 and was admitted as a freeman in New Haven in 1636. Mother, Julia Antoinette (Burnham) Sherman; daughter of Gordon and Marcia (Condict) Burnham; granddaughter of Ebenezer Condict, a Revolutionary soldier; descendant of Thomas Burnham, who came from England to Ipswich, Mass.

Preparatory training received at College Gaillard, Lausanne, Switzerland, and at Morris Academy, Morristown. Select course; poet at Freshman Class Supper; Class poet Senior year; member Sigma Delta Chi.

Studied law in his father's office in Morristown and, for two years, at Washington University Law School (St. Louis), where he received degree of LL.B. in 1878; admitted to New Jersey Bar in November, 1879; practiced in Newark until 1885 and subsequently in New York City; while in Newark was appointed a special master and examiner in chancery; associated with his father in the insurance business in St. Louis 1890-91; instructor in comparative constitutional law and the German Code at Yale 1906-07, assistant professor of comparative law 1910-11, and assistant professor of international law 1911-16; delegate from Connecticut to International Prison Congress in Washington 1910 and Yale delegate to Conference of Teachers of International Law 1914 and to second Pan-American Scientific Congress 1915 (both in Washington), at the latter delivering an address on "Evolution of Public Law"; one of revisers of English Translation of the Swiss Civil Code 1915; editor of the fourth edition of George B. Davis' Elements of International Law 1916; editor for Switzerland of Comparative Law Bureau of the American Bar Association 1924; had contributed numerous articles to Yale Law Journal, Journal of the American Bar Association, St. Louis Law Review, and American Journal of International Law; trustee of Morris County Bar Association; member American Bar Association, Association of the Bar of the City of New York, New York State Bar Association, American Society of International Law, International Association of Comparative Jurisprudence and Political Economy of Berlin, American Academy of Political Science, American Political Science Association, Archæological Institute of America, Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences, American Historical Association, New Jersey Historical Society, Washington Association of New Jersey, Grotius Society of London, Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Delta Phi, and Morristown Civic Association; director Morristown Memorial Hospital; vice-president board of trustees of South Street Presbyterian Church, Morristown.

Married June 12, 1894, in Morristown, Harriet Emmons, daughter of William Henry and Charlotte Johnes (Kirtland) Shelton. No children.

Death due to intestinal trouble. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Morristown. Survived by wife, a half brother, Charles P. Sherman, of Philadelphia, and two sisters, Miss Julia F. Sherman and Mrs. Charles Gordon Knox, both of Morristown.

Robert Samuel Hulbert, Ph.B. 1878.

Born April 6, 1854, in Winsted, Conn.
Died December 20, 1925, in Winsted, Conn.

Father, Timothy Hulbert; founder of the Hulbert Iron Company of Winsted. Mother, Ruth (Kelley) Hulbert; daughter of Samuel and Lucinda (Loveland) Kelley.

Williston Academy and Eastman Business College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Taught in Norfolk, Conn., before entering Sheffield Scientific School. Civil engineering course; member Class Crew and a Class historian Freshman year; an editor of Yale Record; member Alpha Chi and Theta Xi.

Taught in New Hartford, Conn., for a short time after graduation; then engaged in the practice of his profession as a civil engineer until 1880; manager of Hulbert Iron Company 1880-86, member of firm of Howe Brothers & Hulbert, manufacturers of hardware specialties, from 1886 to 1892, when the business was sold; editor of Winsted Daily Herald 1893-95; civil engineer for town of Winsted 1896-1907 (made plans for its sewer system); served one term as selectman; division engineer of Connecticut State Highway Department 1907-1920, became general manager of Citizen Printing Company of Winsted in 1920, upon its reorganization (principally through his efforts), and held that position until his death; also managing editor of the company's three publications, Winsted Evening Citizen, Litchfield County Leader, and Winsted Herald, since 1920; in 1904 wrote an historical article with reference to Winchester, Conn., for the Connecticut Magazine; in 1921, on the occasion of the celebration of the 150th anniversary of Winsted, delivered an address upon "Winchester's One Hundred and Fifty Years" at the home of the Winchester Historical Society, of which he was a member; also member Connecticut Society of Civil Engineers, Connecticut Editorial Association, and Second Congregational Church, Winsted.

Married January 18, 1881, in Winsted, Mary Eugenie, daughter of Lewis and Caroline (Culver) Andrews One son, Timothy Andrews (B S. Worcester Polytechnic Institute 1906)

Death due to complications, following an operation in June, 1924. Buried in Forest View Cemetery, Winsted. Survived by wife, son, and a sister, Mrs. Laura J. VanDeusen, of New Haven

Nathaniel Terry Bacon, Ph.B. 1879.

Born August 16, 1858, in Litchfield, Conn.

Died January 3, 1926, in Peace Dale, R. I.

Father, the Rev. Leonard Woolsey Bacon (B.A. 1850, M.D. 1856, D.D. 1879); pastor of the American Church in Geneva, Switzerland, of Congregational churches in Norwich, Conn., and Assonet, Mass., and of Presbyterian churches in Philadelphia and in Savannah, Ga; author; son of the Rev. Leonard Bacon (B.A. 1820, D.D. Hamilton 1842, LL.D. Harvard 1870) and Lucy (Johnson) Bacon; descendant of Michael Bacon (born in England), who came from Ireland to Dedham, Mass., in 1638. Mother, Susan (Bacon) Bacon, daughter of Nathaniel Almorán and Almira (Selden) Bacon, descendant of Nathaniel Bacon, an original settler of Middletown, Conn., in 1650. Yale relatives include: Benjamin W. Bacon (B.A. 1847), Theodore Bacon, '53, Francis Bacon, '53 M., the Rev. George B. Bacon, '56, Eugene Smith, '59, the Rev. Edward W. Bacon, '69 D., the Rev. Thomas R. Bacon, '72, and Alfred T. Bacon, '73 (uncles), B. Selden Bacon, '11, Wallace G. Corwin, '17, and Leonard W. Bacon, Jr., ex-'17 (nephews); and Henry Selden Bacon, '93, Leonard B. Smith, '94, Leonard B. Bacon, '96, Winthrop D. Smith, '96, Leonard B. Parks, '09, Roger T. Bacon, ex-'11 S, Alfred H. T. Bacon, '14, Henry W. Closson, '16, David Bacon, '25, and Leonard L. Bacon, '28 (cousins).

Hopkins Grammar School and Gymnase Technique of the University of Geneva. Civil engineering course; prize in German Senior year; member Dunham Boat Club

Timekeeper and gauger on the Diamond Reef harbor improvements in New York November, 1879–February, 1880; in the employ of the Northern Pacific Railroad for next few months; with the West Shore, South Pennsylvania, Allegheny Central, and New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad companies 1880–84; in 1884 was sent to Europe to study the Solvay Process in Belgium, France, Germany, and England, assistant to the president of the Solvay Process Company of Syracuse, N. Y., in the capacity of technical expert October 1, 1884–November 1, 1924, at first in Syracuse, and from 1895 in Peace Dale; president of Narragansett Pier Railroad Company 1915-1924 and of Southern Realty Company from about 1907 until 1923; principal owner of the Sea View Railroad property, a Washington County electric line, 1922-25, had wide interests in Alabama, where he owned a large cotton plantation and was engaged in the lumber business with the Benton Lumber Company at Benton; director of Belanger's, Inc., Bluefields, Nicaragua, the Manhattan Rubber Company of New York, and the Phoenix Linen Company of North Brookfield, Mass.; had contributed many articles on economic, historical, architectural, and financial subjects to the Yale Review, the Booklover's Magazine, the Architectural Record, and the New York Times, author of a translation of Augustin Cournot's Mathematical Principles of the Theory of Wealth (1897), of a metrical translation of the first book of Homer's Iliad, and of numerous articles on chemical subjects published in chemical journals; inventor of many highly complicated chemical processes which were bought and used by the Solvay Process Company; honorary member American Chemical Society and Society of Colonial Governors; member American Economic Association and Society of Chemical Industry; deacon of Peace Dale Congregational Church, had given much time to the work of the Near East Relief

Married October 6, 1885, in Peace Dale, Helen, daughter of Rowland Hazard (B A Brown 1849) and Margaret Anna (Rood) Hazard Children Leonard, '09, who held a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Service during the war, and Susan, the wife of Elmer D. Keith, '10. Mrs. Bacon died October 26, 1925

Death, due to angina pectoris, occurred after a very brief illness Buried in Peace Dale. Survived by son, daughter, five grandchildren, four brothers, Benjamin W. Bacon, '81, Selden Bacon, ex-'83, Theodore D. Bacon, '83 S., and Leonard W. Bacon, '88, a half brother, David L. Bacon, '16 S, and four sisters, Miss S. Almira Bacon (B.A. Mount Holyoke 1905, Ph.D 1911), Elizabeth B. Greene, the wife of Prescott M Greene, '03 S, Margaret B Corwin, the wife of Robert N. Corwin, '87, and Mabel B. Ripley, the wife of Philip F. Ripley, '97

George Edward Goodspeed, Ph.B. 1880.

Born February 22, 1859, in East Haddam, Conn.

Died December 5, 1925, in Brookline, Mass.

Father, George Edward Goodspeed, a merchant and ship-builder; member of firm of G. E. & W. H. Goodspeed of East Haddam for almost twenty years, son of Joseph and Laura (Tyler) Goodspeed; descendant of Roger Goodspeed, who came from England to Barnstable, Mass., in 1641. Mother, Nancy Green (Hayden) Goodspeed, daughter of Horace and Nancy (Green) Hayden; descendant of John Hayden, who came to America from England in 1630 and settled at Dorchester, Mass. Cousins: Richard G. Greene, '49, Richard H. Greene, '62, and Donald Greene, '08.

Hopkins Grammar School Select course; member Berzelius.

Connected with New England Railroad Company at Boston 1880-81; has since been associated with Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company (clerk until 1896, assistant treasurer 1896-99, and since then treasurer), lived in Watertown, Mass.; served on the school committee 1898-1901 and as trustee of the public library 1912-17; in 1904 was elected a corporator of Watertown Savings Bank (trustee since 1911; member of the auditing committee since 1913); member St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, East Haddam.

Married (1) February 23, 1886, in Roslindale, Mass., Isabel Sprague, daughter of Charles Augustus and Isabel Elizabeth Goddard. One son, George Edward, Jr. (B S Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1910). Mrs Goodspeed died April 22, 1887. Married (2) June 6, 1894, in Cambridge, Mass., Gertrude, daughter of Cicero and Mary Abbie (Frederickson) Gale. One son, Hayden (B A Harvard 1916).

Death, due to chronic myocarditis, occurred after a brief illness at Corey Hill Hospital, Brookline; his body was cremated and the ashes buried in the Cambridge Cemetery. Survived by wife, two sons, two grandchildren, and a brother, Joseph H. Goodspeed (honorary M.A. Trinity 1901), of Boston.

James Minor Maghee, Ph.B. 1884.

Born August 23, 1865, in Evansville, Ind.

Died June 22, 1926, in West Orange, N. J

Father, Gillison Maghee, a merchant; son of William and Frances (Holme) Maghee; ancestors settled in Bordentown, N. J. Mother, Jacqueline Elizabeth (Minor) Maghee; daughter of Henry Lee and Elizabeth (Elliott) Minor; descendant of John Minor, who came to this country from England early in 1620 and settled in Westmoreland County, Va

East Orange (N. J) High School Entered Sheffield Scientific School with Class of 1884, but received degree with Class of 1885; in 1914 was enrolled with '84 S. Member Chi Phi.

Entered College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, in October, 1884, and there received degree of M.D. 1887; house surgeon and physician at New York Maternity and Charity (now City) hospitals 1887-88; studied abroad 1888-89; engaged in private practice in West Orange since 1889, attending physician to Orange Memorial Hospital since 1901; medical inspector of West Orange schools since 1906; town physician of West Orange for fifteen years and member of Board of Health for many years; director First National Bank of West Orange; member American, Essex County, and Orange Mountain Medical Societies, Orange Practitioners Society, Essex County Milk Commission, New England Society, Society of the Alumni of the City [Charity] Hospital, First Presbyterian Church, Orange, and Trinity Congregational Church, East Orange.

Married June 3, 1891, in Boston, Emma Louise, daughter of Henry and Lorette (Rowley) Ricker. No children.

Death due to septic poisoning. Buried in Forest Hills Cemetery, Boston. Survived by wife and a sister, Mrs. Henry H. Snow, of West Orange.

John Joseph Flather, Ph.B. 1885.

Born June 9, 1862, in Philadelphia, Pa
Died May 14, 1926, in Minneapolis, Minn

Father, Henry Flather, a construction engineer; superintendent of Elias Howe Sewing Machine Company, Bridgeport, Conn., for thirteen years and spent some time in Glasgow, Scotland, in their interests; inventor of a gun used in the Civil War; son of Mark and Ellen (Hodgson) Flather, descendant of Henry Flather, who came to Bridgeport from Bradford, England, in 1857. Mother, Sarah Susan (Hockensmith) Flather; daughter of John George Samuel Adam and Lydia Ann (Adams) Hockensmith, descendant of George Hockensmith, whose father, George Hockensmith, was a First Lieutenant in Washington's Army and whose father-in-law, Adam Hoffman, came to this country from Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, and settled in Frederick County, Md, moving to Baltimore in 1778; a tract of land was granted to Conrad Hockensmith in 1743, which is the first record of the family in Annapolis, Md.

Early education received in private schools in Scotland and preparation for college at Bridgeport High School Dynamic engineering course; divided prize in mechanical drawing and received second prize in English composition Freshman year, secretary and treasurer of his Class Junior year and vice-president Senior year. For four years before entering Yale and during his course in Sheffield Scientific School had practical experience with various New England machine shops.

Foreman for Ansonia (Conn) Electric Company 1885-86; superintendent of Buffalo (N. Y.) Steam Pump Works 1886-87 and of Hotchkiss Manufacturing Company of Bridgeport 1887-88; instructor in mechanical engineering at Lehigh University 1888-1891; took graduate course at Cornell University 1889-1890 (M M.E. 1890), professor of mechanical engineering at Purdue University 1891-98; since then professor of mechanical engineering and head of the department at University of Minnesota; during sabbatical year abroad in 1914-15 did some work at University of Edinburgh; spent a second sabbatical leave in Oakland, Calif., 1923-24; had been engaged during summer vacations and at other times in general consulting engineering work, which included gas engine investigations, waterworks layouts and installations, testing power plants of various kinds, and design and installation of heating and ventilating plants; director of Globe Iron Works Company 1904-1911 (managing director and president during a portion of the time); visited laboratories, shops, museums, and libraries in England and Scotland and on the Continent during 1914-15; had engaged in various research investigations, including combustion and gas engine performances with natural gas, artificial gas, gasoline, and kerosene, some of the results of which were published in technical journals; had also made investigations as to the power required to drive machinery (results published in American Machinist and later in book form) and in rope transmission; developed the Flather transmission and hydraulic dynamometer, many of which are in use in various universities and commercial plants of this country and abroad; during recent years had carried on extensive investigations regarding the cooling effect in refrigerator cars and was interested in the movement of chimney gases, studying the subject in connection with observations of the University of Minnesota power plant chimney, which was designed and fitted up with special reference to his researches in this subject; joint author with Robert Wilson of A Treatise on Steam Boilers (1889), and with Charles E. Lucke of Engineering Thermodynamics and of Engineering Thermodynamic Tables (chiefly Professor Lucke's; revised by Professor Flather at the request of McGraw-Hill Book Company 1915); author: Dynamometers and the Measurement of Power (1892, second edition 1900, third edition 1907, rewritten and published 1922); Rope Driving (1895, second edition 1907); and two brief texts for the use of students, Kinematic Notes (1904) and the Transmission of Power (1908); at the time of his death had nearly completed a book on the history of engineering; had contributed articles and reviews to American Machinist, Manufacturer's Gazette, Machinery, Electrical World, Western Electrician, Engineering News, and the proceedings of various technical societies; during one summer made an extensive trip to Fiji Islands, New Zealand, and Australia, bringing back a valuable collection of various objects; member and secretary of Voting

Machine Commission 1904-1921; in 1916 appointed one of the state directors of Organization for Industrial Preparedness and also made an associate member of Naval Consulting Board; treasurer (1895-1909) and vice-president (1902-03) of Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education; Fellow American Association for the Advancement of Science (vice-president 1901-02); associate member American Institute of Electrical Engineers (former vice-president); member American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Society of Industrial Engineers, Yale Engineering Association, American Waterworks Association, Society for Historical Research, Newcomen Society for Historical Research (London), American Association of University Professors, Minnesota Historical Society, Minneapolis Engineer's Club, Author's Club (London), and University of Minnesota chapters of Sigma Xi, Tau Beta Pi, and Pi Tau Sigma; vice-president Minnesota Sanitary Association and Northwest Railway Club; member First Congregational Church, Minneapolis.

Married (1) June 18, 1890, in Stamford, Conn., Harriet Frances, daughter of Bennet D. and Mary Elizabeth (Quintard) Lum. One daughter, Mary Elizabeth, a member of the Class of 1927 at the University of Minnesota. Mrs. Flather died December 23, 1917. Married (2) February 23, 1925, in Dayton, Ohio, Florence Evelyn, daughter of Albert William and Elizabeth Ellen Foster.

Death due to angina pectoris; had not been in the best of health for several years, but had continued his work at the university up to the day of his death. Buried in Lakewood Cemetery, Minneapolis. Survived by wife, daughter, and a brother, Herbert Flather, of Meriden, Conn.

Percy Lyford Lang, Ph.B. 1885.

Born June 8, 1861, in Waverly, N. Y.

Died April 8, 1926, in Rochester, N. Y.

Father, Andrew Jackson Lang, a founder and principal of Waverly Academy; son of Samuel and Sally (Smith) Lang; descendant of Robert Lang, who came to America from England in 1670 and settled at Portsmouth, N. H. Mother, Elvira (Lyford) Lang; daughter of Albert and Phoebe (Bates) Lyford; descendant of Francis Lyford, who came from England to Boston prior to 1667.

Prepared under a private tutor in Waverly. Select course; member Delta Psi.

Engaged in hardware business in Waverly 1885-87, had since been connected with First National Bank at Waverly, at first as teller, then as cashier (1893 to 1913), and afterwards as vice-president; director of National Protective Legion; member of F. E. Lyford Insurance Agency; served on Loan Commission of Tioga County 1917-18; president of board of managers of Craig Colony for Epileptics at Sonyea, N. Y., a state charitable institution, since 1906; in 1916 was elected president of Association of Managers of State Charitable and Reformatory Institutions in the State of New York; during the war served as vice-director of National War Savings Committee for New York state and as lieutenant general and chief of staff of War Savings Army of the United States of America, of which he was the founder; member of Presbyterian Church, Waverly.

Married (1) November 18, 1885, Alice Sarah, daughter of Nathan S. and Bessie (Cable) Johnson, of Ansonia, Conn. Children: Alice Marion (B A Wellesley 1911), the wife of George VanD. Dayton; Gertrude (Mrs Wilmot J. Hall); Percy Lyford, Jr., who attended the University of Pennsylvania; and Helen Lyford (died in 1900). Mrs. Lang died August 7, 1903. Married (2) September 1, 1906, in Owego, N. Y., Marie Louise Hoskins King, daughter of Watson L. and Frances (Allen) Hoskins. No children by second marriage. Mrs. Lang died April 2, 1919.

Death due to apoplexy. Buried in Glenwood Cemetery, Waverly. Survived by two daughters, two stepdaughters (whom he had adopted), Onalee King (Mrs Harold Clarey) and Phyllis King (Mrs. Stanley Fitts), a son, six grandchildren, and a brother, Louis J. Lang, of Brooklyn.

Francis Frederic Georger, Ph.B. 1887.

Born April 6, 1865, in New York City.
Died January 11, 1926, at Great Neck, N. Y.

Father, Louis Franklin Georger, a graduate of Nazareth (Pa.) College; senior partner in mercantile firm of C. G. Gunther's Sons, founded by his maternal grandfather in 1820. Mother, Arnie Amelia (Close) Georger; daughter of Charles A. and Mary Van Antwerp (Lynch) Close; direct descendant of Aneke Jans, one of the first residents of New Amsterdam.

Episcopal Academy, Cheshire, Conn. Select course; an editor of Yale Record; member University Glee Club and Book and Snake.

Had been engaged in real estate and insurance business from graduation until about a year before his death as treasurer of firm of Brooke & Georger, Inc., in New York City; member 7th Regiment Veterans Association and Real Estate Board of New York; home was at Great Neck, Long Island.

Married (1) September 25, 1895, in Flemington, N. J., Florence Bates Emery. Married (2) February 28, 1910, in Boston, Mass., Hatibel Hale, daughter of Frank Badger Cardell. No children. Had been married a third time.

Death due to heart disease. Interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by wife, Anna M. Georger

Charles Sherman Jewett, Ph.B. 1887.

Born March 16, 1865, in Moravia, N. Y.
Died November 5, 1925, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Father, Charles Carroll Jewett (M.D. University of Buffalo 1850), a physician in Moravia until his death, son of Josiah and Sophia (Skinner) Jewett; grandson of Capt. Joseph Jewett, who was killed at the battle of Long Island; descendant of Joseph Jewett, who came to America from Rowley, Yorkshire, England, in 1638 and settled in Massachusetts, naming the town Rowley. Mother, Ellen Ransom Burroughs Jewett; daughter of John Sears and Lydia (Clarke) Ransom; adopted by Daniel Burroughs, whose wife, Sarah, was a sister of Mrs

Ransom; descendant of Robert Ransom, who came to this country from England prior to 1654 and settled at Plymouth Mass. Cousins. Josiah Jewett, '63, Dr. Carlton R. Jewett, '78, George J. Kennedy, ex-'89, Sherman S. Jewett, '91, Nathan H. Jewett, '94, N. Holland Jewett, '09, Carlton C. Jewett, '10, Robert J. Jewett, '17, Kelsey H. Jewett, '23 S., and Sherman S. Jewett, Jr., '27 S.

Buffalo Central High School. Biology course; first prize in mathematics and divided a prize in German Freshman year; read thesis at Commencement, member Berzelius

M. D. Columbia 1890, had since practiced in Buffalo, at one time being in partnership with his cousin, Dr. Carlton R. Jewett, spent years of 1891 and 1898 in graduate work at universities in Berlin, Prague, Vienna, and Gratz, and at Leopold's Klinik in Dresden; held diplomas from Charity [City] and Maternity hospitals, New York City; during the war served as member of Medical Advisory Board No. 23 of the Buffalo District; application for commission in Medical Corps, U. S. A., was pending at time of armistice, had been president of Buffalo Academy of Medicine (1906-07), Erie County Hospital Board, and State Board of Midwifery; member American Medical Association, American Academy of Medicine, New York State Medical Society, Erie County Medical Society, Erie County Board of Midwifery, and Westminster Presbyterian Church, Buffalo Married June 10, 1912, in Buffalo, Edith Leslie Fraser, of Inverness, Scotland, daughter of Archibald and Anne (McDonald) McPherson. No children.

Death due to heart disease, from which he had suffered for two years. Buried in family plot in Moravia. Survived by wife and a sister, Mrs. Henry Hunt, of South Hadley, Mass.

Robert McKnight Woods, Ph.B. 1887.

Born June 1, 1864, in New Haven, Conn.

Died August 9, 1925, in St. Paul, Minn.

Father, Joseph Woods, a banker; connected with Second National Bank of New Haven. Mother, Frances (McKnight) Woods, daughter of Horace and Asenath (Kimball) McKnight; descendant of John McKnight, who came to this country from Scotland in 1731 and settled in New Haven Cousins Dr Everett J. McKnight, '76, and the Rev. Harry C. McKnight, '82.

Hillhouse High School Entered Sheffield Scientific School with Class of 1886, but left at end of Junior year; joined Class of 1887 S. as a Senior in fall of 1886; chemistry course; member Theta Xi.

Engaged in practice of his profession as a chemist since graduation; with Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company at Aurora, Ill., 1887-1892; with Chicago & Northwestern Railway at Chicago 1892-98; with Great Northern Railway at St Paul, Minn., 1898-1900; chief chemist at Plano works of International Harvester Company at Pullman, Ill, 1900-05; chief chemist for Northern Pacific Railroad Company at St. Paul from 1905 until a month before his death, member American Chemical Society, American Society for Testing Materials, and Olivet Congregational Church, St Paul.

Married June 6, 1903, at Lake Geneva, Wis, Agnes Josette, daughter of Andrews Taggart and Josephine (Josette) Merriman. One son, Joseph Merriman.

Death due to pleurisy and heart trouble. Buried in Ellington, Conn. Survived by wife and son.

William Hill Bean, Ph.B. 1888.

Born April 14, 1867, in New Haven, Conn
Died December 1, 1925, in New Haven, Conn

Father, Albert Burchard Bean; with New Haven Manufacturing Company as contractor, superintendent, and a director; his grandfather came from England and settled at Royalton, Vt. Mother, Charlotte Amanda (Carrington) Bean; daughter of Dennis and Eliza (Hoadley) Carrington, descendant of Revennis Carrington, who came to this country from England and settled at Woodbridge, Conn.

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute; also studied privately. Mechanical engineering course

Engaged in manufacture of insulated wire for electric light, telephone, and telegraph purposes and the installation of electric light plants from 1888 to 1893, when the business was closed by the burning of his factory and the death of his partner, Clinton B Hague; later served as assistant superintendent of National Folding Box & Paper Company in New Haven for a year; subsequently engaged in experimental electric work for a Hartford corporation in Hartford and London until 1897, also taking up X-ray work in London for two years; assisted Dr. Archibald McNeil in bacteriological work in New Haven Department of Health 1898-1903; studied at Yale School of Medicine 1899-1903 (chairman of editorial board of Yale Medical Journal 1902-03; member Nu Sigma Nu; M.D. 1903); interne at Bridgeport (Conn.) General Hospital 1903-04; practiced in New Haven in association with Dr. Oliver T. Osborne, '84 M., from 1905 to 1909, when he was obliged to give up practice temporarily on account of a severe infection; had practiced independently since 1910; served in New Haven Free Dispensary 1904-05; connected with Yale School of Medicine 1905-09 (clinical assistant in medicine 1905-06, assistant and instructor in materia medica 1906-08, and instructor in therapeutics 1908-09); contributed to Journal of the American Medical Association; member New Haven County and City Medical associations, Connecticut State Medical Society, Association of Yale Alumni in Medicine, and United Church (Congregational), New Haven

Married April 14, 1916, in New Haven, Catheryn, daughter of Michael and Mary Anna (Wolzumuth) Stein. No children.

Death due to angina pectoris. Buried in Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven Survived by wife

Selden Yale Osborn, Ph.B. 1888.

Born July 16, 1866, in New Haven, Conn
Died November 7, 1925, in South Orange, N. J.

Father, John Joel Osborn, a carriage manufacturer; son of Joel and Nancy (Hitchcock) Osborn; descendant of Thomas Osborn, one of the first settlers of New Haven in 1638, who had come to this country from England. Mother, Charlotte Augusta (Gilbert) Osborn, daughter of Ezekiel and Sarah (Hurd) Gilbert; descendant of Judge Matthew Gilbert, an early settler in the New Haven Colony. Yale relatives include: Thomas Stoddard (M.D. 1836) (uncle), and Norris G. Osborn, '80, Julius G. Day, '87 S., Harry G. Day, '90 S., Charles H. Osborn, '95 S., Louis E. Stoddard, '99, Innis G. Osborn, ex-'04 L., Minott A. Osborn, '07, Edward C. Osborn, '08 S., Gardner Osborn, '15, and Minott L. Osborn, '22 F. (cousins).

Cheshire Academy and Hopkins Grammar School. Mechanical engineering course; member Freshman Baseball Nine and substitute on University Baseball Nine Freshman year; vice-president Baseball Club Junior year, member Book and Snake.

Took graduate work in Sheffield Scientific School 1888-89; was then engaged in real estate business and in brick manufacturing at Kearney, Nebr., 1889-1892 and also traveled extensively in the West and the South; returned to his home in New Haven in 1892 and until 1899 was department manager for E. S. Wheeler & Company, iron merchants and dealers in tinnery and plumbers' supplies; traffic manager of Vacuum Oil Company of Rochester, N. Y., since 1899; represented them at Budapest in 1900, at Hamburg in 1901, and at Paris during 1902-03; again located in Rochester 1905-1916; since 1916 had been their representative in New York City; member Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, New Haven.

Married December 31, 1913, Maude, daughter of John Bunting and Henrietta (Ripley) Worth, of Bath, Maine. No children.

Death, due to a malignant tumor, occurred after a short illness. Buried in Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife and a sister, Mrs. Clarence B. Vorce, and a brother, John J. Osborn, both of New Haven. Two other brothers were the Rev. Robert G. Osborn, '77, and Frederick A. Osborn, '86 L.

Edwin Wright Robinson, Ph.B. 1888.

Born September 7, 1867, in New Haven, Conn.
Died March 6, 1926, in Punxsutawney, Pa.

Father, Warren Robinson, an architect and contracting builder; son of William and Hannah (Robbins) Robinson; descendant of Isaac Robinson, a son of the Rev. John Robinson, who came from Leyden, Holland, in 1631 and settled in Scituate, Mass., in 1636 and in Barnstable, Mass., in 1639; also descended from Elder Brewster of the "Mayflower" company. Mother, Sarah Howard (Woodward) Robinson; daughter of Hazo and Olive (Harsey) Woodward; descendant of Richard Woodward, who came to America from Ipswich, England, in 1634 and was the first of the name in this country. Nephew: Charles R. Pitcher, Jr., ex-'26 S.

Hillhouse High School. Civil engineering course; divided a prize in mechanical drawing; Senior appointment.

Assistant engineer with Bell, Lewis & Yates Mining Company at the Rochester mine, DuBois, Pa., until May, 1889; assistant engineer on construction of Tampico branch of Mexican Central Railway and assistant on preliminary surveys through the mountains of the state of Hidalgo 1889-1891; engaged in surveying town lots near DuBois June-November, 1891; in employ of Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal & Iron Company 1891-1901 (mining engineer on construction at Punxsutawney three years; superintendent of Watson and Adrian mines 1894-96; general superintendent 1896-1901); in West Australia as mining engineer for firm of Bewick, Moreing & Company of London (headquarters at West Collie) 1901-02, and in New South Wales for same firm August-November, 1902; general superintendent for a coal mining firm near Smithfield, Ohio, 1902-04; then returned to Punxsutawney and consolidated two machine companies into the Punxsutawney Foundry & Machine Company, of which he was president and general manager until his death; elected to the City Council of Punxsutawney from the First Ward in 1924 (elected president of the council in January, 1926); had been a trustee of Adrian Hospital at Punxsutawney and treasurer of the Board of Education, during the World War served as chairman of Committee on Materials for Jefferson County, Pa., of State Council of Defense; member Christ Episcopal Church, Punxsutawney.

Married June 21, 1901, in Punxsutawney, Nancy, daughter of James Ezekiel and Caroline (Hoover) Mitchell. One daughter, Kitty Mitchell.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Circle Hill Cemetery,

Punxsutawney. Survived by wife, daughter, two brothers, Lucius W. Robinson, '77 S., and Eugene H. Robinson, of Port Arthur, Texas, and two sisters, Mrs Charles R. Pitcher, of Westfield, N. J., and Miss Julia A. Robinson, of New Haven.

Arthur Herbert Day, Ph.B. 1889.

Born September 9, 1868, in New Haven, Conn.

Died April 23, 1926, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Wilbur Fisk Day, a banker; president of National New Haven Bank; auditor of Yale University for many years; son of Zelotes and Eliza (Atwater) Day, descendant of Robert Day, who came to America from England in 1634 and was one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., in 1639. Mother, Mary Jane (Osborn) Day; daughter of Walter and Mary Jane (Remer) Osborn; descendant of Thomas Osborn, who came to New Haven from Bedfordshire, England, in 1637. Yale relatives include three cousins; Breckinridge A. Day, '13, Clive C. Day, '17, and Gardiner M. Day, '22.

Hopkins Grammar School. Chemistry course, member Book and Snake.

Entered employ of Illinois Steel Company of Chicago as a chemist after graduation; in March, 1890, became member of firm of Kimberly, Root & Day, bankers and brokers in New Haven, and continued in that connection until the dissolution of the firm in 1907, director and secretary-treasurer of National Pipe Bending Company 1907-July, 1925; had since been connected with brokerage firm of Hincks Brothers & Company of New Haven, members of New York Stock Exchange; during Spanish-American War held a commission as a Lieutenant in the United States Navy; had command of the "Restless," a converted gunboat, and later served as navigating officer of the "Buffalo," a transport; secretary of Class of 1889 S since graduation; director of Yale Alumni University Fund Association 1898-1901; in 1925 elected a governor of Yale Publishing Association for term of five years; vice-president of Graduates Club of New Haven in 1919; member Christ Church (Episcopal), New Haven

Married (1) April 21, 1892, in Chicago, Delia, daughter of

Edward P. and Kate (Baxter) Bailey. Children: Katharine Baxter (died in 1918); Mary Osborn; and Walter Bailey, '16 S., who served abroad during the war as a Second Lieutenant in the Sanitary Corps Mrs. Day died October 2, 1910. Married (2) February 1, 1919, in New Haven, Jane Tracy Fabian, daughter of Charles L. and Eva (Hale) Tracy. No children by second marriage.

Death, due to heart disease, occurred after a three weeks' illness Buried in Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven Survived by wife, son, daughter, a stepson, Tracy Fabian, '26 S., and a brother, Osborne A Day, '99 S. Another brother, Wilbur F. Day, '92 S, died in 1914.

Francis Dunlevy McCaulley, Ph.B. 1890.

Born April 15, 1870, in San Francisco, Calif.

Died March 24, 1926, at sea, near Port Sudan, Egypt.

Father, William McCaulley, a broker; son of William and Florence (Ferguson) McCaulley; ancestors came to America from Scotland Mother, Kate (Dunlevy) McCaulley; daughter of Francis and Amanda (Fassett) Dunlevy; descendant of Anthony Dunlevy, who came to this country from Ireland in 1735 and settled at Winchester, Va Cousins: Dunlevy Milbank, '00, and Jeremiah Milbank, '09.

Berkeley School, New York City. Select course; member Class Supper Committee and Book and Snake.

Engaged in business in Denver, Colo, 1890-94; then moved to Chicago, where he was employed by Armour & Company until 1902, and was later with Finley Barrell & Company and with Granger Farwell & Company, bankers; returned to Denver in 1907 and during the next year was manager of bond department of Otis, Hough & Company; associated with John J Key in the bond and irrigation securities business as senior member of firm of McCaulley & Key 1908-09; was subsequently with G. F. Hutton & Company, Otis & Company, bankers, and Producers & Refiners Corporation; retired from active business in 1919

Married January 27, 1917, at Lake Forest, Ill., Laura Seager, daughter of Horace Brewster and Mary Frances (Russell) Rogers Adopted children: Vance, '28, and Francis Dunlevy, Jr, who enters Yale in the fall of 1926. Mrs. McCaulley died September 27, 1917.

Death, due to jaundice, occurred on the S S. "Orca" in the Red Sea. Buried at sea Survived by sons, a sister, Mrs. Harry B. Combs, of Denver, and a brother, Capt. Edwin P. McCaulley, U. S. Marines, of Quantico, Va.

Walter Woodruff Keith, Ph.B. 1892.

Born July 4, 1869, in Chicago, Ill.

Died September 1, 1925, in Baltimore, Md.

Father, Edson Keith; president of Edson Keith & Company, grain merchants of Chicago; descendant of James Keith, who came from Scotland to Bridgewater, Mass, in 1662 and was later ordained as a Presbyterian minister Mother, Susan (Woodruff) Keith. Yale relatives include a nephew, Frederick W. Keith, ex-'15 S, and a cousin, Elbridge B Keith, '90 S.

Harvard School, Chicago Select course, member Book and Snake.

Manager of Keith & Company for a time and partner in the firm for a number of years; had retired from active business some time before his death; had played polo for many years, and was a nationally known sportsman.

Married October 14, 1896, in Baltimore, Frances Winchester, daughter of George Brown, of Brooklandville, Md. One son, Walter Winchester, ex-'23 S

Death due to heart disease. Buried in Chicago Survived by wife, son, and a brother, Edson Keith, '84 S.

Hampton Howell, Ph.B. 1893.

Born May 18, 1872, in Brooklyn, N Y

Died January 5, 1926, in Stamford, Conn.

Father, Josiah Post Howell, a stockbroker; descendant of Edward Howell, who came from England to Boston about 1639, was given a land grant at Lynn, Mass, and was a founder of Southampton, N. Y., about 1640. Mother, Mary Esther (Woodford) Howell; daughter of Oliver and Eleanor (Phelps) Woodford; descendant of Thomas Woodford, who came to this country from England in 1650 and settled in Hartford, Conn. Yale relatives: Stewart L. Woodford, '54; Hamilton P. Howell, '91, Lloyd M. Howell, '94, and Thomas A. Howell, '00 (cousins), and Walter E. Woodford, Jr., '10.

Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute Mechanical engineering course; Senior appointment; member Class Cup Committee and Berzelius

Immediately after graduation opened an office in New York City as a stockbroker, engaged in that business until 1912; then retired to his farm in Easton, Md., which he worked with a tenant on shares until 1918, when he sold it; then moved to Quogue, Long Island, where he had a country home; spent several winters abroad; upon his return in January, 1925, remodeled a house two miles from Stamford, where he was living at the time of his death; during the war served as secretary and director of the emergency hospital at Easton, and as chairman of executive committee of the Talbot Chapter of American Red Cross; had traveled extensively, making a trip to Venezuela in 1896, going around the world in 1900, and taking a trip to West Africa in 1903.

Married (1) March 21, 1907, in New York City, Marion, daughter of John Henry and Frances Roe (Haswell) Bache. No children. Mrs. Howell died December 28, 1909. Married (2) June 20, 1912, in Brooklyn, Grace, daughter of Dr. Thomas Walter Brooks and Sarah Jane (Jordan) Brooks. One adopted son, Gilbert.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Woodland Cemetery, Bellport, Long Island. Survived by son.

Thomas Henry Lewis, Ph.B. 1893.

Born June 3, 1872, in Chicago, Ill
Died January 16, 1926, in Chicago, Ill

Father, Martin Lewis, a real estate dealer; born in Dublin, Ireland, came to America in 1847; son of Richard and Martha (Fitzgerald) Lewis. Mother, Jessie (Rogerson) Lewis; born in Ayr, Scotland; daughter of John and Jessie (McKay) Rogerson.

Evanston (Ill.) High School. Studied at Northwestern University 1888-1891. Entered Sheffield Scientific School as a Junior in 1891; biology course; Senior appointment; a Class historian; member Book and Snake.

M.D. Northwestern 1896; interne at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, 1896-99; had practiced in Chicago since February, 1900, specializing in gynecology and obstetrics; gynecologist at St. Luke's Hospital 1900-07 and at St. Luke's Hospital Dispensary 1900-1910; associate physician, St. Luke's Hospital, since 1915; taught gynecology at Northwestern University 1902-09; lecturer at St. Luke's Hospital Training School for Nurses 1920-21; during the war served as examining physician for Local Board No 46; member American Medical Association, Illinois State Medical Society, Chicago Medical Society, American Academy of Medicine, Chicago Institute of Medicine, and First Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Married June 16, 1917, in Chicago, Florence McLaughlin Mair, daughter of William Francis and Mary (Delhanty) McLaughlin. No children Mrs. Lewis died March 31, 1925

Death, due to sinus trouble, occurred at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago Buried in Calvary Cemetery, that city Survived by three brothers, David R. Lewis (B A Northwestern 1875) and Martin O. Lewis (B.A. Northwestern 1874), both of Chicago, and Charles George Lewis (B A Northwestern 1887), of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Wilfred Willis Savage, Ph.B. 1894.

Born July 26, 1872, in Baltimore, Md
Died December 14, 1925, in New York City

Father, Willis Morse Savage, a manufacturer; son of Willis S. and Ulyssa (Morse) Savage. Mother, Frances (Penfield) Savage. Cousin Willis S. Whittlesey, '03.

Hartford Public High School. Mechanical engineering course.

Connected with actuarial department of Ætna Life Insurance Company for a number of years after graduating from Yale; later engaged in the management of his farm at Wethersfield, Conn., but had retired a few years before his death; had represented Wethersfield in Connecticut Legislature and served as member of the Board of Assessors (chairman of its committee for the transformation of the Wethersfield Academy building into the town's public library) and as chairman of the building committee of the Charles Wright School; was prominent in the National Guard.

Married April 4, 1899, Anne Cushman, daughter of Silas Webster Robbins, of Wethersfield. One son, John Robbins.

Death, due to a heart attack, occurred at a private hospital in New York City; had been operated on there a week before for an ulcer of the stomach; was recovering rapidly from the operation and had expected to leave early in January to join his wife and son in California. Buried in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford, Conn. Besides his wife and son, he leaves a sister, Mrs Esther Brackett, of New Britain, Conn.

Harry Merriman Steele, Ph.B. 1894.

Born December 31, 1872, in Waterbury, Conn.

Died March 18, 1926, in New Haven, Conn

Father, Edward Daniel Steele, a manufacturer; son of Hiram and Nancy McHarg (Turner) Steele; descendant of John Steele, who came to America from Durham, England, in 1630 and settled in Plymouth Colony, Mass., later moving to Hartford, Conn. Mother, Sarah Cornelia (Merriman) Steele; daughter of Joseph and Julia (Judd) Merriman; descendant of Charles Merriman who came from Wiltshire, England, to Wallingford, Conn. Nephew: Steele K. Barhydt, '25.

Prepared at public schools in Waterbury and in Media, Pa., at Holderness (N. H.) Academy, and under private tutors. Biological course; member Chi Phi.

Entered Johns Hopkins Medical School in 1894, but interrupted his course there to spend two years studying pathology in Leipsic; received his M. D. at Johns Hopkins in 1902; had since practiced in New Haven, specializing in children's diseases, assistant in that subject in the clinics of New York University and Bellevue Medical schools 1902-04; assistant in pediatrics at Yale School of Medicine 1903-04, assistant in pathology 1904-08, and instructor in pediatrics 1908-1918; since 1923 had again been connected with the Yale faculty as clinical professor of pediatrics; attending physician at New Haven Hospital (children's ward) since 1918; consulting physician for children's diseases at St. Raphael's Hospital since January 1, 1925, had contributed numerous articles on medical subjects to Yale Medical Journal, North American Review, and Transactions of the Connecticut State Medical Society; vice-president New Haven County Medical Association 1923-24 and president the next year; Fellow New York Academy of Medicine; member State and City Medical societies, American Medical Association, National Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis, Connecticut Society for Mental Hygiene, Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences, and St. Thomas' (Episcopal) Church, New Haven

Married June 18, 1898, in Leipzig, Elizabeth, daughter of Daniel Whitehead and Mary (Nostrand) Kissam, of Bridgeport, Conn. Children: Charlotte Merriman; Daniel Edward (died at birth); and Harry Merriman, Jr.

Death due to double pneumonia Buried in Riverside Cemetery, Waterbury. Survived by wife, daughter, son, and a sister, Mrs Roger S Wotkyns, of Waterbury, whose husband was a non-graduate member of the Yale Class of 1886.

Francis Castleman Waller, Ph.B. 1894.

Born September 26, 1873, in Chicago, Ill

Died November 20, 1925, in Chicago, Ill

Father, Edward Waller, a graduate of Transylvania University; lawyer; later a banker in New York City. Mother, Mary (Rawson) Waller.

University School, Chicago. Select course.

In October, 1894, joined his cousin, William Waller, in the wholesale coal business and had since been a member of the firm of the Waller Coal Company (vice-president at the time of his death); had also been engaged in the fire insurance business, at first with firm of Waller, Chandler & Grey, later in partnership with his brother, Edward Waller, and at the time of his death as a partner in firm of Critchell, Miller, Whitney & Barbour; member Chicago Board of Education for several years; during World War served as director of Bureau of Accounting of the Central Division of American Red Cross; member Fourth Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

Married in May, 1899, in Louisville, Ky., Nina, daughter of James Henry and Amanda (Loving) McGoodwin. No children.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago. Survived by wife, three brothers, A. Rawson and Edward Waller, both of whom attended the University of Tennessee, and J. Alexander Waller, '94, and a sister, Miss Susanna Preston Waller.

John Campbell Greenway, Ph.B. 1895.

Born July 6, 1872, in Huntsville, Ala.

Died January 19, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Dr. Gilbert Christian Greenway (B A. University of Virginia 1858), studied at University of Maryland; son of John Campbell and Margaret Christian (Cowan) Greenway; descendant of William Greenway, who came to America from Oxford, England, and settled in Adams County, Pa. Mother, Alice (White) Greenway; daughter of Addison and Sara (Irvine) White; descendant of William White, who came to this country from Ireland in 1760 and settled in Lancaster, Pa. Nephews: George Lauder Greenway, '25, and James C. Greenway, Jr, '26

Episcopal High School, Alexandria, Va, and Phillips-Andover Attended University of Virginia 1890-91. Entered Sheffield Scientific School 1892; electrical engineering course; member University Baseball and Football teams three years; vice-president University Base Ball Association; Class president Senior year; member Book and Snake and Triennial Reunion Committee.

With Carnegie Steel Company at Duquesne, Pa., as machinist's helper and foreman of mechanical department 1895-97; volunteered as a Private in Colonel Roosevelt's "Rough Riders" (1st U. S. Volunteer Cavalry) in 1898 and soon received a commission as Second Lieutenant of Troop G; promoted to First Lieutenant and was Acting Captain in the field; commended for gallantry in action at San Juan Hill; later recommended to Congress by Colonel Roosevelt for brevet Captain and given distinguished mention in his book on the Cuban campaign; with firm of J. L. D. Speer & Company, bankers and brokers, representing them on Pittsburgh Stock Exchange, November, 1898–January, 1900; assistant superintendent of mines for United States Steel Corporation at Ishpeming, Mich., 1902–05; general superintendent for Oliver Mining Company on Mesaba iron range in Minnesota 1905–1910, with headquarters at Bovey and later at Coleraine, building the latter town and also Taconite and Marble; in the development of Coleraine erected a hospital, built a school, reserved site for a library, donated land for parks, provided a field for athletics, and established water, sewer, and electric light systems; general manager of Calumet & Arizona Copper Company at Bisbee and Warren, Ariz., since 1910, except during his service in the World War; since 1920 also managing director and vice-president of Ahumada Lead Company of Chihuahua, Mexico; made his home in Ajo, Ariz., a town which he had built and where he had developed the New Cornelia Copper Company, of which he was general manager 1915–1925 and a director at the time of his death; had also managed the 85 Mining Company, Gadsden Copper Company, Superior & Pittsburgh Copper Company, and Tucson, Cornelia & Gila Bend Railway Company (also vice-president of the last); was commissioned a Major of 1st Engineers (Line) October 15, 1917, and went overseas as such the next month; attached to Staff of General Headquarters at Chaumont, Section 4, for a time, and later assigned as assistant regulating officer of 1st Division in first American attack at Cantigny; promoted to Lieutenant Colonel in September, 1918, and transferred to 101st Infantry, 26th Division, with which he served throughout the rest of the war, during a large part of the time commanding the regiment; saw service at Château-Thierry, on the Vesle, at St.-Mihiel, and in two actions in the Argonne; gassed towards the end of the war and was invalided home January 6, 1919; awarded Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action in the Meuse-Argonne operations north of Verdun October 23, 1918; also received the Croix de Guerre with two palms and the Croix de l'Etoile Noire and made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor; after his return to this country was appointed colonel in the U. S. Army Reserve and shortly afterwards made a Brigadier General in the Reserve, continuing as such until his death, had been chairman of Defense Committee of Council of Defense of Arizona and member of Board of Regents of University of Arizona, where he received degree of LL.D. in 1921; vice-president Yale Alumni Association of Arizona from its formation in 1913 to 1915 and then president until 1924; a governor of Yale Publishing Association 1919-1924; at the Democratic Convention in New York City in 1924 his name was placed in nomination for vice-president of the United States; in 1925, with two other graduates gave a set of the Arizona Reports to library of Yale School of Law; member Leonard Wood National Campaign Committee 1920, Yale Committee for Participation in the Restoration of the Library of Louvain 1924, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, Yale Engineering Association, Sons of the American Revolution, and American Legion; trustee of Roosevelt House, New York City, and active member of committee sponsoring Roosevelt Memorial project in Washington.

Married November 4, 1923, in Santa Barbara, Calif., Isabelle Dinsmore Selmes Ferguson, daughter of Tilden Russell Selmes, '75, and Martha M. (Flandrau) Selmes. One son, John Selmes.

Death, due to a cardiac embolus, occurred at the Roosevelt Hospital in New York, following an operation a week before. Buried at Ajo. Survived by wife, son, a sister, Mrs. Sara G. Keller, of Washington, D. C., and three brothers, Gilbert C. Greenway, Jr., '98 S., Dr. James C. Greenway, '00, and William I. Greenway, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Charles Edward Meigs, Ph.B. 1895.

Born June 1, 1872, at Quaker Farms, Oxford, Conn.

Died December 20, 1925, in Waterbury, Conn.

Father, Charles Augustus Meigs; member of firm of Meigs & Trott, bakers and wholesale cracker manufacturers; son of Samuel and Lorena (Tomlinson) Meigs; descendant of John Meigs, who came to Weymouth, Mass., from Dorsetshire, England, in 1635, moved to East Guilford (now Madison), Conn., in 1654, and is said to have led the Regicides to the cave on West Rock, New Haven, while Edward Riggs, another ancestor, at other times protected them in his home on Derby hill; also descended from Lieut. Col. Jabez Thompson and John Holbrook of the Revolutionary Army, Henry Tomlinson, who settled in Milford, Conn., in 1652, Nathaniel Bacon, who settled in Middletown, Conn., in 1655, and the Rev. Jeremiah Peck, who was the first ordained pastor (1691) of the Congregational Church in Waterbury. Mother, Bernice (Riggs) Meigs; daughter of Ebenezer and Julia (Davis) Riggs; descendant of Edward Riggs, who came to Roxbury, Mass., from England in 1633, his son, Edward Riggs, being one of the first two settlers of Derby, Conn., in 1654. Great-uncle, Benjamin C. Meigs (B.A. 1809).

Waterbury High School and Greenwich (Conn.) Academy. Entered Sheffield Scientific School with Class of 1894, but left during Junior year on account of illness; returned to Yale in fall of 1893 as a Junior with Class of 1895 S, select course, member Freshman and Second Glee clubs and Theta Xi.

Took a business course during the fall of 1895, connected with Holmes, Booth & Hayden, brass manufacturers of Waterbury, and with the Excelsior Needle Company of Torrington, Conn., 1895-96; studied in Yale School of Law from January, 1897, until June, 1898, when he was admitted to the Connecticut Bar, took a special course at Harvard Law School 1898-99; began practice in Waterbury in July, 1899; appointed prosecuting attorney for city of Waterbury in February, 1904, and continued in office until March 26, 1910, when he resigned to become a deputy judge of Waterbury District Court; reappointed in 1914 and held office until November 15, 1916, when he resigned on account of ill health, which made it necessary to spend much time in a warmer climate and prevented his return to active practice; member Waterbury Republican Town Committee, on board of governors of Waterbury Club 1904-07 and 1909-1912 (vice-president in 1905); secretary and member of executive committee of Waterbury Golf Association; member Connecticut State Bar Association, Connecticut branch of Sons of the American Revolution, and St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Waterbury.

Unmarried

Death, due to a cerebral hemorrhage, occurred after a short illness. Buried in Brookside Cemetery, Quaker Farms. Survived by a sister, Miss Mary L. Meigs, of Waterbury.

Robert Reitzell Miller, Ph.B. 1895.

Born April 6, 1873, at Pine Grove, Pa.

Died January 7, 1926, at Pine Grove, Pa.

Father, Daniel Ruth Miller, a member of the Pennsylvania College Class of 1856; a coal operator, partner in firms of Levi Miller & Company and Miller, Graeff & Company; son of Levi and Mary (Ruth) Miller; descendant of Sebastian Miller, who came to America from Germany in 1766 and settled at Sinking Springs, Pa. Mother, Mayanna Middlekauff (Reitzell) Miller; daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth (Middlekauff) Reitzell, descendant of Jacob Reitzell, who came to Sinking Springs from Germany.

Prepared for college by a tutor at Pine Grove. B. S. Gettysburg College 1893. Entered Sheffield Scientific School at beginning of Junior year; chemistry course.

After graduation returned to his home in Pine Grove, where he had since resided, was not engaged in any business, but since his father's death in 1902 had spent the greater part of his time in looking after the interests of his estate.

Married October 8, 1921, in St. Joseph, Mo., Jessie Fanchon, daughter of Marius Scofield and Phoebe Ann (Cotton) Norman. No children.

Death, due to a duodenal ulcer, followed a week's illness. Buried in St. John's Cemetery, Pine Grove. Survived by wife.

Henry Hollister Robinson, Ph.B. 1895.

Born June 4, 1873, in Hartford, Conn.

Died October 20, 1925, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Charles Augustus Robinson; member of firm of Smith, Northam & Robinson, wholesale and retail grain merchants; son of George and Harriet Whiting (Bradley) Robinson; descendant of the Rev. William Robinson (B. A. 1773), who founded the town of Southington, Conn.; also descended from William Robinson, who came to Dorchester, Mass., from England in 1636. Yale relatives include: William Robinson (B. A. 1804), Charles Robinson (B. A. 1821), and Ernest Robinson, '67.

Hartford Public High School. Civil engineering course; honors Senior year.

Assistant engineer on construction with Mexican International Railway at Porfirio Diaz, Coahuila, 1895-96; graduate student at Yale 1896-97 (C. E. 1897); with Southington (Conn.) Water Company 1897-98; resumed studies at Yale in January, 1899, and was given his Ph. D. in 1903; elected to Sigma Xi in 1902; instructor in geology at Yale 1902-08, spent following year at his home in Hartford; engaged in geological research in Portland, Ore., 1909-1913; then returned to New Haven and during the next seven years was engaged in geologic research; superintendent of Connecticut Geological and Natural History Survey since 1920 and member of Yale faculty since 1921, having the rank of professor, had worked for the Connecticut Survey previous to 1910 and assisted in the preparation and publication of a geological map of the state; spent a number of summers in research work in Grand Cañon of Arizona and in California under U. S. Geological Survey, which published the outgrowth of his studies of extinct volcanoes in 1913, under the title of The San Franciscan Volcanic Field; served as secretary and treasurer of Class of 1895 S 1905-1910, editing Decennial Record; member American Geographical Society, Geological Society of America, American Association for the Advancement of Science and Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences; since 1914 his home had been in Clintonville, Conn.

Married May 18, 1910, in Portland, Ore., Mabel Agnes, daughter of Roger Morgan and Ellen (Clogston) Sherman. Children: Charles Sherman, Edith Ellen, Roger Sherman, and Mary Louise.

Death, due to an enlarged spleen, occurred at the New Haven Hospital. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife, four children, and a brother, Charles Nelson Robinson, of Hartford.

James Thomas Drummond, Ph.B. 1896.

Born March 27, 1873, in Alton, Ill.
Died June 26, 1925, in St. Louis, Mo.

Father, James Thomas Drummond; founder and president of Drummond Tobacco Company; mayor of Alton; son of Harrison and Elizabeth (Wilkins) Drummond; descendant of William Drummond, who came from Perth, Scotland, to James City County, Va., in 1688. Mother, Bethia (Randle) Drummond; daughter of Irwin Blackmore and Mary Elizabeth (Harrison) Randle; descendant of Josias and Apphia Randle, who came to Virginia from England and later moved to Hopkinsville, Tenn. Nephew. Harrison Drummond, ex-'19 S.

Hill School Member Book and Snake.

After graduation became connected with Drummond Tobacco Company, of which he was vice-president until it was absorbed by American Tobacco Company in 1898; in brokerage business with his brother, Harrison I. Drummond, '90 S., for a time, after his father's death in 1897, formed (with his brothers, Harrison I. Drummond and Charles R. Drummond, ex-'99 S.) the Drummond Realty & Investment Company, of which he was at first vice-president and later president; left that firm in 1902; became connected with Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company of New York City as a salesman in 1912; at time of death was southwestern sales manager for that firm in St. Louis, member First Congregational Church, St. Louis.

Married April 8, 1897, in Minneapolis, Minn., Grace, daughter of Franklin Lewis and Florence (Cahill) Greenleaf. One daughter, Doris (Mrs. Alonzo Christy Church).

Death due to heart disease. Buried in Lakewood Cemetery, Minneapolis. Survived by wife, daughter, a sister, Mrs. Eugene R. Cuendet, and his brother, Charles R. Drummond. His older brother died in 1920.

George Arthur Lanphear, Ph.B. 1896.

Born April 6, 1876, in Harris, R. I.

Died May 30, 1924, in Anderson, Ind

Father, George Thomas Lanphear, a civil engineer, superintendent of Narragansett Pier Railroad Company; member Rhode Island State Senate; son of Elisha and Lydia (LeValley) Lanphear; descendant of Thomas Lanphear, who came to America from Wales in the time of Cromwell and settled at Potter Hill, R. I. Mother, Martha Amelia (Nason) Lanphear; daughter of Sewell Kingsley and Matilda (Dawley) Nason; descendant of William Nason, who came to Pennsylvania from northern England.

South Kingston (R. I.) High School. Civil engineering course.

Engaged in civil engineering since graduation; employed in office of city water works of Providence, R. I., 1896-97; associated with his father 1897-99; with Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland & St. Louis Railroad Company 1899-1902, Lake Erie & Western 1902-03, Central Indiana Railroad Company 1903-08, and Northern Pacific 1908-1911; civil engineer for city of Anderson 1911-19; owner of Central Garage, Anderson, for a time; was subsequently division engineer for Missouri Pacific Railroad Company for a time and was with New York Central for a number of years; more recently had been engaged in private practice in Anderson; member Congregational Church, Peace Dale, R. I.

Married April 19, 1905, in Anderson, Marybelle, daughter of Joshua Elliott and Margaret Jane (Clark) Knight. No children.

Death due to Bright's disease. Buried in Maplewood Cemetery, Anderson. Survived by wife, three sisters, Mrs Leland L. Eaton, of Verona, N. J., Miss May J. Lanphear, of Peace Dale, and Mrs. Henry S. Arnold, of Boston, and a brother, Fred Lanphear, of Providence

Charles Henry Hall, Ph.B. 1897.

Born September 1, 1876, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Died March 1, 1925, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Father, William Henry Hall, a manufacturer of sash, doors, and blinds; son of Michael C. and Mary A. (McSweeny) Hall; grandson of Peter Hall, who came to New York from Denmark, and of Michael McSweeny, who came to this country from Ireland about 1800. Mother, Susan A. (Marsland) Hall; daughter of Stephen Marsland, who came to New York from Leeds, England, and Mary A. (Barton) Marsland, a descendant of Elizabeth Lounsbery Barton, of a family of Quakers who came to New York about 1750 and settled along the Hudson River, near Croton.

Pratt Institute, Brooklyn Latin School, and Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. Civil engineering course.

Entered Department of Docks and Ferries of the City of New York as a rodman in September, 1899; promoted to assistant engineer in 1908 and held that position until his death; in addition to general engineering work, designed piers, coal pockets, and bulkhead walls (built both by city of New York and private parties, along the waterfront) and supervised their construction; studied law at Brooklyn Law School of St. Lawrence University 1912-15, receiving degree of LL. B. with honors in 1915; after his admission to New York State Bar in 1915, technical questions concerning legal ownership of property were referred to him for preparation of matter for the guidance of counsel in court; had been in charge of preliminary work of survey and title searches in connection with improvement of Harlem River; member of vestry of Church of St. Mark (Episcopal), Brooklyn, since January, 1921.

Married June 9, 1909, in Brooklyn, Theresa Mary, daughter of Frederick A. and Mary L. (Anderson) Berg, of Rockford, Ill. One son, William Marsland.

Death, due to an operation for an abscess of the duodenum, occurred at the Peck Memorial Hospital, Brooklyn. Buried in Maple Grove Cemetery, Richmond Hill, N. Y. Survived by wife, son, three sisters, Mrs. Mary J. MacCabe and the Misses Elizabeth A. and Henrietta Hall, and a brother, Robert Shippen Hall, all of Brooklyn.

James Ladd Hitchcock, Ph.B. 1897.

Born November 14, 1876, in Cheektowaga, N. Y.

Died December 14, 1925, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Father, James Hitchcock, a farmer. Mother, Lydia Eliza (Ladd) Hitchcock.

Central High School, Buffalo. Civil engineering course; member University Track Team Junior and Senior years.

Studied in Yale Graduate School 1897-1900, during the second year there being an assistant in civil engineering, then entered office of resident engineer in the construction department of the Western Division of New York Central & Hudson River Railroad, where he was employed as assistant engineer until about 1908, when his health broke down; since then had not been able to engage in any active business

Unmarried

Death due to pneumonia; had been a patient in the State Hospital in Buffalo for a number of years. Buried in Lancaster, N. Y. Survived by a nephew, Frank H. Denny.

Richard Martin Lester, Ph.B. 1897.

Born September 20, 1875, in Savannah, Ga

Died April 3, 1926, in Savannah, Ga

Father, Daniel Brinson Lester; son of Malcolm B. and Mary A. (Ralston) Lester; descendant of John Donaldson, who came to America from Scotland in 1773 and settled at Clinton, Ga. Mother, Margaret Isabella (Russell) Lester; daughter of Levi S. and Anna S. Russell; descendant of Philip Moses Russell, of Germantown, Pa.

Phillips-Andover. Select course

LL B. University of Georgia 1898; practiced law in Savannah until 1902 (in office of Gignilliat & Stubbs for over two years and then alone); in 1902 moved to Oklahoma City and began practice there; in 1904 formed a partnership with M. L.

Garrett and William H. Bingham under firm name of Garrett, Bingham & Lester and practiced in Tishomingo, Indian Territory, until the dissolution of the firm in the fall of 1905; then went to Ardmore, Okla., and in 1907 entered into partnership with James E. Humphrey in firm of Humphrey & Lester; continued in that connection until 1913, when he returned to Savannah, where he had since practiced; member of firm of Gignilliat, Heidt & Lester until 1915 and then of Edwards & Lester until 1923; had since practiced alone; appointed a United States commissioner in January, 1926; vice-president of Southern Paint & Supply Company; in fall of 1906 was a candidate for city attorney on Democratic ticket, but was defeated; shortly after Oklahoma became a state was a candidate for office of assistant attorney-general; member Sons of the Revolution and St. John's Episcopal Church, Savannah, in which he was a lay reader.

Married August 26, 1903, in Oklahoma City, Victorine Myrta, daughter of William Henry and Ellen Sylvina (Norton) Cooke Children Margaret Ellen and Myrta Cooke

Took his own life Buried in Bonaventure Cemetery, Savannah Survived by wife, daughters, and father.

William Brewster Hubbard, Ph.B. 1901.

Born February 4, 1878, in Toledo, Ohio.

Died September 4, 1925, in West Cornwall, Conn

Father, Rollin Massey Hubbard; engaged in the lumber business, son of Rollin Barnard and Ann Morrison (Massey) Hubbard, descendant of George Hubbard, who came from England to Hartford, Conn., in 1634. Mother, Lydia Maria (Brewster) Hubbard; daughter of Jasper Pratt and Susan (Allen) Brewster, and sister of Edward E. Brewster, '78 S; direct descendant of Priscilla and John Alden and Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower" company. Yale relatives include: George Hubbard (B.A. 1803); John M. Hubbard (B.A. 1829); Charles L. Hubbard, '73; three uncles, Charles H. Hubbard, '67 S, Shannon B. Hubbard, ex-'79 S., and Frank A. Hubbard, ex-'80 S.; and a cousin, William E. Brewster, '10 S.

Housatonic Valley Institute, Cornwall, and Morgan High School, Clinton, Conn Mechanical engineering course; treasurer Yale Dramatic Association Senior year.

Chief clerk for the Forest Mine at Iron Mountain, Mich , 1901-04; engineer for Beaufort Mine at Michigamme, Mich , 1904-06; assistant superintendent of Buffalo & Susquehanna Iron Company at Buffalo 1906-08; general superintendent of Federal Furnace Company of Chicago 1908-1911; had since been engaged in farming at West Cornwall; also occupied in civil engineering and in the insurance business there; trustee Housatonic Valley Institute; member First Congregational Church, Cornwall

Married October 16, 1907, in Providence, R I , Martha Johnson, daughter of Wendell Phillips and Elizabeth (Guy) Hale. Children: William Brewster, Jr , Elizabeth Carleton, Lydia Brewster, Gordon Hale, and Thomas Johnson

Death due to an accident. Buried in North Cornwall. Survived by wife, three sons, two daughters, father, a brother, Robert T. Hubbard, of Sumter, S. C., and five sisters, Mrs Ross Lynn Ransom, of Walden, N Y , Mrs William Bancroft and Mrs. Ralph Silas Beers, both of Schenectady, N Y , Mrs John Russell Agee, of Los Angeles, Calif , and Mrs Frank Herbert Todd, of El Paso, Texas

· Ogden Trevor McClurg, Ph.B. 1901.

Born September 8, 1878, in Chicago, Ill

Died April 20, 1926, in Chicago, Ill

Father, Alexander Caldwell McClurg, founder and president of A C McClurg & Company, booksellers and publishers of Chicago; Lieutenant Colonel, Brevet Colonel, and Brigadier General of 14th Army Corps in Civil War; son of Alexander and Sarah (Trevor) McClurg; descendant of Joseph McClurg, who came to Pittsburgh, Pa , from Ireland about 1796. Mother, Eleanor (Wheeler) McClurg; daughter of Judge Nelson Knox Wheeler and Emily Butler (Ogden) Wheeler; granddaughter of William Wheeler, of New London, Conn., and Eleanor (Knox) Wheeler; descendant of Capt William Knox of the Revolutionary Army.

Chicago Latin School Select course; member Yale Corinthian Yacht Club and Delta Phi.

Member of firm of A C McClurg & Company since graduation, becoming president in 1911; president Lake Shore Building Company, vice-president South Bend (Ind) Stationery Manufacturing Company, National Association of Book Publishers, North Central Improvement Association, and Breck D Porter Company, engravers; treasurer North Central Association; director Chicago Dock & Canal Company, Chicago Association of Commerce (chairman of army and navy committee and of subscriptions investigating committee), Rogerson Press, and Chapman Grannis & Company; director and vice-president Loop Protective Association, served in Illinois Naval Reserve 1900-1917, commissioned Lieutenant Commander, U. S. Naval Reserve Force, March 7, 1917, and served in the office of the 9th, 10th, and 11th Naval Districts until July 12, 1917, was in command of U.S.S. "Wolverine" on the Great Lakes until August 20, 1917, and then of U.S.S. "Galatea" on the North Atlantic until September 28; then commanded a squadron of sixteen submarine chasers for two months; Acting Chief of Staff and Chief of Staff in 9th, 10th, and 11th Naval Districts November 25, 1917-October 26, 1918; Chief of Staff of District of Brest, France, until January 24, 1919; Chief of Staff to Rear Admiral Long and Assistant to Naval Attaché in Paris until April 20, 1919; placed on inactive duty May 15, 1919; promoted to Commander by Act of Congress, November 14, 1919; recommended for the Navy Cross by Admiral Wilson; commodore Lincoln Park Yacht Club; won the international yacht races at Toronto and the sailing championship of the Great Lakes in summer of 1923, rear commodore of Cruising Club of America, president Lake Michigan Yachting Association, director and fleet captain of Chicago Yacht Club, president of Great Lakes Yacht Racing Union, vice-commodore and director Yale Yacht Club, and a licensed master of steam vessels, all tonnage, pioneer in the development of district known as Streeterville in Chicago, had recently returned from an exploring trip to Yucatan with the Mason-Spinden Expedition, of which he was official hydrographer by appointment of the U S Navy, helped to discover the ruins of several old Maya cities and to locate many species of birds which were new to science, personally securing four of the eight ornithological specimens which were brought back; life member Chicago Art Institute and Chicago Geographical Society; governing life member Chicago Historical Society; member mercantile marine committee of Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Citizens Committee to Enforce the Landis Award, executive committee of Lake Shore Improvement Association, board of governors of American Friends of China, Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, Military Order of the World War, United States Naval Reserve Officers' Association of 9th, 10th, and 11th Naval Districts, and St. James' Church (Episcopal), Chicago

Married (1) February 24, 1903, in Chicago, Marion Winifred, daughter of Warren and Ida (Evans) Ewen, who died April 3, 1909. No children. Married (2) March 6, 1916, in Brookline, Mass., Gertrude Florence Schwarz (B A Smith 1909, B.A. Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1910), daughter of Theodore Edward and Florence (Boyd) Schwarz. Children: Gertrude Florence (died in infancy); Eleanor Wheeler; Alexander Caldwell (born and died the same day); and Barbara Ogden.

Death due to a cerebral hemorrhage; lived only eighteen hours after a stroke. Buried in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago; full naval honors were accorded him. Survived by wife and two daughters.

Alfred Coxe Prime, Ph.B. 1904.

Born March 3, 1883, in Philadelphia, Pa.
Died March 2, 1926, in Philadelphia, Pa.

Father, Frederick Prime (B.A. Columbia 1865, Ph D. Lafayette 1881); professor of geology and metallurgy at Lafayette and of natural history at Girard College; assistant state geologist of Pennsylvania; manager and president of several iron companies; president of Electric Light Company of Philadelphia; son of Frederick and Lydia (Hare) Prime; descendant of Mark Prime, who came to Rowley, Mass, from England about 1640. Mother, Laurette deTousard (Coxe)

Prime, daughter of Alfred Coxe, a non-graduate member of the Yale Class of 1831 and Laurette deTousard (Stocker) Coxe, descendant of Col Daniel Coxe, who came to this country from England in 1701 and settled in New Jersey, where he served as royal councilor, judge of the Supreme Court, speaker of the Assembly, and Colonel of Militia.

Episcopal Academy, Philadelphia Attended University of Pennsylvania one year (1900-01) as member of Class of 1904, entered Sheffield Scientific School in 1901; civil engineering course, Tucker Prize and two-year honors.

During summer of 1904 was field assistant in surveying at Sheffield Scientific School; on reconnaissance in Ontario, Canada, August, 1904-February, 1905; engineer in maintenance of way department of The Pennsylvania Railroad 1905-1915; in office of principal assistant engineer at Buffalo 1905-08, during which time was engaged in inspection of various railroad properties, designed an addition to Pittsburgh Produce Station, was in charge of construction of shops and yards at Olean, N. Y., and Franklin, Pa., and of surveys and construction of the Scotsville branch, made an inspection of railroads and transportation methods in Europe, and was in charge of rebuilding the freight house at Buffalo, in office of the principal assistant engineer at Altoona, Pa., in charge of roadbed tests, 1908-09; assistant supervisor at Jamesburg, N. J., 1909-1912; made a second inspection of European railroads and harbors in 1912; in office of division engineer of Trenton Division 1912-15, consulting engineer in Philadelphia 1915-1921, then became associated with firm of Phillips & Jacobs, manufacturing chemists in Philadelphia (partner since 1922); member American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way Association (member of roadbed committee), American Society of Civil Engineers, Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania, Historical Society of Pennsylvania (member of council), Society of Colonial Wars (deputy secretary-general, and secretary-general since 1924), Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (lieutenant governor since 1924), Society of Colonial Governors (elected life member 1918, secretary 1920, and secretary and treasurer 1924), and St Luke's Episcopal Church, Philadelphia; was interested in the craftsmen of colonial times and had carried out much valuable research work in that direction, member of committee of Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, took great interest in its activities, and was considered an authority on early American silver; published an article concerning gyratory traffic in London in Engineering News.

Married June 14, 1922, in Paoli, Pa., Phoebe Caroline, daughter of Clement Stocker and Anna Clifford (Biddle) Phillips. Children: Alfred Coxe Phillips and Phoebe Anna.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Woodlands Cemetery, Philadelphia. Survived by wife, children, mother, a brother, Dr. Frederick Prime, of New York City, and two sisters, Miss Alice M. Prime and Mrs. Pendleton G. Watmough, both of Philadelphia.

Marlette Crouse, Ph.B. 1906.

Born September 18, 1884, in Syracuse, N. Y.

Died June 26, 1925, in Syracuse, N. Y.

Father, George Nellis Crouse, a wholesale grocer, owner of G. N. Crouse & Company; son of James and Laura Minerva (Beecher) Crouse; descendant of Jacob Crouse [Krauss], who came to America from the Palatinate about 1710 and settled at Fort Plain in the Mohawk Valley, N. Y. Mother, Florence Jennie (Marlette) Crouse; daughter of Dr. Edwin Ruthven Marlette and Frances Anne (Wright) Marlette; descendant of John Marlette, who came to Albany, N. Y., from Paris, France, in 1740, and of Sir John Wright, who came to this country from Kelvendon Hall, Essex County, England, in 1630, with the Winthrop Colony. Yale relatives include Charles L. Bartlett, '76 (uncle), and Charles M. Crouse, '80 S., Beecher M. Crouse, '93, Daniel C. Adams, '95, M. Crouse Klock, '02 S., George W. Adams, '04, Nellis M. Crouse, '06, and Valentine C. Bartlett, '15 (cousins).

St. John's Military School, Manlius, N. Y., and Phillips-Andover. Mechanical engineering course; business manager Scientific Monthly; member Berzelius.

Engaged in the printing business with Dorman Lithographing Company for four years, 1906-1910, living in New Haven two years and then in New York City; since 1910 had resided in Syracuse; engaged in the coal business with the C. L. Anson Coal Company for six months; had been connected with the Crouse Grocery Company since 1911, as a salesman until 1922, and then as a salesman and buyer; member First Presbyterian Church, Syracuse.

Married (1) September 26, 1914, in Syracuse, Bertha Warner Scott, daughter of E. Eugene and Athea M. (Schrald) Warner. Mrs. Crouse died September 24, 1921. Married (2) January 21, 1923, in Syracuse, Rena Bruning Eddy, daughter of Herman and Adelaide (Williams) Bruning. No children by either marriage.

Death, due to heart disease, occurred in the Syracuse Memorial Hospital. Survived by wife, a brother, George N. Crouse, '01 S., and two sisters, Florence Beecher Crouse (Mrs. Alfred Clark), of London, England, and Laura Catharine Crouse (Mrs. Alfred Goldsmith Durston), of Syracuse.

Benjamin Rawls Hawley, Ph.B. 1908.

Born July 14, 1887, in Farmington, Conn.

Died November 15, 1925, in East Aurora, N. Y.

Father, David Rich Hawley, a painting and decorating contractor; son of Ara and Mary E. (Green) Hawley; descendant of Joseph Hawley, who came from Parwick, Derbyshire, England, to Boston in 1629 and was later a planter and settler in Stratford, Conn. Mother, Margaret Ellen (Cummings) Hawley; daughter of Samuel and Alice Cummings. Yale relatives: Roswell Hawley (M.D. 1842) (great-uncle), and Hudson R. Hawley, '14 (cousin).

Hartford Public High School. Civil engineering course.

During the first two years after graduation was successively with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, in the city engineer's office in Stamford, Conn., and with the Hartford Water Works (surveyed and made maps for the reservoir at New Hartford); surveyor for The Pennsylvania Railroad 1910-14; assistant superintendent Schoelkopf, Hartford & Hanna Company in 1914; superintendent National Aniline & Chemical Company at Buffalo, N. Y., 1914-17; chief engineer of construction for the same company 1918-19, with office at first in Buffalo, and later in New York City (plants in Buffalo, Wappinger Falls, Brooklyn, and Marcus Hook); construction engineer with Niagara Sprayer Company of Middleport, N. Y., 1920-21; special agent of Ætna Life Insurance Company in Buffalo since 1923; had lived in East Aurora since 1922; was interested in labor and compensation laws of New York state and had served on Technical Advisory Board of Compensations of Associated Industries; member First Presbyterian Church, East Aurora Married June 1, 1911, in Buffalo, Cornelia Deming, daughter of Nathan and Gertrude (Deming) Biesenthal. Children: Natalie, Allan, and Margaret Ellen.

Death due to pneumonia. Interment in Buffalo Crematory. Survived by wife, three children, parents, and a sister, Mrs. Esther Hawley Sanderson, of Swampscott, Mass.

Herbert Morse Root, Ph.B. 1908.

Born February 25, 1886, in Burlington, Iowa.
Died August 30, 1925, in New York City.

Father, Richard Timothy Root; engaged in mining business in Denver, Colo.; son of William and Camilla (Holmes) Root. Mother, Anna (Pine) Root; daughter of Ebenezer and Naomi (Higbee) Pine. Ancestors of both his father and mother came from England.

Hill School. Select course; member second University Football Team and Delta Psi.

After graduation from Yale was engaged in the mining business with his father in Denver until 1914; later lived in Chicago, San Francisco, and Detroit; during the last four years of his life had been employed as a mechanical and structural engineer in Philadelphia and New York; moved to the latter city in order to open his own engineering offices, but died before that was accomplished.

Married November 11, 1921, in Philadelphia, Anna M., daughter of Frank Edward and Kathryn Spooner (Wells) Towsley. One daughter, Ann Palmer.

Death, due to septicæmia, occurred at St. Luke's Hospital, New York City. Buried in Hillside Cemetery, Roslyn, Pa. Survived by wife, daughter, mother, and a brother, Walter W. Root, ex-'04 S

Alexander Laughlin, Jr., Ph.B. 1910.

Born May 4, 1889, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Died June 12, 1926, in Pittsburgh, Pa

Father, Alexander Laughlin; member of firm of Alex Laughlin & Company, engineers and contractors; son of Alexander and Lisette (Lamping) Laughlin; descendant of Alexander Laughlin, who came to America from Ireland in 1765 and settled in Pennsylvania. Mother, Mary (Mead) Laughlin, daughter of Charles W. and Eliza (Lee) Mead; descendant of William Mead, who came from England and settled in Connecticut (died in 1663)

Hill School. Mechanical engineering course; member Yale Daily News board and Junior Promenade Committee; vice-president of his Class Senior year

Had been associated with Central Tube Company since graduation (vice-president 1910-19 and president since then); had also been associated with management of Alex Laughlin & Company since 1910; director Verona Tool Works of Pittsburgh, attended Plattsburg Training Camp in 1915 and 1916, and helped to organize a local military training association in Pittsburgh, commissioned a Captain of Infantry May 7, 1917; instructor at first Officers' Training Camp at Fort McPherson, Ga., and at second camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.; in December, 1917, appointed Aide-de-camp to Major General Edwin F. Glenn, commanding the 83d Division, at Camp Sherman, Ohio; went overseas on his staff in June, 1918, and was subsequently put in command of Company F, 330th Infantry; promoted to Major September 4, 1918, and at his own request was detached from staff duty and put back in the line; commanded 2d Battalion, 49th Infantry, until October 26, 1918, and later the 351st Infantry, 88th Division (in Alsace until April, 1919); received his discharge at Camp Dix, N. J., April 20, 1919; state vice-commander of American Legion in Pennsylvania 1920; member American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Yale Engineering Association, Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, and National Security League; treasurer Yale Alumni Association of Western Pennsylvania and its successor, the Yale Club of Pittsburgh, 1920-24; secretary of Class of 1910 S. since 1920; member St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Sewickley, Pa

Married June 21, 1924, in Pittsburgh, Margaret, daughter of William Larimer and Mary H. (Taylor) Mellon. One son, Alexander Mellon.

Death due to simultaneous cardiac and respiratory failure, following the extraction of a tooth at the West Penn Hospital, Pittsburgh, and occurring without his regaining consciousness after the administration of an anæsthetic Buried in Sewickley Survived by wife, son, and parents.

John Bayley Fish Lawrence, Ph.B. 1911.

Born July 28, 1888, in Mastic, N. Y.

Died December 29, 1925, in Liberty, N. Y.

Father, Joseph Bayley Lawrence, a lawyer; son of Richard and Josephine (Bayley) Lawrence; descendant of Thomas Lawrence, who came to America from St Albans, Hertfordshire, England, in 1640 and settled at Newtown, Long Island. Mother, Elizabeth Woodhull (Nicoll) Lawrence; daughter of Henry and Anna (Thorne) Nicoll, of Middletown, Conn., descendant of Mathias Nicoll, who came to this country in 1664 with his uncle, Sir Richard Nicoll, the first English governor of New York; also descended from General Nathaniel Woodhull of the Revolutionary Army

St. Paul's School, Garden City, N. Y. Electrical engineering course; entered Sheffield Scientific School with Class of 1910 S., but completed his course in 1911

Became connected with Locomotive Company of America, manufacturers and sellers of automobiles and motor trucks, in September, 1911, and held different positions with the company; at the time of his death was with American Audit Company of New York City; had lived at various times in Mastic, N. Y., Brookline and Boston, Mass., Bridgeport, Conn., White Plains, N. Y., and New York City; Episcopalian.

Married December 16, 1916, in Bridgeport, Louise Adams, daughter of Jacob Reed Topping (M.D. New York University 1882) Children: Elizabeth Nicoll and John Townsend. Mrs. Lawrence died July 23, 1924.

Interment in Mount Hope Cemetery, Westchester, N. Y. Survived by son and daughter.

John Remick, Ph.B. 1912.

Born May 13, 1888, in Methuen, Mass.
Died February 26, 1926, in North Dighton, Mass.

Father, George Albert Remick, a pattern maker; son of John and Eliza A (Hill) Remick; descendant of William F. Remick. Mother, Sarah Elizabeth (Pillsbury) Remick; daughter of George W. and Statira (Staples) Pillsbury; descendant of Charles Pillsbury Thayer Academy, South Braintree, Mass. Sanitary engineering course; two-year honors in German.

After graduation became employed as a timekeeper by Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company (steel construction) of Pittsburgh, Pa., and remained with them until he entered service in 1917 (located at Fremont, Ohio, Altmar, N. Y., Drumright and Cushing, Okla., Oxford, La., Cristobal, Canal Zone, Worcester, Mass., and Rockford, Ill., successively, and rose to be superintendent of erection); inducted into National Army as a Private September 8, 1917, and assigned to Camp Devens, Mass., as member of Company L, 302d Infantry; made Sergeant October 6 and Supply Sergeant October 8; attended third Officers' Training Camp at Camp Devens from January to June 1, 1918, when he was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant of Infantry and assigned to Camp Lee, Va., to drill replacement troops; assigned to 1st Company, 1st Battalion, 158th Depot Brigade, at Camp Sherman, Ohio, on same duty, June 20; commission transferred to the Engineers that date; received permanent assignment to 401st Pontoon Park Engineers then at Camp Forrest, Ga., July 30, 1918, and went overseas with regiment in September; was at

Brest for a short time and then at Langres (where he attended the Army Engineer School) until after the armistice; returned to the United States March 7, 1919, and was discharged at Camp Upton March 19; then returned to Ritter-Conley Company as erection engineer and remained with them until 1922 (located at Riverside, R. I., Philadelphia, and Sour Lake, Texas); principal of Westport (Mass.) High School 1922-23; engineer with R. H. Beattie Construction Company at Assonet, Mass., for a time; then engaged on construction work for Mount Hope Bleachery at North Dighton until his death
Unmarried.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree. Survived by father and six brothers, Josiah Remick, of Port Angeles, Wash., Walter L. Remick (B.A. Harvard 1909), of New York City, Charles K., Clifton P., and Donald C. Remick, all of Braintree, and Homer G. Remick, of Berkeley, Calif.

Donald Barnes Brockett, Ph.B. 1913.

Born July 11, 1891, in New Haven, Conn.

Died October 8, 1925, near Spooner, Wis.

Father, Charles Andrew Brockett; with C. A. Brockett Cement Company of Kansas City, Mo.; son of George Willis and Eliza Augusta (Barnes) Brockett; descendant of Sir John Brockett, who came to America from England in 1637 and settled in Boston. Mother, Harriet (Barnes) Brockett, daughter of Marcus and Elizabeth Ann (Hemingway) Barnes; descendant of Byard Barnes, who came to New Haven from England.

Holbrook Military Academy, Ossining, N. Y., and Dr. Coit's School, Munich, Germany. Forestry course; taught in connection with Byers Hall work; member Theta Xi.

Since graduation had been engaged in farming at Spooner, where he was owner and manager of the Brockett Dairy Farm; president Spooner Hardware Company, Inc.; member St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Spooner.

Married June 20, 1913, in Stratford, Conn., Anna Jane, daughter of Davenport and Harriet McCormack. One daughter, Harriet Anna (died in infancy).

Was instantly killed when his automobile was struck by a train just outside of Spooner Buried in Spooner. Survived by wife, mother (now Mrs. Richard Polson), and a half brother, Robert M Brockett, of Kansas City, Mo.

William Henry Forde, Ph.B. 1913.

Born February 14, 1893, in Natick, Mass.

Died May 12, 1926, in Conowingo, Md.

Father, John Forde, a manufacturer; son of William and Mary Forde; descendant of William Forde, who came to America from Ireland about 1840 and settled at Natick. Mother, Nora (Barnicle) Forde; daughter of John and Nora (Carey) Barnicle, who came to Natick from Ireland in 1867.

Natick, West Haven, and New Haven High schools. Electrical engineering course.

Sent by Stone & Webster, Inc, of Boston to El Paso, Texas, immediately after graduation to work as a student engineer for the El Paso Railway Company, one of their subsidiaries; remained there until August, 1914, and then returned to his home in Boston; salesman for Milford (Mass.) Gas & Electric Company October, 1914-January, 1915; in the sales department of Electric Storage Battery Company in their Boston office March, 1915-December, 1917; was then an electrical designer for American International Shipbuilding Company of Philadelphia at the Hog Island shipyard for a month (health broke down and he was obliged to give up his position), enlisted as a Private in the Engineer Corps April 10, 1918, and was at Fort Myer, Va., for about a month; in June went overseas with Company B, 38th Engineers, which became the 127th Company of the Transportation Corps in November; promoted to Sergeant in May, 1919; returned to United States the next month and after receiving his discharge on June 26 again became connected with Stone & Webster, Inc, as an electrical engineer, was assigned at first to power station extension and transmission line work for Tampa, Fla., Electric Company; engaged in construction work on the Conowingo development for the Susquehanna Power Company at the time of his death; member Yale Engineering Association and St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church, Forest Hills, Mass.

Unmarried.

Was instantly killed in an automobile accident, when the steering gear of the car in which he and two friends were riding broke and the car overturned. Buried in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Natick. Survived by mother, a sister, Miss Kathryn F Forde, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., and a brother, Thomas J Forde, of New York City.

Joseph Watson Martindale, Jr., Ph.B. 1913.

Born December 3, 1891, in Louisville, Ky

Died February 6, 1926, in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Father, Joseph Watson Martindale (M.D. Jefferson Medical College 1892), a surgeon; son of Joseph and Ann (Watson) Martindale; descendant of Joseph Martindale, who came to Pittsburgh, Pa., from Yorkshire, England, in 1854. Mother, Elizabeth (Land) Martindale; daughter of Edmund K. and Elizabeth Mary (Tutt) Land; descendant of Edmund Land, who came to London, Ontario, from Norfolk, England.

Camden (N. J.) High School and Peddie Institute. Biology course; honors in English literature Freshman year; member Freshman Baseball and Basketball teams and University Basketball Team.

Studied medicine at Johns Hopkins from 1914 until he entered service; received M.D. while in France in 1918; during his medical course was employed as a reporter by the Philadelphia Press, Baltimore Sun, and Philadelphia Inquirer; enlisted as a Private in the Johns Hopkins Hospital Unit of the Medical Enlisted Reserve Corps May 27, 1917, and went overseas June 14; trained at Langres and served at Base Hospital 18 until May 24, 1918, when he received a commission as First Lieutenant in the Medical Reserve; served with the 23d Infantry as Junior Battalion Surgeon of the 2d Battalion in the Aisne-Marne campaign, seeing active service at Belleau Wood, Vaux, and Soissons; was severely wounded in action at Villers-Cotterets July 18, 1918; was in several hospitals in France until October, 1918, when he returned to the United States; was in Base Hospital 11 at Cape May, N. J., and later in a hospital at Fox Hills, Staten Island, until he received his discharge September 19, 1919; awarded the Croix de Guerre and Distinguished Service Cross; returned to Johns Hopkins Medical School for graduate work and was subsequently engaged in practice in Baltimore until October, 1925; then went to Honolulu as a surgeon for the United States Veterans' Bureau, in which capacity he served until his death; member Protestant Episcopal Church, Camden.

Married March 5, 1919, in New Haven, Florence Isabelle, daughter of Louis Moss and Anna (Ryan) Fairchild, and stepdaughter of William J. Barrett (M.D. Baltimore Medical College 1898) Children: Joseph Watson, Jr., and Betty Barrett Dr. and Mrs. Martindale were divorced in January, 1926.

Died from an overdose of veronal. Buried in Arlington Cemetery, Camden Survived by two sisters, Miss G. Isabelle Martindale, a member of the Mount Holyoke Class of 1927, and Mrs. Edgar Hughes, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Arthur Iddings Cleveland, Ph.B. 1916.

Born September 21, 1894, in Roseville, N. J.

Died May 10, 1926, in Loyalton, Calif.

Father, Francis Dixon Cleveland, a manufacturer; trustee of William Underwood Company of Boston, Mass.; son of Orestes and Jane (Dixon) Cleveland; descendant of Moses Cleveland, who came to America from England and settled in Woburn, Mass., prior to 1700; grandson of Joseph Dixon, founder of the Dixon Crucible Company of Jersey City, N. J., and descendant of Joseph Dixon, of Marblehead, Mass. Mother, Estelle (Iddings) Cleveland; daughter of William Penn and Almira (Gillet) Iddings, and sister of Dr. Joseph P. Iddings, '77 S.; descendant of Richard Iddings, who came from Wales to Nautmeal Township, Chester County, Pa., where he died in 1725.

Fessenden School, West Newton, Mass., and Hotchkiss School Civil engineering course; general three-year honors; on University Gymnasium Team Junior and Senior years; interested in social work, conducting an industrial class at Center Church.

Took a graduate course in civil engineering at Sheffield Scientific School 1916-17; employed by New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company as a rodman in maintenance of way department June-September, 1917; examined for the Army, but was refused on account of health; with testing department of General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., October, 1917-October, 1918; engaged in construction work with signal department of Boston & Albany Railroad Company at Pittsfield, Mass., November, 1918-January, 1919; and then with Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad until May, 1919; with sales department of Gilbert & Barker Manufacturing Company at Springfield, Mass., May-December, 1919; then with engineering department of Standard Oil Company in San Francisco, Calif., until fall of 1920; afterwards with Pacific Gas & Electric Company until February, 1921; engaged in lumbering with Yosemite Lumber Company 1921-23; with General Electric Company at Seattle, Wash., testing electrical apparatus, 1923; with Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company at San Francisco January-June, 1925; broke down in health and was convalescent for eight months at his residence in Altadena, Calif.; entered Government Forest Service at Loyaltown, Calif., as scaler in March, 1926, preliminary to becoming a forester; was instantly killed while at work, a double break in a derrick throwing a timber which struck him in the head. Buried in Woodside Cemetery, Brinklow, Md.

Unmarried.

Survived by parents and a brother, F. Dixon Cleveland, Jr., '21 S.

John Wettstein, Ph.B. 1921.

Born June 7, 1899, in Chicago, Ill.

Died October 17, 1925, in Richmond, Va.

Father, John Rudolph Wettstein, president United Lead Company, New York City; son of John R. and Josephine (Baader) Wettstein, who came to this country from Switzerland in 1867 and settled in Highland, Ill. Mother, Annie Elizabeth (Fine) Wettstein; daughter of Andrew and Elizabeth (Forrester) Fine.

Phillips-Exeter Select course; Private in Battery D, Field Artillery Unit, S.A.T.C., October 16–December 15, 1918; one-year honors Senior year.

Assistant manager in cost department of Atlas Stationery Company, New York City, 1921–22; assistant in purchasing department of United States Steel Products Company, New York, 1922–24; at time of death construction engineer at Hopewell, Va., for United Lead Company; member Chester Hill Methodist Episcopal Church, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Unmarried.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried at Kensico, N. Y. Survived by parents, a sister, Miss Josephine Wettstein, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., and a brother, Thomas F. Wettstein, '12 S.

Joseph Edward Lally, B.S. 1923.

Born August 27, 1901, in Meriden, Conn

Died August 21, 1925, in Meriden, Conn.

Father, James Henry Lally; vice-president Meriden Jewelry Manufacturing Company; son of Patrick and Katherine (Kennedy) Lally; descendant of James R. Lally, who came to Woonsocket, R. I., from Ireland in 1823. Mother, Margaret Alice (Reynolds) Lally, daughter of Daniel and Margaret (Maguire) Reynolds; descendant of John Joseph Reynolds, who came to Meriden from Ireland in 1803. Cousin: William J. Lally, '19 S.

Meriden and New Haven High schools. Mechanical engineering course; David Gallup Scholar; special honors in chemistry Freshman year.

Connected with the Procter & Gamble Company from July to September, 1923; then with the Winchester Repeating Arms Company of New Haven until June, 1924; had since been a mechanical engineer with the L. Suzio Construction Company of Meriden; member American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Yale Engineering Association, and St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Meriden.

Unmarried.

Death due to a complication of diseases. Buried in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Meriden. Survived by parents, two sisters, the Misses Katherine and Mary Elizabeth Lally, and two brothers, John R. and Lawrence F. Lally, all of Meriden.

Marshall Helm James, B.S. 1925.

Born March 6, 1902, in Evanston, Ill.
Died March 29, 1926, at Daytona Beach, Fla

Father, Charles William James; president of Charles W. James & Company, dealers in real estate, Chicago; son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Allison) James; descendant of William James. Mother, Bertha (Helm) James; daughter of George Sinclair and Nancy Jane (Murdock) Helm; descendant of George Helm.

Evanston High School, Phillips-Exeter, Milford (Conn) School, and Nolan's Tutoring School, Cambridge, Mass General science course; manager of Golf Team, (received numerals); member Book and Snake.

Had been engaged in real estate business with Lacey Brothers at Sarasota, Fla., since graduating from Yale, member First Methodist Church, Evanston.

Unmarried.

Death due to pneumonia, complicated by enlargement of the heart. Buried in Rosehill Cemetery, Chicago. Survived by parents.

Ivan Andrea Bogdanoff, B.S. 1926.

Born July 11, 1900, in Odessa, Russia
Died May 22, 1926, in New Haven, Conn

Father, Andrea Bogdanoff, a contractor in Odessa before the Russian Revolution; later a refugee in Yugoslavia; son of John and Evdokia Bogdanoff. Mother, Varvara (Breuer) Bogdanoff; daughter of Joseph and Alexandra Breuer.

Commercial High School, Odessa. Enlisted in Russian Cavalry at sixteen years of age and served in the White Army during the Civil War in Russia. Left Russia for Yugoslavia as a refugee in 1920. Attended Belgrade University from 1920 to 1923 and was then one of a group of forty-five who came from Constantinople to New Haven under direction of Russian Refugee Association of New York. Entered Sheffield Scientific School as a Junior in 1924; mechanical engineering course; member Student Branch of American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Yale Cosmopolitan Club; received degree of B.S. post obitum in June, 1926. Member Orthodox Russian Church.

Married April 19, 1924, in New Haven, Olga K., daughter of Konon and Helen Guskoff.

Death due to heart disease. Cremation took place in Springfield, Mass ; ashes are to be taken to Europe by his wife. Besides his wife, leaves his parents, and four sisters, Miss Alexandra Bogdanoff, who graduated at the Law School in Odessa in 1918, and the Misses Lidia, Nina, and Seraphima Bogdanoff, all of Belgrade, Serbia.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Herbert Russell Gibbs, M.A. 1881.

Born December 23, 1850, in Pittsfield, Mass
Died December 6, 1925, in Newtonville, Mass

Father, Franklin William Gibbs, a paper maker; son of Abner and Elisabeth (Cannon) Gibbs; descendant of Matthew Gibbs, who came to America from England in 1650 and settled at Charlestown, Mass. Mother, Flavia Jerusha (Brewster) Gibbs; daughter of John Milton and Philena (Higley) Brewster; descendant of Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower" company. Yale relatives: George B. Laffin, ex-'77 S., and George L. Miller, '19.

Lee (Mass.) High School; B.A. Williams 1871 (member Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa); principal of Lenox (Mass.) High School 1871-72; proof reader with Riverside Press of Cambridge 1872-1890, except during 1880-81, when he was a student in Yale Graduate School; since 1890 had been editor and literary adviser with the Houghton Mifflin Company, publishers in Boston; director of Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society; member Central Congregational Church in Newtonville, Mass., where he made his home.

Married June 1, 1875, in Cambridge, Mass., Sarah Maria, daughter of Charles and Rhoda (Shaw) Cabot. Children: Russell Cabot (B.A. Williams 1900) (died in October, 1925); Edwin Franklin (B.A. Williams 1904); and Marion Brewster (B.A. Mount Holyoke 1908).

Death due to cerebral thrombosis. Interment in Newton. Survived by wife, son, daughter, three grandchildren, and two sisters, the Misses Carrie P. and Grace L. Gibbs, of Lee, Mass.

Henry Nichols Sanborn, M.A. 1903.

Born March 5, 1879, in Quincy, Mass.
Died February 22, 1926, in Bridgeport, Conn.

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Mr. Sanborn in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record.

Alfred Lee Morgan, M.A. 1905.

Born September 9, 1872, in Wilton, Conn.
Died July 4, 1925, in Providence, R. I.

Father, Irad Ferry Morgan, a farmer; son of Aaron and Susan (Ferry) Morgan; descendant of James Morgan, who came to America from Wales prior to 1770 and settled in Wilton (then a part of Norwalk). Mother, Beulah Eliza (Smith) Morgan; daughter of Alfred M. and Charlotte (Lee) Smith.

Wilton Academy, Buchtel College, Akron, Ohio, and Oberlin Academy, B A Oberlin 1900 (member of debating society); entered Oberlin Seminary in fall of 1900, but was obliged to withdraw on account of ill health; taught bookkeeping and school management at Tillotson College 1901-03; treasurer of Tougaloo (Miss) University 1903-04; studied economics and social science in Yale Graduate School 1904-05; taught in high schools at West Springfield, Mass. (1905-06), Arlington, Mass. (1906-08), and Asbury Park, N. J. (1908-1910); head of department of commerce and professor of economics at Robert College, Constantinople, since 1910; at the time of his death had just arrived in America from Constantinople on a year's leave of absence; during a sabbatical year in 1917-18 was engaged in Y M.C.A. work (personnel department) in New York City; former member Wilton Congregational Church and later of Congregational Church, West Springfield.

Married August 13, 1903, in Bristol, R. I., Alice Harlow, daughter of William Henry and Annie Marie (Rich) Bell. No children.

Death, due to a nervous breakdown caused by insomnia, occurred in Butler Hospital, Providence. Interment in Hillside Cemetery, Wilton. Survived by wife, three sisters, Mrs. John Reed, of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Frank M. White, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Miss Elizabeth Frances Morgan, of Brewster, N. Y., and a brother, Joseph Stanley Morgan, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

John Livingston Burisch, M.S. 1922.

Born October 19, 1897, in Elizabeth, N. J.
Died January 13, 1926, in Worcester, Mass

Father, Julius Gustav Burisch, a machinist; born in Germany; came to this country in 1892; son of Frederick and Wilhemine (Baatz) Burisch. Mother, Selma Bertha (Richter) Burisch; daughter of Bernhardt and Bertha (Wollhardt) Richter.

Battin High School, Elizabeth; B. A. Wesleyan 1919 (member Deutscher Verein, Phi Beta Kappa, and the R. O. T. C.); assistant in biology at Yale 1918-19 (also member of Junior class in Sheffield Scientific School, while enrolled in the S. A. T. C. during first term, and special student during second term); student at Yale Graduate School 1919-1920 and at Yale School of Medicine 1919-1921; continued medical studies at Harvard (member Alpha Omega Alpha; M. D. 1923); surgical interne at Worcester City Hospital 1923-25; began general practice of medicine in Worcester January 1, 1925; at time of death was resident surgeon at Fairlawn Hospital in that city; served as a First Lieutenant, Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, for five months in 1918; had served on staffs of U. S. Veterans' Hospital, West Roxbury, Mass., and Louis Pasteur Hospital; member Worcester District Medical Society, American Medical Society, Massachusetts Medical Association, and the Unitarian Church

Unmarried.

Death occurred at Worcester City Hospital. Cremated at Rosehill Cemetery, Linden, N. J. Survived by father, three sisters, Mrs. Anna Dreyer, of Union, N. J., Mrs. Lena Harms, of Linden, and Mrs. Margaret Bernhardt, of Elizabeth, and a brother, Alfred Burisch, also of Elizabeth.

Richard Chapman Weldon, Ph.D. 1872.

Born January 19, 1849, in Penobsquis (then Upper Sussex), New Brunswick.
Died November 26, 1925, in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia.

Father, Richard Chapman Weldon, a tanner and farmer; son of John and Mary (Chapman) Weldon; descendant of John Weldon, who came to Westmoreland County, New Brunswick, from Yorkshire, England. Mother, Catharine (Geldart) Weldon; daughter of James and Eleanor (Wallace) Geldart.

Preparatory training received in Upper Sussex; B.A. Mount Allison College 1866; taught in Norton, New Brunswick, 1866-68; studied at Sheffield Scientific School 1868-69 and again 1871-72; during the intervening time taught at Mount Allison; received a diploma from Heidelberg University in 1872; professor of mathematics and political economy at Mount Allison 1872-1883; professor of constitutional and international law at Dalhousie University, Halifax, and dean of the Law School from 1883 until his retirement in 1914; had since lived in Dartmouth; Liberal-Conservative in politics; member of Parliament for Albert County, New Brunswick, 1887-1896; M.A. Mount Allison 1870, D.C.L. 1893, LL.D. Dalhousie 1916; attended Methodist Church.

Married (1) in 1877, in Stellarton, Nova Scotia, Sarah Maria, daughter of the Rev. George W. Tuttle and Martha (Hart) Tuttle. Children. Robert George (attended Guelph Agricultural College); Joseph William (B.A. Dalhousie 1900, LL.B. 1903); John Russell; Richard Chapman (M.D. and C.M. McGill 1906); and Helen Hart (attended Halifax Ladies College), who married Reginald Stacey. Mrs. Weldon died October 18, 1892. Married (2) December 28, 1893, in Halifax, Louisa Frances, daughter of William and Alice (Allison) Hare. Children: Arthur Hare; Louisa Frances (Mrs. George Hassell); Lillian Jane (Mrs. James Hassell); Katherine Edith; Marion Eliza; Allison Dale; and Muriel Gertrude.

Death due to infirmities of age Buried in Camp Hill Cemetery, Halifax. Survived by wife, twelve children, a sister, Miss Mary J. Weldon, of Penobsquis, and two brothers, George C. Weldon, of St. John, New Brunswick, and John C. Weldon, of Moncton, New Brunswick.

Carl Axel Harström, Ph.D. 1899.

Born December 20, 1863, in Vesterås, Sweden.

Died January 14, 1926, in Norwalk, Conn.

Father, Carl Gustaf Harström, an inventor and manufacturer; son of Eric Emmanuel Harström Mother, Emelia (Fosberg) Harström. Yale relatives include Lewis B McCabe, Jr., '27.

Peekskill Military Academy; B A. Hobart 1886 (president of his class Senior year and valedictorian; editor of Hobart Herald and Echo of the Seneca; member Theta Delta Chi and Phi Beta Kappa); head master of Peekskill Military Academy 1886-87, of Vieuland Preparatory School, Peekskill, 1887-1891, and of Norwalk (Conn.) Military Institute 1891-93; M.A. Hobart 1889; principal of Norwalk Preparatory School 1893-99; student in Yale Graduate School 1896-1900; in 1899 founded Harström School at Norwalk and had since served as its principal; member Board of Estimation and Taxation of Norwalk 1915-1921; mayor of the consolidated Norwalks 1915-17; during the war served as chairman of Draft Exemption Board No. 14 (Fairfield County); senior warden of Grace Episcopal Church, Norwalk, and vestryman of Bethesda by the Sea, Palm Beach, Fla.

Married June 20, 1888, in Phelps, N. Y., Lee Selden, daughter of Samuel Selden and Frances (Bellamy) Partridge Children: Carl Eric, '15, and Frances.

Death due to heart trouble. Buried in Riverside Cemetery, Norwalk. Survived by wife, son, and daughter.

Carl Eben Stromquist, Ph.D. 1903.

Born November 6, 1877, in Fremont, Kans.

Died April 3, 1925, in Palo Alto, Calif

Father, Carl Johan Stromquist, a pioneer Kansas farmer, came to America from Sweden in 1867; author of note in the Swedish language; active leader and organizer in the Lutheran Church and in politics; representative in the Kansas Legislature two terms (chairman of Committee on Temperance in 1895; instrumental in defeating the repeal of the Kansas prohibition law); an incorporator of Bethany College (member of the first and of several subsequent boards); an organizer of Swedish-American Insurance Company (served as its president and secretary). Mother, Johanna Mathilda (Isaakson) Stromquist, who came to Lindsborg, Kans., from Sweden.

Bethany College Academy; B.S. Bethany 1899; studied in Yale Graduate School 1899-1903; instructor in mathematics at Princeton 1903-07 and preceptor in the same subject 1907-09; had since been connected with University of Wyoming as instructor (1909-1910), associate professor (1910-12), and professor of mathematics (1912-1925); member of faculty of Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., in summer of 1918; granted leave of absence from University of Wyoming in 1922 on account of illness and was on leave of absence at the time of his death; had contributed articles on mathematics to Transactions of the American Mathematical Society, The Mathematics Teacher, Annals of Mathematics, and School Science and Mathematics; author of Wyoming University Algebra Tests (uncompleted, but a study made of them in 1924 or 1925; recommended for use throughout the state of Wyoming this year); member Mathematical Association of America, American Mathematical Society, American Association of University Professors, Society for the Advancement of Scandinavian Study, Yale branch of Sigma Xi, Wyoming University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, and Lutheran Church.

Married August 12, 1903, at Newman Grove, Nebr., Eulalia, daughter of Nels and Carolina Swanson. Children: Carl Eben, Jr., a member of the Stanford University Class of 1929; Walter Swanson; and Ruth Caroline.

Death due to a cerebral hemorrhage. Buried in Fremont. Survived by wife, three children, mother, four sisters, Mrs. Edith Carlson and Miss Eleonora Stromquist, both of Lindsborg, Kans., Mrs. Will Christenson, of Fort Stockton, Texas, and Mrs. Elvira Danielson, of Fremont, and a brother, Walter G. Stromquist, of Memphis, Tenn.

Margaret Russel, Ph.D. 1923.

Born in 1891, in Topeka, Kans.

Died March 20, 1926, in Manhattan, Kans.

Father, W. W. Russel, a teacher, business man, and lumberman. Mother, Irene (Brooks) Russel.

B.A. Washburn 1913 (departmental honors in English and German and general honors in all studies); studied at Columbia 1913-15 (M.A. 1915); instructor in English in the high school at Coffeyville, Kans., 1915-17; instructor in English at Kansas State Agricultural College 1917-1921 and associate professor and professor of English there since 1923 (member of Phi Kappa Phi); student in English at Yale Graduate School 1921-23; member Modern Language Association, American Association of University Women, Kansas Association of Teachers of English (former president and district vice-president at the time of her death), and Presbyterian Church, Manhattan.

Death due to pneumonia, following an operation for intestinal trouble. Buried in Topeka. Survived by no immediate relatives.

SCHOOL OF THE FINE ARTS

Edward Peck Sperry, B.F.A. 1903.

Died September 19, 1925, in Stockbridge, Mass.

Father, Peck Sperry, importer and distributor of musical instruments. Mother, Caroline Augusta (Lake) Sperry.

Early education received in New Haven public schools; employed by Skinner & Sperry for a time before entering the Yale School of the Fine Arts in 1875; studied there about two years, but did not receive his degree until 1903; went abroad in 1876 and studied in Paris for a time and later at the American Academy in Rome for two years; was subsequently a stained glass artist with Tiffany & Company in New York City for fifteen years and then with Gorham & Company; later formed the Church Glass & Decorating Company with two artists, Carol Coleman and Russell Foot, and continued in that connection until the war, during which he was a member of the Naval Camouflage Staff of New York City; because of failing health went to Stockbridge in 1922; was a designer for Graffin & Dolson (cretonnes) of New York City for two years and then studied the flora and painted panels in old Antwerp style until his eyesight failed; had been an invalid for about a year before his death; among his designs are five memorial windows in the Pilgrimage Congregational Church, Plymouth, Mass., and all the windows in the Memorial Hall; a three-panel window in the Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago, in memory of Philip D. Armour; the memorial to Dr. Trudeau in the church at Saranac, N. Y.; a memorial window in St. Eustace's Church, Lake Placid; mural panels in the McAlpin Hotel, New York City; and twelve panels in the gallery of St. Mark's-in-the-Bouwerie, New York City; member New Haven Grays, 7th Regiment, New York National Guard (for seven years), and St. Mark's-in-the-Bouwerie.

Married, in New York City, Dora Morgan, daughter of John Morgan and Georgia (Holbrook) Coleman, of Louisville, Ky. No children.

Death due to paralysis. Buried in Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife.

SCHOOL OF FORESTRY

Stuart John Flintham, M.F. 1904.

Born December 30, 1879, in Albion, N. Y.

Died June 10, 1925, in Los Angeles, Calif.

Father, William Stevens Flintham, a furniture dealer and undertaker; son of John and Maria (Stevens) Flintham; descendant of William Flintham, who came to America from England and settled in St. Louis, Mo. Mother, Ella (Millard) Flintham.

Albion High School; attended Williams College for two years (1899-1901) as member of Class of 1903 (on athletic team and editor of the Weekly); attended Cornell Forest School 1901-03 (member of athletic team); Senior in Yale School of Forestry 1903-04 (M.F. 1904); B. A. Cornell 1904; entered the Forest Service in June, 1904, at Pike's Peak Reservation and soon became forest inspector for California; resigned position in 1908 to enter business; forester and vice-president of L. M. Pratt Eucalyptus Company in Los Angeles 1908-1911; in 1911 accepted appointment as forester for Los Angeles County and held the office until his death; became fish and game commissioner in 1920 and fire warden in 1921; was credited with having built up the most complete forestry and fire department of its kind in California; directed establishment of forty-four fire districts in unincorporated sections of the county, and in connection with other duties had served as chief of the combined county fire departments since 1921; during last few months of his life had been carrying out an extensive plan of fire-break building in the back country of the Angeles National Forest in cooperation with the U. S. Forest Service; member Angeles Forest Protective Association; a grove of 2,000 acres of pine, fir, and cedar in the north fork of the San Dimas Cañon, which was planted under his supervision in 1911, is to be named Flintham Woods, and a bronze tablet to his memory is to be placed upon a monument at the entrance to the park, the memorial being sponsored by the Angeles Forest Protective Association. Member Pullman Universalist Church in Albion.

Married November 14, 1907, in Orange, Calif., Helen May, daughter of Ray and Eleanor (Patterson) Billingsley. Children: William Billingsley (died in childhood); Eleanor Virginia; and Dorothy Myra. Mr. and Mrs. Flintham were later divorced.

Death, due to a perforated gastric ulcer, occurred at the Angelus Hospital, Los Angeles. Buried in Albion. Survived by parents.

Mauricio Julian Oteyza, M.F. 1910.

Born October 18, 1886, in Binonda, Manila, P. I.

Died February 5, 1926, in Baguio, Mountain Province, P. I.

Father, Mauricio Oteyza y Reyes, a confectioner; son of Isidoro Oteyza y Reyes and Maria Tolentino. Mother, Ana Maria San Juan, daughter of Leocardio San Juan and Ynocencia Torres.

Attended Jesuit College, Manila; apprentice in office of Ker & Company, Manila, 1903, student at Philippine Normal School 1903-04; taught in the government public schools 1904-05; one of the student pensionados sent to the United States in 1905, attended Kansas State Agricultural College 1905-08 (member of Cadet Corps and Corporal in Cadet Band; B.S. in horticulture 1910); studied at Yale School of Forestry 1908-1910 (also a special student in Sheffield Scientific School 1908-09), appointed an assistant forester in Philippine Bureau of Forestry February, 1910, and the following June was detailed to instruct in School of Forestry, University of the Philippines; instructor in silviculture and forest management 1911-18; made assistant professor of silviculture 1918; appointed forester in charge of special projects of Bureau of Forestry and city forester of Baguio 1918, holding the first city forester's position in the Philippines; retired from the service on account of ill health July 3, 1924; had since been owner and manager of the Philippine Store in Baguio; member Alpha Beta Literary Society, a local musical society, and the Philippine Independent Church.

Married August 12, 1912, in San Mateo, Rizal, P. I., Dolores, daughter of Celerino Santamaria and Maria Santos. Children: Victor and Virginia.

Death due to tuberculosis. Survived by wife and children.

Shoitsu Hotta, M.F. 1918.

Born November 30, 1872, in Tokyo, Japan

Died July 4, 1925, in Fukuoka, Japan.

Father, Masaoki Hotta, a civil official; son of Masayoshi and Sute Hotta. Mother, Moto (Ota) Hotta; daughter of Shinsai and Kiwa (Sasayama) Ota.

Early education received at elementary schools of Tokyo and Niigata, higher education at the Tokwa-Gakko and the second high school at Sendai, and university training at College of Agriculture, Tokyo Imperial University; assistant at that college 1899-1901 and afterwards assistant professor of forestry; sent abroad as an official student in 1916 and entered Yale School of Forestry that fall; after receiving his M F degree in 1918, spent some time in Berkeley and Los Angeles, Calif., continuing his studies in forestry; returned to Japan in May, 1919; received his doctor's degree and was assistant professor of forestry at Tokyo Imperial University until 1921, since then had been professor of forestry at the Agricultural College of Kyushu Imperial University, Fukuoka; had also been connected with the work of Japanese Forestry Association; member of Congregational Church, Sendai Married January 5, 1903, in Tokyo, Sei, daughter of Ichijuro and Ryu Yoshida No children.

Death due to inflammation of the lungs; had been ill since the previous December. Interment in the Ayoma public cemetery, Tokyo. Survived by wife, an adopted son, Masao Hotta, mother, and two brothers, Masatsugu Hotta, of Nada-Sumiyoshi, Hyogo Prefecture, and Masakatsu Hotta, of Usuda-Machi, Nagano Prefecture

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Daniel Armstrong DeForest, M.D. 1858.

Born November 6, 1833, in Boonville, Ind.
Died December 20, 1925, in Boonville, Ind.

Father, Joseph DeForest, a farmer; a pioneer settler in southern Indiana in 1815; son of Capt. Joseph DeForest, a Revolutionary soldier, and Anne (Lamson) DeForest; descendant of Isaac DeForest, (son of Jesse D. and Marie (DuClouax) DeForest), who came to America from Leyden, Netherlands, about 1637 and settled in New Amsterdam. Mother, Mary Nancy (Denton) DeForest. Ancestors went from Kentucky to Henderson County, N. C.

Preparatory training received in Boonville; attended DePauw University for two years; took a course of lectures at Sterling Medical College, Columbus, Ohio; studied in Yale Medical School 1857-58; engaged in practice of medicine at Ashbyburg, Ky., 1858-1861; during Civil War served as Assistant Surgeon of 25th Kentucky Infantry; subsequently practiced in Boonville; served as health officer of Boonville four years and of Warrick County one year, and as pension surgeon for several years; president of Mississippi Valley Medical Association one year; trustee of Methodist Episcopal Church, Boonville.

Married November 2, 1858, in Evansville, Ind., Margaret Benson, daughter of James Fitzgerald and Anna Eliza Markham Children: William Henry, who attended DePauw University for two years (died in 1893); Alberta, a non-graduate member of the DePauw Class of 1891; Gertrude Margaret (Ph B DePauw 1893); Daniel Frank (M.D. Indiana Medical College 1895); Sylvester (LL.B. Columbian Law School, Washington, D. C., 1903); Grace Greenwood (Mrs. William L. Veeck); and Hattie Louise (Mrs. O. S. Bird) Mrs DeForest died September 24, 1910.

Death due to arteriosclerosis. Interment in Maple Grove Cemetery, Boonville. Survived by four daughters and two sons.

Walter Russell Bartlett, M.D. 1871.

Born February 4, 1848, in North Guilford, Conn.

Died January 7, 1926, in North Guilford, Conn

Father, Stephen Russell Bartlett, a farmer; member of Connecticut General Assembly in 1861 and 1869; son of Stephen and Nancy (Fowler) Bartlett; descendant of George Bartlett, who came from Guilford, Surrey, England, about 1640 and was one of the first settlers of Guilford, Conn. Mother, Susan Ann (Chalker) Bartlett; daughter of Stephen and Silence (Breed) Chalker; descendant of Alexander Chalker, who came to this country from England in 1648 and settled at Saybrook, Conn.; was one of the proprietary settlers killed in a fight with Narragansett Indians in 1675. Nephew: Stephen R. Bartlett, '00.

Guilford Institute; studied in Yale School of Medicine 1868-1871; practiced in New Haven from 1871 until his retirement in 1887 on account of poor health; member New Haven Board of Health 1881-87; was connected, through his affiliation with the New Haven Medical Association, with the New Haven Hospital; since 1885 had lived in the house in North Guilford in which he was born; engaged in farming for a time on land which had been in the Bartlett family since the settlement of the town; had contributed articles on medical and hygienic topics to Sanitation, Education, and Health Guidance; member Congregational Church, North Guilford.

Unmarried.

Death due to heart disease. Buried in North Guilford. Survived by a brother, George H. Bartlett, '77 S. Another brother, Stephen C. Bartlett, '66 M., died in 1879.

Franklin D. Clum, M.D. 1875.

Born February 16, 1853, in Saugerties, N. Y.

Died July 8, 1925, in Cheviot, N. Y.

Father, Alexander Clum, a sea captain; in the United States Government service as a pilot during Civil War; son of Philip P. and Maria (Hyser) Clum; descendant of Philip Clum, who was born on the Clum homestead in Germantown, N. Y., in 1749. Mother, Jane Maria (Freleigh) Clum.

Syracuse (N. Y.) High School. Commenced study of medicine when sixteen years of age, while a clerk in Saugerties Post Office, under Dr. E. D. Chipman, the postmaster, attended Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, from which he received a certificate in 1874, also attended College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, valedictorian of Class of 1875 M. at Yale; practiced in town and village of Saugerties until 1878; owned and managed a drug store in Windham, N. Y., for about a year, then practiced in Amsterdam, N. Y., until 1883; practiced in Cheviot from 1892 until his death, had traveled around the world six times; author: Men and Women and Inebriety, member New York State Medical Society; attended the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Married (1) May 7, 1879, in Hudson, N. Y., Alice, daughter of the Rev. William Hull. One son, Franklin William. Mrs. Clum died April 23, 1883. Married (2) October 17, 1892, in North Germantown, N. Y., Ella, daughter of John Edmund and Elizabeth (MacFarland) Rivenburg. One daughter, Gertrude.

Death due to a paralytic stroke. Buried in the family lot in Cheviot cemetery. Survived by wife, son, and daughter.

Samuel Henry Huntington, M.D. 1876.

Born August 10, 1854, in Windham, Conn.

Died June 23, 1926, in Norwalk, Conn.

Father, Wallace Huntington, a mechanical draftsman and pattern maker, son of Henry and Clarissa (Bibbins) Huntington. Mother, Cynthia (Ward) Huntington, daughter of Lemuel and Amy (Bailey) Ward.

Preparatory training received at Dr. Fitch's school in Windham, attended Yale School of Medicine 1873-76, practiced in Bethlehem, Conn., 1877-79, in Wilton, Conn., 1879-1890, and in Norwalk since 1890; had been connected with Norwalk General Hospital since its foundation in 1890; served as medical examiner of Wilton and Norwalk since 1898; member Connecticut State, Norwalk, and American Medical associations, and Episcopal Church, Norwalk; was regarded as an authority on Masonic matters

Married (1) April 17, 1878, in New York City, Anna Billings, daughter of Lorenzo and Julia Buck (Chapin) Bissell. One daughter, Edith Chapin (Mrs Harry G Cooke) Mrs Huntington died January 8, 1884. Married (2) June 16, 1886, in New York City, Annette Louise, daughter of William Thomas and Sarah Rebecca Mills. One son, Arthur Frederick Death, due to acute nephritis, occurred after an illness of about a month Buried in Windham, Conn. Survived by wife, daughter, son, and three grandchildren.

Isaac Napoleon Porter, M.D. 1893.

Born October 15, 1865, at Summit Bridge, Del.

Died April 10, 1926, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Isaac Iron Porter, a farmer; tax collector, member of School Board. Mother, Hannah Elizabeth (Bojard) Porter.

Chester (Pa) School, B.A. Lincoln University 1890, attended Yale School of Medicine 1890-93, had been engaged almost continuously in practice of medicine in New Haven since receiving his medical degree; Republican in politics, serving as councilman from 9th Ward in 1896 and 1897, prominent in colored Masonic circles in New Haven; member state and county medical societies; trustee Immanuel Baptist Church, New Haven; M.A. Lincoln 1894.

Death due to pneumonia; suffered a shock two years before, but had nearly recovered from its effects when he was taken ill again Buried in Evergreen Cemetery, New Haven Survived by wife, Gertrude C Porter, and a brother, Henry G. Porter.

James Henry Joseph Flynn, M.D. 1895.

Born September 2, 1873, in New Haven, Conn.

Died April 26, 1926, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Charles Flynn, a grocer; born in Ireland, came to America when five years of age with his parents, Charles and Mary (O'Brien) Flynn, who settled in New Haven in 1847; served with a Connecticut regiment in the Civil War. Mother, Bridget (Brennan) Flynn; born in Ireland. Yale relatives include three nephews. Charles T. Flynn, '11 M., Harold A. Flynn, '23, and William J. Canty, '23 S.

Hillhouse High School; attended Niagara University for two and a half years before entering Yale School of Medicine in 1892, after receiving his degree, served as an interne at New Haven Hospital for a year and a half; had since been engaged in general practice of medicine in New Haven, being widely known as a successful obstetrician; one of founders of St. Raphael's Hospital, an attending physician there since its establishment, and secretary of the medical board; member New Haven Medical Society (former vice-president), American Medical Association, New Haven County Medical Association, Connecticut State Medical Society, New Haven Chamber of Commerce, and St. Brendan's Roman Catholic Church.

Married September 15, 1901, in New Haven, Alice, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth (Wierich) Beecher. Children: Alice Zita, the wife of Bernard P. Corbett, ex-'23; Grace; Eunice; Irma; and James Henry Joseph, Jr.

Death due to heart disease, had been in poor health over a year. Interment in St. Lawrence Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife, son, four daughters, and a sister, Mrs. Vernon White, and a brother, Harry Flynn, both of New Haven

Samuel Gurney, M.D. 1901.

Born September 3, 1860, at Long Branch, N. J.
Died August 3, 1924, in Salisbury, Rhodesia, South Africa

Father, George Gurney, a parish schoolmaster in England; came to America in 1853 and settled at Long Branch; son of William and Elizabeth (Boughton) Gurney. Mother, Frances (Hibbs) Gurney; daughter of Charles and Frances (Hallett) Hibbs

Attended public schools at Long Branch and East Setauket, Long Island, and the Missionary Training Institute, New York City; studied at Drew Theological Seminary 1887-89; entered the New York East Conference and was ordained April 4, 1891; held the following pastorates: Whitestone, Long Island (1887-88), Third Church, Long Island City (1889-1891), Parkville, N. Y. (1892), Long Hill, Conn. (1893-95), and Newfield, Bridgeport, Conn. (1896-1900); studied in Yale School of Medicine 1897-1901; was then resident physician at Bridgeport Hospital for a year and a half; missionary of Methodist Episcopal Church at Umtali, Africa, 1902-04; then returned to America to undergo an operation for cancer of the nose; on his way back to Africa went to London and studied in the School of Tropical Diseases for four months (granted the first English certificate to practice on British subjects given to an American citizen); returned to Umtali in 1902 and served there until 1909; missionary at Mrewa 1909-1914; later established missions in Kanyasa, M'toko, and Makaha in the Mrewa District; served as conference medical director in 1920; medical director at Nyaderi since 1923; had begun work of establishing a district hospital there, but this was not completed at the time of his death; received degree of M.D. at Cape Town, had been closely identified with the direct control of Methodist Episcopal Mission in Africa as member of its finance committee; acted as chairman of Missionary Conference at Salisbury, Rhodesia, in 1924

Married March 11, 1890, at Lawrence, Long Island, Annie Marietta, daughter of the Rev. Edward King Conklin Fanning and Rachel Ann (Luce) Fanning. No children. Mrs. Gurney died June 13, 1894.

Death due to heart failure, caused by high blood pressure, from which he had suffered for a number of years; had undergone an operation for gall stones in the Salisbury Hospital, was convalescing and had expected to leave the hospital in a week or two. Survived by two brothers, George Gurney, of Port Jefferson, N. Y., and James B. Gurney, of East Setauket, N. Y., and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Post, of Port Jefferson, and Mrs. May G. Lawrence, of Ocean Grove, N. J.

Eli Butler Ives, M.D. 1903.

Born December 25, 1878, in Meriden, Conn.
Died September 9, 1925, in Bridgeport, Conn.

Father, Charles Pomeroy Ives (LL.B. 1872); attorney at law in Meriden 1872-1891; son of Eli and Gelina Ann (Pomeroy) Ives; descendant of William Ives, one of the early settlers in the New Haven Colony, and of Noah Pomeroy, of Meriden, a descendant in the seventh generation of Eltweed Pomeroy, one of the settlers of Windsor, Conn. Mother, Phoebe Wells (Taintor) Ives; daughter of Charles Michael and Mary (Lord) Taintor, descendant in the ninth generation of Charles Taintor, who, with his sons and a daughter, was living in New England in 1643. Yale relatives include: Rev. Joseph Selden Lord (B.A. 1831) and Charles Taintor (B.A. 1839) (great-uncles), and Joseph L. Taintor, '60, Charles N. Taintor, '65, James U. Taintor, '66, George E. Butler, '95, Joel I. Butler, '97 S., Eli I. Butler, '98, Albert N. Butler, '00, James Spencer Taintor, '01, and Nelson Case Taintor, '09 (cousins).

Boardman Manual Training High School, New Haven; entered Yale School of Medicine 1899; interne at Bridgeport Hospital 1903-05; had since practiced as a physician and surgeon in Bridgeport; member of staff of Bridgeport Hospital; during the war served as medical examiner for local Draft Board No. 10; secretary of Fairfield County Medical Association seven years, president one year, and censor for three years prior to his death; member United Church (Congregational), Bridgeport.

Married September 17, 1909, in New York City, Maude L., daughter of Richard and Elizabeth Bolton, of Brockville, Ontario. Children: Olive Lord and Eli Bolton.

Death due to a cerebral thrombosis. Buried in Mountain Grove Cemetery, Bridgeport. Survived by wife, two children, parents, a brother, Paul Pomeroy Ives, of Guilford, Conn., and three sisters, Mrs. Hope Ives Collins and Mrs. Mary Lord Barnes, both of Branford, Conn., and Mrs. Eugenia Ives Stannard, of New Haven.

Edward Francis Crofutt, M.D. 1904.

Born in Bethel, Conn.

Died June 1, 1926

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Dr. Crofutt in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record

SCHOOL OF LAW

Joseph Rothschild, LL.B. 1873.

Born October 5, 1855, in San Francisco, Calif.
Died March 19, 1925, in San Francisco, Calif.

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Mr. Rothschild in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record.

David Strouse, LL.B. 1876.

Born July 20, 1848, in New Haven, Conn.
Died December 10, 1925, in New Haven, Conn.

Father, Isaac Strouse, a merchant; born in Wurzburg, Germany; came to America in 1846; son of Jacob and Henriette (Meyer) Strouse. Mother, Helen (Bretzfelder) Strouse; daughter of David Bretzfelder, a soldier in Napoleon's army, and Lena (Sachs) Bretzfelder.

General Russell's Collegiate and Commercial Institute; engaged in business until 1873; attended Yale School of Law 1874-76, being admitted to bar in 1875; had practiced in New Haven since 1876; specialized in mercantile law and was active in insolvency cases when that class of business was handled in the Probate Court; after the National Bankruptcy Act came into operation continued in that line of practice in the Federal courts and had been prominently identified with bankruptcy court proceedings, being considered an authority in equity law, served as justice of the peace 1876-1900; member New Haven Bar Association and Congregation Mishkan Israel.

Married October 24, 1876, in New Haven, Louise, daughter of Michael Jacob and Caroline (Feil) Fisher. Children: Louis Henry (Ph B. 1900, LL.B. 1903) and Ned Carl.

Death due to a heart attack. Buried in Mishkan Israel Cemetery, New Haven. Survived by wife, two sons, and two sisters, the Misses Adeline and Pauline Strouse, both of New Haven.

John Howard Whiting, LL.B. 1876.

Born November 24, 1849, in New Haven, Conn
Died February 29, 1920, in New York City

Father, William Joseph Whiting (M.D. 1844), son of George I. and Eliza W. Whiting. Mother, Susan (Colburn) Whiting; daughter of Dr Josiah M. Colburn, who attended the Yale School of Medicine for two years (1820-22), and Susan (Clark) Colburn.

Studied in Yale School of Law 1874-78 (honors in Junior year; Marshall Jewell Prize Senior year; LL B 1876, D C L 1878); admitted to the bar and resided in New Haven until 1893, after which he lived in East Orange, N. J., for a time and later in New York City, where he practiced his profession; moved to Milford, Conn, in 1901 and remained there until 1915; then lived in New York until his death; had been an officer of the Humane Society; member Congregational Church.

Married (1) in 1875, Adeline, daughter of John Adams and Sarah Fenn (Hotchkiss) Blake. Children: Edwin Blake, '07 S, John Robert, ex-'07 S. (died in 1924); and William Joseph, ex-'08 S. Mrs. Whiting died in January, 1907.

Buried in Ansonia, Conn. Survived by his second wife, Dora Whiting, and two sons.

John Sheldon Maxwell, LL.B. 1877.

Born April 3, 1850, in Wattsburg, Pa.
Died October 16, 1925, in Milwaukee, Wis

Father, Sheldon Maxwell, a farmer; later a merchant; also a school director and choir master; son of Moses Burt and Ann (Buckley) Maxwell; ancestors came to America from Scotland. Mother, Sarah Emeline (Taylor) Maxwell; daughter of Josiah and Phebe (Butterfield) Taylor; of English ancestry

Waterford (Pa.) Academy; B.A Western Reserve 1875 (member Alpha Delta Phi); entered Yale School of Law 1875 (member of 8-oar Barge Team); continued his law studies in New Haven 1877-79; practiced law in Columbus, Wis, 1879-

1896; during that time was district attorney for Columbia County in 1888 and 1889 and superintendent of schools in Columbus from 1883 to 1891; practiced law in Milwaukee from 1896 until he retired in 1922 on account of ill health; referee in bankruptcy for Eastern District of Wisconsin 1905-09; member College Church, Hudson, Ohio; attended St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Milwaukee.

Married November 12, 1879, in Waterford, Josephine Hortense, daughter of Henry Rawlson and Marietta (Judson) Vincent. One daughter, Eleanor Pomeroy (Mrs. William Farnham).

Death due to myocarditis and nephritis. Interment at Waterford. Survived by wife, daughter, and two sisters, Miss Frances E. Maxwell and Mrs. Frank Sedgwick, both of Wenatchee, Wash.

Charles Andrews Colley, LL.B. 1878.

Born January 18, 1858, in Waterbury, Conn.

Died April 8, 1926, in Waterbury, Conn.

Father, James Monroe Colley, a contractor; street inspector of Waterbury for many years; of English ancestry. Mother, Cornelia Ann (Minor) Colley; daughter of Horace G. and Sarah (Leavenworth) Minor, descendant of Col. John Minor, who came to Stratford, Conn., from England.

Waterbury High School; entered Yale School of Law in 1876; admitted to the Connecticut Bar in 1878; practiced law in Waterbury until 1883; served as prosecuting agent under the liquor law 1883-1893, later devoted himself to management of his extensive real estate interests; organizer and first president (serving four years) of Waterbury Chamber of Commerce, director of State Chamber of Commerce and national counselor of U. S. Chamber of Commerce; member First Congregational Church, Waterbury.

Married January 17, 1884, in New Haven, Mary Anne, daughter of Edward and Martha (Ritter) Bryan. No children. Mrs. Colley died September 26, 1925.

Death due to myocarditis, complicated with influenza and bronchitis. Buried in Riverside Cemetery, Waterbury. Survived by no immediate relatives.

Leonard Daniels, LL.B. 1878.

Born February 9, 1852, in Grafton, Vt.

Died July 17, 1924, in Seattle, Wash.

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Mr Daniels in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record.

Charles Lewis Ullman, LL.B. 1878.

Born April 15, 1854, in New Haven, Conn.

Died February 10, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Isaac Ullman, a merchant; also engaged in real estate business, born in Hachenbach, Bavaria, came to America in 1847, settling in New Haven in 1849, son of David Ullman. Mother, Fanny (Heller) Ullman; born in Dennerlohe, Bavaria; daughter of Isaac Heller. Yale relative: Dr. Isaac M. Heller, '94 S.

Felsenthal's Scientific Academy, Westville, Conn., and Thomas and Wells Business College, New Haven; cashier and clerk in mercantile houses in New Haven and New York City before entering Yale School of Law in 1876 (member Kent Club); admitted to the bar in 1878, practiced in New Haven until 1892; served as a councilman one term, assistant city attorney for a time (filling an unexpired term), and civil justice of the peace for town of New Haven for ten years; since 1892 had practiced in New York City, has also been engaged as a broker in real estate, candidate of Independence League for judge of the Municipal Court in 1907, a founder of Bronx Chamber of Commerce, member Society of Medical Jurisprudence of New York, New York County Lawyers' Association, North Side Board of Trade of the Bronx, and Free Synagogue, New York.

Married June 4, 1890, Mary A., daughter of Thomas J. and Helen Shelly (Fisher) Robinson. Children: David, an Ensign in the U. S. Navy; Ruth, and Helen, who married Leo Sprague. Mrs. Ullman died October 8, 1916.

Death due to cardiac failure, complicated with pernicious anæmia. Buried in Westville. Survived by son, two daughters, four grandchildren, four sisters, Mrs. Anna Westheim, Mrs. Rebecca Kohn, and Mrs. Pauline Lahm, all of New York City, and Mrs. Leah U. Herz, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a brother, David I. Ullman, of New York.

John William Coogan, LL.B. 1879.

Born June 3, 1855, in Windsor Locks, Conn.

Died May 6, 1926, in Hartford, Conn.

Father, James Coogan, a paper maker and merchant; born in Ireland; came to this country with his parents, Daniel and Mary J. (McGinn) Coogan, who settled in Lee, Mass.; held many town offices at Windsor Locks, serving as member of Board of Selectmen for a number of years; member of Connecticut General Assembly in 1865. Mother, Eliza (Byrne) Coogan, born in Dublin, Ireland. Nephew, James T. Coogan, '93 L.

Windsor Locks public schools; B.A. St. John's College (Fordham University) 1876; began study of law in office of his brother, Timothy C. Coogan, in Thompsonville, Conn., in 1876, entered Yale School of Law in 1877; during his course there was in office of William C. Case, '57, in New Haven for two years; admitted to Hartford County Bar 1879 and practiced law continuously in Hartford until his retirement in January, 1925, practicing in all State and Federal courts of the district; associated with Judge William F. Calhoun and Mahlon R. West in early years of practice; prosecuting attorney of city of Hartford in 1885 and 1886, corporation counsel 1914-16, and a grand juror for some years, member Board of Street Commissioners 1900-06, for a few years made his home in Windsor Locks and represented that town in Connecticut General Assembly in 1882 (served on Committee of Cities and Boroughs), delegate to many Democratic city, county, and state conventions and in 1900 was a candidate on the Democratic ticket for presidential elector, M.A. St. John's 1878, LL.D. 1912; one of the incorporators of St. Francis' Hospital, Hartford, and a director for many years; member Hartford County Bar Association and St. Joseph's Cathedral, Hartford; active in laymen's retreat movement in Hartford and vicinity since its inception, founding the Laymen's League in Hartford in 1914, the headquarters of which at Mount Mauresa, Staten Island, are conducted by the Fathers of the Society of Jesus.

Married December 28, 1898, in Albany, N. Y., Susan Owen, daughter of Murtha Thomas and Mary J. (Owen) Nolan. Children: John William, Jr., and Murtha Thomas, who attended Fordham from 1919 to 1922 and graduated from Trinity in 1923.

Death due to heart disease; had been ill for about two years. Buried in Mount St. Benedict Cemetery, Hartford. Survived by wife and sons.

Willis Ira Fenn, LL.B. 1881.

Born February 8, 1854, in Wallingford, Conn.
Died January 22, 1925, in Meriden, Conn.

Father, Joel Fenn, an architect and builder; son of Joel and Hannah (Curtis) Fenn; descendant of Edward Fenn, who settled in Wallingford in 1686, and of Benjamin Fenn, who came from Whittington, Masworth, England, to Dorchester, Mass., in 1630, where he was a proprietor the next year, later moving to New Haven, and thence to Milford, Conn., in 1639. Mother, Mary Hart (Hamlin) Fenn; daughter of Ava and Nancy (Gillette) Hamlin; descendant of Capt. Giles Hamlin, who was born in Cornwall, England, in 1622, came to Barnstable, Mass., in 1635 from St. Lawrence, Reading, Berkshire, and settled at Middletown, Conn., in 1654.

Prepared at Meriden; attended Yale School of Law in 1879-1881 (member Kent Club); practiced law in Meriden from 1881 until his death; deputy judge of Meriden City and Police courts 1895-1915 and again 1922-24, councilman and alderman 1882-87; registrar of voters twelve years; chairman of Republican Town Committee, represented Meriden in General Assembly 1903-04 and 1905-06 (member Judiciary Committee and Committee on Cities and Boroughs; chairman of Committee on Legislative Expenses), trustee of First Baptist Church, Meriden, for a number of years.

Unmarried.

Death due to pneumonia. Buried in Walnut Grove Cemetery, Meriden. Survived by a brother, Ava H. Fenn (M.D. College of Physicians and Surgeons, Baltimore, 1886), and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Fenn Bodurtha, both of Meriden.

George Merrick Sinclair, LL.B. 1883.

Born May 20, 1858, in Ottawa, Ontario.
Died December 31, 1916, in Seattle, Wash.

Father, Duncan R. Sinclair, a civil engineer. Mother, Maria (Merrick) Sinclair.

Attended St. John's College and Osgood Hall Law School and was admitted to practice in Dakota before entering Yale School of Law as a Senior in 1882 (his name at that time was George Merrick Clarke, as he had taken the name of his stepfather); engaged in the practice of law at Mount Vernon, Wash., 1883-88, in Fairhaven, Wash., 1888-1890, in Mount Vernon again 1890-99, in Butte, Mont., 1899-1902, and in Seattle from 1902 until his death; while in Butte was in partnership with George B. Dygert in firm of Sinclair & Dygert.

Married August 18, 1897, in Seattle, Grace Abigail, daughter of Joseph and Rachael Margaret Robinson. No children.

Death due to a cerebral hemorrhage. Buried in Lake View Cemetery, Seattle. Survived by wife.

Charles Calloway Pavey, LL.B. 1884.

Born August 26, 1857, in Greenfield, Ohio
Died September 16, 1925, in Columbus, Ohio

Father, Madison Pavey, a lawyer; graduate of Cincinnati Law School; prosecuting attorney of Fayette County, Ohio; state senator; son of Daniel Pavey; descendant of Samuel Pavey, who was born in New Hampshire in 1710 and later lived in Caroline County, Md., and Harrison County, Ky. Mother, Mary Lucretia (Dunlap) Pavey; daughter of John and Susan (Brooks) Dunlap; descendant of Capt. Samuel Wallace, a member of the Cumberland County (Pa.) Militia in the Revolution.

Bliss and Babin School, Cincinnati; B.A. Wooster University 1882; attended Yale School of Law 1882-84 (member Kent Club); practiced law at Washington Court House, Ohio, for a time and since 1900 at Columbus, where he was a member of firm of Pavey, Kahle & Moore for some years; member Columbus Bar Association and Broad Street Congregational Church, Columbus; M.A. Wooster 1885.

Married October 6, 1887, at Washington Court House, Eva Matilda, daughter of Martin and Sarah (Coffman) Grove. Children: Ralph Madison (B.Sc. Ohio State University 1913) and Carl Calloway (B.E.E. Ohio State University 1915) (died in 1923).

Death due to a cerebral hemorrhage. Buried at Washington Court House. Survived by wife, one son, two brothers, Frank D. Pavey, '84, and George M. Pavey, '88, and a sister, Miss Mary S. Pavey (B.A. Wellesley 1893).

William Enston Butler, LL.B. 1885.

Born June 28, 1850, in Charleston, S. C.

Died June 21, 1915, in Charleston, S. C.

Father, William Butler, a cabinet maker; later in the furniture business; born in Kent County, England, lived in Philadelphia and later in Charleston; son of Thomas and Kathryn (Coppin) Butler. Mother, Ellen (Enston) Butler, daughter of Daniel and Sarah (Knowles) Enston, who came from Canterbury, England, to Chester, Pa., in 1821 and settled; later moving to Evansville, Ind.

Private schools, Charleston; C.E. Pennsylvania Military Academy 1883; studied at Yale School of Law 1883-85, practiced law in Charleston from 1885 until his retirement about 1911, with the exception of a year spent in Spartanburg, S. C., appointed judicial magistrate by Governor John Gary Evans in 1896 and served two years; vice-president and trustee of William Enston Home, an institution founded and donated to city of Charleston by his mother's brother, by whom he was adopted; had served as Captain in Charleston Riflemen and in Montgomery Guards; member Second Presbyterian Church, Charleston, at time of his death.

Married (1) in January, 1873, in Charleston, Lura Belle, daughter of Peter and Anna (Kennedy) Zeigler. One son, William Enston Mrs. Butler died January 30, 1874. Married (2) December 28, 1876, in Charleston, Ella Jessie, daughter of Duncan and Margaret Allison (McFarlane) McDermid. Children Hannah Ellen (Mrs Jesse T. Bryant), who graduated from the Medical College of South Carolina in 1904; Kathryn Cameron; Jessie Allison; Alfred Enston, a graduate of the Medical College of South Carolina in 1915; Elize Belle (died in 1899); and Bethea Boys (died in 1891).

Death due to paralysis Buried in Magnolia Cemetery, Charleston Survived by one son, three daughters, and four grandchildren.

James Clark Work, LL.B. 1886.

Born February 8, 1859, in Dunbar Township, Pa
Died March 31, 1926, in Uniontown, Pa.

Father, John Work, a farmer and stock dealer; son of James and Ellen (Dugan) Work, descendant of Joseph Work, of Fayette County, Pa. Mother, Sarah (McLaughlin) Work; daughter of Charles and Mary (McLaughlin) McLaughlin, whose ancestors settled in Fayette County.

Preparatory training received at Sandy Hollow (Pa.) district school, B.A. Waynesburg College 1884 (member Union Literary Society), studied law at University of Michigan 1884-85 and at Yale 1885-86, admitted to practice by Supreme Court of Connecticut in 1886; in January, 1887, following his admission to Fayette County Bar, opened an office of his own in Uniontown; practiced alone until 1889; member of firm of Work & Hogg 1889-1892; then practiced independently; in June, 1907, when the Pennsylvania Legislature created a separate Orphans Court for Fayette County, he was appointed by the Governor judge of the court; elected for a ten-year term the following November and reelected for a similar term in 1917, chairman of Fayette County Republican Committee 1893-95; member American, Pennsylvania, and Fayette County Bar associations and First Presbyterian Church, Uniontown.

Married April 16, 1903, in Uniontown, Edwina Null Fuller, daughter of Henry Harrison and Ellen Gerhardt (Dom) Null, of Greensburg, Pa. No children

Death due to pneumonia. Interment in Oak Grove Cemetery, Uniontown. Survived by wife and three sisters, Mrs. Anna M. Henshaw, of Uniontown, Mrs. Adam Nicholson, of Franklin Township, Pa., and Mrs. Belle Chalfant, of Brownsville, Pa.

Patrick Kane, LL.B. 1888.

Born November 14, 1848, in New York City.

Died June 6, 1926, in Bridgeport, Conn.

Father, Patrick Kane, a tailor, born in Dublin, Ireland; came to America in 1847; served as member of Company D, 9th Regiment, Connecticut Volunteers, during the Civil War; son of George and Mary (O'Brien) Kane. Mother, Catherine (Smith) Kane; born in Dublin; daughter of Patrick and Honora (Ellis) Smith. Brother, George Kane, '97 L.

Day Select School, Bridgeport; attended Bryant and Stratton Commercial School, Boston; engaged in newspaper, book, and stationery business in Bridgeport 1865-1885; state editor for Catholic Total Abstinence Union 1870-78; attended Yale School of Law 1886-88; had since been engaged in active practice of law in Bridgeport; in 1893 appointed deputy judge of City Court of Bridgeport for the two-year term, but by reason of the death of the judge of the court in October, 1893, acted as sole judge for remainder of the term; served as a justice of the peace and as indexer of Bridgeport Law Records 1893-97; member Board of Taxation 1896-98 and Board of Public Charities 1909-1910; member Fairfield County Bar Association, Bridgeport Board of Trade, Sons of Veterans, and St. Augustine's Roman Catholic Church, Bridgeport.

Married July 20, 1899, in Bridgeport, Amy Belle, daughter of Richard and Elizabeth (Britain) Jukes. Children: Amy Belle (died in childhood), Patricia; Richard Sarto; Elizabeth Britain, a member of the Tufts Class of 1929; and Ruth Marion.

Death due to uræmia. Buried in St. Michael's Cemetery, Bridgeport. Survived by wife, son, three daughters, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth A. K. Hornby, of Bridgeport.

Frank Harrison Kelley, LL.B. 1888.

Born December 28, 1863, in Worcester, Mass.

Died January 6, 1925, in Tacoma, Wash.

Father, Frank Harrison Kelley (M.D. Cincinnati Medical College 1852), a surgeon, practicing in New Hampton and Dover, N. H., and Lawrence and Worcester, Mass.; first president of board of trustees of Worcester City Hospital; councilman, alderman, and mayor of Worcester; son of Michael B. and Rachel Anna (Cram) Kelley; descendant of Darby Kelley, who came to Exeter, N. H., from England in 1715, and of Tristram Cram, who came to Deerfield, N. H., from England about 1760. Mother, Lucy Ellis (Draper) Kelley.

Phillips-Exeter. Entered Yale College with the Class of 1886, but left at end of Sophomore year (treasurer of Football Club Freshman year; member '86 Glee Club and Delta Kappa Epsilon); was in the commission business in New York City for a time and was also on the staffs of several New York newspapers; studied at Yale School of Law 1886-88; during his Junior year there was a reporter for New Haven Palladium; city editor New Haven Morning News 1888-89; resigned his position to take up practice of law in New Haven as member of firm of Kelley, Rinehart & Stewart (had been admitted to the bar in 1888); left New Haven in 1896 and practiced law independently in Worcester until 1899; had since practiced independently in Tacoma; member Pierce County Bar Association.

Married May 21, 1886, in New Haven, Jean Leslie, daughter of John L. and Jessie (Duechars) Richardson. Children: Frank Harrison, Jr., who graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1910; Ruth Leslie (Mrs. Clarke A. Johnson); Bruce Draper, a graduate of the United States Naval Academy in 1925; John Ellis, a student at the University of Washington; and Daysie Winston.

Death due to cancer of the liver. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Tacoma. Survived by wife, five children, and seven grandchildren.

Howard Nichols Wakeman, LL.B. 1888.

Born November 21, 1856, at Greenfield Hill, Conn.

Died February 22, 1926, in Bridgeport, Conn.

Father, Zalmon Wakeman, a school teacher; member Connecticut General Assembly; son of John and Clara (Nichols) Wakeman; descendant of John Wakeman, who came to Hartford, Conn., from England in the seventeenth century. Mother, Susan Warner (Nichols) Wakeman; daughter of Bradley Hull and Charlotte (Banks) Nichols; descendant of Francis Nichols, who came to Hartford from England before 1700. Yale relatives include a nephew, George E. Beers, '89 L., and a grandnephew, William L. Beers, ex-'27 L.

Day Select School, Bridgeport, and Trinity School, Southport, Conn.; entered Yale School of Law in 1886; also studied in law office of Curtis Thompson (honorary M.A. 1871) in Bridgeport; admitted to Fairfield County Bar in 1887 and began practice in Bridgeport; member of firm of Thompson, Wakeman & Thompson (in which Curtis Thompson was senior partner and his son, James W. Thompson, '90, junior partner) 1894-1904; admitted to New York State Bar 1904; examiner in law department of Lawyers Title Insurance & Trust Company of New York City 1904-1914; practiced law in Bridgeport from 1915 until his death; personal tax collector of town of Fairfield, Conn., from 1916 until his death; member Fairfield Republican Town Committee for forty years; member Connecticut General Assembly in 1897 (House chairman of Committee on Public Health and clerk of Committee on Legislative Expenses and Procedure); secretary of Bridgeport Historical Society and in charge of Phineas Taylor Barnum Museum at time of his death; served as a Private in Home Guard of Fairfield from its organization in 1917 until 1919; was also member of Legal Advisory Board of Division No. 13; member Sons of the American Revolution, Bridgeport Scientific and Historical Society, Fairfield Historical Society, and Trinity Episcopal Church (vestryman since 1879 and senior warden since 1920); had lived in Southport since 1889.

Married October 28, 1891, in Bridgeport, Grace Melville, daughter of Henry and Catherine (Silliman) Hall. Children: Tallmadge Nichols, '14 S, who held a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Ordnance Department during the war; Catherine DeForest (Mrs Henry A. Wedelstaedt), of Chicago, Ill.; and Clara Lacey (Mrs. Howard E. Allen), of Westport, Conn Death, due to bronchopneumonia, occurred in Park City Hospital, Bridgeport. Survived by wife, son, two daughters, and two grandchildren.

John Wright Cox, LL.B. 1889.

Born January 16, 1863, in LaGrange, Ga
Died April 10, 1916, in Atlanta, Ga

Father, Albert Ewing Cox, a lawyer, attended Franklin College (now the University of Georgia) and Randolph-Macon College, judge of City Court of LaGrange; represented Troup County in the Georgia Legislature, senior partner in dry goods firm of Cox & Pullen; trustee of LaGrange Female College, son of Dr Zachary Cox and Margaret (Morrow) Cox, grandson of William Cox, a Revolutionary soldier; great-grandson of Abraham Cox, who came to America from England and settled in Fauquier County, Va. Mother, Juliet Warren (Alford) Cox, daughter of Julius C. Alford, a member of Congress, and Eliza (Cook) Alford; descendant of William Alford, who was born in London in 1608, came to Salem, Mass, in 1634, and settled at Boston the next year.

LaGrange High School and LaGrange Military Academy; LL.B University of Georgia 1885; practiced law in Atlanta 1885-88, Senior in Yale School of Law 1888-89, resumed practice in Atlanta in 1889, forming partnership with his elder brother, Albert H. Cox (B A Georgia 1868), under firm name of Cox & Cox; withdrew from firm in a short time, however, and practiced alone until Spanish-American War; enlisted as a Private in the 29th Regiment at Fort McPherson, Ga, transferred to 28th U S Volunteer Infantry at Camp Meade, Md, in April, 1899, and sent to the Philippines; made First Sergeant and served on island of Luzon until December 3, 1900, and then on island of Mindanao until summer of 1901, when he received his discharge; returned to Atlanta and continued to practice until 1914, when his health failed completely; was subsequently a patient at Army and Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark; for some time member Young Men's Democratic Association and St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Atlanta.

Married October 15, 1903, in Atlanta, Mary Edna, daughter of Benjamin Franklin and Ida May (Curtis) Waddey. Children: John Wright, Jr., and Edna May.

Death due to cirrhosis of the liver caused by malaria contracted in the Philippines. Buried in LaGrange. Survived by wife, son, daughter, two brothers, Albert H. Cox, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Sterling A. Cox, and five sisters, Mrs. W. A. Wright, the Misses George and Fanny Cox, Mrs. F. F. Stiles and Mrs. Herbert E. White.

Reuben Louis Cates, LL.B. 1891.

Died May 12, 1925

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Mr. Cates in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record

Francis Willcox Treadway, LL.B. 1892.

Born January 7, 1869, in New Haven, Conn
Died December 24, 1925, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Father, Augustine Russell Treadway, son of Russell and Mary (Willcox) Treadway; ancestors came to Massachusetts from England in 1682. Mother, Mary Louisa (Mansfield) Treadway; daughter of William Lyon and Elizabeth Rachel (Bradley) Mansfield; descendant of Major Moses Mansfield, who commanded New Haven troops in King Philip's War.

Cleveland High School; B S. Worcester Polytechnic Institute 1890 (president of Senior Class and of Tennis Association; treasurer of Athletic Association, manager of Baseball Association), entered Yale School of Law in 1890 (an editor of Yale Law Journal; winner of Munson Prize; member of Corbey Court); had practiced law in Cleveland since 1892 (senior partner in firm of Treadway & Marlatt, in which William H. Marlatt, '92 L., was the junior partner, since May 10, 1893); United States commissioner for Northern District of Ohio 1902-03; member Ohio House of Representatives 1904-05; lieutenant governor of Ohio 1908, director Perfection Stove Company, Baker-Raulang Company, Peck, Stow & Wilcox Company, Guardian Trust Company, and Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, secretary of Jones Home for Friendless Children since 1898; former treasurer of Cleveland Bar Association, president New England Society of Cleveland; alumni trustee of Worcester Polytechnic Institute; was instrumental in introducing the idea of an endowment policy, based on the Yale plan, and became honorary chairman of Alumni Fund Board, on February 6, 1926, the Alumni General Committee voted that the principal account of the alumni fund was henceforth to be known as "The Francis W. Treadway Principal Fund", trustee Pilgrim Congregational Church, life member Cleveland Associated Charities and Ohio State Archæological and Historical Society (trustee 1911-1924), member Cleveland, Ohio State, and American Bar Associations, Ohio Board of Commerce, and American Academy of Political Science; author (with his partner) of Ohio Mechanic's Lien Law in 1901 (second edition 1904); during World War served as member of Committee on Public Information, as a Four-minute speaker, and as an active worker in the various Red Cross and Liberty Loan campaigns.

Married January 5, 1897, in Cleveland, Esther Sutliff, daughter of William Judah and Anna Maria (Sutliff) Frisbie. Children. Frances Sessions (B. A. Smith 1921) and Augustin Russell (B. A. Dartmouth 1924), a student at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Death due to angina pectoris. Interment in Riverside Cemetery, Cleveland. Survived by wife, daughter, son, a brother, Charles F. Treadway (B.S. Worcester Polytechnic Institute 1890), of New Haven, and a sister, Mrs. James Mathers (a non-graduate member of the Wilson College Class of 1897), of Cleveland.

Lebbeus Redman Wilfley, LL.B. 1892.

Born March 30, 1867, in Audrain County, Mo

Died May 26, 1926, in Greenwich, Conn.

Father, James Franklin Wilfley, a farmer. Mother, Sarah (Pindall) Wilfley; daughter of Evan Shelby and Drusilla (Morgan) Pindall, of Monongalia County, W. Va.

Prepared at Central College, Fayette, Mo.; received M. A. there 1891; entered Yale School of Law as a Senior in 1891; admitted to the Missouri Bar in 1892 and practiced law in St. Louis until 1901, from 1899 being in partnership with his brother, Xenophon P. Wilfley; attorney-general of the Philippines 1901-06; when the United States Court for China was created and established at Shanghai in 1906, was appointed first judge of the court; because of his crusade against the lawless and vicious element of Shanghai, they preferred charges against him and he was summoned to Washington; after failure of an attempt to induce the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives to impeach him, and the high commendation of his conduct of affairs in China by President Roosevelt and the Secretary of State, Elihu Root, Mr. Wilfley returned to China in May, 1908, and sued the editor of the China Gazette in the British Supreme Court in China, on a charge of libel, which resulted in the imprisonment of the editor and the complete vindication of Mr. Wilfley; resigned his judgeship in December, 1908; engaged in the practice of law for a short time in the City of Mexico, where he represented the Chinese Government in a claim against the Mexican Government, growing out of the massacre of a large number of Chinese at Tereon during the Madero revolution; moved to New York City in 1917 and formed the law firm of Wilfley, Williams & Evans; was practicing alone at the time of his death; LL. D. Clark University 1909; while in the Philippines, served as United States delegate to Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists at St. Louis in 1904; member Southern Methodist Church.

Married January 27, 1917, in Greenwich, Belle Loader Zabriskie, daughter of John W. and Margaret (Huer) Loader. No children.

Death due to pneumonia. Interment in Putnam Cemetery, Greenwich. Survived by wife, a stepson, Nicholas Lansing Zabriskie, 2d, ex-'28, and two brothers, Xenophon P. Wilfley, of St. Louis, and J. Douglas Wilfley, of Philadelphia.

George Washington Klett, LL.B. 1895.

Born February 22, 1874, in New Britain, Conn.

Died January 27, 1926, in New Britain, Conn.

Father, Leopold Klett, a contractor; born in Zella, Saxe-Gotha, Germany; came to America in 1858; member New Britain Common Council four years, New Britain School Board six years, and Board of Street Commissioners nine years; son of Frank and Augusta (Ritz) Klett. Mother, Augusta Laura (Neuschulden) Klett; born in Elberfeld, Germany; daughter of Charles and Catherine (Ernst) Neuschulden

New Britain High School; business manager of New Britain Daily Record 1892-93; entered Yale School of Law 1893 (member Kent Club); since 1895 had practiced law in New Britain (senior member of firm of Klett & Alling since November, 1906); clerk of City and Police Court 1895-1902; assistant city attorney 1897-98 and 1900-01; clerk of Probate Court for District of Berlin 1898-1902; judge of Probate Court 1902-04, prosecuting attorney of City and Police Court in 1902 and again from 1909 to 1921; judge of same court from 1921 to 1923, when he resigned to resume private practice; member State Senate in 1915, 1917, and 1919 and Republican leader in special session of 1916; chairman Republican Town Committee two years and member State Central Committee since 1914; member St Mark's Church (Episcopal), New Britain.

Married September 1, 1897, in Worcester, Mass., Louise Julia, daughter of Frank and Julia (Mayberger) Diemar. No children

Death, due to septic poisoning, followed an operation the previous October, and occurred in the New Britain Hospital. Interment in Fairview Cemetery, New Britain. Survived by wife and a brother, Frank W. Klett, '05 S.

Francis Joseph Kearful, LL.B. 1896.

Born June 28, 1871, in St Joseph, Mo
Died August 23, 1925, at Arlington Heights, Mass

Father, Charles Kearful, a market gardener; born in Saxony, came to America in 1837, and became naturalized, changing his name from Carl Kirchvogel. Mother, Phoebe (Dike) Kearful, of an old Virginia family.

Attended St. Joseph's (Christian Brothers) College, engaged in farming in Texas, Arkansas, and Indian Territory 1886-1892; stenographer in a law office and court stenographer in Oklahoma City 1892-93, during which time he studied law; admitted to Oklahoma Bar in 1893 and practiced in Oklahoma City a year; admitted to Utah Bar and practiced at Salt Lake City in 1894; entered Yale School of Law in 1895; received degree of LL B. in 1896, with special honorable mention, and an LL.M. cum laude in 1897; assisted William D Guthrie (honorary M.A. 1904) in two cases before U S. Supreme Court during winter of 1897-98; practiced law in Oklahoma City 1898-1901, in New York City 1901-06 (assistant to Mr Guthrie 1902-04; then practiced independently), and in San Antonio, Texas, 1906-1910; special assistant to Attorney-General 1910-11; joined law firm of Wilson & Baz in Mexico City (which then became Wilson, Baz & Kearful) in 1912 and continued in that connection for several years, served in Department of Justice at Washington 1915-19 as an attorney (February 22-July 3, 1915), special assistant to Attorney-General (July 3, 1915-March 18, 1917, and again July 16-August 31, 1919), and Assistant Attorney-General in charge of Public Lands Division (March 19, 1917-July 15, 1919); counsel for Senate sub-committee investigating Mexican affairs September, 1919-May, 1920, subsequently counsel for Pantepec Petroleum Company of Tampico, Mexico, until 1923; member bars of Oklahoma, Texas, New York, and United States Supreme Court; during course at Yale wrote articles for Edward Thompson Company (American and English Encyclopedia of Law, second edition), and during 1901-02 contributed articles to Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure, published by American Law Book Company; subsequently contributed articles to Century Law Journal and, in conjunction with George E. Beers, '89 L., to American and English Encyclopedia of Law; since 1919 his home had been in Brookline, Mass.

Married May 8, 1898, in Oklahoma City, Josephine Dorsey, daughter of Dan J. and Elizabeth A. (Gray) Cline, of San Antonio. Children: Godfrey Gray and Francis Jerome.

Death, due to paralysis, occurred after an illness of almost two years at the Ring Sanitarium at Arlington Heights. Interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington. Survived by wife, two sons, two brothers, Jerome A. and John H. Kearful, both of Chinook, Mont., and a sister, Mrs. N. H. Collins, of St Joseph.

Mason Loomis Decker, LL.B. 1897.

Born November 8, 1874, in Denver, Colo
Died January 27, 1911, in Littleton, Colo.

Father, Westbrook Schoonmaker Decker (LL.B. University of Michigan 1867), a lawyer in Kankakee, Ill., and Denver, Colo (member of firm of Decker & O'Donnell); city attorney of Kankakee; county judge of Kankakee County; U. S. district attorney for district of Colorado under President Grant; judge of 2d Judicial District of Arapahoe County, Colo., of Holland Dutch stock, his immediate ancestors settling in and about Kingston, N. Y.; his first American ancestor came from Hamburg, Germany, and settled in Albany, N. Y., in the seventeenth century. Mother, Katharine Ellsworth (Worden) Decker, of English ancestry on her father's side, her mother's ancestors being French Huguenots, who settled in New Rochelle, N. Y.

Peekskill Military Academy, entered Yale School of Law as a Senior in 1895 (member Book and Gavel), practiced law for a few years, but was obliged to give up practice on account of his health Married in November, 1896, in Peekskill, N. Y., Jeanne McCullough, daughter of Thomas Stuart. One daughter, Katharine Worden.

Death due to tuberculosis. Buried in Fairmount Cemetery,

Denver. Survived by wife, daughter, and a sister, Mrs Cora Decker Sargent, of Chicago, Ill.

Charles Frederick Peterson, LL.B. 1897.

Born January 19, 1870, in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Died October 14, 1925, in Honolulu, Hawaii

Father, Ichabod Barstow Peterson, an accountant with C. Brewer & Company of Honolulu; later assistant and deputy postmaster-general at Honolulu; son of Charles Peterson, who fought in the War of 1812, and grandson of Reuben Peterson, who fought at Lexington. Mother, Henrietta Copeland (Austin) Peterson; daughter of James Austin, a Scotchman, and Kaulukane, a direct descendant of Kamehameha I.

Public schools in Honolulu; after completing preliminary education, worked as a telephone operator, clerk in a lawyer's office, and clerk in office of Department of the Interior under the monarchy of Hawaii and in the Circuit and Supreme courts of Hawaii; in 1893 served as secretary of Hawaiian Commission sent by the provisional government, following the overthrow of the monarchy, to Washington, to work for annexation; attended Yale School of Law 1895-97 (honors Junior year; LL B. cum laude, member Corbey Court); judge of District Court of Hawaii 1898-99; then began private practice of law, in which he continued until his death; specialized in land cases, although he had a general practice; served as a notary public 1905-1925; member Daughters and Sons of Hawaiian Warriors, Hawaiian Civic Club, and Central Union (Protestant) Church, Hawaii.

Married June 15, 1898, in Honolulu, Caroline Elizabeth, daughter of William and Mary (Kaawa) Wright, of Koloa, Kauai, Hawaii. Children: Frederick James, '22; Muriel Kalaniheia; Edwin Wright, '26; and Robert Howland.

Death, due to cancer of the liver, followed a long illness. Body cremated and ashes buried in Nuuanu Cemetery, Honolulu. Survived by wife, four children, three brothers, Robert C. A. Peterson, of New York City, and William L. and David L. Peterson, both of Honolulu, and two sisters, Mrs. Henrietta Andrade and Mrs. Rudolph M. Duncan, both of Honolulu.

Bryan DeForest Sheedy, LL.B. 1897.

Born October 17, 1864, in Norwalk, Conn.

Died March 5, 1926, in New York City.

Father, Michael Sheedy, a retired farmer; of Irish ancestry.
Mother, Johanna (Hanlon) Sheedy

Norwalk High School; M.D. New York University 1885; took special clinical courses in London (1890), Berlin (1891), and Vienna (1899 and 1906); practiced medicine in Northampton, Mass., in 1888, special student at Yale School of Law 1895-96, taking a course in medical jurisprudence, and then joined Class of 1897 L as a Senior; practiced medicine in Bridgeport, Conn., for a number of years after his graduation from the Law School; then moved to New York City and continued his practice there until about three years before his death, specializing in diseases of the nose and throat; instructor in department of rhinology in New York Post-Graduate Medical College and Hospital; had been health commissioner of Bridgeport and medical examiner for several New York and Massachusetts insurance companies; was interested in real estate in Northampton and Bridgeport and also had extensive holdings in New York City; director in several corporations; member American Medical, New York County Medical, and New York State Medical associations, Massachusetts State, Connecticut State, and Fairfield County (Conn.) Medical societies, Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in the City of New York, American Irish Historical Society, and Church of the Blessed Sacrament, in New York.

Married August 19, 1905, in Meadville, Pa., Eleanor Marie, daughter of Thomas Francis and Mary (Kane) Connors
Children Bryan DeForest, Jr., Edmund Theodore, and Eleanor Marie

Death, due to bronchopneumonia and myocarditis, followed twelve years of failing health Buried in Gate of Heaven Cemetery, Hawthorne, N. Y. Survived by wife, sons, daughter, and two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Riordan, of Norwalk, Conn., and Sister Mary Catherine, of the Order of St. Joseph, Westfield, Mass

Wilfred Clary Lane, LL.B. 1901.

Born June 23, 1878, in Hadley, Mass
Died November 14, 1925, in Norwich, Conn

Father, the Rev. John William Lane (B A. Amherst 1856), a Congregational minister; son of Charles and Hannah (French) Lane; descendant of William Lane, who came from England to Boston in 1650 and later settled at Hampton, N H. Mother, Mary (Haynes) Lane, a graduate of Mount Holyoke Seminary (now College) in 1864; daughter of Samuel and Eliza (Spaulding) Haynes; descendant of Walter Haynes, who came from England to Sudbury, Mass, in 1635. Cousin: Rev. Charles S. Haynes, '94 D.

Hopkins Academy, Hadley, Williston Academy, and Phillips-Andover; attended Brown University during 1897-98 as member of Class of 1901 (member Phi Delta Theta); LL B Mercer University 1900 (member of Baseball Team and later baseball coach); entered Yale School of Law in 1900; practiced law in Macon, Ga., 1901-05 (also member of faculty at Mercer University); deputy clerk of United States Circuit and District courts for Southern District of Georgia and United States commissioner at Augusta 1905-07; delegate to Republican National Convention at Chicago from 11th Congressional District of Georgia in 1908; referee in bankruptcy at Valdosta, Ga., 1907-1912; practiced law in Des Moines, Iowa, 1912-16, specializing in patent, trade-mark, and corporation law and bankruptcy litigation; then lived in Chicago for a short time; had since been in poor health and had not engaged in practice, making his home in New Haven for the greater part of the time; member American Bar Association and several state bar associations, Commercial Law League of America, Sons of the American Revolution, and Second Congregational Church, Hadley.

Married October 2, 1907, in Burlington, Vt., Lila, daughter of Urban A. and Pauline (Darling) Woodbury. One son, John Woodbury. Mr. and Mrs. Lane were later divorced.

Death due to heart disease Buried in Stratham, N. H. Survived by two brothers, Dr. John E. Lane, '94, and Wallace R. Lane, '00 L, and two sisters, Mrs. William P. Powell, of Springfield, Mass., and Miss Susan K. Lane, of Philadelphia.

John Joseph Bennett, LL.B. 1905.

Born October 6, 1881, in Ansonia, Conn.

Died May 16, 1926, in Ansonia, Conn.

Father, Dennis Bennett, a mechanic; son of John Bennett, who came to Ansonia from County Cork, Ireland, in 1876, and Elin (Noonan) Bennett Mother, Catherine (Steevens) Bennett, daughter of James Steevens, who came to Ansonia, from County Meath, Ireland, in 1862, and Bridget (McGuinness) Steevens.

Ansonia High School, attended Yale School of Medicine 1901-02 and then entered Law School; in 1905 began practice of law at Derby, Conn., with James F. Torrance, '94 L., under firm name of Torrance & Bennett; in 1910 established an office of his own in Ansonia; served as clerk of City Court of Ansonia for several years and had been prosecuting attorney of the court since the creation of the dual city court system in July, 1925; one of founders of Ansonia Juvenile Court; an incorporator of Ansonia Bank & Trust Company in 1924; had served as advisor for Ansonia Boy Scouts, Troop 8, Young Men's Republican Club, and Polish and Italian Republican clubs; member Republican Town Committee for several years; Republican nominee for representative from Ansonia in 1922, but failed of election; interested in development of beach property near Milford, Conn. (president of Oak Grove Amusement Company and one of the largest realty holders at Myrtle Beach); member Connecticut Bar Association, Ansonia Chamber of Commerce, and Holy Name Society of the Church of the Assumption, Ansonia; honorary member W. H. Gordon Post of American Legion.

Married August 31, 1909, in Ansonia, Catherine, daughter of William H. and Mary A. (Walsh) Kane. Children: John Joseph, Jr., William, Marion, and Thomas.

Death due to myocarditis; had been in ill health for about a year, following a nervous breakdown due to overwork, but had continued his law practice and court duties. Buried in Mount St. Peter's Cemetery, East Derby. Survived by wife and four children

William Alexander Johnson, LL.B. 1907.

Born November 15, 1882, in Marion, S. C.

Died March 13, 1926, in Portland, Ore.

Father, James William Johnson, a lawyer of Marion; attended University of the South and Davidson College; son of James Stevens Johnson, a jurist and member of the Secession Convention in Mississippi (entered Yale College as a Freshman in 1835, studied at Princeton for two years, and graduated at Union in 1838), and Falba (Love) Johnson Mother, Annie Prince (Johnson) Johnson; daughter of William Dalrymple Johnson (B.A. Princeton 1843), a jurist and member of the Secession Convention in South Carolina, and Sarah (McCall) Johnson; of Scotch descent; ancestors came to this country prior to the Revolution and settled in Virginia and North Carolina.

Marion High School; studied law in his father's office two years and was admitted to South Carolina Bar in 1903; in the summer of that year took a course of lectures at Summer Law School of University of Virginia; entered Yale School of Law in 1904, but left at end of the year to accept a position with the law firm of Teal & Minor in Portland; practiced there sixteen months, being admitted to Oregon Bar in 1905, then returned to Yale and joined Class of 1907 in the Law School in January of Senior year, resumed practice in Portland in 1907, being associated with firm of Teal, Minor & Winfree; since 1912 had been a member of that firm, which later became Teal, Winfree, Johnson & McCulloch; considered one of the best authorities on municipal bonds in the West; member Oregon and American Bar associations and First Presbyterian Church, Portland.

Unmarried.

Death, due to spinal trouble, occurred in St. Vincent's Hospital. Buried in Riverview Cemetery, Portland. Survived by father, three sisters, Miss Falba Love Johnson, of Washington, D. C., and the Misses Annie Blewett and Carroll Burnet Johnson, of Marion, and two brothers, James Stevens Johnson, of Marion, and Cecil Johnson, of Columbia, S. C.

Arnold Orestes Schramm, LL.B. 1908.

Born August 3, 1880, in New York City.
Died September 13, 1925, in New York City.

Father, Arnold Herman Eric Schramm, a broker, son of Dr Karl Schramm and Ida Juliana (Berggraf) Schramm; descendant of Johann T. Schramm, who came to New York City from Prussia in 1849. Mother, Helen M. (Vandenhove) Schramm, daughter of Guillaume L. D. and Adelaide (Schmidt) Vandenhove, first ancestor in America was Guillaume Vandenhove, who came to New York City from Belgium in 1845.

Horace Mann School, New York City; B A. Columbia 1903; engaged in clerical work in his father's office in New York for two years before entering Yale School of Law in 1905 (member Book and Gavel); admitted to the bar in 1908 and practiced independently in New York City from that time until his death, member New York County Lawyers' Association.

Unmarried.

Died by his own hand. Interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. Survived by his mother.

Albert Francis McCarthy, LL.B. 1911.

Born August 27, 1888, in Ansonia, Conn.
Died December 19, 1925, in Bridgeport, Conn.

Father, William James McCarthy, a plumber; son of Patrick and Sarah (Blackburn) McCarthy; descendant of Patrick McCarthy, who came to America from Ireland in 1843 and afterwards lived in Monroe, Conn. Mother, Mary A. (Kelly) McCarthy, daughter of Christopher and Elizabeth Kelly.

Studied at Niagara University 1906-08; attended Yale School of Law 1908-1911 (member Kent Club); practiced law in Muskegon, Mich., 1912-16; since then had not been in active practice owing to ill health, although he practiced occasionally until 1924; member Church of the Assumption, Ansonia.

Unmarried.

Death due to heart trouble. Buried in St. Mary's Cemetery, Ansonia. Survived by mother, two brothers, Frederick M. McCarthy, '05 L, and Christopher M. McCarthy, of Ansonia, and four sisters, Miss Rebecca McCarthy, of Hartford and Mrs. James J. Sullivan, Mrs. Edward E. English, and Mrs. John Carroll, all of Ansonia.

Joseph Charles Hedges, LL.B. 1923.

Born February 9, 1896, in Seattle, Wash.

Died October 3, 1925, in Seattle, Wash

Father, Joseph Eugene Hedges (B A. 1891), a lawyer; member Oregon State Senate 1907-1911 and of Board of Higher Curricula of Oregon since 1909; son of Joseph and Ellen Judith (Allen) Hedges. Mother, Lillian (Bray) Hedges; daughter of Charles Edward and Rebecca Thomas (White) Bray. Uncle. Gilbert L Hedges, '96.

Oregon City (Ore.) High School; student at University of Oregon (Class of 1918) when the war broke out, enlisted as a Sergeant (1st Class) in the Ordnance Department November 21, 1917, and served at San Antonio Arsenal until January 2, 1918; was then at the Base Ordnance Depot at Camp Dodge until going overseas March 14, 1918, served successively with Ordnance Depot, Services of Supply (until June 22, 1918), with Headquarters, Ordnance Armament School (June 22-December 13, 1918), and then with the Supply Company at that school; returned to United States July 13, 1919, and was at Mitchel Field, Long Island, until his discharge on July 21; was highly recommended for a commission in the Ordnance Department during his first months of service in America, and his recommendation for a commission was also presented in France, but the armistice put a stop to all promotions; upon his return to this country resumed studies at University of Oregon (member Phi Gamma Delta; received B A. in 1920, as of the Class of 1918); studied law at University of Oregon 1919-1921 (was an instructor in swimming there 1920-21; during the summer acted as assistant director of first aid and life-saving for the Northwest Division of the American Red Cross in Idaho, Oregon, and Washington); studied at Yale School of Law 1921-23 (member Phi Delta Phi); admitted to Oregon Bar October 2, 1923, and to Washington Bar January 29, 1924; began practice in Seattle with firm of Huffer, Hayden & Bucey in October, 1923; at the time of his death was associated with firm of Huffer, Hayden, Merritt, Summers & Bucey.

Unmarried.

Death due to wounds received on the Pacific Highway in Pierce County, Wash., in an unprovoked assault by shooting on September 19. Interment in Masonic Cemetery, Oregon City. Survived by parents, two sisters, the Misses Dorothy A. and Janice M. Hedges, of Oregon City, and a brother, Dwight S. Hedges, a student at the University of Oregon.

Thomas Davis Ross, LL.M. 1883.

Born February 22, 1861, in Magnolia, Ark.
Died May 31, 1926, at Fort Worth, Texas

Father, Zeno Carl Ross, a lawyer; ancestors came to America from Wales, where they had gone from Scotland. Mother, Mary Jane (Davis) Ross.

Preparatory training received at public schools in Magnolia; attended Arkansas Industrial University at Fayetteville (completed Junior year in 1880), University of Virginia (LL B. 1882), and Yale School of Law 1882-83; had since practiced law at Fort Worth as a member of firm of Ross, Ross & Alexander, which also included his nephew, Zeno C. Ross, '11, and of which Francis G. Coates, '16, was at one time a member; was particularly concerned with land and corporation law and was considered an authority on real estate law in Texas; president of Fort Worth & Tarrant County Abstract Company, Texas Security Company, and Ross Title Insurance Company; member First Christian Church, Fort Worth.

Married March 6, 1889, at Fort Worth, Clara Gatewood, daughter of James B. and Sallie J. Dunn. Children: Jeanne Dunn (Mrs. Fritz C. Crusemann) and Jessie MacLeod (Mrs. Chilton Jennings).

Death due to bronchopneumonia. Buried in Oakwood Cemetery, Fort Worth. Survived by wife, two daughters, and three grandchildren.

Harry Scheuer Haas, LL.M. 1908.

Born April 7, 1886, in St. Louis, Mo
Died February 21, 1926, in St. Louis, Mo

Father, Isaac Haas, a shoe merchant; son of Elias and Theresa (Levy) Haas; descendant of Isaac Haas, who came to St. Louis from Germany in 1838. Mother, Rachel (Scheuer) Haas; daughter of Simon Scheuer, who came to New York City from Alsace in 1849

Central High School, St. Louis; LL.B. Washington University, St. Louis, 1907; admitted to bar of Missouri 1907; studied at Yale School of Law 1907-08; secretary of Crown Millinery Company of St. Louis since 1908; member Temple Israel, St. Louis.

Married October 19, 1921, in St. Paul Minn, Helen, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Bruckman) Elsinger. No children.

Death due to angina pectoris. Buried in Mount Sinai Cemetery, St. Louis. Survived by wife and mother

Henry Nowicki, LL.M. 1916.

Born June 2, 1896, in Nanticoke, Pa
Died April 26, 1925, in New Britain, Conn.

Father, Felix Nowicki, a business man; born in Poland and came to America in 1898, settling in Nanticoke; son of Anthony and Mary (Sakowski) Nowicki. Mother, Pelagia (Nejfeldt) Nowicki; daughter of Julius and Anna Tomaszewski) Nejfeldt.

Early education received at a Polish Catholic school; LL B Dickinson Law School, Carlisle, Pa, 1915, studied at Yale School of Law 1915-16; practiced law in New Britain from 1916 until his death; elected assistant clerk of Connecticut Senate at the 1925 session of the General Assembly; member Sacred Heart Church, New Britain Married July 4, 1920, A. Anna, daughter of Frank X. and Jadwiga (Ponicki) Piasecki. Children: Valaria and Gertrude.

Death due to appendicitis Buried in St Raymond's Cemetery, New York City. Survived by wife, two daughters, and mother.

DIVINITY SCHOOL

Edward Payson Salmon, B.D. 1873.

Born June 25, 1842, in Peru, Ohio.

Died July 23, 1925, on Madeline Island, Lake Superior.

Father, the Rev. Ebenezer Putney Salmon; studied medicine at College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City; later attended Andover and Princeton Theological seminaries, was ordained to the Congregational ministry, and held pastorates in Ohio and Wisconsin, president of Allen Grove (Wis) Academy, descendant of John Salmon, who came to America from England and settled near Syracuse, N Y. Mother, Elizabeth (Pomeroy) Salmon, daughter of Capt. William Pomeroy and Polly Pomeroy, ancestors came to Williamsburg, Mass., from England

Oberlin preparatory department; engaged in business in New York City and in teaching 1860-64; served with U. S Army Christian Commission at Washington, D C , and in Vermont 1864; later was appointed by President Lincoln inspector of oil refineries at Port of New York and Hunters Point, Long Island, attended Beloit College 1866-1870 (B.A 1870); traveled and studied at German universities 1870-71, studied at Yale Divinity School 1871-73, after preaching in Connecticut for a time, was ordained to Congregational ministry July 6, 1874, at Depere, Wis., where he remained as minister until 1880, subsequent pastorates: Whitewater, Wis (1880-82) and Church of the Covenant (now Fifth Avenue), Minneapolis. Minn. (1886-87), then retired from ministry on account of ill health and in 1888 moved to Beloit, Wis , and was engaged with his brother, C. B. Salmon, in operating a flour mill for a time; later became connected with sales department of Pillsbury Flour Company of Minneapolis, Minn , eventually being made general sales manager, in charge of agents west of Ohio; in 1892 joined his brother in building and operating the Beloit Water Works, which they owned until 1906, since then had not been engaged in active business, trustee of Beloit College 1899-1919 and then honorary trustee until his death; also served as vice-president of the college for a time during the absence of the president; trustee of Rollins College, Fla., for about two years; M. A. Beloit; had spent the winter in Florida during the last fourteen years of his life; had had a summer home on Madeline Island since 1895; pioneer member First Congregational Church, Beloit.

Unmarried.

Death due to heart disease. Interment in Oakwood Cemetery, Beloit. Survived by his brother, C. B. Salmon, of Beloit, a nephew, Edward Salmon, of Orlando, Fla., and a niece, Miss Loretta Salmon, of Beloit.

Roswell Olcott Post, B.D. 1874.

Born October 1, 1850, in Logansport, Ind.

Died June 9, 1925, in Jacksonville, Ill.

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Dr. Post in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record.

Albert Temple Swing, B.D. 1877.

Born January 18, 1849, in Bethel, Ohio.

Died September 21, 1925, in Chicago, Ill.

Father, George Washington Swing, a Methodist preacher, business man, and farmer; son of Wesley and Nancy (Crane) Swing; descendant of Samuel Swing, who came with his brother, Jeremiah Swing, from Lorraine, France, in 1752 and afterwards lived in Salem and Cumberland counties, N. J. Mother, Rosannah (West) Swing; daughter of James and Mary (Edmunds) West; descendant of Thomas West; ancestors went from Alexandria, Va., to Kentucky, and thence to Ohio.

Oberlin preparatory department, B.A. Oberlin 1874; studied at Yale Divinity School 1874-77; then preached for several months in Binghamton, N. Y. (declined a call to a pastorate there); ordained to the Congregational ministry June 25, 1878, at Fremont, Nebr., where he served as minister until 1886; subsequent pastorates: Cortland, N. Y., 1886-

87 and Trumbull Avenue Congregational Church, Detroit, Mich., 1887-1890; then spent three years abroad (studied at University of Berlin 1890-91 and at University of Halle-Wittenberg 1891-93); professor of church history at Oberlin Theological Seminary 1893-1916; since then professor emeritus; financial secretary of Oberlin College for two years; member prudential committee 1895-1913; established (with his wife) the Mead-Swing Foundation, an endowment of $30,000, in 1924; spent a sabbatical year (1905-06) abroad and during 1913-14 visited universities in Germany, Scotland, and England; M.A. Oberlin 1894, D.D. 1901; author: Theology of Albrecht Ritschl (1901), Outline of the Doctrinal Development in the Western Church (1904), Life of James Harris Fairchild (1907), and Pre-Reformers and the Reformation (1910); contributed articles to various theological journals; since 1916 had made his home at Coconut Grove, Fla

Married August 1, 1882, in Oberlin, Alice Edwards Mead (B.A. Oberlin 1879), daughter of the Rev Hiram Mead (B A Middlebury 1850, D.D. 1871), professor of homiletics at Oberlin Theological Seminary, and Elizabeth Storrs (Billings) Mead (honorary M.A. Oberlin 1890, L H D Smith 1900), president of Mount Holyoke College from 1890 to 1900. Children: Harold Mead, a non-graduate member of the Oberlin Class of 1908 (died in 1915); Elizabeth Storrs (B A Oberlin 1907) (died in 1915); Raymond Edwards, a non-graduate member of the Oberlin Class of 1911; and Herbert Randolph.

Death due to pneumonia, the result of a physical breakdown following typhoid fever and epithelioma. Buried in Westwood Cemetery, Oberlin Survived by wife, two sons, and nine grandchildren.

Arthur Dart Bissell, B.D. 1882.

Born October 25, 1858, in Ghordnadi, India.
Died May 24, 1925, in Claremont, Calif.

Father, the Rev. Lemuel Bissell (B.A. Western Reserve 1848, B.D. Lane Theological Seminary 1851, D.D. Western Reserve 1886), a missionary of the American Board; son of Anson and Joanna (Dart) Bissell; descendant of John Bissell, who came to America from Somersetshire, England, in 1628 and settled in Windsor, Conn., establishing "Bissell's ferry" across the Connecticut, which was operated by members of the Bissell family for many years. Mother, Mary Elizabeth (Beaumont) Bissell; daughter of Randolph and Mercy (Webster) Beaumont; paternal ancestors came to Rochester, N. Y., from England; descendant of John Webster, who came to Massachusetts from England, was one of the original settlers of Hartford in 1636, a deputy governor and governor of Connecticut in 1655 and 1656, and a founder of Hadley, Mass., in 1659. Yale relatives include: Joseph Bissell (B. A. 1751), Noah Webster (B. A. 1778), Clark Bissell (B. A. 1806), Samuel B. S. Bissell (B. A. 1830), Henry N. Bissell (B. A. 1839) (uncle), and Lemuel B. Bissell, '80 D., and Dwight W. Bissell, ex-'89 (brothers).

Phillips-Andover; B. A. Amherst 1879; attended Yale Divinity School 1879-1884 (also a student in Yale Graduate School 1882-84); ordained to Congregational ministry at New Haven, March 19, 1884; missionary of American Board at Ahmednagar 1884-85; M. A. Amherst 1885; lived in New Haven during 1885-86, pastor of a Congregational church at Wailuku, Hawaii, 1886-88, professor of voice culture, piano, and French at Oahu College, Honolulu, 1888-1891; taught music in Los Angeles and Saticoy, Calif., 1891-92; professor of modern languages at Pomona College 1892-1906; since then professor of German there; had also had a class in music appreciation since 1920; for a number of years gave private lessons in vocal culture in Los Angeles; during leave of absence in 1909-1910 studied in University of Leipsic, and during a second sabbatical year (1919-1920) studied philosophy, psychology of music, and education in Yale Graduate School (Ph. D. 1920), his thesis on "The Role of Expectation in Music" being printed privately in 1921; had written some poetry and a drama on Moses (not as yet published); member Claremont Congregational Church since 1893.

Married May 12, 1884, in New Haven, Ellen Augusta, daughter of Merrit Melville and Clara Wells (Dodge) Gower. Children: Howard Gower (B. A. Pomona 1908); Clara Louise (B. A. Pomona 1911); and Warren Melville (died in 1896).

Death due to apoplexy. Interment in Claremont. Survived by wife, son, daughter, a brother, the Rev Frank A Bissell (B A. Western Reserve 1876, B.D. Yale 1879), and two sisters, Miss Emily R Bissell (honorary M A Mount Holyoke 1925), of Bombay, India, and Julia Bissell (Mount Holyoke ex-'82, B.A. Wellesley 1886, M.D. Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania 1893), of Wellesley, Mass.

Frederick Wells Tuckerman, B.D. 1885.

Born October 26, 1855, in Providence, R I
Died May 13, 1925, at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Father, Benjamin Tuckerman. Mother, Mary (Norton) Tuckerman

Attended Colorado College 1876-1882 (B.A. 1882); studied at Yale Divinity School 1882-85 and at Andover Theological Seminary (advanced class) 1885-86; ordained to Congregational ministry November 3, 1886, at Falls Church, Va; remained there as pastor until 1890, when he resigned and withdrew from the ministry; in U. S. Civil Service Department 1891-1915 (with Bureau of Pensions at Washington 1891-1902 and then special examiner in the field in the West and Southwest); since his retirement in 1915 had made his home at Colorado Springs, spending the winter in Los Angeles, Calif; member First Congregational Church, Colorado Springs

Married May 1, 1894, in Washington, D. C., Hattie Fuller, daughter of Stephen Arnold and Almeda (Tinker) Boyden. One daughter, Hattie (Mrs. Harry M. Keyser) Mrs. Tuckerman died November 3, 1896.

Death due to influenza; had suffered from pulmonary tuberculosis for some time. Buried in Glenwood Cemetery, Washington. Survived by daughter, two grandchildren, two nieces, and two nephews.

John Dunlap, B.D. 1887.

Born January 29, 1852, in Woodstown, N. J.
Died November 4, 1925, in Seattle, Wash.

Father, Gawn Dunlap, a farmer, who came to America from Forttrush, Ireland; of Scotch ancestry. Mother, Martha Jane (Christy) Dunlap; daughter of John Christy; also of Scotch ancestry.

Preparatory training received at Bridgeton, N. J.; B.A. Princeton 1882; taught at Bridgeton 1882-84; studied at Yale Divinity School 1884-87 and at Auburn Theological Seminary 1887-88; M.A. Princeton 1887; ordained to Presbyterian ministry October 9, 1887, at New Scotland, N. Y., where he was pastor until 1890, pastor of Dutch Reformed Church, Castleton, N. Y., 1890, and of Presbyterian churches in Miles City, Mont. (1891-93) and Port Henry, N. Y. (1894-96); traveled abroad 1896-97; then studied at Baltimore University School of Medicine (M D. 1899) and at New York University (M D. 1900); connected with Bellevue Medical Hospital and with Mothers and Babies Hospital 1899-1900; practiced in Chicago 1901; home missionary at White Sulphur Springs, Mont., 1902-03; practiced medicine at Hill, Mont., 1904-06; took special courses of study in New Orleans Polyclinic 1907 and in a London hospital 1908; in 1909 went to Seattle, where he practiced medicine and surgery until his retirement on account of failing health in February, 1925; at time of death was member of a Presbyterian Church in Seattle.

Married June 9, 1900, in New York City, Margaret Josephine, daughter of Christopher and Sophia (Bishop) Young. One son, John F. Gordon.

Death due to myocardial insufficiency. Buried in Overlook Cemetery, Bridgeton. Survived by wife, son, and a brother, James Dunlap, of Woodbury, N. Y.

Frank Varnum Stevens, B.D. 1888.

Born September 16, 1856, near Bay City, Mich.

Died May 14, 1926, in Vermontville, Mich.

Father, John Varnum Stevens, a farmer. Mother, Jane (Bartlett) Stevens.

Preparatory department of Olivet College; B.A. Carleton 1884; principal of Excelsior (Minn) Academy 1884-85; studied at Yale Divinity School 1885-88; during vacations organized and served Congregational Church at Amenia, N. Dak.; ordained to Congregational ministry December 18, 1888, at Wellington, Kans, where he remained as minister until 1893; pastor of First Congregational Church, Sedalia, Mo., 1893-98, Westminster Congregational Church, Spokane, Wash., 1898-1900, First Congregational Church, White-water, Wis., 1900-06, First Congregational Church, Yankton, S. Dak., 1906-1921, and First Congregational Church, Bonne Terre, Mo., from 1921 until November, 1925, when he was obliged to give up work on account of ill health; during his entire pastorate at Yankton served on board of trustees of Yankton College; M.A. Carleton 1888, D D. Yankton 1912

Married September 18, 1888, Katherine Maria, daughter of the Rev. Joseph Edwin Roy, D D. (B.A. Knox 1848), and Emily Stearns (Hatch) Roy, of Chicago, Ill Children: Margaret Frances (Mrs. Harry L. Hagan); Katherine Roy, and Paul Roy (died in childhood).

Death due to pernicious anæmia. Buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Vermontville. Survived by wife, two daughters, two grandchildren, and two brothers, Edgar W. Stevens, of Vermontville, and Albert E. Stevens, of Cogswell, N Dak.

Charles Hatfield Dickerson, B.D. 1891.

Born January 23, 1862, in Sumter, S. C

Died March 31, 1925, in Louisville, Ky.

It has been impossible to secure the desired information for an obituary sketch of Mr. Dickerson in time for publication in this volume. A biographical statement will appear in a subsequent issue of the Obituary Record.

Lincoln Baker Goodrich, B.D. 1893.

Born November 24, 1864, in Pembroke, N. H.

Died April 16, 1926, in Taunton, Mass.

Father, the Rev Lewis Goodrich (B.A. Bowdoin 1845); a graduate of Bangor Theological Seminary and pastor of Congregational churches in Maine and New Hampshire; son of John and Susan (Bosworth) Goodrich; descendant of William Goodrich, who came to America from Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, England, in 1634 and settled first at Cambridge, Mass., and then at Watertown, Mass. Mother, Lucy Ann (Baker) Goodrich; daughter of Allen and Lucy (Russel) Baker, descendant of Francis Baker, who came to Massachusetts from England in 1635

Salem (Mass.) High School; B. A. Amherst 1888 (president of his class four years; member Delta Kappa Epsilon); assistant principal of schools at Plainfield, N. J., 1888-89 and principal 1889-1890; studied at Yale Divinity School 1890-93; ordained to Congregational ministry in June, 1893, at Bound Brook, N. J., where he held a pastorate until 1896; pastor at Marlboro, Mass., 1896-1905; Trinitarian (Congregational) Church, Taunton, 1905-1921; minister-at-large for southeastern Massachusetts under Massachusetts Home Missionary Society from 1921 until his death (member of executive committee of the society for some years); religious work secretary of Y. M. C. A. at Camp Devens, Mass., January 28-April 23, 1918; one of the speakers at centennial celebration of founding of Trinitarian Church, Taunton, October 31, 1921; honorary member G. A. R. Post 43 of Marlboro and Henry A. Williams Camp, U. S. W. V., of Taunton.

Married June 19, 1893, in Brooklyn, N. Y., Hattie Pegram, daughter of Joel Barlow and Sally Ann (Isler) Burnett Children Sheldon Burnett (B.A. Amherst 1917); Charles Lyman (B. P. E. Springfield College 1923; B. B. A. Boston University 1924), and Dorothy Isler, a non-graduate member of the Simmons Class of 1920, who married Palmer C. Williams (B. A. Amherst 1917).

Death due to an intestinal obstruction. Buried in Rocklawn Cemetery, Marlboro. Survived by wife, sons, daughter, five grandchildren, a sister, Miss Welthie Isabelle Goodrich, of Manchester, N. H., and two brothers, the Rev Charles L Goodrich (B.A. Amherst 1879, B.D. Yale 1884) and John A. Goodrich, of Dorchester, Mass.

William Watt Dornan, B.D. 1894.

Born August 17, 1860, in Glasgow, Scotland.

Died February 6, 1926, in Whitman, Mass

Father, John Dornan. Mother, Margaret (Watt) Dornan

Early education received at an academy in Glasgow; came to this country in 1881; lived in Boston 1881-1891, working in a rolling mill and in a furniture store and attending Boston School of Languages and other night schools; studied at Bangor Theological Seminary 1891-93 and then at Yale Divinity School for a year, ordained to Congregational ministry November 20, 1894, at Grandview, Tenn, where he was a minister under American Missionary Association for over two years, also serving as principal of Grandview Academy, lived in Somerville, Mass, 1897-98; pastor First United Presbyterian Church, Quincy, Mass., 1898-1902, Winthrop Congregational Church, Holbrook, Mass., 1902-04; Church of the Pilgrimage, Plymouth, Mass, 1905-1912, First Congregational Church, Whitman, from 1912 until his death; while at Holbrook took a special course of study at Harvard, one of the founders of Whitman Church Federation in 1912 (president in 1917 and 1918); one of organizers of Whitman branch of American Red Cross in 1916; chaplain of Puritan Lodge, A. F. and A. M., since 1913 (made an honorary member of the Lodge 1924); member Whitman Company, Massachusetts State Guard, serving as its Chaplain, and on May 7, 1918, was commissioned as Chaplain of 14th Infantry of the State Guard (with rank of Captain) and served in that capacity until end of the war; member of the State Guard during police strike in Boston, and when the guards of his district were reorganized a few months before his death, was elected chaplain of the organization; had given illustrated lectures on subjects of Pilgrim historical interest and on European travel.

Married (1) January 18, 1883, in Cambridge, Mass., Annie McCloskey. Children: Charles Edmund and William John. Mrs Dornan died many years ago. Married (2) February 25, 1901, in Quincy, Addie Williams, daughter of George L. and Miriam B. Miller. One son, George Miller.

Death due to carcinoma of the prostate gland. Buried in Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy. Survived by wife, three sons, four grandchildren, a sister, who lives in Scotland, and two brothers, Charles Dornan and John Dornan, of Yoker, Scotland.

Harry Chamberlain Meserve, B.D. 1894.

Born July 12, 1868, in Quincy, Ill.

Died October 22, 1925, in Boston, Mass.

Father, Harry Meserve, an agent of the Adams Express Company in Lowell, Mass ; son of John P. and Rebecca (Eaton) Meserve; descendant of Clement Messervy, who came to Portsmouth, N. H., from the Isle of Jersey in 1673. Mother, Nancy Lucena (Chamberlain) Meserve, daughter of Parker and Mary (Bryan) Chamberlain.

Lowell High School; engaged in private study 1886-1891; attended Yale Divinity School 1891-95; pastor Faith Congregational Church, Springfield, Mass., 1893-1900, being ordained there March 14, 1894; pastor Plymouth Church, Indianapolis, Ind., 1900-03, First Congregational Church, Danbury, Conn., 1903-1914, and Presbyterian Church, Rye, N. Y., 1914-17; commissioned as Chaplain (with rank of First Lieutenant) in Connecticut National Guard April 15, 1910; promoted to Captain April 15, 1917; called to Federal service with Connecticut Coast Artillery July 25, 1917, and stationed at Fort H. G. Wright, Fishers Island, N. Y.; served overseas with 68th Coast Artillery Corps August 5-December 25, 1918; received his discharge January 17, 1919, commissioned as a Major in Military Intelligence Section, Officers' Reserve Corps, October 12, 1923; active in Liberty Loan and War Insurance work; spent the year 1919-1920 studying industrial conditions in the United States and Europe; lectured for National Industrial Conference Board 1920-21; Cyrus Fogg Brackett lecturer at Princeton 1923; had been secretary of National Association of Cotton Manufacturers since 1921; had preached in Congregational churches in and about London during several seasons abroad and served as chaplain of Indiana Commandery of Loyal Legion in 1902 and 1903; author of Lowell—An Industrial Dream Come True (1922); member Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, Authors Club (London), Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, American Legion, Military Order of the World War, the Quartuor Coronati of England, and (since 1904) First Congregational Church, Danbury, Conn.; served as secretary of Class of 1894 D. from graduation until 1922 and again since 1924; his home was in Brookline, Mass., from 1921 to 1924 and since then at Kendal Green, Mass.

Married May 23, 1894, in Lowell, Bertha Frances, daughter of Woodward Eells and Mary Ella (Horne) Murkland. Children: Faith Lucena; Jean Chamberlain; Constance Lambert (Mrs. Harry Francis Young); and Harry Chamberlain, Jr.

Death, due to peritonitis, occurred at Massachusetts General Hospital, following an operation; had been taken suddenly ill ten days before. Interment in Hart Pond Cemetery, South Chelmsford, Mass. Survived by wife, three daughters, son, and one grandson.

Anders Oswald Sandbo, B.D. 1894.

Born December 25, 1868, in Vaaga, Gulbrandsdal, Norway.

Died December 4, 1925, in Austin, Texas

Father, Ole Sandbo, a Captain in the Norwegian Army, came to America about 1868 and in 1872 settled at Hills, Minn., where he was engaged in farming, son of Ole and Mari Sandbo. Mother, Elsie (Scott) Sandbo.

Came to this country in 1878; attended Augsburg Seminary, Minneapolis, Minn., one year, B. A. St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., 1890; engaged in newspaper work in Minneapolis 1890-91; studied at Yale Divinity School 1891-95; engaged in various occupations in New York City 1895-98, being in newspaper work for a time; studied law at University of Texas 1898-1900 (LL B. 1900); had practiced law in Austin since 1900, member Travis County Bar Association and Swedish Lutheran Church, Austin.

Married September 30, 1911, in Chicago, Ill., Anna I Blomquist, daughter of C. J. and Emma Newberg. No children.

Death due to a tumor on the brain; had been ill for about three years. Interment in Oakwood Cemetery, Austin. Survived by wife, a stepson, Eugene E. Blomquist, four brothers, Hans Sandbo, of Benson, Minn., Edwin Sandbo, of Roy, Mont., John Sandbo, of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., and Henry Sandbo, of Luverne, Minn., and three sisters, the Misses Ida and Marie Sandbo and Mrs. Anfin Osboe, all of Sioux Falls.

Adam Ruth Lutz, B.D. 1895.

Born July 7, 1862, in Fritztown, Pa.
Died January 31, 1926, in Reading, Pa

Father, Samuel K. Lutz, a merchant; son of Jesse and Elizabeth Lutz. Mother, Susana D (Ruth) Lutz; daughter of John and Sarah Ruth Keystone State Normal School, Kutztown, Pa; B.A. Franklin and Marshall College 1886 (an editor of college paper), then took up newspaper work, being on staff of Reading Morning Herald for a time; principal of schools in Strasburg and Myerstown, Pa., and supervising principal of borough schools before entering Yale Divinity School in 1892; ordained to Congregational ministry June 11, 1895, at Monroe, Conn., where he remained as minister for two years; later pastorates (all in Connecticut) were at Bethlehem, 1898-1901, Oakville, 1901-03, Bloomfield, 1903-08, and Whitneyville, 1912-19; assistant minister First Congregational Church, Waterbury, Conn, 1908-1912; took a course in Biblical literature and Semitics in Yale Graduate School 1899-1903 (M.A. 1903); also studied at Hartford Theological Seminary (received degree of B R P. in 1907) and at University of Chicago; for several years previous to his death his home had been at Sinking Spring, Pa.

Married Clara Walker, of Strasburg, who died January 26, 1914 No children.

Death due to diabetes Buried in Strasburg. Survived by a sister, Mrs Ida Riggs, and a brother, Jesse R Lutz, of Reading.

Stephen Bogos Jacobian, B.D. 1898.

Born November 21, 1856, in Albustan, Turkey.

Died October 30, 1925, in Pasadena, Calif.

Father, Bogos Jacobian, a jeweler; son of Hagop and Zarmon Jacobian Mother, Martha (Aghbabian) Jacobian; daughter of Giragos and Aghvor Aghbabian.

Attended Central Turkey College, Aintab, 1882-85 (B.A. 1885); professor of the Turkish language at that college 1885-1895; also pastor of Third Congregational Church, Aintab, 1891-94; studied at Yale Divinity School 1895-98; assisted in publication of Armenian weekly, Gotchnag, 1898-1902; pastor Armenian Church, Paterson, N. J., 1902-04; pastor of Armenian Presbyterian Church, Troy, N Y (which he was instrumental in building), 1904-1910, his ordination taking place on April 17, 1906; pastor Armenian Evangelical Church, Providence, R. I., 1910-16; also connected with Haig Publishing Company of New York as editor of Gilgia (weekly paper) 1914-18; pastor Armenian Presbyterian Church, Paterson, N. J., 1916-1920 and of Armenian Presbyterian Church, Troy (second pastorate), 1920-21; worked under a missionary board in Massachusetts among different communities of Armenians 1921-22; pastor First Presbyterian Church, Fresno, Calif., 1922-25; since February, 1925, had lived in Pasadena, where he was engaged in assisting Armenians; had translated about one thousand gospel songs from different languages, principally English, into Armenian and Turkish

Married April 17, 1877, in Marash, Turkey, Sarah, daughter of Manoog and Margaret (Toorian) Manoogian. Children: Luther Baronag; Lucy Clara (Mrs Harry Artin Haljean); Lootfy Daniel, who received a certificate from the Yale School of the Fine Arts in 1909; Aznive Fannie (Mrs Roupén Garabéd Parigian); Leon Antranik, ex-'10 M. (died in 1909); Paul Henry; and Stephen Manuel

Death due to chronic nephritis, complicated with diabetes

Buried in Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena. Survived by wife, four sons, two daughters, ten grandchildren, and a brother, Dr H B. Yacoubi, of Pasadena.

Charles Spurgeon Calhoun, B.D. 1901.

Born October 8, 1868, in Germantown, New Brunswick.

Died September 19, 1925, at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Father, John Calbourn Calhoun, a farmer. Mother, Mary Ann (Kenny) Calhoun.

B.A. Bates College 1899; studied at Yale Divinity School 1899-1901; ordained to Congregational ministry in New Haven April 8, 1901; pastor of Congregational churches at Dexter, Mich., 1901-03 and at East Lake, Mich., 1903-05; was then obliged to give up the ministry on account of ill health; returned to Dexter and was engaged in farming there until 1924, when ill health prevented further activities; trustee Dexter School Board 1923-25; manager Dexter Agricultural Association 1920-22; moved to Ann Arbor only a few months before his death

Married December 3, 1903, in Dexter, Mabel Edith, daughter of William Frederick and Clara (Phelps) Cairns. Children: Carl Phelps and Dorothy Verne.

Death, due to Bright's disease, occurred at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor. Buried in Mount Hope Cemetery, Lansing, Mich. Survived by wife, son, daughter, four brothers, Edward W. Calhoun, of Chillubach, British Columbia, Emerson J. and John C. Calhoun, both of Edmonton, Alberta, and George H. Calhoun, of Los Angeles, Calif., and three sisters, Mrs. J. E. Johnson, of Penhold, Alberta, Mrs. J. H. Fletcher, of Victoria, British Columbia, and Mrs. J. F. Stanton, of Kamloops, British Columbia.

SUMMARY

YALE COLLEGE

CLASS	NAME AND AGE AT DEATH	PLACE OF BIRTH AND DEATH	DATE OF DEATH
1852	W W. Crapo, 96	Dartmouth, Mass ; New Bedford, Mass.	February 28, 1926
1858	A. B. Wilbur, 92	Sharon, Conn , Middletown, N. Y.	June 18, 1926
1860	Nathaniel Norton, 86	Brooklyn, N. Y., Englewood, N. J	November 8, 1925
1861	J H. Brent, 83	Paris, Ky	October 20, 1925
1861	E P. McKinney, 87	Cooperstown, N Y ; Binghamton, N. Y.	October 18, 1925
1862	F H Bosworth, 82	Marietta, Ohio; New York City	October 16, 1925
1862	J H Crosby, 85	Bangor, Maine; Long Beach, Calif	October 16, 1925
1862	R H Greene, 87	New York City	February 13, 1926
1862	Henry Holt, 86	Baltimore, Md ; New York City.	February 13, 1926
1862	R S Tracy, 84	Windsor, Vt ; Ballardvale, Mass.	March 6, 1926
1863	D B Childs, 82	Syracuse, N Y.; Los Angeles, Calif.	November 10, 1925
1863	G L. Curran, 85	Utica, N. Y.	November 17, 1925
1863	T A Emerson, 85	South Reading, Mass ; Northampton, Mass	April 17, 1926
1864	S C Darling, 82	Milltown, N. B , Brighton, Mass	September 1, 1925
1864	George Douglass, 82	New York City	April 25, 1926
1864	J P Hoyt, 81	Coventry, N Y , West Newton, Mass.	August 4, 1925
1864	C L Westcott, 82	Wilton, Conn , New York City	December 7, 1925
1865	E B Bronson, 82	Hartford, Conn , New York City	November 18, 1925
1865	G H Ely, 80	Elyria, Ohio.	October 1, 1925
1865	Charles Kimberly, 82	New Haven, Conn	June 30, 1926
1865	S V Smith, 80	Philadelphia, Pa , San Francisco, Calif	September 19, 1925
1866	F N Dodge, 81	Hartford, Conn , Paterson, N J.	March 28, 1926
1867	W B Harding, 86	Putney, Vt , Springfield, Mass.	January 15, 1926

Summary

335

CLASS	NAME AND AGE AT DEATH	PLACE OF BIRTH AND DEATH	DATE OF DEATH
1868	S G Bailey, 81	Lowell, Mass	March 31, 1926
1868	W. P Dixon, 79	New York City, Lawrence, N. Y	June 24, 1926
1868	Jonathan Ingersoll, 78	New Haven, Conn , Los Angeles, Calif.	May 9, 1926
1868	C E Searls, 79	Pomfret, Conn , Thompson, Conn.	July 14, 1925
1869	F H Hamlin, 79	East Bloomfield, N Y ; Canandaigua, N Y	January 17, 1926
1869	J M Holcombe, 77	Hartford, Conn	January 15, 1926
1870	W J Betts, 78	Stamford, Conn	January 30, 1926
1871	W H Charnley, 74	New Haven, Conn., Cleveland, Ohio	June 10, 1925
1871	A W Cooper, 78	Whitestown, N Y ; Ocean Grove, N J.	September 25, 1925
1871	I. D Decker, 62	Mechanicsville, N J , Algiers, Algeria	October 25, 1906
1871	J S Sanborn, 57	Coffeerville, Miss , Portland, Ore	January 27, 1908
1871	P C Smith, 80	Providence, R I , Westfield, Mass	May 13, 1926
1871	W R Sperry, 83	Sauquoit, N Y , Hartford, Conn.	February 13, 1926
1871	G A. Strong, 77	Port Gibson, Miss , Plainfield, N J.	May 25, 1926
1872	F H. Baldwin, 76	New York City	January 20, 1926
1872	F O Brannan, 68	Cincinnati, Ohio, Denver, Colo	April 3, 1918
1872	G P Sawyer, 68	Buffalo, N Y , Winter Park, Fla	January 13, 1920
1872	E N Sheppard, 75	Roxbury, Conn , New Haven, Conn.	October 5, 1925
1873	J H Bennett, 75	New Haven, Conn.	March 31, 1926
1873	Atwood Collins, 74	Hartford, Conn	May 8, 1926
1873	J C Hubbard, 75	Middletown, Conn ; East View, N. Y.	April 28, 1926
1873	E S Miller, 75	Williston, Vt , Los Angeles, Calif.	August 21, 1925
1873	A. B. Morrill, 72	Portland, Maine, New Haven, Conn	March 18, 1926
1873	Plato Mountjoy, 74	Clarksville, Mo , Salt Lake City, Utah	November 9, 1925
1873	W E Wheelock, 74	Manchester, England; New York City.	February 3, 1926
1874	O F. Aldis, 73	St Albans, Vt., Paris, France.	August 5, 1925
1874	Pearce Barnes, 74	Mount Sterling, Ky.; Kent, Conn.	November 22, 1925
1874	R S Bussing, 72	Brooklyn, N. Y.	September 24, 1925

1874	W. A. Coffin, 70	Pittsburgh, Pa ; New York City.	October 26, 1925
1874	DeW. C. Holbrook, 74	Detroit, Mich ; near Freewater, Ore.	December 25, 1925
1874	P A Porter, 72	Niagara Falls, N. Y ; Buffalo, N. Y.	December 15, 1925
1874	W. E D Stokes, 73	New York City.	May 18, 1926
1875	H J McBirney, 73	Cincinnati, Ohio; Chicago, Ill.	May 29, 1926
1875	F T McClintock, 70	Allegheny City, Pa ; Pittsburgh, Pa	August 4, 1925
1875	Cortes Maxwell, 74	Alexandria, Mo ; Keokuk, Iowa.	December 19, 1925
1876	L. F Burchard, 69	Brooklyn, N Y	November 30, 1923
1876	J. E Durand, 70	Rochester, N. Y.	May 15, 1926
1877	F E Clark, 71	Huntington, Mass ; Northampton, Mass.	February 16, 1926
1877	J. S Foote, 74	Colchester, Conn ; Omaha, Nebr.	June 30, 1925
1877	D. D. Sherman, 68	New York City, Nyack, N Y.	June 2, 1926
1877	F. J Stimson, 70	Paterson, N J ; New York City.	May 31, 1926
1877	L F. Tooker, 70	Port Jefferson, N. Y , Greenwich, Conn.	September 17, 1925
1877	C C Tyler, 70	Utica, N. Y ; Washington, D C.	June 13, 1925
1877	P J Wilson, 72	Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.; Detroit, Mich.	February 15, 1926
1878	H W Cobb, 69	Boylston, Mass , Worcester, Mass.	November 23, 1925
1878	A H Sherman, 73	Eastford, Conn , Orange, N. J.	May 17, 1926
1878	I T Tajiri, 68	Kyoto, Japan, Koyado, Magome, Japan	August 14, 1923
1879	H. K Willard, 69	Washington, D C.; Pasadena, Calif	May 17, 1926
1880	C A Holbrook, 71	North Auburn, Maine; Chelmsford, Mass.	November 3, 1925
1880	W. F Hutchison, 66	New Haven, Conn., Kansas City, Mo	March 19, 1926
1880	C. R. Smith, 68	Green Spring, Ohio; Cleveland, Ohio	September 5, 1925
1881	G S Isham, 66	Chicago, Ill , Pinehurst, N C	March 26, 1926
1881	T H Myers, 66	Yonkers, N Y., New York City.	December 24, 1925
1882	W. I Badger, 67	Boston, Mass ; Cambridge, Mass.	March 17, 1926
1882	M. S Bate, 66	Brooklyn, N Y.	May 19, 1926
1882	F M Eaton, 65	St Stephen, N B , Calais, Maine	November 22, 1925
1882	C W Lyman, 64	New Haven, Conn , Boston, Mass.	April 7, 1926

CLASS	NAME AND AGE AT DEATH	PLACE OF BIRTH AND DEATH	DATE OF DEATH
1882	B H Rutledge, 64	Charleston, S C	November 12, 1925
1883	A E. Bowers, 70	Manchester, Conn	November 10, 1925
1883	E B Frost, 65	Peekskill, N. Y.; Beach Bluff, Mass.	August 22, 1925
1883	J W Galbraith, 65	Erie, Pa.	March 25, 1926
1883	C H Hall, 65	Brooklyn, N. Y , Binghamton, N. Y.	October 25, 1925
1883	H G Hoadley, 64	New Haven, Conn , Belmont, Mass.	May 22, 1926
1883	J. H. Nelson, 66	New York City.	August 23, 1925
1883	R. A Sawyer, 64	Yonkers, N. Y ; Harrisburg, Pa.	October 4, 1925
1883	H C. M. Thomson, 63	New Haven, Conn.; New Britain, Conn.	June 18, 1926
1883	J B. Woodward, 64	Wilkes Barre, Pa , Glen Summit, Pa.	September 6, 1925
1885	E A Schultze, 62	Hoboken, N J ; Speonk, N Y	January 18, 1926
1886	C N. Coddling, 64	Collinsville, Conn.; Westfield, N. J	January 21, 1926
1886	Thomas Darling, 63	Wilkes Barre, Pa ; Kingston, Pa	June 13, 1926
1887	A. B Coxe, 60	Philadelphia, Pa	April 16, 1926
1887	G. G. Haven, 59	New York City.	July 21, 1925
1888	W. A Campbell, 59	Schenectady, N. Y ; Asheville, N. C.	December 10, 1925
1888	F. W Hubbard, 60	Litchfield, Conn.; Flushing, N. Y.	February 10, 1926
1888	C. A Klots, 58	Brooklyn, N. Y ; New York City.	May 3, 1926
1888	F. I. Paradise, 66	Boston, Mass ; Vevey, Switzerland.	February 24, 1926
1888	B. C. Steiner, 58	Guilford, Conn.; Baltimore, Md.	January 12, 1926
1889	I H. Peres, 57	Memphis, Tenn.	August 1, 1925
1889	H. S. Robinson, 57	Hartford, Conn.; Nassau, Bahama Islands.	March 3, 1926
1890	Herbert Parsons, 55	New York City; Pittsfield, Mass	September 16, 1925
1890	H VanD Shaw, 57	Chicago, Ill.; Baltimore, Md.	May 6, 1926
1890	G. S Welch, 57	Gowanda, N. Y.; Torrance, Calif.	June 13, 1925
1890	L. B. Woodruff, 57	New York City; Torrington, Conn.	November 27, 1925
1891	L. F. H Betts, 56	New York City; Campbellton, N. B.	June 29, 1926
1891	E. A. Manice, 55	New York City; Pinehurst, N C	July 26, 1925

1891 F. W. Sackett, 58
 1892 C. H. Frost, 56
 1892 R. W. Morris, 56
 1892 I. C. West, 54
 1893 Lawrence Greer, 53
 1893 C. W. Mills, 54
 1894 F. P. Dodge, 54
 1894 John Howland, 53
 1894 C. S. Jackson, 53
 1894 G. D. McBirney, 53
 1894 W. R. Moorhouse, 52
 1894 Ralph Pringle, 51
 1894 G. M. Townsend, 54
 1895 D. C. Adams, 53
 1895 C. F. Clemons, 53
 1895 J. A. Draper, 51
 1895 F. R. Galacar, 53
 1895 F. A. Hinkey, 55
 1895 H. S. Scarborough, 55
 1896 J. L. Burnham, 54
 1896 J. A. Carley, 51
 1896 F. W. Hoeninghaus, 51
 1896 Douglas Stewart, 53
 1896 David Stuart, 51
 1897 H. E. Nolan, 50
 1897 D. V. Sutphin, 50
 1898 F. J. Fassett, 50
 1898 A. P. Fitch, 49
 1898 R. H. Gay, 49

Louisville, Ky.; Rochester, N. Y.
 Chicago, Ill.; Plainfield, N. J.
 Wallingford, Conn.; Chicago, Ill.
 Brooklyn, N. Y., Boston, Mass.
 Providence, R. I.; New York City.
 Weedsport, N. Y.; Ocean City, N. J.
 Teaneck, N. J.; New York City.
 New York City; London, England.
 Kennett Square, Pa.; Cambridge, Mass.
 Cincinnati, Ohio; Gilbertsville, N. Y.
 Chicago, Ill.; Trout Lake, Wis.
 Pana, Ill.; Red Oak, Iowa.
 Springfield, Ill.; Philadelphia, Pa.
 Utica, N. Y.; New York City.
 Manchester, Vt.; Honolulu, Hawaii.
 Wilmington, Del.
 New York City; Boston, Mass.
 Tonawanda, N. Y., Southern Pines, N. C.
 Baltimore, Md.; Waterbury, Conn.
 Meredith, N. H.; at sea.
 Lawrence, Mass.; New York City.
 Bridgeport, Conn.; New York City.
 Pittsburgh, Pa.
 Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mount Kisco, N. Y.
 Chicago, Ill.; Montana, Switzerland.
 Dayton, Ohio, New York City.
 Rochester, Vt.; Los Angeles, Calif.
 New York City.
 Gaysville, Vt., New York City.

March 30, 1926
 June 2, 1926
 July 14, 1925
 January 16, 1926
 December 14, 1925
 August 10, 1925
 January 14, 1926
 June 20, 1926
 January 2, 1926
 July 2, 1925
 August 17, 1925
 April 7, 1924
 February 19, 1926
 June 17, 1926
 September 17, 1925
 December 9, 1925
 May 5, 1926
 December 30, 1925
 September 21, 1925
 September 5, 1925
 July 15, 1919
 January 7, 1926
 April 21, 1926
 August 25, 1925
 December 15, 1925
 May 18, 1926
 March 24, 1926
 May 21, 1926
 November 25, 1925

Summary

339

CLASS	NAME AND AGE AT DEATH	PLACE OF BIRTH AND DEATH	DATE OF DEATH
1899	G E. Hecker, 48	New York City; Chicago, Ill.	May 5, 1926
1899	Isham Henderson, 48	Louisville, Ky , New York City.	March 15, 1926
1899	J E. Wilson, 47	St. Louis, Mo ; Chicago, Ill.	September 3, 1925
1900	Franklin Carter, Jr , 47	New Haven, Conn., New York City.	January 12, 1926
1900	Foster Crampton, 48	Brooklyn, N. Y., West Hampton Beach, N. Y.	April 21, 1926
1900	S C. Rosenberg, 49	New Haven, Conn.; West Haven, Conn	December 27, 1925
1901	F. A. Clark, 47	Scranton, Pa.; Mount Holly, N. J.	July 29, 1925
1901	E W. Smith, 47	Farmington, Conn	April 16, 1926
1902	Raymond Bissell, 45	Buffalo, N. Y.	February 23, 1926
1902	R C. Vanderbilt, 44	New York City; Portsmouth, R. I.	September 4, 1925
1904	M. S Damon, 43	Honolulu, Hawaii; Loudonville, N. Y.	December 15, 1925
1907	M. G. Bulkeley, Jr , 40	Hartford, Conn.	March 22, 1926
1907	H A Rosenbaum, 40	New York City; Germany.	June 9, 1926
1909	A L Davison, 39	Thompsonville, Conn.; Springfield, Mass	April 8, 1926
1910	A S. Hildebrand, 37	Hartford, Conn.; died 1924 or 1925.
1911	H. B. Davis, 37	Grand Rapids, Mich , E. Grand Rapids, Mich.	December 30, 1925
1911	J. V. McDonnell, 36	New York City.	May 23, 1926
1911	M. A Morgan, 34	Ilion, N. Y ; Oroya, Peru.	February 20, 1926
1912	C. W. S Afong, 36	Macao, China	February, 26, 1924
1912	H. B. Bartholomew, 39	Greenbush, N. Y., Cobleskill, N. Y.	March 20, 1926
1913	C E. Barton, 34	Cincinnati, Ohio; New Haven, Conn.	December 6, 1925
1918	R. R. Paret, 28	Bergen Point, N. J ; New York City.	July 1, 1925
1918	R R. Theobald, 34	Dayton, Ohio, Toledo, Ohio.	December 19, 1925
1919	J. A Daniels, 28	Buffalo, N. Y.	March 25, 1926
1923	N. T Lovell, 25	West Newton, Mass.	January 20, 1926
1925	Henry Adams, 21	Hanover, N. H.; Washington, Conn.	January 28, 1926

SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL

1857	A. H. Kent, 75	Jackson, La.; Atlanta, Ga.	August 23, 1914
1867	S. I. Smith, 83	Norway, Maine; New Haven, Conn.	May 6, 1926
1869	A. D. Chidsey, 77	East Haven, Conn.; Easton, Pa	January 25, 1926
1871	F. S. Dickson, 75	Utica, N. Y.; Philadelphia, Pa.	December 1, 1925
1876	G. E. Sherman, 71	Morristown, N. J.	November 28, 1925
1878	R. S. Hulbert, 71	Winsted, Conn.	December 20, 1925
1879	N. T. Bacon, 67	Litchfield, Conn ; Peace Dale, R. I	January 3, 1926
1880	G. E. Goodspeed, 66	East Haddam, Conn , Brookline, Mass.	December 5, 1925
1884	J. M. Maghee, 60	Evansville, Ind ; West Orange, N. J.	June 22, 1926
1885	J. J. Flather, 63	Philadelphia, Pa , Minneapolis, Minn.	May 14, 1926
1885	P. L. Lang, 64	Waverly, N. Y., Rochester, N. Y.	April 8, 1926
1887	F. F. Georger, 60	New York City; Great Neck, N. Y.	January 11, 1926
1887	C. S. Jewett, 60	Moravia, N. Y ; Buffalo, N. Y	November 5, 1925
1887	R. McK. Woods, 61	New Haven, Conn , St Paul, Minn.	August 9, 1925
1888	W. H. Bean, 58	New Haven, Conn.	December 1, 1925
1888	S. Y. Osborn, 59	New Haven, Conn , South Orange, N. J.	November 7, 1925
1888	E. W. Robinson, 58	New Haven, Conn ; Punxsutawney, Pa	March 6, 1926
1889	A. H. Day, 57	New Haven, Conn.	April 23, 1926
1890	F. D. McCaulley, 55	San Francisco, Calif , at sea.	March 24, 1926
1892	W. W. Keith, 56	Chicago, Ill , Baltimore, Md	September 1, 1925
1893	Hampton Howell, 53	Brooklyn, N. Y , Stamford, Conn	January 5, 1926
1893	T. H. Lewis, 53	Chicago, Ill.	January 16, 1926
1894	W. W. Savage, 53	Baltimore, Md , New York City	December 14, 1925
1894	H. M. Steele, 53	Waterbury, Conn ; New Haven, Conn	March 18, 1926
1894	F. C. Waller, 52	Chicago, Ill	November 20, 1925
1895	J. C. Greenway, 53	Huntsville, Ala , New York City	January 19, 1926
1895	C. E. Meigs, 53	Oxford, Conn , Waterbury, Conn.	December 20, 1925
1895	R. R. Miller, 52	Pine Grove, Pa	January 7, 1926

Summary

341

CLASS	NAME AND AGE AT DEATH	PLACE OF BIRTH AND DEATH	DATE OF DEATH
1895	H H Robinson, 52	Hartford, Conn , New Haven, Conn.	October 20, 1925
1896	J T. Drummond, 52	Alton, Ill , St. Louis, Mo.	June 26, 1925
1896	G A. Lanphear, 48	Harris, R. I.; Anderson, Ind.	May 30, 1924
1897	C H. Hall, 48	Brooklyn, N. Y	March 1, 1925
1897	J L Hitchcock, 49	Cheektowaga, N. Y.; Buffalo, N Y	December 14, 1925
1897	R M Lester, 50	Savannah, Ga	April 3, 1926
1901	W B Hubbard, 47	Toledo, Ohio, West Cornwall, Conn.	September 4, 1925
1901	O T McClurg, 47	Chicago, Ill.	April 20, 1926
1904	A. C Prime, 42	Philadelphia, Pa	March 2, 1926
1906	Marlette Crouse, 40	Syracuse, N. Y.	June 26, 1925
1908	B. R. Hawley, 38	Farmington, Conn ; East Aurora, N. Y.	November 15, 1925
1908	H M. Root, 39	Burlington, Iowa, New York City.	August 30, 1925
1910	Alexander Laughlin, Jr., 37	Cleveland, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Pa.	June 12, 1926
1911	J. B. F. Lawrence, 37	Mastic, N Y , Liberty, N. Y.	December 29, 1925
1912	John Remick, 37	Methuen, Mass ; North Dighton, Mass.	February 26, 1926
1913	D. B. Brockett, 34	New Haven, Conn , near Spooner, Wis	October 8, 1925
1913	W. H. Forde, 33	Natick, Mass.; Conowingo, Md.	May 12, 1926
1913	J. W. Martindale, Jr., 34	Louisville, Ky.; Honolulu, Hawaii.	February 6, 1926
1916	A. I. Cleveland, 31	Roseville, N. J.; Loyalton, Calif	May 10, 1926
1921	John Wettstein, 26	Chicago, Ill.; Richmond, Va.	October 17, 1925
1923	J. E. Lally, 23	Meriden, Conn.	August 21, 1925
1925	M. H. James, 24	Evanston, Ill.; Daytona Beach, Fla	March 29, 1926
1926	I. A Bogdanoff, 25	Odessa, Russia; New Haven, Conn.	May 22, 1926
GRADUATE SCHOOL
MASTERS OF ART
1881	H. R. Gibbs, 74	Pittsfield, Mass.; Newtonville, Mass.	December 6, 1925
1903	H N. Sanborn, 46	Quincy, Mass ; Bridgeport, Conn	February 22, 1926
1905	A. L. Morgan, 52	Wilton, Conn ; Providence, R. I.	July 4, 1925

		MASTER OF SCIENCE
1922	J L Burisch, 28	Elizabeth, N. J ; Worcester, Mass.	January 13, 1926
		DOCTORS OF PHILOSOPHY
1872	R. C. Weldon, 76	Penobsquis, N. B ; Dartmouth, N. S.	November 26, 1925
1899	C. A. Harstrom, 62	Vesteras, Sweden; Norwalk, Conn.	January 14, 1926
1903	C. E. Stromquist, 47	Fremont, Kans ; Palo Alto, Calif.	April 3, 1925
1923	Margaret Russel, 35	Topeka, Kans.; Manhattan, Kans.	March 20, 1926
		SCHOOL OF THE FINE ARTS
1903	E. P. Sperry	Stockbridge, Mass.	September 19, 1925
		SCHOOL OF FORESTRY
1904	S. J. Flintham, 45	Albion, N. Y.; Los Angeles, Calif.	June 10, 1925
1910	M. J. Oteyza, 39	Manila, P. I , Baguio, P. I	February 5, 1926
1918	Shoitsu Hotta, 52	Tokyo, Japan; Fukuoka, Japan	July 4, 1925
		SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
1858	D A DeForest, 92	Boonville, Ind	December 20, 1925
1871	W R Bartlett, 77	North Guilford, Conn	January 7, 1926
1875	F. D Clum, 72	Saugerties, N Y ; Cheviot, N. Y.	July 8, 1925
1876	S H Huntington, 71	Windham, Conn , Norwalk, Conn.	June 23, 1926
1893	I. N. Porter, 60	Summit Bridge, Del ; New Haven, Conn.	April 10, 1926
1895	J. H J Flynn, 52	New Haven, Conn.	April 26, 1926
1901	Samuel Gurney, 64	Long Branch, N. J , Rhodesia, S Africa.	August 3, 1924
1903	E B. Ives, 47	Meriden, Conn., Bridgeport, Conn.	September 9, 1925
1904	E. F Crofutt	Bethel, Conn ; _____	June 1, 1926

Summary

343

CLASS	NAME AND AGE AT DEATH	PLACE OF BIRTH AND DEATH	DATE OF DEATH
1873	Joseph Rothschild, 69	San Francisco, Calif.	March 19, 1925
1876	David Strouse, 77	New Haven, Conn	December 10, 1925
1876	J H Whiting, 70	New Haven, Conn , New York City.	February 29, 1920
1877	J S Maxwell, 75	Wattsburg, Pa , Milwaukee, Wis.	October 16, 1925
1878	C A Colley, 68	Waterbury, Conn.	April 8, 1926
1878	Leonard Daniels, 72	Grafton, Vt , Seattle, Wash.	July 17, 1924
1878	C L Ullman, 71	New Haven, Conn ; New York City.	February 10, 1926
1879	J W Coogan, 70	Windsor Locks, Conn.; Hartford, Conn.	May 6, 1926
1881	W I Fenn, 70	Wallingford, Conn , Meriden, Conn.	January 22, 1925
1883	G. M Sinclair, 58	Ottawa, Ontario, Seattle, Wash	December 31, 1916
1884	C. C Pavey, 68	Greenfield, Ohio; Columbus, Ohio.	September 16, 1925
1885	W E. Butler, 64	Charleston, S C	June 21, 1915
1886	J C Work, 67	Dunbar Township, Pa ; Uniontown, Pa.	March 31, 1926
1888	Patrick Kane, 77	New York City, Bridgeport, Conn.	June 6, 1926
1888	F. H Kelley, 61	Worcester, Mass ; Tacoma, Wash.	January 6, 1925
1888	H N. Wakeman, 69	Greenfield Hill, Conn , Bridgeport, Conn.	February 22, 1926
1889	J. W. Cox, 53	LaGrange, Ga ; Atlanta, Ga.	April 10, 1916
1891	R. L Cates		May 12, 1925
1892	F. W Treadway, 56	New Haven, Conn.; Cleveland, Ohio	December 24, 1925
1892	L R. Wilfley, 59	Audrain County, Mo , Greenwich, Conn.	May 26, 1926
1895	G W. Klett, 51	New Britain, Conn	January 27, 1926
1896	F J. Kearful, 54	St. Joseph, Mo ; Arlington Heights, Mass	August 23, 1925
1897	M L Decker, 36	Denver, Colo; Littleton, Colo.	January 27, 1911
1897	C. F Peterson, 55	Honolulu, Hawaii.	October 14, 1925
1897	B. DeF Sheedy, 61	Norwalk, Conn ; New York City.	March 5, 1926
1901	W. C Lane, 47	Hadley, Mass ; Norwich, Conn	November 14, 1925

1905	J. J. Bennett, 44	Ansonia, Conn.	May 16, 1926
1907	W. A. Johnson, 43	Marion, S C ; Portland, Ore.	March 13, 1926
1908	A. O. Schramm, 45	New York City.	September 13, 1925
1911	A F McCarthy, 37	Ansonia, Conn ; Bridgeport, Conn.	December 19, 1925
1923	J. C. Hedges, 29	Seattle, Wash	October 3, 1925

MASTERS OF LAWS

1883	T. D. Ross, 65	Magnolia, Ark , Fort Worth, Texas	May 31, 1926
1908	H S. Haas, 39	St. Louis, Mo.	February 21, 1926
1916	Henry Nowicki, 28	Nanticoke, Pa , New Britain, Conn.	April 26, 1925

DIVINITY SCHOOL

1873	E. P. Salmon, 83	Peru, Ohio, Madeline Island, Lake Superior	July 23, 1925
1874	R O Post, 74	Logansport, Ind ; Jacksonville, Ill.	June 9, 1925
1877	A T. Swing, 76	Bethel, Ohio, Chicago, Ill.	September 21, 1925
1882	A D. Bissell, 66	Ghordnadi, India; Claremont, Calif	May 24, 1925
1885	F W Tuckerman, 69	Providence, R I ; Colorado Springs, Colo	May 13, 1925
1887	John Dunlap, 73	Woodstown, N J , Seattle, Wash	November 4, 1925
1888	F. V. Stevens, 69	Near Bay City, Mich , Vermontville, Mich	May 14, 1926
1891	C H Dickerson, 63	Sumter, S C.; Louisville, Ky.	March 31, 1925
1893	L B Goodrich, 61	Pembroke, N. H ; Taunton, Mass	April 16, 1926
1894	W W. Dornan, 65	Glasgow, Scotland, Whitman, Mass	February 6, 1926
1894	H C Meserve, 57	Quincy, Ill , Boston, Mass	October 22, 1925
1894	A O Sandbo, 56	Gulbrandsdal, Norway, Austin, Texas.	December 4, 1925
1895	A R Lutz, 64	Fritztown, Pa ; Reading, Pa.	January 31, 1926
1898	S B. Jacobian, 68	Albustan, Turkey, Pasadena, Calif	October 30, 1925
1901	C S Calhoun, 56	Germantown, N B , Ann Arbor, Mich	September 19, 1925

Summary

The number of deaths recorded this year is 284, the age of the 163 graduates of the College averages 63 7 years.

The oldest living graduate of the College is

John Donnell Smith (B A 1847), of Baltimore, Md , born June 5, 1829

INDEX

Graduates of the different Schools of the University are distinguished from graduates of YALE COLLEGE by italic letters as follows SCHOOL OF THE FINE ARTS, art; DIVINITY, d, GRADUATE, ma, ms, or dp; LAW, l or ml; MEDICINE, m; SCHOOL OF FORESTRY, f; SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL, s.

CLASS		PAGE	CLASS		PAGE
1895	Adams, Daniel C.	164	1871	Charnley, Walter H.	47
1925	Adams, Henry	213	1869 s	Chidsey, Andrew D.	217
1912	Afong, Chun W. S.	206	1863	Childs, Daniel B.	20
1874	Aldis, Owen F.	68	1877	Clark, Frank E.	84
1879 s	Bacon, Nathaniel T.	223	1901	Clark, Fred A.	190
1882	Badger, Walter I.	103	1895	Clemons, Charles	165
1868	Bailey, Stephen G.	36	1916 s	Cleveland, Arthur I.	268
1872	Baldwin, Frederick H.	54	1875 m	Clum, Franklin D.	285
1874	Barnes, Pearce	69	1878	Cobb, Hollis W.	92
1912	Bartholomew, Howard B.	207	1886	Codding, Charles N.	122
1871 m	Bartlett, Walter R.	285	1874	Coffin, William A.	71
1913	Barton, Clarence E.	208	1878 l	Colley, Charles A.	294
1882	Bate, Mortimer S.	104	1873	Collins, Atwood	60
1888 s	Bean, William Hill	233	1879 l	Coogan, John W.	296
1905 l	Bennett, John J.	314	1871	Cooper, Albert W.	48
1873	Bennett, Joseph H.	59	1889 l	Cox, John W.	304
1891	Betts, Louis F. H.	147	1887	Coxe, Alexander Brown	124
1870	Betts, William J.	46	1900	Crampton, Foster	188
1882 d	Bissell, Arthur D.	323	1852	Crapo, William W.	3
1902	Bissell, Raymond	192	1904 m	Croft, Edward F.	291
1926 s	Bogdanoff, Ivan A.	271	1862	Crosby, James H.	12
1862	Bosworth, Francke H.	10	1906 s	Crouse, Marlette	259
1883	Bowers, Arthur E.	111	1863	Curran, George L.	22
1872	Brannan, Frank I.	55	1904	Damon, Maurice S.	195
1861	Brent, J. Harry	8	1919	Daniels, J. Alden	211
1913 s	Brockett, Donald B.	265	1878 l	Daniels, Leonard	295
1865	Bronson, Edward B.	30	1864	Darling, Samuel C.	25
1907	Bulkeley, Morgan G., Jr.	197	1886	Darling, Thomas	123
1876	Burchard, Louis F.	82	1911	Davis, Henry B.	202
1922 ms	Burisch, John L.	275	1909	Davison, Arthur L.	199
1896	Burnham, John L.	171	1889 s	Day, Arthur H.	237
1874	Bussing, Robert S.	70	1871	Decker, I. Dayton	49
1885 l	Butler, W. Enston	299	1897 l	Decker, Mason L.	310
1901 d	Calhoun, Charles S.	334	1858 m	DeForest, Daniel A.	284
1888	Campbell, William A.	127	1891 d	Dickerson, Charles H.	327
1896	Carley, John A.	173	1871 s	Dickson, Frederick S.	218
1900	Carter, Franklin, Jr.	186	1868	Dixon, William P.	38
1891 l	Cates, Reuben L.	305	1894	Dodge, Francis P.	156

Index

347

CLASS	PAGE	CLASS	PAGE
1866	Dodge, Frederic N.	34	1883	Hoadley, Horace G.	115
1894 d	Dornan, William W.	329	1896	Hoeninghaus, Fritz W.	173
1864	Douglass, George	26	1880	Holbrook, Charles A	97
1895	Draper, James A.	167	1874	Holbrook, DeWitt C.	74
1896 s	Drummond, James T.	250	1869	Holcombe, John M.	44
1887 d	Dunlap, John	326	1862	Holt, Henry	16
1876	Durand, John E	83	1893 s	Howell, Hampton	239
1882	Eaton, Franklin M.	105	1894	Howland, John	158
1865	Ely, George H.	31	1864	Hoyt, James P.	27
1863	Emerson, Thomas A.	23	1888	Hubbard, Frank W.	128
1898	Fassett, Fred J.	181	1873	Hubbard, Joseph C.	62
1881 l	Fenn, Willis I.	297	1901 s	Hubbard, William B.	254
1898	Fitch, Ashbel P.	182	1878 s	Hulbert, Robert S	221
1885 s	Flather, John J.	227	1880	Hutchison, William F.	98
1904 f	Flintham, Stuart J	281	1868	Ingersoll, Jonathan	39
1895 m	Flynn, James H. J.	287	1881	Isham, George S.	100
1877	Foote, James S	85	1903 m	Ives, Eli B.	290
1913 s	Forde, William H.	266	1894	Jackson, Caleb S.	160
1892	Frost, Charles H.	150	1898 d	Jacobian, Stephen B.	333
1883	Frost, Elihu B.	112	1925 s	James, Marshall H	271
1895	Galacar, Frederic R.	168	1887 s	Jewett, Charles S.	231
1883	Galbraith, John W.	113	1907 l	Johnson, William A.	315
1898	Gay, Robert H.	184	1888 l	Kane, Patrick	301
1887 s	Georger, F Frederic	231	1896 l	Kearful, Francis J.	309
1881 ma	Gibbs, Herbert R.	273	1892 s	Keith, Walter W.	239
1893 d	Goodrich, Lincoln B.	328	1888 l	Kelley, Frank H	302
1880 s	Goodspeed, George E.	225	1857 s	Kent, Alexander H.	215
1862	Greene, Richard H.	13	1865	Kimberly, Charles	33
1895 s	Greenway, John C.	244	1895 l	Klett, George W	308
1893	Greer, Lawrence	153	1888	Klots, Charles A	129
1901 m	Gurney, Samuel	288	1923 s	Lally, Joseph E.	270
1908 ml	Haas, Harry S.	319	1901 l	Lane, Wilfred C	313
1883	Hall, Charles H.	114	1885 s	Lang, Percy L.	229
1897 s	Hall, Charles H.	252	1896 s	Lanphear, George A	251
1869	Hamlin, Frank H.	42	1910 s	Laughlin, Alexander, Jr.	262
1867	Harding, Wilder B.	35	1911 s	Lawrence, John B F.	263
1899 dp	Harstrom, Carl Axel	277	1897 s	Lester, Richard M.	253
1887	Haven, George G.	126	1893 s	Lewis, Thomas H.	240
1908 s	Hawley, Benjamin R.	260	1923	Lovell, Nathaniel T.	212
1923 l	Hedges, Joseph C.	317	1895 d	Lutz, Adam R.	332
1918 f	Hotta, Shoitsu	283	1882	Lyman, Chester W.	106
1876 m	Huntington, Samuel H	286	1894	McBirney, Day	161
1899	Hecker, George E.	184	1875	McBirney, Hugh J	78
1899	Henderson, Isham	185	1911 l	McCarthy, Albert F.	316
1910	Hildebrand, Arthur S.	200	1890 s	McCaulley, Francis D.	238
1895	Hinkey, Frank A.	169	1875	McClintock, Frank T	79
1897 s	Hitchcock, James L.	253	1901 s	McClurg, Ogden T.	255

CLASS		PAGE	CLASS		PAGE
1911	McDonnell, John V.	203	1891	Sacket, Francis W.	149
1861	McKinney, Edward P.	9	1873 d	Salmon, Edward P.	321
1884 s	Maghee, James M.	226	1894 d	Sandbo, Anders O	331
1891	Manice, Edward A.	148	1903 ma	Sanborn, Henry N.	274
1913 s	Martindale, J. Watson, Jr.	267	1871	Sanborn, John S.	50
1875	Maxwell, Cortes	81	1894 s	Savage, Wilfred W.	241
1877 l	Maxwell, John S.	293	1872	Sawyer, George P.	56
1895 s	Meigs, Charles E.	246	1883	Sawyer, Rollin Alger	118
1894 d	Meserve, Harry C.	330	1895	Scarborough, Harry S.	170
1873	Miller, Elliot S	63	1908 l	Schramm, Arnold O.	316
1895 s	Miller, Robert R.	248	1885	Schultze, Emile	121
1893	Mills, Charles W.	154	1868	Searls, Charles E.	40
1894	Moorhouse, William R.	162	1890	Shaw, Howard V. D.	143
1905 ma	Morgan, Alfred L.	274	1897 l	Sheedy, Bryan DeF.	312
1911	Morgan, Miles A.	205	1872	Sheppard, Edward N.	58
1873	Morrill, Arthur B.	64	1878	Sherman, Allton H.	93
1892	Morris, Robert W.	152	1877	Sherman, Daniel D.	86
1873	Mountjoy, Plato	65	1876 s	Sherman, Gordon E.	220
1881	Myers, T. Halsted	101	1883 l	Sinclair, George M.	298
1883	Nelson, Joseph H.	117	1880	Smith, Charles R.	99
1897	Nolan, Harry Edgar	178	1901	Smith, Ernest Walker	191
1860	Norton, Nathaniel	7	1871	Smith, Philip C	51
1916 ml	Nowicki, Henry	319	1867 s	Smith, Sidney I	215
1888 s	Osborn, Selden Y	234	1865	Smith, Sidney V.	33
1910 f	Oteyza, Mauricio J	282	1903 art	Sperry, Edward P.	280
1888	Paradise, Frank I.	130	1871	Sperry, Watson Robertson	52
1918	Paret, Robert R.	209	1894 s	Steele, H. Merriman	242
1890	Parsons, Herbert	140	1888	Steiner, Bernard C.	132
1884 l	Pavey, Charles C.	298	1888 d	Stevens, Frank V.	327
1889	Peres, Israel H	136	1896	Stewart, Douglas	175
1897 l	Peterson, Charles F.	311	1877	Stimson, Frederick J.	87
1893 m	Porter, Isaac N.	287	1874	Stokes, William E. Dodge	77
1874	Porter, Peter A.	75	1903 dp	Stromquist, C. Eben	277
1874 d	Post, Roswell O	322	1871	Strong, George A.	53
1904 s	Prime, Alfred C.	257	1876 l	Strouse, David	292
1894	Pringle, Ralph	163	1896	Stuart, David	176
1912 s	Remick, John	264	1897	Sutphin, Dudley V.	179
1888 s	Robinson, Edwin W	235	1877 d	Swing, Albert T.	322
1895 s	Robinson, H Hollister	248	1878	Tajiri, Inajiro T.	94
1889	Robinson, Henry S.	138	1918	Theobald, Robert R.	210
1908 s	Root, Herbert M.	261	1883	Thomson, Henry C. M.	119
1907	Rosenbaum, Harold A.	199	1877	Tooker, L. Frank	89
1900	Rosenberg, Sidney C.	189	1894	Townsend, George M.	163
1883 ml	Ross, Thomas D.	318	1862	Tracy, Roger S.	18
1873 l	Rothschild, Joseph	292	1892 l	Treadway, Francis W.	305
1923 dp	Russel, Margaret	279	1885 d	Tuckerman, Frederick W.	325
1882	Rutledge, Benjamin H	109	1877	Tyler, Cadwell	90

Index

349

CLASS	PAGE	CLASS	PAGE
1878 l	295	1873	66
1902	193	1858	5
1888 l	303	1892 l	307
1894 s	243	1879	95
1890	144	1899	185
1872 dp	276	1877	91
1892	152	1890	145
1864	29	1887 s	232
1921 s	269	1883	120
1876 l	293	1886 l	300
		Wheelock, William E.
		Wilbur, Albert B.
		Wilfley, Lebbeus R.
		Willard, Henry K.
		Wilson, James E.
		Wilson, Philip J
		Woodruff, Lewis B
		Woods, Robert McK.
		Woodward, John Butler
		Work, James C.	